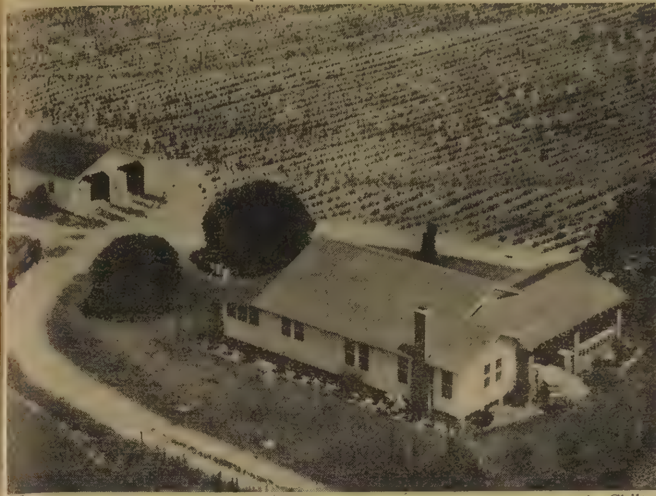
Whose Farm Is This?



This week's "Mystery Farm" pictured above is located somewhere in Chilton County, and it's worth a lot to you if you know where. That's the only secret to success in our contest—just telling us who owns the farm.

Remember, you must come to the News' office before four o'clock next Saturday afternoon and tell us who owns the farm. If your answer is correct you'll be a winner and will receive valuable prizes absolutely free.

Make a guess. It doesn't cost a thing and you can't lose a thing.

Farm Bureau Favors Passing Goodwyn Bill

The State Farm Bureau Federation's Resolution Committee met in Birmingham, Ala., last week and voted in favor of sumbitting the Goodwyn Bill to the State delegation for careful study and consideration.

Prolonged floor discussion showed that the great majority were in favor of the passage of the Goodwyn Bill as a means of raising the necessary funds for the accelerated educational program. Farm leaders felt that since additional taxation was necessary and inevitable, this plan would be the most practcal and workable, especially for the average farmer. The Goodwyn Bill is a very small tax on gross income after expenses have been paid, and the average farmer will not be heavily taxed. A farmer with an income, above operating costs, of $1,000, for example, will pay less than $5.00. A large operator with an adjusted income of $4,000 will pay not over $22.50.

Most delegates readily saw that this tax plan was infinitely better than the other tax programs suggested, such as increased sales tax. income or property tax, or the removal of sales tax exemption as recommended by many non-farm folks. Farm leaders definitely feel that the Goodwyn proposal is a more desirable school plan than any other suggested thus far.

The Chilton County Farm Bureau's Legislative Committee had previously unanimously passed a County resolution endorsing the Goodwyn Bill and has instructed convention delegates to vote for its endorsement at the State Annual Convention. Additional facts relative to the Goodwyn Bill that are strong factors in forming farm leaders action are: (1) All income from it would go to public education and no legislature can change it. (2) Alabama schools have never been adequately supported, and are not so supported at present. (3) The Goodwyn amendment was proposed by the Alabama legislature as the best way to supply urgent needs for schools. (4) All money going into public education renders, first, an invaluable service and, second goes immediately back into business to buy food, clothes, furniture and other essentials.

HD Clubs Hold Leadership School

Food Preservation Leaders from nine Home Demonstration Clubs attended a leadership school recently on "Freezing Cooked Foods," Miss Lavada Curtis, Specialist from Auburn, gave the demonstration at the Home Agent's office. In the demonstration she discussed valuable information about freezing cooked foods, types of containers, care of freezer and other important points in freezing. She prepared the following foods for freezing: chicken, broth, rools, biscuit, sandwiches, salad, cake and pie. Ways of freezing other meats and foods were discussed.

Leaders felt that this was a most interesting demonstration and one that would be most helpful in preparing meats in advance. The following leaders who attended the Leadership School will give the demonstration in their Club in November: Mrs. Frank Mastin and Mrs. E. C. Smith, Cedar Grove; Mrs. Ozena Green and Mrs. C. C Moore, Isabella; Mrs. F. C. Gibson, Macedonia; Mrs. Ester Lou Cox, Poplar Springs; Mrs. Sam Wilson andMrs. H. O. Headley, Fairview; Mrs. O. M. Harper, Center Hill; Mrs. Ed Clapp, Maplesville; Mrs H. M. Kelley and Mrs. Luther Thomas, Thomas Jr.; and Mrs. R. R. Young and Mrs. W. C. Price, Alabama Mills.

"Mother of the Nile" To Be Shown At Temple Nov. 1st

On Tuesday night November 1, at 7:30 a film, Mother of the Nile, will be shown at Temple Assembly church, located about two and one half miles East of Clanton. The pastor, Rev. Troy B. Helms, extends to all a cordial invitation to come and see this wonderful picture, which features one of the greatest women of the world.

Miss Lillian Trasher, a native of Jacksonville, Fla., went to Egypt about 45 years ago and started this home. She returned to the States this past summer for a few months, the first time she has been home in twenty five years. Miss Lillian Trasher, greatest woman in Egypt, so she has been termed by Reader's Digest and the American magazine, is back in Egypt now with Her Children.

She is world famous for her work as founder and director of a large orphanage at Assiut, Egypt. She has devoted full time to raising funds providing food, clothing, education and shelter for more than 8,000 orphans and widows of Egypt. Currently the village-like orphanage on the Nile river is home for more than 900 homeless, who otherwise would be turned into the streets of Egypt.

Beginning with one child left by a mother whom Miss Trasher saw die, the home for the homeless has grown from an enrollment of one infant to a home for thousands.

Through 41 years of service as a social institution in Egypt, the orphanage has mushroomed from a budget of $911 in 1911 to $53,387 last year. Since its inception the orphanage has spent close to a million and a half dollars providing facilities for the outcast street-population of the land of deserts.

Miss Trasher's warm heart and ability to organize and maintain a large home, education system, hospital and farm in Egypt has captured world recognition. In 1939 she was featured in an article in Reader's Digest which said of her—They call her the greatest woman in Egypt—this big-hearted American who is MAMA to many throughout the country.

Wendell Wilkie, Republican presidential candidate in 1946, spoke highly of Miss Trasher in his book, One World.

General Mohammed Naguib, onetime strong man of Egypt, on an official visit to the Trasher Orphanage, wrote in the guest book: The founder of this institution, the great Miss Trasher, is a precious gift from God. I call upon all those who are engaged in social reform and activities to visit this institution and learn from it what they should do if they really wish to achieve.

Recently the Egyptian government has passed a law that all elementary students in Egypt must visit the orphanage to see the work of Miss Trasher before completion of their class work.

Remember the time and place to see the picture of this great woman and her work in Egypt: The Temple church, Tuesday night 7:30, November 1.

Rev. Mims Writes—

In The Resurrection

Matt. 22,29-30. Jesus answered and said unto them, ye do err, not knowing the scriptures, nor the power of God, for in the resurrection they neither marry, nor are given in marriage, but are as the angels of God in Heaven.

In the resurrection we will be as angels. There will be no sex, therefore there will be no marriage or given in marriage, and we will not be spirits as some think, but we will have a body in the resurrection. 1 Cor. 15:44. It is sown a natural body, it is raised a spiritual body. There is a spiritual body. Christ had a body in his resurrection. Jesus said to His disciples. Luke 24: 39. Behold my hands and my feet, that it is I myself handle Me, and see, for a spirit hath not flesh and bones as ye see Me have.

Phil. 3:20-21. For our conversation is in heaven from whence we look for the Savior the Lord Jesus Christ, who shall change our vile body that it may be fashioned like unto His glorious body according to the working whereby He is able even to subdue all things unto himself." We will have a body like Christ.

In the first resurrection only the righteous dead will come forth from the graves. There will be one thousand years between the first, and the last resurrection. Rev. 20:5-6. But the rest of the dead lived not again until the thousand years were finished. This is the first resurrection, blessed and holy is he that hath part in the first resurrection; on such the second death hath no power, but they shall be priests of God and of Christ, and shall reign with him a thousand years. They that are in the first resurrection will reign a thousand years here on this earth with Christ in His kingdom. This is a wonderful hope.

The first resurrection will take place at the coming of Christ. 1 Thess. 4:16-17. For the Lord himself shall descend from heaven with a shout with the voice of the archangels and with the triumph of Gid, and the dead in Christ shall rise first then we which are alive and remain shall be caught up together with them in the clouds to meet the Lord in the air, and so shall we ever be with the Lord.

In the last resurrection all the wicked dead will come forth to judgment. Rev. 20:12-15. And I saw the dead small and great, stand before God, and the books were opened and anither book was opened which is the book of life, and the dead were judged out of those things which were written in the books, according to their works, and the sea gave up the dead which were in it, and death and hell delivered up the dead which were in them, and they were judged every man according to their works, and death and hell were cast into the lake of fire, this is the second death and whosoever was not found written in the book of life was cast into the lake of fire, but thank God there is hope for the dead in Christ." In 1 Thess. 4:13-14, we find these words. I would not have you to be ignorant, brethren, concerning them which are asleep, that ye sorrow not, even as others which have no hope. For if we believe that Jesus died, and rose again, even as others which have no hope. For if we believe that Jesus died, and rose again, even so them also which sleep in Jesus will God bring with him.—Rev. Morris Mims, Pastor Clanton First Assembly.

Homer Smith Owns Last Week's "Mystery Farm"

Last week many folks came in to identify the farm as that of Mr. Homer W. Smith. They came from all over the County and very few, if any of them, were mistaken.

Mr. Smith came in himself to talk a spell with us Saturday and we learned that his farm, that is the old place, has been located there since late in the 1800's. That makes an interesting land mark of the farm.

Mr. Smith lives with his wife and their young son Wesley Smith, who attends the Chilton County High School. They also have two girls, Nona Jean and Marion K. Smith

The Smith farm, as it is today consists of 108 acres of fertile, productive land and from all indications, they are proud of it.

They have just recently discontinued their breeding of Registered Aberdeen Angus Cattle and are now primarily concerned with row crop farming.

The house which now stands was built in 1911. Mr. Smith has done much to improve the structure since that time, but the foundation and the main part of the house is the same.

Mr. Smith's grandfather, John W. Baker settled the farm in 1892 when he bought and cleared the land himself.

Smith has been on the farm for 40 years and according to him, has enjoyed practically every minute of it.

The Smiths' attend the Liberty Hill Baptist Church.

"John Wesley"---

New Religious Movie To Be Shown At First Methodist, 30th

The new motion picture, "John Wesley" is coming to the First Methodist Church.

It will be shown at the First Methodist Church on Sunday, Oct. 30, at 7:00 p.m., according to the pastor, Rev. M. K. Vickers.

The feature-length film is in the new Eastman color and was produced by the Radio and Film Commission of the Methodist Church in cooperation with J. Arthur Rank.

It brings to the screen for the first time the dynamic and colorful 18th century evangelist and educator.

John Wesley's miraculous rescue from a burning house at the age of five, at the beginning of the film, forecasts the dramatic and eventful life which unfolds in this story of a man of slight stature but of impelling influence upon his contemporaries and upon history.

The English clergyman thought his venture in America as a missionary to the Indians in the Georgia colony was a failure, but it was the kind of failure which opened the door to the discovery of a religious certainty he had been seeking.

Furthermore, this discovery, in which John Wesley felt his "heart strangely warmed," led him to face mobs unafraid. and to ride 250,000 miles on horseback, changing the masses of English people from a low state of moral degradation to sturdy and happy uprightness.

His "enthusiasm" was frowned upon by the lethargic leaders of the Church of England of that day, but it was this new-found enthusiasm which enabled him to enfluence so many phases of the life of English-speaking peoples.

His appeal to the common man, his establishment of schools, clinics, lay preaching and societies—finally his sending of supervisors for the movement in the new world after the American Revolution—all these make the film one which will be long remembered.

Rev. M. K. Vickers explained that while the film is being released only to Methodist churches during the initial period, the public is invited to see the picture at the First Methodist Church.

Lee A. Popwell Writes

On Salvation

Salvation comes to us by the grace of God. Titus 2:11. Jesus Christ is our eternal God, the only God, Isiah 44:6; 45:5-21. He created all things that have ever been created, or made, even his eternal Godhead, Col. 1:16-17, Romans 1: 20. He created man in his image, likeness, glory, character and nature.

He created man in two points, or steps of himself, the Spirit of God, and eternal life. He laid down these two items with his life, power and knowledge. This stepped Him down on man's level, left heaven as if he had been born of earthly parents, John 10:17-18. He stepped back in the spirit of God by the annointing of the Holy Spirit, on entering into the womb of the Virgin, Luke 1:35. He stepped back into eternal life by the resurrection from the dead, and declared to be the son of God with power, according to the spirit of holiness by the resurrection from the dead, Romans 1:4.

Man must now take his first step, he missed the Holy Spirit while being conceived in the womb. We must have the annointing of the Holy Spirit for it gives us the only wisdom we ever get.

We can yet have it, without asking for it, it must now come by repentance, faith and obedience God gives the annointing of the Holy Spirit to all that obey Him, Acts 5:32. This annointing makes us begotten sons of God, John 5: 18, gives us the faith, mind and power of Jesus Christ. It makes us know all things, which have been kept secret since the world began, no more need for man's instructions 1 John 2:20-27.

We have finished our first step, the Holy spirit makes the second step for us, it sanctifies and seals to the day of redemption. Eph.4: 30. Luke 14:14 tells us the exact day of redemption, (be ready).

The Bible definition for sin: For sin is the trangression of the law, 1 John 3:4. For all thy commandments are righteousness, Ps. 119: 172. A good understanding have all they that do his commandments. Ps. 111:19. Let us hear the conclusion of the whole matter, Fear God and keep his commandments for this is the whole duty of man, Ecls. 12:13.

The plan of Salvation is plain, God hid the deep things from the wise and prudent, and hast revealed them unto babes, like you and me, Matt. 11:25. I set before you this day life and death, life if you keep the commandments, death if you fail to keep them. Deut. 11:26-27: 30:1-15. Do not think I will accuse you to the father, there is one that accuseth you, even Moses in whom you trust. For had ye believed Moses ye would have believed me for he wrote of me. But if ye believe not his writings, how shall you believe my words. John 5:45-47.

Building Loans Available For Eligible Farmers

Farmers in Chilton County who own and personally operate family-type farms and need to build or repair essential farm buildings, including dwellngs, may be elgible for building improvement loans thru the Farmers Home Admnistration, Isaac C. Byrd, the agency's county supervisor said this week.

A building improvement loan is only one type of the agency's farm ownershp loans. Loans are made either from insured funds put up by private lenders or from funds appropriated by Congress. Other types of farm ownership loans the Farmers Home Administration makes or insures enable farmers to purchase, enlarge, develop, or improve family-type farms. Construction and repair of essential farm buildings are provided for in all types of farm ownership loans to the extent necessary to make the farm an effcient unit.

With a building improvement loan a farmer may construct, alter, repair, replace or relocate an essential building or buildings on his farm. Specific improvements are agreed upon before the loan is made. Buildings must meet reasonable construction standards and be adequate for the farm's needs. No loan is made that will bring a farmer's indebtedness up to more than the fair and reasonable value of the farm.

Loans funds may be used to provide a water supply for dwellings and other buildings including wells, pumps, and farmstead distributon systems.

A bulding improvement loan may be made for periods from 5 to 40 years, depending on the improvement, and the farmer's debt-paying ability.

THE TAXPAYER'S VIEWPOINT—

Definitely from the viewpoint of a taxpayer in this day and time: It is the opinion of so many these days that the government pushes the little man too hard and tries to get it's hand into too many pies that do not concern it. Naturally the well-being of the people is the government's prime concern, because the government is for the people. It is also "by the people," and the little man is beginning to wonder just what part he can play in the running and well being of his government.

The answer is simple; the basic economy of our country, up to now, has been based on the prosperity of the individual and the little man in business. The trend is turning to big business and the little man is having difficulty coping with the situation which is putting pressure on his life line.

We contend that the little man will be hard put, by the ever-changing trend of business, but it is the stout heart that wins out and we therefore contend, also, that there will always be a little man around to gripe about the way the government is treating him.

We can all safely rely on the fact that there's not a businessman in this great country of ours, who would trade, for any amount of anything, the basic freedoms which are his, here in the United States of America, and nowhere else on the face of God's green earth.

It is with this assurance that we know the little man will win out, because of his bulldog tenacity and the rugged individualism which he possesses.

As a businessman, he is stubbornly independent, but as an American, he is united with every other American for the same great cause. "The freedom of America." He will die for that cause, but he will also gripe about it.

Too much cannot be said for the little man in business, but his stubborn ways are so deeply rooted, it will ake a long while to change his habits, if ever they are asically changed.

A SUGGESTION—

It is well realized that the over-all traffic situation s bad, but in Clanton on Saturday it is uncontrollable.

It is recommended, and noticeably obvious, that the roper steps should be taken to remedy this situation nd if necessary, that extra policeman or traffic regulaors be put to use on this particular busy time of the veek.

Should we keep putting it off, we will regret it vith the injury or death of a pedestrian. Not to menion the fact that our reputation as a quiet, well-organzed community is at stake when a visitor tries to stop r go through over the week-end.

We don't want people passing us up because we are unorganized as a community. This impression could ead to a similar one of the individual and that means ou, friend.

ON MAJORITY RULE—

How many of you believe, really believe, in majory rule? The majority no doubt. But, there are those f us, who, though we testify to the fact, don't really elieve in the majority of the people being right.

This is one of our democratic rights, and is a fair ne, to say the least. Because one person or one secion of the county doesn't get what it wants, doesn't nake the entire county government "crooked," to make quote. Not, so long as the rest of the county or at east the "majority" of the county is benefitting from e proceedings.

Mighty narrow-minded when you get right down o it. Couldn't you take it in the light that you might et what you want later on, or perhaps you have already eceived a "lions share" of the goodness of life.

Too many of us fail to realize our blessings, simy because we're too busy counting our misfortunes nd saying an entire organization is crooked because ne man doesn't agree with the way you want someing is like a family feud. It has about as much merit a Martin and Coy outburst which gains nobody anying and sometimes causes grief.

It all boils down to this basic philosophy that so any folks use in their everyday life and one which we uld all profit by, "if you can't say something nice out a person, or an organization, or what have you, en why say anything." If you feel you're being misated, think about the fellow who gets the last laugh.

Things we -SEE- and Hear

by "Tuck"

If opinions were always fact we'd all be wealthy with knowledge.

What with a wife who is cold natured as a day in January and the temperature ranging from 32 outside to 89 inside, our abbreviation for this winter weather is M.E.S.S. Man's Either Shivering or Suffocating.

Let us take out to commend the Colored folks on their parade last week. From what we could gather it was a parade on Education and we thought it was very effective for their purpose. They turned out in grand style and marched through the streets of Clanton some 300 or 400 strong. We think they did a fine job of showing their loyalty to Alabama Education and they deserve credit for their efforts. We recognize and admire them for their efforts.

We were up around Jemison the other day and man'o man the woods are really taking on an Autumnish and Hobgoblin look. It shore looks like the time for Hallowe'en, what with the ocrnstalks stacked neatly in the field and a pumpkin here and there. S'nuff to make a fella long for the good old days when Hallowe'en meant something.

And speaking of Hallowe'en. We have a bone to pick with you youngsters. Hallowe'en isn't merely a "go signal" for getting in all the loot you can in a given time You don't say one, two, three, go and everybody try to see how much he can get.

Hallowe'en used to mean to us, knocking on people's doors and then disappearing (you have to be pretty fast,) or ringing the doorbell, which amounts to about the same thing (but kids, don't get someone's house who is sick or invalid, that is cruel.) You wouldn't want them to do that to your kinfolks now would you?) Or an occasional trick or treat, but don't run that in the ground either. Get the gang together on the street corner and play games or don't let each other know who you are.

Just remember kids, there're much more to do on Hallowe'en than just to see how much meanness you can accomplish. You know, too many times that little wrong can cause you or your dad a lot of grief so don't get in with the wrong crowd. Have your fun, but don't . . . well, what say we just let our conscious be our guide and if you feel that your conscious would mislead you then ask mom or dad about their's. They can probably tell you things to do to have fun on Hallowe'en that are within your rights and you won't get into trouble.

Have your fun at other people's expense so to speak, just don't be devastating about it. We mean this is the night to be aggravating alright, just don't destroy anything or hurt anyone. No night, day or anything else gives one the right to hurt another. Think about it kids before you hurt someone this year. You might even consider helping someone, this is the perfect time for it. If you're the rugged individualist type, then turn the tide and give someone a helping hand, while the other guys are pestering someone. We guarantee that the first day of November you'll feel better. We guarantee it.

Congratulations to the town of Thorsby for finally acquiring the much needed turning lanes in their town. For the longest time, Thorsby needed traffic lights to slow traffic down and finally achieved that goal effectively. Now they have laid down lines to show you how and where to turn. A much needed improvement and public service. The councilmen or whoever is responsible are to be commended.

Boy, we had some noble 'tater tales last week. One fella came in to look at the samples we have in the window and told us he raised one one time that weighed over a peck (we don't know what that is in nickles and dimes) and he said you'd have trouble getting it in a five gallon can (we never knew fresh 'taters came in cans anyhow) That's a sho 'nuff whopper (the 'tater we mean, of course). 'That just further proves our contention that they just can't grow 'em anywhere like they can in good old Chilton County.

Too many times we do not have enough faith in our fellow man to really have faith in God Himself.

Ole Bill Hayes of WKLF fameis steadily improving. A little more trimming and sprucing there and he'll be as good as they come. You know, the local station has been lucky as all get out about its announcers. We hope they continue to produce good announcers, after a few years, we'll be well represented in that particular field. Providing they aren't ashamed to say what their home town is. We know they won't, 'cause when someone from Chilton County is ashamed of the fact, well, Chilton County is just ashamed that it didn't raise that particular native son in a different and more respectful manner. Gettin' back to Bill; we wish him well, and if he can just master those stumbling blocks called "words" which we're sure every announcer has, he'll go far with his career. Good luck Bill and Little Bill (maybe Little Bill could tell his ole man a thing or two. Reckon?)

We had some mighty pleasant visitors in last Saturday's ('smatter of fact we had several visitors in). They had compliments and high praise for the "good old Chilton County News" and it made us feel good to hear those pleasant words. So many times folks will take time out to bawl you out when they won't take the time to tell you they appreciate your efforts. Anyway thanks for the kind words from the Bryant family and the Conway family. They said they appreciated the paper and we certainly appreciate them as subscribers. We only hope they'll drop in more often: They're the kinda folks we love to chat with.

What's this we hear about the fella asking a local merchant about a hat and when the merchant told him the hat was worth 20 dollars he asked where the holes were. "Holes? What holes?" asked the merchant. "The ones" said the farmer "for the ears of the jackass who'd pay 20 dollars for a hat."

IT'S MY OPINION

Are you one of those folks who think and preach "Oh, you just have to keep right in behind them, or they'll forget about you and you'll never get what you ordered." If you are one of these folks I think you're wrong. My opinion of course.

It is an established fact that, in order to stay in business, a man has to treat the customer as if "he were always right" and always try to leave the customer with a good feeling about the concern. That's just plain good sense.

The opinion that "they'll forget about you" is incorrect in that a business couldn't survive after practicing this procedure for a time.

You have to treat each and every customer with a different degree of courtesy, feeling, and above all patience. Some folks are easy to please and some are hard to please, you can never tell until you've tried to please them. Ask any businessman.

You do not have to keep "right in behind them" to get a job done. I can assure you that few businesses give priority to anyone and to "keep right in behind them" is only to aggravate them and you may very likely delay your particular business even longer.

No, the businessman doesn't delay your business intentionally. You can bet your stockings that he does his darndest to please you so you'll want to come again to his establishment.

Competition is too keen for a man to let personal feelings come between himself and a prospective buyer. Remember that the next time you feel the urge to "get in behind someone."

The manager of the store or business will think much more of your character, for if there's anything a salesman hates to see coming is a habitual grouch. The kind you couldn't please with a silver spoon It's enough to make the poor businessman bawl out someone himself but do you ever see a salesman lose his temper. Very seldom. That's right, because he has to sell to live, and what he sells to, depends entirely on you and your disposition Trade places with one sometimes, in your mind, and see how you'd fair on the other side of the counter. How about it?

He's the one with patience enough to see what a sensible head can get for him.

We never saw a bull do anything when he got mad, except butt his head. That's what we call getting nowhere at an exceedingly fast pace.

Many farms that have been cotton and livestock units are going to have to produce cotton, livestock and some other cash crop in order to keep on showing a profit. Other farms may be able to expand production of established crops for greater efficiency.

Because labor costs are advancing whereas prices on manufactured goods have declined a bit, tenants may find that their contributions to the farming program have become a little more valuable to the partnership and that their returns should therefore be a little higher than in the past, Helms added. He ended by saying that county agents have copies of lease forms that will give farmers a framework in which to work out indivdual agreements.

Modern Traffic needs Concrete pavement

Traffic has increased steadily in weight and volume. Yet for more than a quarter of a century thousands of miles of concrete roads have rendered uninterrupted service while carrying most of the heaviest traffic.

Concrete meets every requirement of modern traffic. It is moderate in first cost. It has lower maintenance cost and at least twice the service life of other pavements. It is the safest pavement too. Its gritty surface grips tires firmly, permitting quicker stops in emergencies. Its light-colored surface allows maximum visibility at night. If you can't see you can't be safe.

Mr. Motorist, your license fees, gas and other taxes pay for building and maintaining roads. Insist on concrete to get the greatest pavement value for your money.

Hope all you ladies and gents are getting ready to attend the Annual Bazaar at the Methodist Church next Tuesday. That's Nov. 8, so mark it on your calendar so you won't miss it. They have made plans whereby you who wish to take your plate home can do so without the long wait you experienced last year. More thought, more experience, more food and more satisfied customers is the order of the day for the Bazaar this year. You'll miss the time of your life if you don't attend. And oh, yeah, for you coffee breakers. Be there at 10 o'clock.

We wish people who write letters "To The Editor" would sign their name. A long letter was received this week criticizing some of our county officials that we could not use because of the lack of a signature. If you are not man enough to stand behind the things you write —please don't write them. Not to us, anyway. If you have a gripe against any of your officials and it is sent to us in the form of a constructive letter, with your name signed, we will print it. We will NOT publish crank letters by those who refuse to sign their name to what they have written.

While we're fussing we might as well as go the route and remind these publicity chairmen and committee members, correspondents for churches, schools, etc., to please get their copy in earlier. Most of you do, but there is still a few who wait until Wednesday morning. When this happens we have no choice but to leave it out. We can accomplish just so much on Wednesday before deadline and when a dozen or more pile news stories in on us it is impossible to take care of all of them. We want you to understand, it is just humanly impossible. Do us a big favor and help us and yourself by getting copy to us early.

Saw our friend Armistead Selden's picture along with some other dignitaries n the paper last week. The picture caption was "Congress At Seas." Now according to our teaching of the newspaper game that ain't news. Anybody who reads the Congressional Record knows that Congress is at sea. Come to think of it, when we say, anybody who reads the Congressional Record' means that nobody knew it in the first place.

Heard a guy say the other day that he knew a girl who was so fat that when she got married it took her dad and three brothers to give her away.

County Schools Will Observe Education Week

During next week, November 6-12, the schools of Chilton County will again be observing American Education Week. Parents and friends are invited to visit their schools during the week to see the education of our children in the actual process.

This observance of Education Week in Chilton County and other Alabama schools has a special significance. This year marks the 100th anniversary of public education in Alabama. In 1855 there were those in our great state who were able to see that education of all the people was necessary to the proper and desirable development of the state. Built on such foresight, public education in Alabama has grown rapidly, making a great contribution to the industrial, economic and cultural development of our people.

Various means of observance will be used in the different schools. Every Chilton County parent is urged to check on the plans for his or her school and arrange to visit them. Teachers will appreciate the interest thus shown. It will afford an opportunity for teachers and parents to become better acquainted.

Be sure to visit your schools during American Education Week, November 6-12.

Pole Broiler Houses Go Up On Many Farms

Auburn, Ala. A new rash of pole buildings is appearing on Alabama farms. Longtime favorites for barns, cribs, and other outbuildings, these structures are now in wide use as broiler houses.

Commenting on the advantages of this type of building for the broiler grower, API Extension Farm Buildings Specialist W. T. Cox, said the pole structure is inexpensive, long-lived, and easy for the farmer to build.

Cox explained that the broiler house specified in Extension plan BI-9 cost no more than 50 cents per bird for materials. Many farmers manage to cut that low cost by using home-grown lumber, such as rough pine or hardwoods, for roof framing and side walls.

Treated poles used in the house can be expected to last about 25 years, Cox said. And since all parts of the building located close to the ground are treated with a perservative, this structure is not as likely to be damaged by termites as are other types.

Cox said that the vile-type house provides a little more than the minimum floor space requirement of one square foot per bird, plus a feed storage room. Thirty-four feet wide and built in 11-foot units, it is adaptable to differtnt size operations.

Soil Conservation Is Big Business In Alabama

Thirty-one thousand Alabama farmers cooperating with soil conservation districts received technical assistance from Soil Conservation Service technicians during the first six months of 1955. There is a total of approximately 58,000 farmers' cooperating with Alabama's twelve soil conservation districts. Before the end of the year most cooperators will receive the technical assistance they need to apply soil and water conservation practices they had planned for this year.

To give assistance to this large number of farmers, when they need it, is a tremendous workload for Service workers in every county. In providing technical assistance to increasing numbers of district cooperators each year Service technicians explore all methods to use their time more efficiently. Often they meet with groups of cooperators in the field to demonstrate the application of a practice all farmers in the group have planned for their farms. In this way more cooperators are reached with the use of less time.

Often farmers who have applied good soil and water conservation practices to their land assist their soil conservation district greatly by advising with and assisting neighbor district cooperators in the application of their planned practices. They are interested in seeing their neighbors reap quickly, as they have, the benefits from an applied soil conservation district farm plan. This type of assistance is of great help to Soil Conservation Service technicians as it enable them to spend more of their time planning with farmers and assisting in the application of the more complicated conservation practices.

"Goodwyn" Tax Deductible From Federal Return

Since any additional taxes imposed through the proposed "Goodwyn" income tax for schools would be deductible from Federal income taxes, a goodly portion of a person's tax under this proposed bill would be saved from the taxes paid the Federal Government. On an average, $2 out of each $5 paid through the Goodwyn proposal would be saved from Federal taxes. Thus a person having to pay $25 for schools through this tax would be saving $10 from his Federal tax. This means that he would actually be paying only $15 for his part to a greatly improved school system for Alabama boys and girls.

Using this average, we find that in substance the Federal Government would be paying about $12 million of the 29 million dollars the tax would be bringing in.

Good Prices Predicted For Sericea Seed

Auburn, Ala. — Seed producing stands of lespedeza sericea promise to be very profitable for Alabama farmers this year.

Explaining this outlook, API Extension Seed Crops Specialist Ralph Jones said there was no carryover of sericea seed from last year. That fact plus a supply shortened by dry weather late last summer will add up to a strong demand for seed harvested this fall.

Telling farmers how to handle the crop for best profits, Jones said seed ought to be combined as soon as they are ripe. A light frost puts seed in good condition for harvesting, but Jone sadvised against waiting for frost. The work must be done very quickly after seed are covered by heavy frost—within 48 hours if possible.

If seed are to be combined directly, harvest when most of the seed pods have turned brown. If the windrow method is used, begin cutting when the seed near the end of the branches have reached maturity but before they turn brown.

Brucelosis Free Herd Is Place To Buy Boar

Alabama market hog producers no longer have to buy herd boars that may bring profit-cutting brucellosis into their herds. After several months of testing under the state-wide brucellosis eradication program, a number of growers in each major breed now have herds that are certified as brucellosis free. And API Extension Animal Industry Specialist G. B. Phillips advises growers to do their boar shopping in those herds. He says county agents have the names of purebred producers whose herds have been passd by the state certifying agency.

Second-year production in a laying flock is usually down about 20 per cent.

PROCLAMATION NO. 5

A Proclamation to be voted upon in the December 6th election that is of great importance to the people of Chilton County is Proclamation No. 5.

The Proclamation provides for the issuance of two million dollars in bonds for the "sole purpose of construction and equipping of hospitals, health centers, and related medical facilities." This is not a new program, but the continuation of a program begun in 1947 and amended in 1949 for the purpose of matching federal funds for the construction of hospitals in the various counties.

Where we will benefit in the continuation of this program is the funds that will be made available for the building of our Nursing Home adjacent to the new Chilton County Hospital. Without matching funds, of course, this undertaking will be impossible.

According to the Proclamation, funds are to be used first in counties that have no hospital, but where more money is needed to enlarge health facilities (as is the case in our nursing home) then an additional allotment can be made by the State Board of Health.

To finish the program we have started in Chilton County, it is necessary that this money be made available. We believe that Amendment No. 5 should be supported by the people if we are to have adequate facilities for our aged and infirm.

ORGANIZATIONAL NEEDS—

The concentrated efforts of the VFW have brought to our mind the fact that more organizations in Chilton County should put on determined membership drives and try to interest members to take an active part in their chosen organization.

The VFW, for example, has been striving for members lately and are on the finishing lap of their drive for their Meeting Hall, now nearing completion.

We have any number of good organizations in our County, but some of them need waking up. Any amount of good can come from an organization made up of determined people, but when the members lag in their efforts, the organization ceases to function with very much success.

It is sometimes difficult to get so many people working with each other all at the same time, but when, and if you do, you have a force to equal that of anything you've ever seen when it comes to accomplishing good.

Our organizations are many in number, let's put each and every one to work for the good of Chilton County and her people.

DECEMBER FIRST—SAFE DRIVING DAY

All across the nation, Thursday, December 1, will be the second annual S-D Day, or Safe Driving Day. It is sponsored by the President's Committee for Traffic Safety in cooperation with national and various State Public Safety Director Bill Lyerly has promised the "all-out support" of the State Highway Patrol.

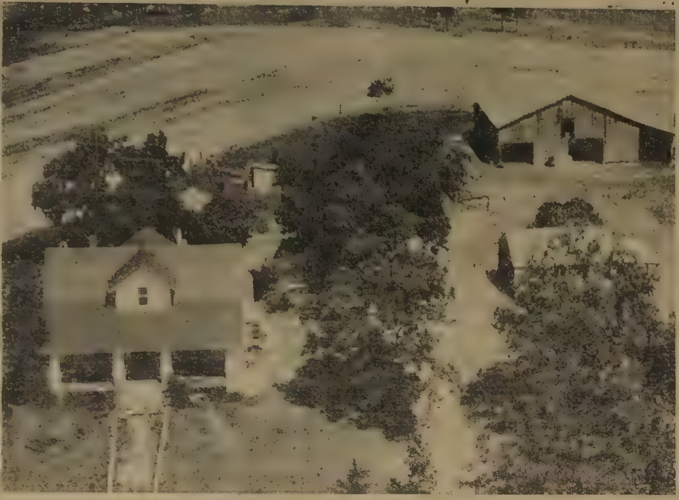
The challenge to every community will be: Not a single traffic accident during the 24-hour period — in daylight or darkness.

Circuit Judge George Wallace, Clayton, has been appointed State chairman for S-D Day, and last week end directors of the State Jaycees used part of their Albertville meeting to discuss this year's program.

Last year, S-D Day was on December 15. On that day, Alabama reported no fatal traffic accidents, but three injuries. Highway Patrol records for December 1, 1954, show that there was on that day one fatal traffic accident reported, and seven injuries.

Judge Wallace said that "the first S-D Day, last December, produced a reduction in the national toll of deaths and injuries, and for this second S-D Day everyone in every State will be asked to join in bringing a still much greater reduction." He said that S-D Day 1954 demonstrated that the place to attack the traffic safety problem is in the community, and that responsibility rests on each individual. "This year, as last," Judge Wallace said, "the purpose of S-D Day is to show that motorists and pedestrains can reduce traffic accidents by their own actions."

Whose Farm Is This?



IF SIXTY-SEVEN PERSONS could guess last week's "Mystery Farm" correctly, surely you can guess this week's farm pictured above. Bare in mind that this photo was made in May of 1954 and things may have changed since then.

All you have to do to win prizes in this unique contest is to tell us who owns the farm pictured. Your answer must be turned in at the News office before four o'clock next Saturday afternoon.

Things we -SEE- and Hear

If it weren't for the hypocrit the world would be in a sad state because nobody'd know wherein their shortcomings lay . . . there'd be no one to tell them.

Red Fulmer says he's selling his product like hot cakes . . . only they ain't hot cakes.

We waited on ya'all
To come and call
You didn't a'tall
So that's all.

That's first grade poetry written by a ninth grader on second grade paper, while sittin' next to a fifth grade teacher in a third class desk.

Congratulatons to Dean White, son of Mr. and Mrs. Campbell White of Billingsley. He is now enrolled at Marion Institute as a Cadet. Looks mighty snappy in that uniform and wears it proudly. Like Gordon "Bob" Robertson said, "Someday we might look back and say 'I knew him when . . .'" We hope we're around to see you that successful, Dean. Congratulations again.

We still can't understand these kids starting their Hallowe'en "Trick or Treatin' " two days before Hallowe'en. It's silly and their parents should encourage them to wait for the right time. This "Trick or Treat" business is OK for our part, but let's not let it become so commercialized that it overbears and ruins the real old-fashioned meaning of Hallowe'en. In other words, let's not run this "get what you can while the gettin's good" slap into the ground.

We think a secretary's pet peeve should be, her frustrated feeling when the boss answers the phone nine times out of ten and then expects her to answer it the tenth time without hesitating. Tell you, t's enough to frustrate anybody. Or, maybe it's really not as bad as it appears, but we're always seeing a secretary hop towards the phone because they don't know whether "he's" got it or not. Must be one of the little conveniences of being a boss. Lord knows, there aren't many . . . or so we've heard.

We've noticed Marshall Williams going back on his job slowly and he's improving steadily, he says. Hope he has no lasting defects from his mishap. We believe in Marshall because we like him. Sometimes we're victims of circumstances rather than personal conflict. Such, in our opinion, was this particular incident and, to our way of thinking, does not lower our opinion of him one little bit. In fact, we may think just a little more of him for sticking to it. A lesser man might have quit.

We checked with Charlie Chancellor's dad Sunday and found out that Charlie's bump on the head in the Saturday game with Jemison didn't amount to much. We're glad. Ole Charlie Boy used to be a playmate of ours, way back yonder about six or eight years ago and we were concerned about him. For any of you who are wondering, his dad says he's gonna make it, he thinks. So we don't think there's too much cause for concern.

We mentioned last week about traffic conditions in the City of Clanton, and we recommended that something be done about them. Little Jimmy Newt Grey was injured Saturday afternoon by an automobile in the town proper. He was not seriously injured, luckily, and he was released from the hospital after treatment. We migh consider this particular incident a warning to do something about our traffic problem. The hand may fall heavier next time. Then's when we'll do something about it. Why wait?

Bro. B. B. Burks was by Saturday morning to see us about doing some printing for him. We didn't do the job for him, but we enjoy his visits. Hope he'll make them as often as he can without neglecting his other duties. He's a nice fella.

New Pension Union Reports

A few pension minded folks met on Saturday October 29 and discused some current matters. The small audience was not too encouraging, but we still have lots of hope.

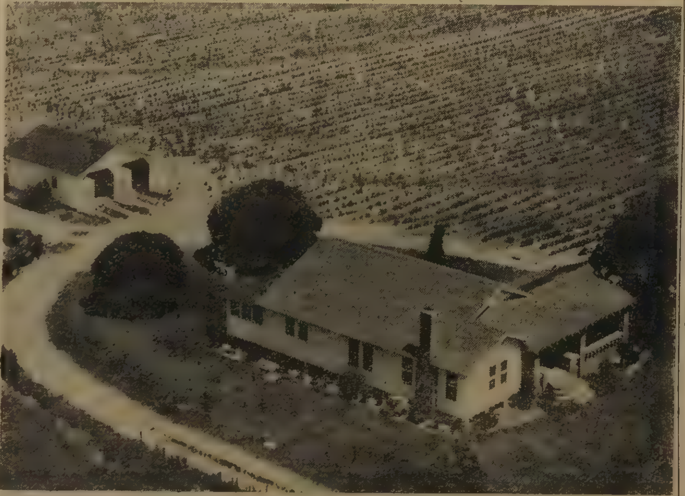
It was decided to name the local group the Chilton Pension Union, and that Wes Gletty would be acting director, until we get a more perfected organization, and also to make this a district headquarters for the sixth congressional district.

It was also decided to continue accepting charter members, without charging any joining fee for at least another thirty days, or until further notice, and that regular meetings would be held, the second Saturday of each month. This makes our next meeting November 12.

It is hoped we will have a large turn-out at our next meeting. We would like to have one hundred charter members. As soon as we get a good number of members we will draw up a constitution for the organization.

This will be a non-profit organzation deriving its financial support from membership dues and public contrbutions. All contributions, no matter how small will be very much appreciated.

Eulous Courtney owns last week's "Mystery Farm"



Mr. Eulous H. Courtney has a very well-known farm. His farm, pictured above was correctly identified by sixty-seven persons as last weeks "Mystery Farm."

The farm, located six miles south of Clanton on the Enterprise Road, was bought from Henry Jacks six years ago. Since that time Mr. Courtney has built the new house and garage shown here.

Mr. Courtney and his wife, Lena Mae, were married in 1931. They attend the West End Baptist Church and are members of the Farm Bureau.

The Courtneys devote most of their tillage to cotton and corn. There farm has a total of ninety-three acres.

Spike Bucks Legal With Opening Of Deer Season, 10th

Auburn, Ala. — Spike bucks will be open game for Alabama hunters during the 1955 deer season starting Thursday, November 10, and ending New Year's Day. These animals, which are a year old or younger and have unbranched horns, have been illegal in the past.

Speaking of the regulations which govern deer hunting in this state, API Extension Wildlife Specialist Earl F. Kennamer said this week hunting deer with a rifle is not prohibited. But he added that most hunters use shotguns on organized drives, because these guns are less likely to hit other hunters.

Kenamer urged that hunters who prefer rifles for hunting deer use big game rifles. He explained that a small weapin such as the .22 is likely to cripple, rather than kill deer.

In conclusion, the specialist pointed out that "open season" on deer doesn't mean that a hunter can go out and kill one any time and anywhere he chooses. Hunting is permitted only between sunrise and sunset. When and where one can hunt also depends on who ow the land. Deer shooting in pub forests is limited to organized hun and the owner's permission mu be sought for hunting on private land.

This group, consisted of classmates, GA members, etc. Ice cream and Cake served as refreshments. Favors were given each child. Many niee, useful gifts were presented to Laura Ann.

We are happy to report that Mrs. Sallie Davis and Mrs. A. D. Eaves are improving from their recent illness.

The wedding will be an event of November 6th, 1955 at 9 o'clock in the morning at the home of the Rev. and Mrs. Edwin Lovelady of Lawley.

Mr. John R. Boden accompanied by his wife and mother of 169 Kingsley Drive, Los Angeles, California passed through this section last week. Mr. Boden interested in Confederate history stopped here on trans-continental tour to view the sites of battlefields between Selma and Stanton. His special interest was General Nathan Betord Forrest, who fell back into Selma before General James Wilson's federal forces in what proved to be one of the last engagemnets of the Civil War fought on the breastworks at Selma. Earlier General Forrest's dramatic escape from a blocked roadway near Dixie Station, South of Stanton, after the Battle of Ebenezer had enabled him to reach Selma only a short time before General Wilson. These and other facts were familiar to Mr. Boden.

The home of the bride's parents on the New Orrville road in Selma was the setting on Friday evening, October 21, 1955, of the marriage of Miss Erline Friday, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Willie Claud Friday (Lillie Carter) and James Frith, son of Mr. and Mrs. W. L. Frith. The Rev. N. H. McCrummen, pastor of the First Baptist Church, officiated at the double ring ceremony which was solemnized by candlelight at 6 o'clock. Members of the two families and close friends were present.

Traditional selections played by Mrs. McCrummen, who was the pianist, included, "I Love You Truly" and the bridal marches. Miss Joyce Gilmore sang "Because" prior to the ceremony and "The Lord's Prayer" as the benediction.

Throughout the rooms open to guests the bridal motif of white and green was carried out in the mums predominating. The living room fireplace formed a background for the ceremony. Potted palms in low white pedestal urns were used with a central arrangement of gladioli. carnations and mums, placed beneath an overhanging goldleaf mirror. The altar was flanked by seven-branched wrought iron candleabra holding cathedral tapers which were lighted by Miss Ruth Friday, sister of the bride. The bride entered with her father by whom she was given in marriage. Miss Peggy Pearson was the bride's maid of honor and her only attendant. Ralph Friday, brother of the bride, attended the groom as best man.

Following the ceremony, Mr. and Mrs. Friday entertained at an informal reception. Mrs. Kenneth Scott cut the bride's cake and Mrs. T. A. Alsobrook presided at the punchbowl. Mrs. Ralph Friday assisted in serving. Mr. and Mrs. Frith left during the early evening on a wedding trip to Panama City. The couple will be at home with his parents, 717 Selma Avenue, Selma. The bridegroom is an employee of Foremost Dairies, and the bride is associated with the staff of Sue's Beauty Salon.

Deepest sympathy is extended the loved ones of Mrs. Rebecca E. Medlin (Rebecca Eaves) of Gadsden. Mrs. Medlin, age 56, a retired school teacher, and a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. A. D. Concord Deacons Enjoy Banquet

The Deacons of the Concord Church held their annual banquet Thursday night, October 27th, in the dining hall of the church. Those present were the pastor, Rev. and Mrs. G. H. Carroll, Dr. and Mrs. W. L. Parrish, Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Mims, Mr. and Mrs. S. L. Baker, Mr. and Mrs. Howard Wyatt. Mr. and Mrs. Carl McDowell, Mr. and Mrs. Morris Mims, Mr. and Mrs. H. D. Bice, Mr. and Mrs. Pete Wilson, (Mrs. Wilson has been very ill, we were so thankful and happy she could be with us), Mr. and Mrs. S. M. Devaughn, Mr. and Mrs. Hershel Penton. Mr. and Mrs. Virge Mims were unable to attend and every one was sorry our entire group could not be present.

The menu of chicken and dressing and all the trimmings, plus coffee and cake galore, was planned by Mesdames, Parrish, Baker, Bice and Mims.

The dining hall was decorated by Mrs. Penton and her very capable associates, in the Halloween colors and did look very beautiful.

The coffee was in charge of Mrs. Howard Wyatt, who handled the job most efficiently.

The occasion was called to order by the chairman, Dr. Parrish, with a very brief discussion of the importance of the Deacon to the church. He then asked Pastor Carroll to bring the devotional and return thanks.

The devotional topic "How Pleasant it is for Brethren to Dwell Together in Unity," was very impressive.

The social hour which followed was enjoyed by every one and the love, joy and brotherly fellowship manifested there, was most beyond comprehension.

May we ever remain humble is our constant prayer.

The Deacons,
W. L. Parrish, Chrm.

The Colonel Shows Them One Thousand Reasons

Our High School correspondent tells how the Senior Class visited a local bank on Friday. Colonel Harmon, the bank president, took them around to explain things.

The Colonel told them about mortgages, loans and so forth—then talked about savings accounts . . . how easy it is to save regularly . . . how fast small deposits mount up. As he talked he casually passed around a real $1000 bill for the kids to fondle . . . briefly.

Result? Five students opened savings accounts on the spot—three others swore they'd do so with their next allowance. It pays to show a product in action.

From where I sit, folks ought to learn thrift and other good business practices—including the importance of running a clean, orderly business. Andy at the Green Garden Inn could give pointers. He co-operates in a Self-Regulation Program the Brewing Industry sponsors — keeps his place in apple-pie order always—earning real "dividends" in public good will!

Morris Mims Writes On "Holiness"

Heb. 12:14 "Without holiness no man shall see the Lord."

When we speak of holiness many times people think we are referring to some particular denomination, but holiness is the condition of a life, beng pure in heart, having an undefiled body, and being sepated from worldliness.

"Holiness is enjoined by the Lord upon every one regardless of dedomination, and without it no man shall see God. It is holiness or hell. A person can choose between the two. God is a holy God therefore he commands us to be holy.

Our bodies are to be presented unto God holy, and then it will be acceptable to Him. Rom. 12:1 Let us cleanse ourselves from all faithiness of the flesh and spirit perfecting holiness in the fear of the Lord. 2 Cor. 7:1. Our body is the temple of the holy ghost. If any man defile the temple of God him shall destroy, for the Temple of God is holy which temple ye are. 1 Cor. 3:17. Fornication, adulterers, abusers of themselves with mankind. God will judge. When God made man he made him perfect and upright but he has sought out many inventions.

Many people testify to having salvation, but still they do everything that any ungodly person would do. They have filthy habits, curse, drink intoxicating beverages, commit fornication and adultry, take in all worldly entertainments. Ye cannot drink the cup of the Lord and the cup of devils; ye cannot be partakers of the Lord's table and of the devil's. 1 Cor. 10:21.

If you do these things and profess salvation, what are you saved from?

God's word tells us if any man be in Christ, he is a new creature; old things are passed away; behold all things are become new. 2 Cor. 5:17. When the wise men came to see the Christ child they returned another way, and so will we change our way when we come to know Christ.

God's people are to keep themselves unspotted from the world. James 1:27. Being a separated people. Some people want to know just how close they can live to the world and be justified, but if we have the love of God in our heart we will see how far from the world we can live.

Come out from among them, and be ye separate saith the Lord. 2 Cor. 6:17. We can live holy, and we must live holy if we see God. What is your condition? Don't be deceived. Follow after holiness.

Rev. Morris Mims, pastor Clanton First Assembly.

Prove Your Church Allegiance Thusly

Here is the suggested material for a personal "check up" for your women. Find out the truth about our Stewardship. Are we a faithful Steward? Are we proving it?

Present this self test material, ask each member to look closely into her spirit, and practice. Is she excellent good, fair or poor? May we try to prove excellent in the following 2 points of Christian character.

Prove Your Allegiance

Who, or what, do you serve? Who is the real ruler and director of your life—who is your master? Jesus declared, "No man can serve two masters, for either he will hate the one and love the other; or else he will hold to the one and despise the other. Ye cannot serve God and mammon" (Matt. 6:24).

God is spirit. He is the God of spiritual beings, the God of newborn creatures with spiritual natures. Mammon is the god of wealth, of money, of material things. Your allegiance to God or to money classifies you are spiritual or material in your real nature. Jesus did not say you ought not try to serve both God and mammon; he said you cannot do so. Choice must be made between them; it is one or the other.

Facing the decision between taking a well-paying job that migh lead to a career if worldly success or giving your life to the service to which you feel Jesus calls you, may be your test of allegiance. Deciding between putting more into your bank account or more into the mission offering may be the test for you. Many a woman can best test her loyalty and fidelity by comparing what she has put into her jewel case or wardrobe or crystal cabinet with what she has put into God's treasury.

It is sad that the profession and practice of some who wear the name Christian do not always agree. Even though one professes to trust God, if his time and interest and strength and abilities are given to making and storing money or accumulating things, the evidence seems to prove his trust in mammon.

Will you consider afresh where your allegiance is placed actually? Jesus says we hold to the master we serve. Examine and see to which you are holding —to God or to things and money.

The little boy was standing by his mother in the presence of a world statesman of renown. "Shake hands, my boy," said the great man. "The child put out his left hand. "The other hand," corrected his mother "I can't, I've got my marbles in it," the boy replied.

We miss the warm touch of the Master's hand if we try to hold on to things and money instead of putting our hands in his, empty and ready to serve in loyal allegiance to our Lord.

Lutheran Church—

You are cordially invited to attend services at the Lutheran church next Sunday afternoon, at which time Rev. Dexter Moser will preach his farewell sermon. Rev. Moser has been one of our supply pastors for some two years now and has been pastor of Shades Valley church in Birmingham. He has accepted a call to Houston, Texas and will leave on Nov. 15th. We hope that all of our friends as well as members will plan to attend next Sunday.

The Pastor and his wife attended the WMU District Meeting at Siluria. The hearts of all who attended were literally broken when the announcement was made that the son of Dr. and Mrs. W. J. Cooper had been thrown through the window of a moving train by enemies of the cause of Christ. It was definite that one leg was cut off by the train, and possibly both. Dr. Cooper has a very responsible position in Baptist work in Argentina. A special prayer was offered at the meeting and exhortations made for continued prayers for the Coopers. Also, a report was given that the baby of another missionary couple had been kidnapped. Dear friends in Christ, let us be much in prayer for our missionaries everywhere. God alone knows the problems they face and the sufferings through which they go. A strong appeal was made to the churches that they turn their attention to the needs of childhood and youth who are looking to the church for guidance.

Library News—

Johnny isn't the only one who doesn't read. Why Mary doesn't read is also a burning question. A senior high school student came for a book "for a book report." Ramona was handed out as suitable. The book was brought back very soon. "I couldn't understand Ramona" was the comment. Ramona is recommended by Alabama Booklist, by Basic Book Collection, by Wilson Standard catalog and many others amounting to 21 counts. The book finally decided upon and drawn out was Tillie the Toiler and the Masquarading Duchess. Of course that was a count against the librarian too. Is this a result of the so-called Comics? I am inclined to think it is one of many effects of those inartistic brain-dessicating effusions.

Sunrise Birthday Party—

Thursday night, October 27th, a group of about 20 relatives and friends gathered at the home of Miss Naemi Turnquist with a big birthday cake and oodles of lovely gifts for her birthday. She had worked late and came home tired and a bit blue. But when the door opened and the group entered singing "Happy Birthday" her blues flew out and joy reigned the rest of the evening.

Mrs. Estelle Hayes baked the big cake and decorated it in pastel colors. This was served to everyone with delicious hot coffee and home baked cookies.

Miss Naemi has served our folks faithfully in the capacity of Bookkeeper at the Bank of Thorsby and is a life long resident of our fine little town. Her many friends, who could not be present at the party, join those who were there in wishing for her many more Happy Birth days.

Stockholders Party

One of the largest banquets held at Thorsby Institute on Wed- in Thorsby in recent years, was Wednesday nite, Oct. 26, and given by the Officials and Stockholders of The Bank of Thorsby.

Mr. J. Archie Ogburn was emcee and as veryone knows, he is without paralled in this line. He is vice president and cashier of the Bank Thorsby and in his own inimitable way made everyone welcome, introduced speakers, recognized each guest and made everyone feel welcome.

The featured speaker of the evening was Mr. Hugh Dickson, Vice President of the First National Bank of Atlanta, Ga.

Rev. B. B. Burks, Rev. Dexter Moser and Rev. N. A. Long were also on the program.

Our own Lt. Loretta Peterson delighted everyone with her color movies that she made while servin with the U. S. Airforce in Japanese Islands, Formosa and the Philippines. She, very effectively, kept a running explanation of each scene as it was flashed on the screen. This part of the entertainment was thoroughly enjoyed by all, as it was the first time anything of it's kind had been shown at gatherings heretofore held here, and was a novelty to all.

Miss Naemi Turnquist, the efficient bookkeeper of The Bank of Thorsby, engineered the decorations. The long tables were covered in white cloth and centered with decorations very appropriate to the season. These consisted of the many colored leaves held on branches from local trees and used in profusion with bowls, baskets, horns of plenty and trays of mixed fruits and vegetables, flanked by red burning candles in white crystal holders.

The Rev. Dexter Moser Lutheran Minister, led the entire group in singing of folks songs and ballads.

The Ladies Guild served 100 plates of delicious barbecued chicken with all the trimmings, dessert and coffee, to members and guests who attended.

A number of people from Atlanta, Birmingham and Montgomery as well as local guests enjoyed this banquet and the Bank of Thorsby is to be congrtaulated on the efficient way they conducted this meeting and congenial fellowship shown. We think that we have one of the finest board of directors and Bank employees to be found anywhere. Thorsby is justly and humbly proud of these men and women who carry on the business in such a fine, courteous and faithful way.

The North Central Soil Conservation District

Asks All Land-Owners Of Chilton County To Conserve Their Soil And Water

SOIL CONSERVATION DISTRICT WEEK OCT. 30-NOV. 5, 1955

Lespedeza Bicolor border on Grady Cleckler's farm on Clanton, Rt. 5. Bicolor is Quails favorite fall and winter food.

R. O. Williams, District Supervisor of the North Central Soil Conservation District reviewing farm plan with Ivan W. Smith.

To: All Chilton County Farmers --- by R. O. Williams.

Re: Promoting teamwork for wise use of land and water.

Alabama's soil resources are our greatest natural assets. Our soils constitute important foundations of the state's economy and contribute materially to the Nation's prosperity and well-being. The improvement and maintenance of our soils in a high state of productivity is essential to the well-being of every citizen. Since the function of land resources is to serve the wants of people, the objective of land use is to increase and improve the products by the land in response to human efforts, in the form of labor, management and capitol the purpose of conservation then is not just the preservation of land, it is to use it in such a way that people will enjoy sufficient and continuous supplies of food, fiber and services, which com from the land. This is no easy job. Fine starts have been made. But, the job ahead is as tremendous as it is important. It calls for reliable information to be used on all the lands of the state.

To discover this information, get it in the hands of landowners and operators and assist them in applying it, requires the help of agencies, of local state and federal governments, school people, businesses and professional groups and others. The job ahead also calls for co-operation between all those people, who share the responsibility for finding and encouraging better land-use practices. In short, the job ahead demands team-work with many members on the team working together toward a common goal—better living, which cannot be achieved without good land-use and soil conservation.

Soil conservation districts were created as devices for dealing first hand, effectively, democratically, and right down at the grass roots, with the matter of taking care of the land resources. The primary function of the districts is to encourage and develop teamwork of people aimed at making the wisest use and management of our soil and water resources.

The purpose of Soil Conservation Districts' Week, October 30th-November 5th is to develop further public interest, understanding and support of soil conservation districts; for the development of a sounder agriculture based upon the conservation and wise use of soil and water resources.

A PROCLAMATION BY THE GOVERNOR

Whereas, the well-being of our people depends upon the production of ample supplies of food, fiber and other products of the soil, and

Whereas, the quality and quantity of these products depends upon the conservation, wise use and proper management of the soil and related resources, and

Whereas, our people have a mutual interest in the land and share the responsibility of preserving its productivity; and

Whereas, soil conservation districts provide a practical device through which landowners are taking the initiative to conserve and make proper use of these resources; and

Whereas, twelve soil conservation districts, embracing the entire state, are carrying forward a program of soil and water conservation in cooperation with numerous agencies and countless individuals:

Now, Therefore, I, James E. Folsom, Governor of Alabama, do hereby proclaim the week of October 30th-November 5th, as

SOIL CONSERVATION WEEK

A period when our citizens should cooperate with the districts in giving special emphasis to protecting and making wise use of our soil and water resources.

In witness whereof, I have hereunto set my hand and have caused the Great Seal of the State of Alabama to be affixed by the Secretary of State, at the Capital in the City of Montgomery, on this the 30th day of September, 1955.— -s-JAMES E. FOLSOM, Governor.

ATTEST: ss- Mary Texas Hurt, Secretary of State

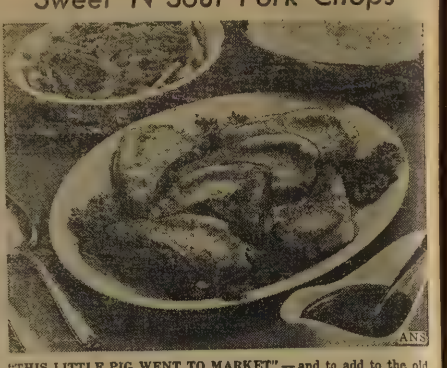
Sweet 'N Sour Pork Chops



"THIS LITTLE PIG WENT TO MARKET"—and to add to the old rhyme we might say that lots of little pigs are going to market right now. This is good news for those of us who enjoy pork chops and other pork cuts. From the test kitchens of Minute Maid-Snow Crop Fresh-Frozen Orange Juice comes a timely recipe for Sweet 'N Sour Pork Chops. This is a delicious way of serving this popular meat—and an easy way, too, since all the cooking is done on top of the range to save fuel.

Rice is plentiful now, too, so we suggest a large bowl of fluffy, boiled rice to serve alongside the pork chops. Use the delicious orange-flavored sauce to pour over the rice as well as the meat. A package of Snow Crop Frozen Green Beans, cooked in a small amount of boiling water, following the package directions, and served with your meat and rice will add up to an extra good meal, for the family as well as guests.

SWEET 'N SOUR PORK CHOPS

6 loin pork chops
6 cloves
1 teaspoon salt
1 teaspoon paprika
⅛ teaspoon pepper
2 tablespoons shortening
1 can (6 oz.) Snow Crop Fresh-Frozen Orange Juice—thawed and undiluted
1 tablespoon brown sugar
¼ teaspoon cinnamon.

Insert one clove in the center of each pork chop. Blend salt, paprika and pepper and rub mixture well into both sides of chops. Melt shortening in heavy skillet or Dutch oven, and when hot, place chops in pan and brown on both sides over medium heat (do not crowd in pan, it is better to brown 3 at a time). Combine thawed and undiluted fresh-frozen orange juice with brown sugar and cinnamon and pour over chops. Cover and simmer about 30 minutes or until tender (Serves 4-6).

CYCLOTHERAPY IN MUSCLE SPASMS
HUMANS RELY ON 500 MUSCLES
MUSCLE SPASMS ARE COMMON AMONG ATHLETES
HOUSEWIVES...
THE HOME HANDY MAN...
MUSCLE SPASM IS ASSOCIATED WITH A VARIETY OF DISEASES

by Science Features

We humans rely on a complex array of 500 muscles of various sizes for the physical power we have over our environment. Yet, we commonly become aware of this wonderful system of locomotion only when our muscles "act up"—when they remind us through pain or spasm that something has gone wrong.

A spasm is any sudden, involuntary contraction of a muscle. Twitching, cramps or other types of muscle spasm may be brought on by a variety of causes. Sudden chilling of the body after swimming may result in severe spasm of several of the body's muscles. Sharply diminished circulation of the blood to any part of the body brings about spasms in the blood-starved area. Chemical imbalance is also a common cause of spasm; for example, recent research indicates that the painful leg-cramps of pregnancy are due to abnormally low levels of calcium in the blood of expectant mothers. The so-called night cramps—sleep-disturbing spasms of leg muscles—are also believed to be related to calcium metabolism.

Bacterial toxins can send the body's musculature into violent contractions; the most notorious of these is the poison secreted by the germ of tetanus or lock-jaw. In addition, many ailments of the nervous and skeletal systems are accompanied by muscular spasms. In many of these chronic conditions, including arthritis, bursitis, paraplegia and low back pain, a new treatment known as cyclotherapy is proving beneficial. Doctors have found that cyclotherapy, a unique form of electrically generated physical energy, has scored striking results in easing spasms and relieving the pain of patients suffering from a variety of ailments that affect the muscles, and helping them toward rehabilitation.

The physician also has a variety of other physical and chemical agents at his disposal to quiet disturbed muscles. Heat, in various forms, has been used since time immemorial to "iron out the kinks" in painful muscles, and it is still a valuable means of therapy. Many drugs, including anesthetics, barbiturates, counter-irritants and the recently developed "tranquilizing drugs" have their place in the spasm-fighting armamentarium.

In some cases, muscle spasm is not primarily the result of disease, but is related to over-use of a particular set of muscles. In these conditions, such as the so-called "occupational cramps" or "athlete's cramps," modern methods of treatment including cyclotherapy have proven effective in restoring free motion to the affected parts.

"The court of county commissioners, board of revenue, or like governing body of Lee County shall have the power to levy and collect a special property tax, in addition to all taxes now or hereafter authorized by the Constitution and laws of Alabama, of not exceeding one-half of one percent on the value of the property in the county as assessed for state taxation during the preceding year, the proceeds of which shall be used exclusively for educational purposes; provided that such tax and the purpose or purposes thereof and the time such tax is proposed to be continued, shall have been first submitted to a vote of the qualified electors of the county and voted for by a majority of those voting at such election as hereinafter provided. The special tax provided for herein may be reduced from time to time, in the manner provided herein, for such periods of time as are necessary. If any proposal to levy a tax is defeated in any election, subsequent elections thereon may be held at any time. The election provided for herein shall be called, held, conducted, paid for, and governed otherwise in the manner provided for an election on the school district tax authorized in Amendment III, Article XIX, of the Constitution of Alabama, by Article 7, Chapter 10, Title 52, Code of Alabama (1940). The tax shall be collected in the same manner and under the same requirements and laws as the taxes of the State are collected. The revenue derived from the tax levied on all taxable property situated outside the corporate limits of Auburn and Opelika shall be kept separate and apart from the revenues to be derived from the tax levied on all taxable property situated within the corporate limits of Auburn or Opelika. The revenues derived from the tax levied on property situated outside the corporate limits of Auburn and Opelika shall be used solely for the construction of schools and other educational purposes outside the corporate limits of Auburn and Opelika, and the revenues derived from the tax levied on property situated inside the corporate limits of Auburn and Opelika shall be used solely for school construction and other educational purposes within the limits of the city of Auburn or Opelika, respectively. In the event an election is held hereunder and a majority of the votes cast in Auburn, in Opelika, or in the county outside the corporate limits of Auburn and Opelika approve the levying of the tax, the tax shall be levied on the property in the area or district where the tax is favored, notwithstanding the fact that a majority of all the votes cast at the election oppose the levying of the tax."

YOUR Health

"Your Health" is presented by your physician as a health service of The Medical Association of the State of Alabama.

TYPHOID FEVER

Even though the cause and method of transmission of typhoid fever are known, this serious disease is still a problem. While the number of cases have dwindled from several thousands to a few hundred a year, the disease is so infectious that one person may be responsible for an epidemic that will result in many deaths.

Typhoid fever is a filth-borne disease, for it develops in communities having inadequate sanitation and sewage disposal. The germ is expelled from the infected person's body through his bowels and bladder. Because the germ multiplies rapidly and the sewage disposal system is faulty, it invades milk and water supplies. It is also spread by other contaminated food.

The common fly is an offender in the spread of typhoid; for it feeds on anything that is unsanitary, depositing its filth on kitchen and eating utensils. The disease may also be acquired by swallowing water when swimming in polluted water, handling soiled clothing, linens, blankets, improperly washed dishes and eating utensils, and possibly using fever thermometers that have not been sterilized.

Control of typhoid fever is a community project. Special attention to water supplies, disposal of sewage, pasteurization of milk and the control of typhoid carriers on an individual and community basis are necessary. In addition, the education of the public to good community and individual hygiene is an important factor.

Prevention of typhoid is the keynote in its control, and this can be accomplished by immunization. Typhoid vaccine is given in three injectons, usually a week apart, and serves to protect an individual for a period of two years. Subsequent "booster" injections will offer an added immunity.

Our attendance was quite down some Sunday. To you who were absent we missed you and hope you can be with us again next Sunday. There were eighty-six present Sunday morning and fifty-three at BTU Sunday night.

NEW SALEM BAPTIST

Our attendance was good Sunday and Sunday night. The services Sunday and Sunday night were wonderful. Rev. Lowery brought a wonderful message Sunday morning all who missed hearing it missed a great blessing. Sunday night Rev. Paul Oden brought the message, and rendered several solos. We thank God for a man, although he is handicapped by being blind, like Bro. Paul. He does a wonderful job for the Lord. Also our Training Union. It is just wonderful on Sunday nights. Our new Training Union Director is really on fire for the Lord.

This past Wednesday night the members of the church surprised Bro. Lowery with a pounding. Also Sunday morning the members surprised Mrs. Lowery and daughter, it being their birthday, the members had several nice gifts for them.

We had several visitors Sunday and Sunday night, which we were glad to have. We welcome them back. We wish more people in the community would realize they need to be in the house of the Lord on the Lord's day. People can always think of God when they are in trouble. But how easy it is for some people to forget God when they aren't in trouble. People need to follow the teaching of the Bible, when it teaches prepare to meet thy God. We are praying that some people might get their hearts right, before it's too late.

Rev. and Mrs. Herman Lowery and family, Mr. and Mrs. Lonnie Cox and Shirley and Mr. and Mrs. Cecil Williams, were the Sunday dinner guests of Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Williams.

Mr. and Mrs. Truell Russell, Louise and Lonnie from Bessemer visited Mr. and Mrs. G. W. [illegible] Sunday afternoon.

Mr. and Mrs. Harry Bo[illegible] Neal, visited Mr. and Mrs. Wilbet Bean Sunday afternoon.

Mr. and Mrs. Edgar Huett, Mr and Mrs. Clarence Huett and son from Birmingham visited Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Williams Sunday afternoon.

Mr. and Mrs. Raiord Boone and Gerldean Carter visited Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Carter Sunday afternoon.

Seed stored while they are still high in moisture will heat and their vitality will be destroyed.

BETTER SCHOOLS BUILD BETTER COMMUNITIES

We feel that the Lord is blessing our church in many ways. Let's pray that He will continue to do so.

We are always happy to have our visitors. There were eight with us Sunday morning.

Work is still going on on the pastor's home. Our thanks goes to the ladies who have been helping the men complete this work.

Let's everyone keep our church calendar in mind and attend.

A PROCLAMATION
GOVERNOR

WHEREAS, the Legislature of Alabama at the Regular Session 1955, ordered an election to be held by the qualified electors of the State of Alabama upon a certain proposed amendment to the Constitution of Alabama, which said amendment is herein set out, and ordered that said election be held on the first Tuesday after the expiration of three months after the final adjournment of the session of the Legislature at which the amendment was proposed; and

WHEREAS, the first Tuesday after the expiration of three months after the final adjournment of the session of the Legislature at which the amendment was proposed will be and occur on Tuesday, December 6, 1955; and

WHEREAS, notice of such election, together with the proposed amendment is required by law, and by the provisions of the act submitting the amendment, to be given by a proclamation of the Governor to be published in each county in the State of Alabama once a week for four successive weeks, next preceding the day appointed for the election:

NOW, THEREFORE, I, James E. Folsom, as Governor of the State of Alabama, do hereby give notice, direct and proclaim that on Tuesday, the 6th day of December 1955, an election will be held at the several polling places within the State of Alabama, in the manner and form provided by law, upon the following proposed amendment to the Constitution of the State of Alabama of 1901:

"Any provision of the Constitution or laws of the State of Alabama to the contrary notwithstanding, any municipality in Walker County, or any one or more of them, shall have full and continuing power and authority, without any election or approval other than the approval of its governing body, except as herein otherwise provided, to do any one or more of the following:

"1. To purchase, construct, lease, or otherwise acquire real property, plants, buildings, factories, works, facilities, machinery and equipment of any kind.

"2. To lease, sell for cash or on credit, exchange, or give and convey any such property described in subdivision 1 above, to any person, firm, association or corporation.

"3. To promote local industrial, commercial or agricultural development and the location of new industries or businesses therein.

"4. To become a stockholder in any corporation, association or company.

"5. To lend its credit or to grant public moneys and things of value in aid of, or to, any individual, firm, association, or corporation whatsoever.

"6. To become indebted and to issue and sell interest bearing bonds, warrants (which may be payable from funds to be realized in future years), notes or other obligations or evidences of indebtedness, to a principal amount not exceeding fifty percent of the assessed value of taxable property therein as determined for state taxation, in order to secure funds for the purchase, construction, lease or acquisition of any of the property described in subdivision 1 above or to be used in furtherance of any of the other powers or authorities granted in this amendment. Such obligations or evidences of indebtedness may (in addition to any pledge or pledges authorized by subdivision 8 of this amendment) be issued upon the full faith and credit of the municipality or may be limited as to the source of their payment.

"7. To levy and collect annually, in addition to all other taxes now authorized or permitted, a special tax or taxes of not exceeding two percent on the value of all taxable property therein as determined for state taxation, in the same manner as other municipal taxes are levied and collected, provided the levying of such tax or taxes be first approved by a majority of the qualified electors of such municipality voting at an election held for such purpose. Such tax may be levied upon all property in the municipality or upon all property in any district the boundaries of which the governing body of such municipality shall describe and which it shall determine to be especially improved and benefited by any proposed use or expenditure of the proceeds of such tax.

"8. To pledge to the payment of any bonds, warrants, notes or other obligations or evidences of indebtedness the annual proceeds from any such special tax or taxes and to obligate itself irrevocably to continue to levy and collect such taxes annually until such obligations or evidences of indebtedness are paid in full and to pledge thereto any rental or sales proceeds of property leased or sold by it.

"9. To create a public authority or corporation having such powers, managed and governed by such board or governing body and subject to such limitations as the governing body of any municipality in Walker County may impose, by approving and filing a certificate to that effect in the office of the Judge of Probate or the Secretary of State, or their respective successors in function, and to delegate to such public authority or corporation and its board or governing body all powers and authority conferred in this amendment upon any such municipality.

"The recital in any bonds, warrants, notes or other obligations or evidences of indebtedness that they were issued pursuant to this amendment or that they were issued to provide funds to be used in furtherance of any power or authority herein authorized or that any special tax herein authorized has been pledged to the payment thereof shall be conclusive; no purchaser or holder thereof need inquire further; and the levy and collection of such tax shall continue until the principal of and interest on such obligations or evidences of indebtedness shall have been paid in full. The bonds, warrants, notes or other obligations or evidences of indebtedness issued hereunder shall not be considered an indebtedness of any municipality in Walker County for the purpose of determining the borrowing capacity of such municipality under sections 224 and 225 of the Constitution; and the taxes herein authorized shall be in addition to those provided for or permitted in sections 215 and 216 of the Constitution and all amendments thereto.

"This amendment shall be self-executing; but the Legislature shall have the right and power by general, special or local act to adopt laws supplemental to this amendment or in furtherance of the purposes and objectives herein above set forth."

I further direct and proclaim that notice of this election upon Tuesday the 6th day of December 1955 upon the above set forth amendment to the Constitution of the State of Alabama of 1901, be given by publishing the same once a week for four successive weeks next preceding Tuesday the 6th day of December 1955, in each county in the State of Alabama, in a newspaper published in said county.

"The Board of Education of Lawrence County may designate one or more school districts within said County (except that no part of the territory embraced within the special school district established under the provisions of the amendment of the Constitution proposed by Act No 473 of the regular session of the Legislature of Alabama of 1949 shall be included in any such special school district) and may sell and issue bonds in an amount not exceeding two hundred fifty thousand dollars ($250,000) for each such special school district, plus such amount as is authorized by Amendment XCIX, ratified on December 15, 1953, and proclaimed ratified on December 28, 1953, for the construction, improving, adding to, or equipping of a school building, or buildings, within said district. To pay the principal of and interest on said bonds and any redemption premium thereon, Lawrence County may levy and collect an annual tax on all taxable property situated within the special school district with respect to which such bonds may be issued, at a rate not in excess of five mills on each dollar's worth of said property as assessed for state taxation for the preceding tax year; provided, that whenever said tax has produced an amount sufficient to pay the principal of and interest on said bonds the tax shall not be thereafter levied and any surplus remaining therefrom shall be used for general school purposes in said school district. The election provided herein shall be called, held, conducted and canvassed, and may be contested, as in the case of three mill school tax elections held pursuant to Article 7, Chapter 10, Title 52 of the Code of Alabama of 1940. Any bonds issued pursuant to this amendment shall be payable solely out of the proceeds of said tax which may be pledged therefor, but said bonds shall constitute negotiable instruments although payable from a limited source, and said bonds shall be eligible for the investment of trust funds. 1. To purchase, construct, lease, or otherwise acquire real property, plants, buildings, factories, works, facilities, machinery and equipment of any kind.

"2. To lease, sell for cash or on credit, exchange, or give and convey any such property described in subdivision 1 above, to any person, firm, association or corporation.

"3. To promote local industrial, commercial or agricultural development and the location of new industries or businesses therein.

"4. To become a stockholder in any corporation, association or company.

"5. To lend its credit or grant public moneys and things of value in aid of, or to, any individual, firm, association, or corporation whatsoever.

"6. Such obligations or evidences of indebtedness may (in addition to any pledge or pledges authorized by subdivision 8 of this amendment) be issued upon the full faith and credit of the municipality or may be limited as to the source of their payment.

"7. To levy and collect annually, in addition to all other taxes now authorized or permitted, a special tax or taxes of not exceeding two percent on the value of all taxable property therein as determined for state taxation, in the same manner as other municipal taxes are levied and collected. "8. "The court of county commissioners, board of revenue, or like governing body of Butler County shall levy and collect a special property tax, in addition to all taxes now or hereafter authorized by the Constitution and laws of Alabama, of not exceeding one percent on the value of the property in the county as assessed for state taxation during the preceding year, the proceeds of which shall be used exclusively for educational purposes, provided that such tax and the purpose or purposes thereof, and the time such tax is proposed to be continued, shall have been first submitted to a vote of the qualified electors of the county and voted for by a majority of those voting at such election. The special tax provided for herein may be reduced from time to time, in the manner provided herein, for such periods of time as are necessary. If any proposal to levy a tax is defeated in any election, subsequent elections thereon may be held at any time. "Any provision of the Constitution or laws of the State of Alabama to the contrary notwithstanding, any municipality in Cullman County, or any one or more of them, shall have full and continuing power and authority, without any election or approval other than the approval of its governing body, to do any one or more of the following:

"1. To purchase, construct, lease, or otherwise acquire real property, plants, buildings, factories, works, facilities, machinery and equipment of any kind.

"2. To lease, sell for cash or on credit, exchange, or give and convey any such property described in subdivision 1 above to any person, firm, association or corporation.

"3. To promote local industrial, commercial or agricultural development and the location of new industries or businesses therein.

"4. To become a stockholder in any corporation, association or company.

"5. To lend its credit or to grant public moneys and things of value in aid of, or to, any individual, firm, association, or corporation whatsoever.

"6. To become indebted and to issue and sell interest bearing bonds, warrants (which may be payable from funds to be realized in future years), notes or other obligations or evidences of indebtedness, to a principal amount not exceeding fifty percent of the assessed value of taxable property therein as determined for state taxation, in order to secure funds for the purchase, construction, lease or acquisition of any of the property described in subdivision 1 above or to be used in furtherance of any of the other powers or authorities granted in this amendment. Such obligations or evidences of indebtedness may (in addition to any pledge or pledges authorized by subdivision 8 of this amendment) be issued upon the full faith and credit of the municipality or may be limited as to the source of their payment.

"7. To levy and collect annually, in addition to all other taxes now authorized or permitted, a special tax or taxes of not exceeding two percent on the value of all taxable property therein as determined for state taxation, in the same manner as other county or municipal taxes are levied and collected. Such tax may be upon all property in any municipality in Cullman County or upon all property in any district the boundaries of which the governing body of such municipality shall describe and which it shall determine to be specially improved and benefited by any proposed use or expenditure of the proceeds of such tax.

"8. To pledge to the payment of any bonds, warrants, notes or other obligations or evidences of indebtedness the annual proceeds from any such special tax or taxes and to obligate itself irrevocably to continue to levy and collect such taxes annually until such obligations or evidences of indebtedness are paid in full and to pledge thereto any rental or sales proceeds of property leased or sold by it.

"9 To create a public authority or corporation having such powers managed and governed by such board or governing body and subject to such limitations as the governing body of any municipality in Cullman County may impose, by approving and filing a certificate to that effect in the office of the Judge of Probate or the Secretary of State, or their respective successors in function, and to delegate to such public authority or corporation and its board or governing body all powers and authority conferred in this amendment upon any such municipality.

"The recital in any bonds, warrants, notes or other obligations or evidences of indebtedness that they were issued pursuant to this amendment or that they were issued to provide funds to be used in furtherance of any power or authority herein authorized or that any special tax herein authorized has been pledged to the payment thereof shall be conclusive; no purchaser or holder thereof need inquire further; and the levy and collection of such tax shall continue until the principal of and interest on such obligations or evidences of indebtedness shall have been paid in full. The bonds, warrants, notes or other obligations or evidences of indebtedness issued hereunder shall not be considered an indebtedness of any municipality in Cullman County for the purpose of determining the borrowing capacity of such municipality under sections 224 and 225 of the Constitution; and the taxes herein authorized shall be in addition to those provided for or permitted in sections 215 and 216 of the Constitution and all amendments thereto.

"This amendment shall be self-executing; but the Legislature shall have the right and power by general, special or local act to adopt laws supplemental to this amendment or in furtherance of the purposes and objectives herein above set forth."

I further direct and proclaim that notice of this election upon Tuesday the 6th day of December 1955 upon the above set forth amendment to the Constitution of the State of Alabama of 1901, be given by publishing the same once a week for four successive weeks next preceding Tuesday the 6th day of December 1955, in each county in the State of Alabama, in a newspaper published in said county.

Rev. Morris Mims Writes On

Tithes Due To God

Mal. 3:8. Will a man rob God? Yet ye have robbed me, but ye say wherein have we robbed thee? In tithes and offerings.

A tenth of our income belongs to God. I don't understand how people can be so ungrateful to God who has blessed them abundantly, giving them strength and health to earn what they have, sending the sunshine and rain that there would be a harvest. Yet there are some who are not grateful enough to give back to God just one tenth of their income, but use it selfishly. God has given us all we have, we should be glad to give God a tenth of it.

The tithe of the land, tree and beast is God's Lev. 27:30-32. Honor the Lord with thy substance, and with the first fruits of all thine increase, Prov. 3:9, Jesus commanded that tithes be paid, Luke 11:42. But woe unto you, Pharisees, for ye tithe mint and rue and all manner of herbs, and pass over judgement and the love of God, these ought ye to have done, and not to leave the other undone.

What are we to do with our tithes? Are we to give our tithes to some needy family in the community or for any other cause out side of the house of God? No. Tithes are to be brought to the house of God. Deut. 12:5, 6, unto the place which the Lord your God shall choose out of all your tribes to put his name there, even unto his habitation shall ye seek, and thither thou shalt come and thither ye shall bring your burnt offerings and your sacrifices and your tithes.

We should help those in need, but this is alms giving and not tithing. Tithes are to be brought to the house of the Lord for his service, Num. 18:20-21. The Lord spake unto Aaron, thou shalt have no inheritance in their land, neither shalt thou have any part among them. I am thy part and thine inheritance among the children of Israel and behold I have given the children of Levi all the tenth in Israel for an inheritance for their service which they serve even the service of the tabernacle of the congregation.

If all church people paid tithes ministers would not be laboring with their hands to make a living. 1 Cor. 9:13, 14, do ye not know that they which minister about Holy things live of the things of the temple? and they which wait at the altar are partakers with the altar, even so hath the Lord ordained that they that preach the gospel should live of the gospel.

People if you are not tithing then you are robbing God, and it is my conviction that people that don't tithe will never enter into heaven. If we tithe God will add his blessings, Mal. 3:10-11, bring ye all the tithes into the storehouse that there may be meat in mine house, and prove me now herewith saith the Lord of hosts. If I will not open you the windows of heaven that there shall not be room enough to receive it and I will rebuke the devourer for your sakes and he shall not destroy the fruits of your ground, neither shall your vine cast her fruit before the time in the field, saith the Lord of hosts.

Rev. Morris Mims, Pastor Clanton First Assembly.

Chilton's Soil Conservationists Report Progress

District Cooperator C. M. Walker, has a farm near Stanton, on which he planted a small area of Pennsacola Bahia grass two or three years ago. Last week we stopped by the place and talked with Mr. Ousley, who looks after the farm, and he called my attention to this grass and made this statement that it was a good plant and furnished a lot of grazing. Bahia grass grows well on almost all of our soils here, unless it is extremely wet, and does an outstanding job on deep sand and droughty soils. It is a deep rooted perennial grass that makes a dense growth, coming out early in the spring and furnishes grazing all through the summer months. Bahia can be grazed even after frost. With proper management a companion crop can be grown with it—such as crimson clover.

H. L. Traywick of Sardis Community, planted three acres of Pennsacola Bahia on rolling sandy soil. He made the statement that he was well pleased with Bahia for grazing, and planned to plant ten more acres in 1956.

E. M. Varden of Union Grove, said, "I try to turn under all the trash and manure I can get on my land. The more I turn under the better the land will conserve moisture."

Hunting season is here and several of us will be trying our luck some morning or evening. Let's all be careful with our matches and cigarettes and not set the woods afire. Fires ruin our hunting and gets most of our reproduction on timber. BE CAREFUL!!!

INCREASE CROPLAND

Are you using the best land on your farm to grow weeds and scrubby trees?

Many farmers are, according to API Extension Conservationist S. R. Doughty. He says thousands of Alabama farms have, standing idle, areas of low, wet land that could be the most productive on the farm. Labor and equipment can be used this fall and winter to prepare such wasteland for pasture and other crops.

Farmers each year use 50 million tons of chemicals and 16 and one-half billion gallons of crude oil—more than any other industry.

Jazz Feeds Produce Top Hatchability Record

Pictured above is S. A. Jones in his completely new and modern hatchery. S. A. produces top-quality Honegger Leghorns, and his business covers Alabama in entirety and all bordering states. This is his third season to be associated with this particular breeder.

The proof of the feeding is in the eggs and S. A. Jones, Jazz Dealer and Honegger Association Hatcheryman of Clanton, Alabama, holds a beautiful trophy which tells the story of the top quality, top profit Jazz Feed S. A. uses with his Honegger Leghorn breeder flocks. The big trophy was presented to Jones' Hatchery at the recent meeting of the Honegger Association Hatcheries held in conjunction with the A.P.H.F. meeting in St. Louis. Jones'-Honegger Leghorn breeders compiled the top record on the basis of the number of pullets hatched and sold per breeder hen. It goes without saying that this excellent record meant extra money to S. A. as hatcheryman, just as the Jazz feeding program means extra proifts for any egg producer using Jazz Feeds. S. A. is proud of the beautiful trophy presented to him at the meeting, but he has even more pride in the excellent record and profits his birds have made.

WHEREAS, the Legislature of Alabama at the Regular Session 1955, ordered an election to be held by the qualified electors of the State of Alabama upon a certain proposed amendment to the Constitution of Alabama, which said amendment is herein set out and ordered that said election be held on the first Tuesday after the expiration of three months after the final adjournment of the session of the Legislature at which the amendment was proposed; and

WHEREAS, notice of such election, together with the proposed amendment is required by law, and by the provisions of the act submitting the amendment, to be given by a proclamation of the Governor to be published in each county in the State of Alabama once a week for four successive weeks, next preceding the day appointed for the election:

NOW, THEREFORE, I, James E. Folsom, as Governor of the State of Alabama, do hereby give notice, direct and proclaim that on Tuesday, the 6th day of December 1955, an election will be held at the several polling places within the State of Alabama, in the manner and form provided by law, upon the following proposed amendment to the Constitution of the State of Alabama of 1901:

"In addition to all other taxes now or hereafter authorized by the Constitution and laws of Alabama, the governing body of Winston County is hereby authorized to levy and collect a special county advalorem tax on real and personal property only situated within said county, at a rate not exceeding three mills on each dollar's worth of said real and personal property, as assessed for state taxation for the preceding tax year, the proceeds of the tax to be used exclusively for public school purposes; and also to levy and collect a special tax not exceeding two mills on each dollar's worth of said taxable property, to be used exclusively for the purpose of acquiring, constructing, equipping, maintaining and operating a county hospital, other public hospitals, non-profit hospitals and public health facilities, including nursing homes, public health centers and laboratory facilities; provided such taxes are authorized by a majority of the qualified electors of the county voting at an election held for such purpose. Such an election may be called at any time by the governing body of the county and must be called when a petition is filed with the chairman or any member of said governing body requesting that such an election be held, if such petition is signed by as many as one hundred qualified electors of the county. The election shall be conducted in the manner which the governing body prescribes.

"Whenever the tax for hospital and public health purposes shall have been voted the governing body of the county may anticipate one-half of the proceeds therefrom for any one or more of the purposes for which the tax shall be voted, by issuing, without further election, interest bearing tax anticipation bonds, warrants, or certificates of indebtedness of said county payable solely from and secured by a pledge of not more than one-half of the annual proceeds from said tax recevied by the county.

"The governing body of the county shall have the further power to designate as the agency of the county to acquire, construct, equip, operate and maintain public hospital facilities any public corporation heretofore or hereafter organized for hospital purposes in the county under any general law heretofore or hereafter enacted by the Legislature. When a public corporation shall be so designated, the proceeds of said tax thereafter collected shall be paid over to it and shall be used by it for anyone or more of the purposes for which the tax shall have been voted; provided, that payment of the proceeds of said tax to said public corporation shall be made only to such extent as will not result in the impairment of the obligation of any contract theretofore made with respect to said tax. If the county governing body has not anticipated the proceeds of said tax and pledged such proceeds to the payment of moneys borrowed for the purposes for which such tax was levied, prior to designating such public corporation as the agency of the county, said public corporation may anticipate one-half of the proceeds from said tax so required to be paid to it by issuing, for any one or more of the purposes for which the tax shall have been voted, the bonds, warrants, or certificates of indebtedness of said public corporation, and may pledge for the payment of the principal thereof and interest thereon not exceeding one-half of the annual proceeds from said tax so paid to it.

"The county, and in the event a public corporation shall have been designated as the agency of such county pursuant to the provisions hereof, then said public corporation, shall have the power to contract with any other county or similar public corporation with respect to the acquisition by purchase, lease, or otherwise, and the construction, equipment, operation, and maintenance of public hospital facilities outside of the county and within any zone or region of which the county may be a part, and which may have heretofore been established or may hereafter be established for public hospital purposes by the Legislature or by any agency designated by it, the obligations of such contract to be payable solely out of the proceeds of said tax; provided, that the proceeds of said tax shall not be used outside of the county for any purpose for which the proceeds could not be used in the county, and shall not be used with respect to public hospital facilities located outside of the county if the tax is voted specifically for public hospital facilities located in the county.

"No securities issued or contract made by a county under the authority of this amendment which are payable solely out of the proceeds of said tax, and no securities issued or contracts made by any such public corporation, whether or not issued or made under the authority of this amendment, shall be construed to be bonds of the county or of a political subdivision thereof within the meaning of Section 222 of the constitution, or construed to create or constitute an indebtedness of the county within the meaning of Section 224 of the constitution. Said securities shall be construed to be negotiable instruments not withstanding the fact that they may be payable solely from a limited source. All pledges of said tax and all contracts made with respect thereto pursuant to the provisions of this amendment shall take precedence in the order in which they are made and shall create a charge on one-half of the proceeds of said tax prior to the expenses of operating and maintaining any public hospital facilities.

"This amendment shall be self-executing."

I further direct and proclaim that notice of this election upon Tuesday the 6th day of December 1955 upon the above set forth amendment to the Constitution of the State of Alabama of 1901, be given by publishing the same once a week for four successive weeks next preceding Tuesday the 6th day of December 1955, in each county in the State of Alabama, in a newspaper published in said county.

How Bible Principles Apply To Your Life

Is anxiety a problem? Then practice love, love of God and love of your fellow man. "Practice giving, and people will give to you. They will pour into your aps a fine measure, pressed down, shaken together and overflowing. For with the measure that you are measuring out they will measure out to you in return." Remember, too, Jesus' counsel: "Quit being anxious about your souls as to what you will eat or about your bodies as to what you will wear. Who of you by being anxious can add a cubit to his life span? If, therefore, you can not do the least thing, why be anxious about the remaining things?" And, as Paul pointed out, Jehovah has promised his servants: "I will by no means leave you nor by any means forsake you." Thus, to the true Christian, anxiety should be no problem. Luke 6:38; 12:22, 25, 26, Heb. 13:5, NW.

Are you hostile, having personal hatred toward others? Then follow the instruction: "Let the sun not set with you in a provoked state." Do you feel inferior? Then remember: "God chose the ones who are poor respecting the world to be rich in faith and heirs of the kingdom which he promised to those who love him, did he not?" Do you envy others? Then remember that all that we have that is of real value comes from God, and if we have his favor we have the greatest thing. And remember, also that the antidote for envy is generosity, loving one's fellow as oneself. "Love is long-suffering and obliging. Love is not jealous, it does not brag, does not get puffed up, does not behave indecently, does not look for its own interests, does not become provoked. It does not keep account of the injury." How many of today's problems love would solve! Eph. 4:26; Jas. 2:5; Cor. 13:4, 5, NW.

Such love allows no room for hostility, inferiority or envy, and removing these things from the mind improves not only your mental but also your physical health, because the mind has a great effect upon the body's well-being. Thus, it is true that "a liberal man will be enriched, and one who waters will himself be watered." And, "A man who is kind benefits himself." Prov. 11:25, 17, RS.

"But why should I practice these principles when other people do not?" "Why should I show love to people who hate me?" "Why should I be honest with people who steal?" "Why should I take my time to help people who have never helped me?" These are common questions. But why not do these things? Why restrict your own happiness just because others throw their's away? Why follow their bad example ther than let them see you one? Just to spite the world, d take a course of greed that add your own unhappiness. You avoid that by following the course that Jesus set out. "T course you were called, bec even Christ suffered for you, ing you a model for you to his steps closely. He committ sin, nor was deceit found i mouth. DEADLY SKIDS ARE LESS LIKELY ON CONCRETE

The difference between a deadly skid and a safe, quick stop is often the pavement. You can stop faster, even in the rain, on concrete. That's because concrete's gritty surface provides uniformly high skid resistance, wet or dry.

Besides permitting better vehicle control, concrete makes night driving safer too! Its light-colored surface reflects up to four times more light than dark-colored pavements. You see farther and have more time to slow down or stop.

Concrete roads also are safer because they're free from hazardous ruts, washboard wrinkles and raveled edges.

It's worth remembering that when the weather is rough you're much safer on concrete, the skid-resistant safety pavement.

Folks and Things ABOUT TOWN

—By Ben

Dick Scott of Alabama Power Company fame, was in to see us the first of this week and brought along a sample of some post cards that he was placing in the drug store and around. These are for tourists to write "Wish You Were Here," and mail back to folks they left at home when they come to Chilton County on their vacation. The cards were pictures of Mitchell and Lay Dams and were in beautiful color. Of course you don't have to be a tourist to use them. If you feel the urge to send a post card publicizing the beauties of Chilton County send one by all means. A lot of home folks would like to receive the cards.

J. Luther Kendrick, our former sheriff, is now associated with Troy Maddox Motors, Dodge & Plymouth dealer. Luther invites his friends to visit him and look over his selection of new and used cars and trucks. All of which reminds us that R. C. Veazey who was with Canton Home and Auto Supply for many years is now down at Hayes Chevrolet selling those new, beautiful Chevrolets. R. C., like Luther, is a home town boy and has many friends and acquaintances over Chilton County and Central Alabama.

The wife told her husband that he was getting old and stuffy and an old-stay-at-home. "What happened to the zip you used to have?" she asked. "Well," replied the husband, "I'm beginning to feel my corns more than I am my oats."

Clanton's Kiwanis Club put on steam last week to report a 100 per cent attendance for the second time in 18 years. With the large membership of the Club it is difficult to get that many businessmen together at a certain time of the week.

Industrila News Review had this to say about an old Southern Veteran of the War Between The States: "A veteran of the Civil War, the old warrior was being interviewed by the press. 'You and two others are the only survivors of the Confederacy,' a newspaperman told him. And there's only one Union soldier still alive. The old man struggled to his feet and let out a Rebel yell. 'Now's the time to attack,' he cried, "we got 'em outnumbered at last."

Dave Morgan was given a surprise party by the Hospital Staff Tuesday in honor of his birthday. All being a close mouthed group we couldn't learn how many years he was celebrating, but it indicates one thing clear. Dave is popular with his hospital staff as well as [illegible]dreds of friends he has made since coming here.

John VanDerveer was in to see us Wednesday morning. He was just passing through and didn't visit long, but he is doing fine and looking good. We know his many friends here will be glad to get news of him. John brought bad news however. He was on his way to Birmingham to attend the funeral of a cousin. Miss Evelyn Pow died at her home in Woodward Tuesday. Funeral services were held Wednesday afternoon at 3 o'clock at Bessemer. She was the daughter of Dr. and Mrs. J. R. Pow and the granddaughter of the late J. P. VanDerveer of Clanton. Her mother will be remembered here by the old-timers as the former Pat VanDerveer. We sincerely regret the passing of Miss Pow and offer our sympathy to the family.

Dr. D. P. Culp To Speak Here November 28th

Dr. D. P. Culp, President of Livingston State College and former Superintendent of Education of Chilton County, will speak at the Courthouse in Clanton on Monday night, November 28 at 7:00 o'clock. Mr. Culp will be speaking on the Goodwyn amendment and will be ready to explain any phase of the proposed school tax amendment to anyone present. A question and answer period will follow a general presentation of the contents of the amendment.

Dr. Culp is one of the best informed men in the state on school finance and school taxes. He should have some good information on the subject for voters, who will vote on three amendments concerning the financing of our schools on Dec. 6.

VFW Reaches Membership Goal

Post 3193. Clanton, of the Veterans of Foreign Wars reached their goal in the current membership drive last Monday.

Commander Louis Johnson stated that a goal of fifty members had been set for the entire year and the goal had been reached in the first month.

In view of its successful drive the local post will receive a National Citation, a 17-jewel watch, and a winter uniform, the two latter awards being made by the state headquarters.

Commander Johnson further stated that it is his aim for each of these members to enroll at least one person each, thus doubling the growing total of the local post.

Parade, Barbecue, Singing---

Chilton Veterans' Day Program Tomorrow Will Be Big Affair

How many of you remember the joy and thrill that ran throughout your body on November 11th, 1918 when you received word that the war with Germany was over? How many remember V-E Day when at least part of World War II was over? And the others of you who remember V-J Day and the End of the Korean Conflict (which we will always remember as a full-fledged war for our boys were losing their lives every day that our way of living might be preserved).

Just as Sherman said, "War is Hell" and if you don't believe it, ask the man who was there. Go to any Veteran Hospital where the blood is not yet dry and ask. Don't always expect the man who W[illegible] there to ever be like he once was. But try to understand and him in every way you can

In the countries where the powder exploded and battles were held, the people have not forgotten so soon. May God forbid that we in America ever again know wha pangs of war on our soil means. we forget the past so soon, we will certanly be prone to let our defenses down, thus inviting attack from Communism and Fascism and other outside forces.

Dignitaries, both county and state, floats, marching soldiers, marching and riding veterans, both disabled and abled men, singing, choice of old fashioned barbecue with camp stew and all the trimmings. This will all be a part of the big Veterans Day program planned for Chilton County on November 11.

This all leads up to November 11, 1955, Veteran's Day, which we will celebrate Friday in Chilton County

Until recently no one could be sure of receiving blood in sufficient quantities when needed. To help meet that need Red Cross set out to do its part with the Blood program. Blood and blood products are provided to civilian hospitals and to physicians on a regular basis, as required for their patients. Also by providing blood without cost to the recipient. ARE THESE OUR CHILDREN?

The present generation of parents are rearing the most spoiled children in history beyond a shadow of a doubt. What with all of our modern conveniences, our theatres, drive-ins, fine automobiles, etc., kids never had it so good—and it is spoiling them to death.

It has been a tendency for the past decade to entertain the children instead of letting them entertain themselves, and the more they get, the more they want.

On Hallowe'en, just past, it was the treat rather than the trick which they enjoyed. They weren't satisfied with just what they could enjoy at the time, they carried a big sack or basket and went from door to door "begging" for more. Aren't we paretns wrong in teaching, or permitting, the children to develop such a code. Wonder what the generations dead and gone would think of our modern youngster? Only a short generation ago a parent's first concern was that a child learn to work and earn what he had. He stood on his own feet and was beholding to no man.

We want the young to have all the good things of life and because for the most part the present generation of parents were reared during a depression we go all out to see that our offsprings get the things that we never had.

It's satisfying to the parent—but is it best for our children?

THE BUDDY POPPY—

The Buddy Poppy, in its small way, is an annual remembrance and tribute to the many Veterans who gave their lives and limbs to our great nation. This small flower is fashioned after the beautiful poppies growing in Flanders Field where many of our World War I soldiers are buried.

But it's purpose is two-fold. The sale of these poppies today gives support to deceased veteran's families as well as affording the disabled veterans a small income.

These flowers are hand-made by disabled veterans right here in the United States. The Veterans of Foreign Wars, who sells the poppies, use the income to support a home for the families of veterans who were killed in battle. The children in this home are given a complete education by the VFW.

Friday, November 11th, is Veteran's Day and these small Buddy Poppies will be on sale to you. Go out of your way in an effort to purchase this remembrance to our veterans who won't be here to watch our parade and ceremonies. Make a large donation for the flower—it won't be as large as the one these veterans did for you.

New Chilton Pension Union Backs Approved Legislation

Wes Gletty—Acting Director

Don't forget our meeting this Saturday, November 12th at 1:30 p m at the Courthouse in Clanton.

Very sorry some of our report for last meeting was accidentally omitted. Mr. Lawrence of Birmingham was with us, and gave a very interesting talk. They have a fine organization in Birmingham.

We also discussed the Kefauver Roosevelt Bill, H. R. 7848, which will come before our next congress. This is a worthwhile bill and while it's not a national pensions by right such as we advocate it is a step in that direction and all pension minded ctizens should urge their congressman to support this bill. If this bill is passed it will establish for the first time "Legislative intent that Public Assistance shall be administered promptly and harmonsly with the regard for the preservation of family life, and without discriminations on account of race, religion or political affiliations, and that the Public Assistance be Liberally construed." There are many other good features to this bill, too lengthy to go into.

Hope to see a good turn out Saturday. We want to reach that goal of one hundred charter members Remember, no one is too young or too old, too rich or too poor to join this organization.

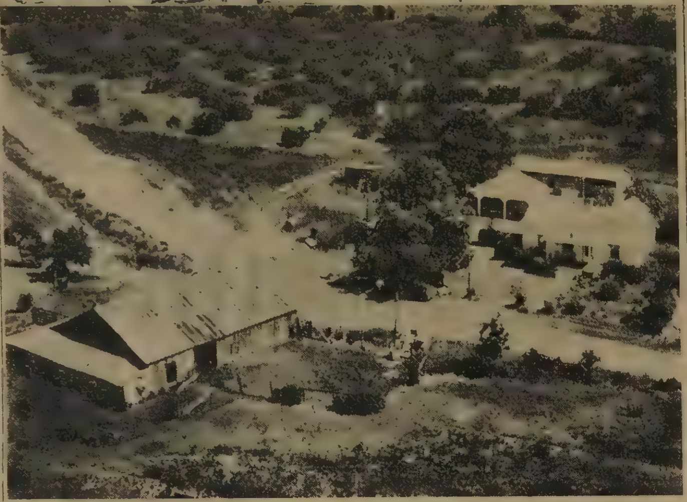
Whose Farm Is This?



HERE'S YOUR LAST CHANCE to win prizes in the "Mystery Farm" contest this year. This is the last farm that we have for publication.

All you have to do to win is come by the News office before four o'clock next Saturday afternoon and tell us who owns the farm pictured above.

Farm people are asking---

What Chilton's Farm Operators Need To Know About Social Security Benefits

First in a series of five articles by J. W. Overstreet, Jr., Dist. Mgr. Birmingham Social Security Office

Today—and every day—more and more farmers and farm hands and people who earn a living in other kinds of agricultural activity are asking us whether they wll get social security for their work.

In farming, just as in most other kinds of work, earnings can count toward old-age and survivors insurance benefits only if you are "employed" or self-employed."

By and large, most persons whose living is derived from some kind of agricultural work are now covered by social securty. They may be covered as "employed" or self-employed" people. While it is fairly easy to tell whether a person engaged in commerce or industry, or one of the covered professions, works for himself or is a wage or salary earner the arrangements under which farming is done are often more complicated. For this reason, I am going to devote this series of brief articles to the several conditions which apply to farm work in relation to social security.

In the articles to follow, I shall discuss seperately the various arrangements under which farming is done. Right now, however, I want to make a general statement. You are building toward old-age and survivors insurance as a self-employed farmer if you work a farm as owner, lessee, or renter and have net earnings of $400 or more in a year.

In my next article, I shall discuss in detail the various farming arrangements under which a person gets social security credits as a self-employed farmer.

Farmers Reminded Of Goodwyn Bill's Net Income Clause

Chilton County Farmers should keep in mind that there is no tax under the proposed Goodwyn school tax bill unless there is an income of at least $1000 after the cost of operation is deducted. This means that the cost of fertilizer, labor, seeds, farm taxes, depreciation and other costs are to be taken from gross income before tax is figured. Like any other business, the tax would be on "gross adjusted income;" meaning the profits after deducting the cost of operation.

Chilton County farmers also need to consider the fact that improvements in Alabama's school system will probably mean more to rural boys and girls than anyone else. The Goodwyn proposal and the building bond issue amendment to be voted on on December 6, will play an important part toward equalization of educational opportunities between boys and girls over the state.

These will be amendments No. and No. 2 on the ballot.

The Calcium Needs Of Mother And Child

Shortage of calcium, the mineral most important to sound bones and teeth has long posed a problem in prenatal care.

A frequent symptom of calcium deficiency is leg cramps. These are experienced by more than 50 per cent of expectant mothers. If the deficiency becomes severe enough, the baby's bone formation might even be affected. It may also create health hazards for the mother. However, calcium deficiencies can exist silently in the mother's system, without the appearance of leg cramps.

Medical science has always been acutely aware of the increased calcium needs of expectant mothers and the growing child in her womb. To fill the additional requirements, doctors have prescribed calcium—and protein rich diets, vitamins, as well as a long-used prenatal dietary supplement called dicalcium phosphate.

Recent medical studies have shown that calcium deficiency is actually only one aspect of the problem. The other is an oversupply of phosphorous which acts as an antagonist to absorption of the calcium that can enter the blood stream of the mother and unborn child.

In fact, clinicians have reported that the phosphates normally present in a rich protein diet, and in the dicalcium phosphate supplement, actually lower the calcium content in the blood of the pregnant female and her unborn child to the point of a rather severe insufficiency.

An adequate quantity of calcium is necessary to life not only because the mineral supplies about 90 per cent of the substances necessary for healthy bone formation, but is also essential to normal heart action. Calcium also plays an important role in the body's blood-clotting mechanism.

Furthermore, the mineral helps the nervous system to function properly, and makes it possible for the body to obtain energy from the food it consumes.

Although the ordinary North American diet is ample to fulfill these functions—its average calcium content is 0.85 gm. per day—it does not provide enough of the substance to fill the needs of mother and child. According to medical authorities this need rises to 1.5 gm. in pregnancy, and continues during the period of lactation.

The answer to prenatal calcium deficiency now seems to have been found. Doctors who have tested a new calcium supplement, called Calcisalin, which is free of phosphates, report the new remedy notably raises calcium levels in the blood and reduces the incidence of leg cramps. Calcisalin is reinforced with vitamins and minerals known to be required in prenatal supplementation. Aluminum hydroxide gel is also added because it reduces the amount of phosphorous compounds absorbed into the mother's system.

Morris Mims Writes On---

'Things Beyond Price'

I was asked this question by a man recently. Do you think that a man can be happy? Quickly I said yes, but it can't be found in material things; the really deeply satisfying things in life are not the material things. Vast realms of life are out side the influence of money. They are things that money cannot buy. Isa. 55:1 "Lo, every one that thirsteth, Come ye to the waters, and he that hath no money; come ye, buy and eat."

We find it hard to believe that material things don't bring happiness in these days. The pressure of public opinion about us says that money matters most. One of the greatest needs of men today is to change their minds on this subject. We must get away from the idea that wealth is the best we can seek and that the wealthiest among us is the best.

We have lost our perspective and turned away from the masters standards. "A man's life does not consist in the abundance of the things he possesses." Does the modern world believe that?

God's word suggests that some of the most valuable things in life are to be had without money, it is true. The joy of setting sun, of still earth, of silver moon, of nature's delight, needs but a soul in tune to appreciate it. Joy, happiness, and peace is to be had only in God, and in him it can be maintained. Yes a man can be happy he may never own much of this world's goods He may never have a mansion with modern conveniences. He might not ever haul any money to deposit in a bank, but he can live in a realm of happiness if he knows the Lord.

There have been times in my life that I have witnessed people who had plenty of this world's goods so they would lack for nothing but would commit suicide feeling there was nothing to live for. Why Simply because they had neglected the most important thing. Instances like this reminds us that money doesn't matter most.

What are you seeking after today? Will it bring happiness to you when you have gained it? Will it afford contentment? What ever you are seeking after just remember that godliness with contentment is a great gain.

The soul of man can't live on the riches of this world. A certain man in a parable Jesus spoke in Luke 12th chapter thought his soul could live in the things he had stored in the barn, for he said, Soul, thou drink and be merry." But God said unto him, thou fool, this night thy soul shall be required of thee; then whose shall those things be which thou hast provided; he was a fool because of his thinking the soul could live on material things. Sustance for the soul is in God. Receive the invitation, take the things above price and live eternally.

Veterans' Day-

with a parade in the morning, Memorial Service in the City Park in Clanton at 11:00 a.m. and a barbecue at noon ending with a singing at the new National Guard Armory at 7:00 p.m. Elmo Fagg, the Blue Ridge Quartet, special groups of Chilton County Youth Singers and last but not least, in the entertainment field, will be Little Troy Lumpkin to entertain.

Yes, it seems that the Veteran's Day committee has left nothing undone to make this Veteran's Day a day of Commemoration for both the living and dead veterans who served their country so valiantly at a time when our entire nation and all that it stands for was a stake.

The veterans are most appreciative for the cooperation of all organizations and merchants in paying homage to our veterans. All merchants in Clanton have agreed to close their doors from 10:00 a.m. until 1:00 p.m. so that those who have veteran employees can let them off early enough (9:00 a.m.) to take part in the program.

Again the veterans thank everyone for their kind cooperation in making this Veteran's Day of 1955 one which shall be remembered.

BLOODMOBILE-

it possible to expand immediately to meet emergency needs.

Hospitals in 41 counties draw blood from the Birmingham Regional Center, which means that some of the blood collected in your own county will come right back to this area. Also the Birmingham Center must still help meet the blood requirements of the Department of Defense and Federal Civil Defense Administration.

The visit of the Bloodmobile Unit on November 14the means that simply citizens in your city and county are getting another opportunity to participate in one of the finest humanitarian movements in modern times. Besides giving benefits to the donor and family, it gives the donor the satisfaction of helping others. Therefore we urge the people in this City and County to donate a pint of blood on the above mentioned date.

In determining where a hospital, health center, or related medical facility to be constructed with funds appropriated herein shall be located, consideration shall be given to the communities on the basis of relative need. Each county having no hospital, health center or related medical facility shall have first priority. Counties receiving prior allotments hereunder shall not be precluded from receiving an additional allotment for other facilities at the discretion of the State Board of Health. A sum not to exceed forty thousand dollars ($40,000) may be used by the State Board of Health from the proceeds of the sale of said bonds for administering the provision of this amendment.

(b). All bonds issued hereunder and the interest thereon shall be payable from any funds in the State treasury not otherwise appropriated. How Bible Principles Apply To Your Life

We must remember that while today's clergy often try to please almost everyone, the Bible does not try to please anyone. Anyone who wants to put things in their right order and please God can follow it, but it does not come down to the level of those who do not wish to do that, no matter how many of such people there might be. This Book offers safe-guards for the minds and hearts of the men who wlli accept. It reveals the mind of the Creator. Through getting a right knowledge of what it says we can make our minds over, putting things in the right order and pleasing God. Psalm 119:9 (AS) puts it very simple: "Wherewith shall a young man cleanse his way? By taking heed thereto according to thy word."

Now, in all probability your home has a Bible. Most homes do. But just having it is not the important thing. You must know what it says, believe it, apply its instructions, use it as your life guide. As Paul advised Timothy, you must be "a wockman with nothing to be ashamed of, handling the word of the truth aright." 2 Tim. 2:15, NW.

What do you learn from God's Word? First, that you must avail yourself of Christ's ransom sacrifice, doing something about it. We read that "the Son of man came . . to give his soul a ransom in exchange for many." Note: not for all, but for many. Yes, it is a free gift, but it takes two to make a gift, a giver and a receiver. To accept the ransoms you must take a positive action, taking advantage of its provisions. You must recognize Jehovah God as the Supreme Ruler of the Universe, the Father of the ransomer, the one to whom "salvation belongeth," and you must obey the instructions that are contained in his Word. It is through thus faithfully serving Him that you show appreciation for the loving provisions that he has made. Matt. 20:28, NW; Ps. 3:8.

Further, you learn that this is not an isolated action on your part but that you must faithfully and regularly assemble with God's people, "not forsaking the gathering of ourselves together, as some have the custom, but encouraging one another, and all the more so as you behold the day (of the old world's end) drawing near." (Heb. 10:25, NW.)

A third thing you learn when you study the Bible is that you must be diligent in presenting this message to others, telling them of the good things you have learned. In true Christianity there is no room for the apathy that marks most of today's religions. One whose heart really is filled with joy at receiving the truth will feel compelled to speak it out. "For out of the heart's abundance his mouth speaks." It is commanded that the news, telling it to others; thus this Christian publicly declare this good is necessary for your own salvation as well as for the salvation of those who listen to you. "For if you publicly declare that 'word in your mouth,' that Jesus is Lord, and exercise faith in your heart that God raised him up from the dead, you will be saved." Luke 6:45; Rom. 10:9, NW.

You learn, too, that this activity is not just a hobby, diversion or vital importance and is a permacasual pastime, but that it is of nent way of life. "I will sing unto Jehovah as long as I live: I will sing praise to my God while I have any being." Can one honestly claim to be a Christian while offering God less than that? How much of your effort is thus being spent in helping others to learn of God's way? Ps. 104:33, AS.

Why is this course of such great value? First, it brings happiness and contentment now. Second, and far more important, it provides Jehovah's protection throught the impending time of trouble. The Bible's prohpecies refer to our day. They warn that ours is earth's most crucial period whe nthe "accomplished end" of Satan's wicked rule is at hand. (Matt. 24:14, NW.) The graft, violence, insecurity and worry that are so evident today are soon to be abolished. They will cease and righteous conditions will replace them. God has promised "I create new heavens and a ne earth; and the former things shal mind." Would you like to live unnot be remembered, nor come into der those conditions? Then follow receive his favor, because "God is the instructions of God's Word and our refuge and strength, a very present help in trouble. Therefore will we not fear, though the earth change, and though the mountains seas." Isa. 65:17; Ps. 46:1, 2, AS be shaken into the heart of the Thus, following the Bible's principles will improve your family life, will help you to raise better children and to have a more peaceful, contented mind. Further, you will see that Christ's ransom makes it possible for you to benefit from God's provisions, but that to accept that ransom you must take a positive course of action, must assemble with other Christians and participate with them in God's service. There is always a time to start applying conservation measures on your land. For instance, in the fall establish water disposals, terrace land, plant pastures, improve your woodland by removing worthless trees, construct farm ponds. However, next spring or summer you can do most of these things. Make a start now and put one or more conservation practices on your farm.

STATE OF ALABAMA

A PROCLAMATION

GOVERNOR

WHEREAS, the Legislature of Alabama at the Regular Session 1955, ordered an election to be held by the qualified electors of the State of Alabama upon a certain proposed amendment to the Constitution of Alabama, which said amendment is herein set out, and ordered that said election be held on the first Tuesday after the expiration of three months after the final adjournment of the session of the Legislature at which the amendment was proposed; and

WHEREAS, the first Tuesday after the expiration of three months after the final adjournment of the session of the Legislature at which the amendment was proposed will be and occur on Tuesday, December 6, 1955; and

WHEREAS, notice of such election, together with the proposed amendment is required by law, and by the provisions of the act submitting the amendment, to be given by a proclamation of the Governor to be published in each county in the State of Alabama once a week for four successive weeks, next preceding the day appointed for the election:

NOW, THEREFORE, I, James E. Folsom, as Governor of the State of Alabama, do hereby give notice, direct and proclaim that on Tuesday, the 6th day of December 1955, an election will be held at the several polling places within the State of Alabama, in the manner and form provided by law, upon the following proposed amendment to the Constitution of the State of Alabama of 1901:

"Any provision of the Constitution or laws of the State of Alabama to the contrary notwithstanding, any municipality in Walker County, or any one or more of them, shall have full and continuing power and authority, without any election or approval other than the approval of its governing body, except as herein otherwise provided, to do any one or more of the following:

"1. To purchase, construct, lease, or otherwise acquire real property, plants, buildings, factories, works, facilities, machinery and equipment of any kind.

"2. To lease, sell for cash or on credit, exchange, or give and convey any such property described in subdivision 1 above, to any person, firm, association or corporation.

"3. To promote local industrial, commercial or agricultural development and the location of new industries or businesses therein.

"4. To become a stockholder in any corporation, association or company.

"5. To lend its credit or to grant public moneys and things of value in aid of, or to, any individual, firm, association, or corporation whatsoever.

"6. To become indebted and to issue and sell interest bearing bonds, warrants (which may be payable from funds to be realized in future years), notes or other obligations or evidences of indebtedness, to a principal amount not exceeding fifty percent of the assessed value of taxable property therein as determined for state taxation, in order to secure funds for the purchase, construction, lease or acquisition of any of the property described in subdivision 1 above or to be used in furtherance of any of the other powers or authorities granted in this amendment. Such obligations or evidences of indebtedness may (in addition to any pledge or pledges authorized by subdivision 8 of this amendment) be issued upon the full faith and credit of the municipality or may be limited as to the source of their payment.

"7. To levy and collect annually, in addition to all other taxes now authorized or permitted, a special tax or taxes of not exceeding two percent on the value of all taxable property therein as determined for state taxation, in the same manner as other municipal taxes are levied and collected, provided the levying of such tax or taxes be first approved by a majority of the qualified electors of such municipality voting at an election held for such purpose. Such tax may be levied upon all property in the municipality or upon all property in any district the boundaries of which the governing body of such municipality shall describe and which it shall determine to be especially improved and benefited by any proposed use or expenditure of the proceeds of such tax.

"8. To pledge to the payment of any bonds, warrants, notes or other obligations or evidences of indebtedness the annual proceeds from any such special tax or taxes and to obligate itself irrevocably to continue to levy and collect such taxes annually until such obligations or evidences of indebtedness are paid in full and to pledge thereto any rental or sales proceeds of property leased or sold by it.

"9. To create a public authority or corporation having such powers, managed and governed by such board or governing body, and subject to such limitations as the governing body of any municipality in Walker County may impose, by approving and filing a certificate to that effect in the office of the Judge of Probate or the Secretary of State, or their respective successors in function, and to delegate to such public authority or corporation and its board or governing body all powers and authority conferred in this amendment upon any such municipality.

"The recital in any bonds, warrants, notes or other obligations or evidences of indebtedness that they were issued pursuant to this amendment or that they were issued to provide funds to be used in furtherance of any power or authority herein authorized or that any special tax herein authorized has been pledged to the payment thereof shall be conclusive; no purchaser or holder thereof need inquire further; and the levy and collection of such tax shall continue until the principal of and interest on such obligations or evidences of indebtedness shall have been paid in full. The bonds, warrants, notes or other obligations or evidences of indebtedness issued hereunder shall not be considered an indebtedness of any municipality in Walker County for the purpose of determining the borrowing capacity of such municipality under sections 224 and 225 of the Constitution; and the taxes herein authorized shall be in addition to those provided for or permitted in sections 215 and 216 of the Constitution and all amendments thereto.

"This amendment shall be self-executing; but the Legislature shall have the right and power by general, special or local act to adopt laws supplemental to this amendment or in furtherance of the purposes and objectives herein above set forth."

I further direct and proclaim that notice of this election upon Tuesday the 6th day of December 1955 upon the above set forth amendment to the Constitution of the State of Alabama of 1901, be given by publishing the same once a week for four successive weeks next preceding Tuesday the 6th day of December 1955, in each county in the State of Alabama, in a newspaper published in said county.

IN WITNESS WHEREOF, I have hereunto set my hand and have caused the Great Seal of the State of Alabama to be affixed by the Secretary of State, at the Capitol in the City of Montgomery, on this the 1st day of October 1955.

BY THE

GOVERNOR

WHEREAS, the Legislature of Alabama at the Regular Session 1955, ordered an election to be held by the qualified electors of the State of Alabama upon a certain proposed amendment to the Constitution of Alabama, which said amendment is herein set out, and ordered that said election be held on the first Tuesday after the expiration of three months after the final adjournment of the session of the Legislature at which the amendment was proposed; and

WHEREAS, the first Tuesday after the expiration of three months after the final adjournment of the session of the Legislature at which the amendment was proposed will be and occur on Tuesday, December 6, 1955; and

WHEREAS, notice of such election, together with the proposed amendment is required by law, and by the provisions of the act submitting the amendment, to be given by a proclamation of the Governor to be published in each county in the State of Alabama once a week for four successive weeks, next preceding the day appointed for the election:

NOW, THEREFORE, I James E. Folsom, as Governor of the State of Alabama, do hereby give notice, direct and proclaim that on Tuesday the 6th day of December 1955, an election will be held at the several polling places within the State of Alabama, in the manner and form provided by law, upon the following proposed amendment to the Constitution of the State of Alabama of 1901:

"The Board of Education of Lawrence County may designate one or more school districts within said County (except that no part of the territory embraced within the special school district established under the provisions of the amendment of the Constitution proposed by Act No 473 of the regular session of the Legislature of Alabama of 1949 shall be included in any such special school district) and may sell and issue bonds in an amount not exceeding two hundred fifty thousand dollars ($250,000) for each such special school district, plus such amount as is authorized by Amendment XCIX, ratified on December 15, 1953, and proclaimed ratified on December 28, 1953, for the construction, improving, adding to, or equipping of a school building, or buildings, within said district. To pay the principal of and interest on said bonds and any redemption premium thereon, Lawrence County may levy and collect an annual tax on all taxable property situated within the special school district with respect to which such bonds may be issued, at a rate not in excess of five mills on each dollar's worth of said property as assessed for state taxation for the preceding tax year: provided, that whenever said tax has produced an amount sufficient to pay the principal of and interest on said bonds the tax shall not be thereafter levied and any surplus remaining therefrom shall be used for general school purposes in said school district. The bonds and tax herein authorized shall be in addition to those heretofore authorized, and no such bonds shall be issued, no such tax shall be levied, until the estimated cost of constructing, improving, adding to, or equipping the school building or buildings to be built in such district, its estimated time of completion, the maximum principal amount of the bonds proposed to be issued, the maximum rate of interest to be paid thereon, and the period over which the bonds are to be issued will be retired, shall have been determined and made public by the Board of Education of said County, and the proposed issuance of bonds and increase in the rate of taxation shall have been authorized by a majority of the qualified electors of such special school district voting upon such proposal at an election to be called by the County governing body for said purpose, said election to be held not less than sixty days after the adoption of this amendment, but, at anytime thereafter at the discretion of the said County governing body. The election provided herein shall be called, held, conducted and canvassed, and may be contested, as in the case of three mill school tax elections held pursuant to Article 7, Chapter 10, Title 52 of the Code of Alabama of 1940. Any bonds issued pursuant to this amendment shall be payable solely out of the proceeds of said tax which may be pledged therefor, but said bonds shall constitute negotiable instruments although payable from a limited source, and said bonds shall be eligible for the investment of trust funds. This amendment shall be self executing and cumulative."

I further direct and proclaim that notice of this election upon Tuesday the 6th day of December 1955 upon the above set forth amendment to the Constitution of the State of Alabama of 1901, be given by publishing the same once a week for four successive weeks next preceding Tuesday the 6th day of December 1955, in each county in the State of Alabama, in a newspaper published in said county.

"In addition to all taxes now or hereafter authorized by the Constitution and laws of Alabama, Russell County shall have the power to levy and collect a special county-wide school tax of eight mills on each dollar's worth of taxable property in Russell County, the proceeds of which shall be used exclusively for public school purposes; provided that such tax and the purpose or purposes thereof, and the time such tax is proposed to be continued, shall have been first submitted to the vote of the qualified electors of the county and voted for by a majority of those voting at such election. The special tax provided for herein may be renewed from time to time, in the manner provided herein, for such periods of time as are necessary. If any proposal to levy the tax is defeated in any election, subsequent elections thereon may be held at any time. The elections provided for herein shall be called, held, conducted, paid for, and governed otherwise in the manner provided for an election on the school district tax authorized in Amendment III, Article XIX of the Constitution of Alabama, by Article 7, Chapter 10, Title 52, Code of Alabama (1940). The county tax collector shall collect the tax in the same manner and under the same requirements and laws as the taxes of the state are collected, and he shall keep the proceeds of this tax separate and apart from all other funds, and shall keep clear accounts thereof. The tax collector shall distribute the proceeds of this special tax in such manner as to turn over to the custodian of the county school funds of Russell County the revenue derived from the tax levied on all taxable property situated outside the corporate limits of Phenix City, such revenues to be used by the county board of education for educational purposes in connection with schools located or to be located outside the corporate limits of Phenix City, and to turn over to the custodian of school funds of the city school system of Phenix City the revenue derived from the tax levied on all taxable property situated within the corporate limits of Phenix City, such revenues to be used by the city board of education for educational purpose in connection with schools located or to be located within the corporate limits of Phenix City.

"In the event that any special property tax authorized herein shall be authorized by a majority of the qualified electors voting on the question at the election, the county board of education of Russell County and the city board of education of Phenix City may, at such times as to them seem necessary and proper, sell and issue their tax anticipation bonds for the purposes for which the tax was authorized, which bonds shall be in such amounts as the respective board of education shall designate and, except as otherwise provided herein, shall be subject to the provisions of the general laws now pertaining to the issuance by county and city boards of education of capital outlay warrants, and no further election shall be required for the issuance of such bonds. The revenue derived from the sale of these bonds shall be expended by the county board of education and the Phenix City board of education for public school purposes only. Any bonds issued under the authority of this amendment shall be payable solely out of the proceeds of the special property tax hereby authorized, all or any part of which may be pledged therefor. The bonds issued under the authority of this amendment shall constitute negotiable instruments, although payable from a limited source, and shall be eligible for the investment of trust funds. "Any provision of the Constitution or laws of the State of Alabama to the contrary notwithstanding, any municipality in Coffee County, or any one or more of them, shall have full and continuing power and authority to do any one or more of the following, provided such action be first approved by a majority of the qualified electors of such municipality voting at an election held for such purpose:

1. To purchase, construct, lease, or otherwise acquire real property, plants, buildings, factories, works, facilities, machinery and equipment of any kind.

"2. To lease, sell for cash or on credit, exchange, or give and convey any such property described in subdivision 1 above, to any person, firm, association or corporation.

"3. To promote local industrial, commercial or agricultural development and the location of new industries or businesses therein.

"4. To become a stockholder in any corporation, association or company.

"5. To lend its credit to or grant public moneys and things of value in aid of, or to, any individual, firm, association, or corporation whatsoever.

"6. To become indebted and to issue and sell interest bearing bonds, warrants (which may be payable from funds to be realized in future years), notes or other obligations or evidences of indebtedness, to a principal amount not exceeding fifty per cent of the assessed value of taxable property therein as determined for state taxation, in order to secure funds for the purchase, construction, lease or acquisition of any of the property described in subdivision 1 above or to be used in furtherance of any of the other powers or authorities granted in this amendment. Such obligations or evidences of indebtedness may (in addition to any pledge or pledges authorized by subdivision 8 of this amendment) be issued upon the full faith and credit of the municipality or may be limited as to the source of their payment.

"7. To levy and collect annually, in addition to all other taxes now authorized or permitted, a special tax or taxes of not exceeding two percent on the value of all taxable property therein as determined for state taxation, in the same manner as other municipal taxes are levied and collected. Such tax may be upon all property in any municipality in Coffee County or upon all property in any district the boundaries of which the governing body of such municipality shall describe and which it shall determine to be specially improved and benefited by any proposed use or expenditure of the proceeds of such tax.

"8. To pledge to the payment of any bonds, warrants, notes or other obligations or evidences of indebtedness the annual proceeds from any such special tax or taxes and to obligate itself irrevocably to continue to levy and collect such taxes annually until such obligations or evidences of indebtedness are paid in full and to pledge thereto any rental or sales proceeds of property leased or sold by it.

"9. To create a public authority or corporation having such powers, managed and governed by such board or governing body and subject to such limitations as the governing body of any municipality in Coffee County may impose, by approving and filing a certificate to that effect in the office of the Judge of Probate or the Secretary of State, or their respective successors in function, and to delegate to such public authority or corporation and its board or governing body all powers and authority conferred in this amendment upon any such municipality.

"The recital in any bonds, warrants, notes or other obligations or evidences of indebtedness that they were issued pursuant to this amendment or that they were issued to provide funds to be used in furtherance of any power or authority herein authorized or that any special tax herein authorized has been pledged to the payment thereof shall be conclusive; no purchaser or holder thereof need inquire further; and the levy and collection of such tax shall continue until the principal of and interest on such obligations or evidences of indebtedness shall have been paid in full. The bonds, warrants, notes or other obligations or evidences of indebtedness issued hereunder shall not be considered an indebtedness of any municipality in Coffee County for the purpose of determining the borrowing capacity of such municipality under sections 224 and 225 of the Constitution; and the taxes herein authorized shall be in addition to those provided for or permitted in sections 215 and 216 of the Constitution and all amendments thereto.

"This amendment shall be self-executing; but the Legislature shall have the right and power by general, special or local act to adopt laws supplemental to this amendment or in furtherance of the purposes and objectives here in above set forth."

I further direct and proclaim that notice of this election upon Tuesday the 6th day of December 1955 upon the above set forth amendment to the Constitution of the State of Alabama of 1901, be given by publishing the same once a week for four successive weeks next preceding Tuesday the 6th day of December 1955, in each county in the State of Alabama, in a newspaper published in said county.

NOW, THEREFORE, I, James E. Folsom, as Governor of the State of Alabama, do hereby give notice, direct and proclaim that on Tuesday, the 6th day of December 1955, an election will be held at the several polling places within the State of Alabama, in the manner and form provided by law, upon the following proposed amendment to the Constitution of the State of Alabama of 1901:

"Any provision of the Constitution or laws of the State of Alabama to the contrary notwithstanding, any municipality in Cullman County, or any one or more of them, shall have full and continuing power and authority, without any election or approval other than the approval of its governing body, to do any one or more of the following:

"1. To purchase, construct, lease, or otherwise acquire real property, plants, buildings, factories, works, facilities, machinery and equipment of any kind.

"2. To lease, sell for cash or on credit, exchange, or give and convey any such property described in subdivision 1 above to any person, firm, association or corporation.

"3. To promote local industrial, commercial or agricultural development and the location of new industries or businesses therein.

"4. To become a stockholder in any corporation, association or company.

"5. To lend its credit or to grant public moneys and things of value in aid of, or to, any individual, firm, association, or corporation whatsoever.

"6. To become indebted and to issue and sell interest bearing bonds, warrants (which may be payable from funds to be realized in future years), notes or other obligations or evidences of indebtedness, to a principal amount not exceeding fifty per cent of the assessed value of taxable property therein as determined for state taxation, in order to secure funds for the purchase, construction, lease or acquisition of any of the property described in subdivision 1 above or to be used in furtherance of any of the other powers or authorities granted in this amendment. Such obligations or evidences of indebtedness may (in addition to any pledge or pledges authorized by subdivision 8 of this amendment) be issued upon the full faith and credit of the municipality or may be limited as to the source of their payment.

"7. To levy and collect annually, in addition to all other taxes now authorized or permitted, a special tax or taxes of not exceeding two percent on the value of all taxable property therein as determined for state taxation, in the same manner as other county or municipal taxes are levied and collected. Such tax may be upon all property in any municipality in Cullman County or upon all property in any district the boundaries of which the governing body of such municipality shall describe and which it shall determine to be specially improved and benefited by any proposed use or expenditure of the proceeds of such tax.

"8. To pledge to the payment of any bonds, warrants, notes or other obligations or evidences of indebtedness the annual proceeds from any such special tax or taxes and to obligate itself irrevocably to continue to levy and collect such taxes annually until such obligations or evidences of indebtedness are paid in full and to pledge thereto any rental or sales proceeds of property leased or sold by it.

"9. To create a public authority or corporation having such powers managed and governed by such board or governing body and subject to such limitations as the governing body of any municipality in Cullman County may impose, by approving and filing a certificate to that effect in the office of the Judge of Probate or the Secretary of State or their respective successors in function, and to delegate to such public authority or corporation and its board or governing body all powers and authority conferred in this amendment upon any such municipality.

"The recital in any bonds, warrants, notes or other obligations or evidences of indebtedness that they were issued pursuant to this amendment or that they were issued to provide funds to be used in furtherance of any power or authority herein authorized or that any special tax herein authorized has been pledged to the payment thereof shall be conclusive, no purchaser or holder thereof need inquire further, and the levy and collection of such tax shall continue until the principal of and interest on such obligations or evidences of indebtedness shall have been paid in full. The bonds, warrants, notes or other obligations or evidences of indebtedness issued hereunder shall not be considered an indebtedness of any municipality in Cullman County for the purpose of determining the borrowing capacity of such municipality under sections 224 and 225 of the Constitution; and the taxes herein authorized shall be in addition to those provided for or permitted in sections 215 and 216 of the Constitution and all amendments thereto.

"This amendment shall be self-executing; but the Legislature shall have the right and power by general, special or local act to adopt laws supplemental to this amendment or in furtherance of the purposes and objectives herein above set forth."

I further direct and proclaim that notice of this election upon Tuesday the 6th day of December 1955 upon the above set forth amendment to the Constitution of the State of Alabama of 1901, be given by publishing the same once a week for four successive weeks next preceding Tuesday the 6th day of December 1955, in each county in the State of Alabama, in a newspaper published in said county.

MERRILLS' USERS

HAIR!

READ WHAT A FEW OF THE MEMBERS OF THE AMERICAN HAIR AND SCALP ASSOCIATION'S MANY SATISFIED CLIENTS HAVE SAID ABOUT THEIR HOME TREATMENT IN THEIR UNSOLICITED REPORTS: THERE ARE MANY MORE IN OUR FILES:

"My hair has grown very much you can see new hair all over my scalp. The new hair looks lively and much better. I [illegible] well pleased with my hair, it looks so much better and much thicker and I thank you so much."

C. Burkett
Dothan, Alabama

"I am quite well pleased with the success I have had as far as I have gone, which was the three months course, and I am convinced that with continued massaging and non alcoholic shampoo I will be able to take care of my scalp without further treatment. I have learned quite a lot about caring for my scalp.

R. Langston
Walla Walla, Washington

Since beginning my treatment my hair is softer, more manageable, and it is not breaking or coming out nearly so much. I notice a general appearance of new hair all over my scalp. I am very pleased with the treatment."

Guaranteed

Not everyone can be helped by the Merrill Home Treatment. Only those we think we can help are accepted for treatment. Those who are accepted for Merrill Home Treatment are given this guarantee, "If you are not completely satisfied at the end of thirty days, your money will be returned." This is only because most people are skeptical of claims that hair can grow on balding heads. Usually where a person avails himself of the Merrill treatment, his skepticism disappears.

AFTER

Oklahoma City Radio Station Manager Jimmie Lee lost his hair and was going bald. He thought his hair follicles were dead, but shown above is Mr. Lee as he looks after using the course of treatments Merrill's users have grown hair. We have many reports testifying that after using our home treatment weak fuzz has developed into healthy mature hair. Proper use of this home treatment may bring about a healthy scalp condition which will help the body to produce new hair. If there is any fuzz at all, a healthy scalp condition may be restored, and the hair may grow normally again as nature intended. There is one thihg Merrill wants to be certain every man and woman knows. If a recession appears at the temple or a spot begins to show up on the crown of the head, there is something wrong and it should be given immediate attention.

Free Examination

In addition to reexamining present clients, the Merrill methods of home treatment will be demonstrated to others who are interested. The examination is very thorough and highly technical. It requires 20 to 30 minutes. The Consultant makes no charge for this examination and no appointment is necessary. After examining the person he is told the required length of treatment and how much it will cost. Regular reports are made to the Merrill firm in Oklahoma City to check the progress of the home treatment.

HOW'S YOUR HAIR

IF IT WORRIES YOU CALL OUR CONSULTANT, R. F. TIPPIE AT THE WILLINGHAM HOTEL, CLANTON, ALA., ON MONDAY ONLY, NOVEMBER 14, 12 NOON UNTIL 9:00 P.M. THE PUBLIC IS INVITED, THE EXAMINATIONS ARE PRIVATE AND OPEN TO MEN AND WOMEN. YOU DO NOT NEED AN APPOINTMENT AND YOU WILL NOT BE EMBARRASSED OR OBLIGATED IN ANY WAY.

Chilton Farmers Urged To Keep Income Record

Farmers in Chilton County were reminded today by J. W. Overstreet Jr. ,that they should keep some type of record to show the amount of their earnings from the sale of farm products during 1955 and future years. This record will be needed to enable them to report their earnings for social security purposes.

"The time to start maintaining a record of farm products sold was January 1, 1955. If this record has not been kept, the time to start is now," Mr. Overstreet asserted.

For a self-employed farmer to become eligible for old-age and survivors insurance benefits, he must receive credit on his social security account for his income. And with just a simple journal to record his sales, etc., he can maintain a basic record which will make it possible to accurately report his annual self-employment income to the Director of Internal Revenue each year.

This report is filed as a part of his Federal income tax return. He pays a social security tax of 3 per cent of his net income of $400 up to $4200 in the taxable year. Payment of the social security tax is required by law even though no Federal income tax is due.

Mr. Overstreet points out that if the farmer fails to keep records and fails to make proper reports of his earnings, he stands to lose valuable insurance protection for himself in his own old age and for his family if he should die at any age. Farmers who desre information on the new law should get in touch with Mr. Overstreet's office which is located at 1825 First Avenue North, Birmingham, Alabama.

Rev. Rasberry says:

Christ Must Be Lifted Up

(Second in a series of 3 articles)

Why should we evangelize—Jesus said ye are the light of the world. He intended that His Gospel should lighten every sin-darkened corner of the earth, but we have withhe that light. Our unconcern, and prayerlessness are damning and dooming immortal souls to mora mid-night.

Why should we evangelize—Jesus said ye are the salt of the earth, but the truth is we've got all the salt bunched up here in America. There are 250,000 Protestant preachers in this nation and mere handful in the regions beyond. And this report on Foreign was given at our Convention in Mobile this past November—We have 939 missionaries on the field and of this number only 344 are men. And think about this statement that was also made at the Convention. There is a department store in Memphis that has more employees than : thern Baptist have missionaries on foreign fields. Yes, Jesus has said to go, but are we gong? Are we lifting up Christ to a lost and dying world.

The fifth chapter of the Gospel of Luke presents the incident of the broken net. Jesus was teaching by the Lake of Gennesaret, and as the crowd increased and pressed Him, He entered into one of two ships that had bee nanchored close to the shore. The fishermen to whom they belonged had gone out and were washing their nets.

It appears that Jesus had chosen Peter's boat and after He had concluded His teaching, He said to Simeon, "Launch out into the deep, and let down your Nets for a draught." Peter's faith was at a low ebb, as is seen by two things given in the Scriptures. In the first place instead of letting down several net. he let down only one net. And his words are as revealing as his action:—"Master, we have toiled al night, and have taken nothing nevertheless at Thy word I will le down the Net." Fisherman-like Peter had given up hopes for the day. After the net had been down into the sea it enclosed a great multitude of fishes and the record states, "And their net brake." As Christians you and I are fishermen of men, but so far we only have let down a net, when Christ has commanded us to let down our nets. We need to wake up and realize this business of missions is no one net affair.

Why should we evangelize?—Two fifths of the world population are now under the direct comination of that Godless philisophy called Communism. While we in America spend one day in pleasure and business, over 5,000 Indians, Africans and Chinese have passed into eternity—most of them without Christ Accordnig to the latest figures, 94 per cent of the world has never heard a Gospel message. And Pau says in Cor., "Christian, I speak this to your shame." As Mose lifted the serpent in the wilderness so we must lift up Christ to a lost and dying world.

Why should we evangelize? Why should Christ be lifted up? Let us look at America. There are righ now in the United States, 11 liquor stores to every church. There are over 50 million drinkers. In one state there is a tavern to every 53 people; one out of every 8 babie are born out of wedlock; we have 60,000 closed churches, and plu perhaps many more on Sunda night.

You might be saying that is just the saying of a preacher, that's not right; you are just trying to make it look big. All right, let us look to a report released by J. Edgar Hoover—America's Spiritual Plight: "People spend eight times more hours at movies than at Sunday School; only one out of twelve persons in our country attends church, seven out of eight children quit church and Sunday School attendance before they reach fifteen years of age; fifteen million "sex" magazines are printed monthly and read by two-thirds of the American people; there are more bar maids in this country than college girls one million American girls have venereal disease; one hundred thousand girls disappear every year into white slavery— one million illegitimate babies are born annually; there are almost a mllion illegal abortions performed annually; our nation harbors three times as many criminals as college students; a major crime is committed every twenty-two seconds; and aggravated assault or rape every hour; a murder every forty minutes; there are sixty suicides in our nation daily; two out of three adults, both men and women, smoke; three out of ten who start as light drinkers, end up drunkards; as a nation we spend about seven hundred fifty dollar on pleasures, sins, cosmetics and amusements to every dollar give to foreign missions. Read, pray weep, as you consider America's dreadful spiritual plight."—J. Edgar Hoover. And may we ask ourselves why all this in America and the answer is because we have failed to lift up Christ, for Christ says "And I, if I be lifted up will draw all men unto Me." When we think of all that goes on in America we must use the words of Paul: "I speak this to your shame." As Moses lifted up the serpent where it could be seen, we as Christians and missionary believing people must lift up Christ to America.

WHEREAS, the Legislature of Alabama at the Regular Session 1955, ordered an election to be held by the qualified electors of the State of Alabama upon a certain proposed amendment to the Constitution of Alabama, which said amendment is herein set out, and ordered that said election be held on the first Tuesday after the expiration of three months after the final adjournment of the session of the Legislature at which the amendment was proposed; and

NOW, THEREFORE, I, James E. Folsom, as Governor of the State of Alabama, do hereby give notice, direct and proclaim that on Tuesday, the 6th day of December 1955, an election will be held at the several polling places within the State of Alabama, in the manner and form provided by law, upon the following proposed amendment to the Constitution of the State of Alabama of 1901:

"In addition to all other taxes now or hereafter authorized by the Constitution and laws of Alabama, the governing body of Winston County is hereby authorized to levy and collect a special county advalorem tax on real and personal property only situated within said county, at a rate not exceeding three mills on each dollar's worth of said real and personal property, as assessed for state taxation for the preceding tax year, the proceeds of the tax to be used exclusively for public school purposes, and also to levy and collect a special tax not exceeding two mills on each dollar's worth of said taxable property, to be used exclusively for the purpose of acquiring, constructing, equipping, maintaining and operating county hospital, other [illegible] and laboratory facilities, provided such taxes are authorized by a majority of the qualified electors of the county voting at an election held for such purpose. Such an election may be called at any time by the governing body of the county and must be called when a petition is filed with the chairman or any member of said governing body requesting that such an election be held, if such petition is signed by as many as one hundred qualified electors of the county. The election shall be conducted in the manner which the governing body prescribes.

"Whenever the tax for hospital and health purposes shall have been voted the governing body of the county may anticipate one-half of the proceeds therefrom for any one or more of the purposes for which the tax shall be voted, by issuing, without further election, interest bearing tax anticipation bonds, warrants, or certificates of indebtedness of said county payable solely from and secured by a pledge of not more than one-half of the annual proceeds from said tax recevied by the county.

"The governing body of the county shall have the further power to designate as the agency of the county to acquire, construct, equip, operate and maintain public hospital facilities any public corporation heretofore or hereafter organized for hospital purposes in the county under any general law heretofore or hereafter enacted by the Legislature. When a public corporation shall be so designated, the proceeds of said tax thereafter collected shall be paid over to it and shall be used by it for anyone or more of the purposes for which the tax shall have been voted; provided, that payment of the proceeds of said tax to said public corporation shall be made only to such extent as will not result in the impairment of the obligation of any contract theretofore made with respect to said tax. If the county governing body has not anticipated the proceeds of said tax and pledged such proceeds to the payment of moneys borrowed for the purposes for which such tax was levied, prior to designating such public corporation as the agency of the county, said public corporation may anticipate one half of the proceeds from said tax so required to be paid to it by issuing, for any one or more of the purposes for which the tax shall have been voted, the bonds, warrants, or certificates of indebtedness of said public corporation, and may pledge for the payment of the principal thereof and interest thereon not exceeding one-half of the annual proceeds from said tax so paid to it.

"The county, and in the event a public corporation shall have been designated as the agency of such county pursuant to the provisions hereof, then said public corporation, shall have the power to contract with any other county or similar public corporation with respect to the acquisition by purchase, lease, or otherwise, and the construction, equipment, operation, and maintenance of public hospital facilities outside of the county and within any zone or region of which the county may be a part, and which may have heretofore been established or may hereafter be established for public hospital purposes by the Legislature or by any agency designated by it, the obligations of such contract to be payable solely out of the proceeds of said tax; provided, that the proceeds of said tax shall not be used outside of the county for any purpose for which the proceeds could not be used in the county, and shall not be used with respect to public hospital facilities located outside of the county if the tax is voted specifically for public hospital facilities located in the county.

"No securities issued or contract made by a county under the authority of this amendment which are payable solely out of the proceeds of said tax, and no securities issued or contracts made by any such public corporation, whether or not issued or made under the authority of this amendment, shall be construed to be bonds of the county or of a political subdivision thereof within the meaning of Section 222 of the constitution, or construed to create or constitute an indebtedness of the county within the meaning of Section 224 of the constitution. Said securities shall be construed to be negotiable instruments not withstanding the fact that they may be payable solely from a limited source. All pledges of said tax and all contracts made with respect thereto pursuant to the provisions of this amendment shall take precedence in the order in which they are made, and shall create a charge on one-half of the proceeds of said tax prior to the expenses of operating and maintaining any public hospital facilities.

"This amendment shall be self-executing."

I further direct and proclaim that notice of this election upon Tuesday the 6th day of December 1955 upon the above set forth amendment to the Constitution of the State of Alabama of 1901, be given by publishing the same once a week for four successive weeks next preceding Tuesday the 6th day of December 1955, in each county in the State of Alabama, in a newspaper published in said county.

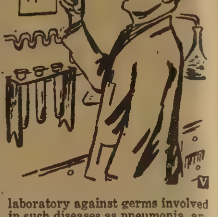
The Search for Health

The search for antibiotics, the infection-fighting chemicals produced by tiny organisms, has progressed at an amazing pace during the past decade. If the quest continues with the same intensity prevailing during this period, it is estimated that some 400 antibiotics will be discovered in the course of 1955 alone.



Of these 400—derived from bits of soil, plants and other organic matter gathered in all parts of the world—only one or two are likely to be found useful in the fight against human infection. The others will be disqualified or scheduled for further study.

The one or two that remain, however, may be drugs destined to save millions of lives. Polycycline (also known by such names as Panmycin and Steclin), newest and safest of the clinically proven broad-range antibiotics, is an example. Developed by scientists at Bristol Laboratories, this drug—which is of the chemical family called the tetracyclines—is being used in hospitals throughout the world to fight scores of infections ranging from pneumonia to venereal disease.

But before a drug reaches such eminence—in fact, before it is tested on a single human patient—it must be subjected to a series of careful tests. And here is where the weeding-out process commences The tests reveal if the drug is too toxic, how likely it is to produce allergic reactions, and other pertinent information.

The care exerted by research laboratories in the development of antibiotics is illustrated in the case of Etamycin, one of the most recent antibiotic discoveries. Although this drug, also developed by Bristol, has shown considerable effectiveness when pitted in the laboratory against germs involved in such diseases as pneumonia, anthrax and tuberculosis, it still faces an "obstacle course" of experiments and studies.

This intensive search for drugs that restore health, conducted in laboratories throughout the country, inevitably has led to considerable duplication of effort. Frequently, the same antibiotic has been discovered independently by several research teams. This has happened in the case of Etamycin.

But the search continues, unabated. For in every new sample of humble-looking earth may lurk a microorganism that holds the remedy for diseases that at present have no cure.

Folks and Things ABOUT TOWN

—By Ben

A group of local men attended the Alabama Coosa River Development Association at Montgomery Tuesday. The purpose of the meeting was for the organization of counties from Rome, Ga., to Mobile, Ala., in providing a 9 foot deep channel for river navigation. Those attending were: from Maplesville, Mayor V. B. McCain; from Jemison, Dewey Davenport and C. C. Conway; from Thorsby, Carl Christiansen and Grover C. Bice; from Verbena Charlie Gulledge and Will Gulledge; from Clanton, Herb Salter, Francis Speaks, Earl Wilson, Reedie Taylor, J. L. Kendrick, David Wald and Di k Scott. This group of Civic minded citizens deserve the backing of each and every one of us in promoting this enterprise.

One Sunday morning the father met his four-year-old son just as he was coming out of Sunday School. The son was asked what they had been doing. "Oh, singing songs,' he answered. "Well what song did you sing?" asked the father. "I don't know what the others sang," said the boy, "but I sang Davy Crockett."

Dr. G. Stanley Frazer, of the St. James Methodist Church of Montgomery, will be guest speaker at the Men's Fellowship Club at the Clanton Methodist Church next Tuesday evening. That's Nov. 22nd. All members are urdeg to attend and hear Dr. Frazer. He is a gifted speaker.

Reports are that Reese Mullins is doing fine at the hospital in Birmingham where he is recovering after a throat operation. He is expected home within the next fi days. Our sincere wishes for a complete and quick recovery go to Reese and we hope to see him soon getting mail in the wrong boxes again at the local postoffice.

Lenoir Oglesby and Mary Ann (Oglesby) Neely are doing well and convalescing in a Birmingham hospital after their car accident. Husband Aubrey Neely is also mending. Reports are that Lenoir may be able to come home this week. It was a bad accident that happened to two wonderful and talented girls. We hope the Neeleys and Lenoir will be up and about soon.

What about Dave Wald acting as a beauty judge? Don't get us wrong now because we think Dave is quite a beauty himself but we were just wondering if we got a job as City manager if we could get to sit in on some of these beauty contests. No, on second thought lets forget about it. Our blood pressure wouldn't stand the strain.

Schools Assured Of Income From Amendment 2

Voters can rest assured that if they ratify the income tax for schools, commonly known as the Goodwyn amendment, every penny of it above the cost of collection will go to schools. Since it will be collected through present collection facilities, this cost of collection should be very small.

To insure the people that schools will get it all, the Legislature wrote the provision in the bill. It is there in black and white for anyone to read as it is legally advertised in every county in the state. Since it will be an amendment if passed, and since it will have been made so by vote of the people, it can never be used for anything else by the Legislature, Governor or anyone.

The Treasure Hunt will be held on the night of December 2nd, at which time a number will be placed on each prize in town. All you have to do to win one of these valuable prizes is to be the holder of a ticket with a number corresponding to the one on any of the many prizes Elsewhere in this issue you will find an advertisement listing the merchants participating in the Christmas program. Tickets are available at all of these stores.

The night of December 2nd is to be the official kick-off for the Yule Season. A parade by old St. Nick himself, will march into town. What Goodwyn Amendment Means To Chilton County

On December 6 voters of Alabama will either approve or disapprove a school building bond issue. If approved, it will provide the Chilton County Board of Education with approximately $755,550 to be used for school buildings. Even though this amount would fall far short of meeting the needs, it would allow the Board to meet the most pressing ones.

With this amount available the Board should be able to provide classrooms needed for desirable comfort and instructional efficiency. It should also be able to provide sanitary toilets and desirable heating for all pupils. Communities with poor lunchroom facilities could be aided in bringing them up to par. It should enable the Board to provide auditorium and gymnasium facilities in larger centers not already provided with them. Additional land for sites should be possible.

Approval of Amendment No. 2 would provide a "Pay-as-you-use" plan, allowing our own boys and girls of today to get some benefits. We must keep in mind that they pass through our public schools only once. If we are unwilling to make a small sacrifices for them now, we can assume the responsibility of hanging a handicap on their shoulders.

With present revenues, the Board can't begin to meet the classroom needs alone, not to mention the numerous other needs.

Amendment No. 2 on December 6 will give all Chilton County citizens who have expressed concern over our school building needs an opportunity to help make arrangements to do something about hem.

When you find there is a need to lie, then you know you are in the wrong.

We enjoy the game of life but we would enjoy it more if we held more trumps.

* * * *

The man who makes every minute of every day count is the man of the hour.

* * * *

This will surprise you but what you are, tends to make other people what they are.

CLEAR THE SIDEWALKS

We understand the City Council has issued orders that all vending machines be taken off the streets of Clanton. Also newspaper racks, penny scales, display items in front of stores etc., have been ordered off.

It is obvious that the Council could not order one of the various items off the streets without ordering all of them off but why let the Southern Bell construct all the telephone booths on the sidewalks just to have them removed? It has been little over 30 days since most of them was placed on the streets and now comes the order that everything must go.

Seems like someone has gone to a great expense for nothing.

A SUCCESS

The Memorial Services held in Clanton on Veterans' Day proved to be a huge success. It was only through the concentrated efforts of the local veterans' organizations and various civic organizations that this great program was carried out so smoothly.

No memorial is expected to be large enough to pay complete tribute to those who gave their lives for this country, but it is wonderful to see veterans cooperating as well at home as they did on the battlefields.

THE MEANING OF S-D DAY

The challenge facing us all on that day will be—no traffic accidents during daylight, dusk or darkness during a 24-hour period.

This will be the second annual "S-D Day" in Alabama, Gov. James E. Folsom noted that "traffic safety requires not only good laws and good law enforcement but, above all, plenty of highway courtesy and good common sense from all highway users—motorists and pedestrians."

S-D. Campaign organizers are calling on every citizen to make him or herself responsible for refreshing memories on traffic safety laws, and increasing courtesy and caution in highway use. In this way it is hoped that we shall all be poised ready to meet the "S-D Day" challenge, and ever afterwards be better drivers.

The Southern Governors, in their recent Point Clear, Ala. Conference, unanimously passed a resolution calling for less horsepower emphasis and more horse sense.

In the 365 days of 1954 there were 36,000 people killed on American highways; 1,250,000 injured, and an estimated property damage loss of $4,400,000,000.

Alabama's share in this boody toll was 630 killed and, in the rural sections alone, 8,866 injured with a property loss of $3,664,808.

Many of us have been present at the scene of an accident and heard the cries of the dying and the injured, and stood appalled at the hideousness of twisted human frames and shattered automobiles. Most such accidents are caused by reckless disregard of speed and other rules; impatience or discourtesy.

As Governor Folsom has said, "the traffic accident is not going to be solved in Washington, but in all our communities" by you and you and you.

Let us all cooperate to be better, safer highway users, and make December 1 a 100 per cent successful "S-D Day."

Farm Owners And Social Security Law

(Second in a series of five articles)

By J. W. Overstreet, Jr.

A person who is hired to do farm or other agricultural work can generally tell whether his cash wages count toward his social security. However, a farm owner has several things to consider before he can tell whether his earnings can be counted.

For instance, the mere ownership of farm property does not mean that your net earnings from the property can be credited to your social security account. It is necessary that you actually engage in the operation of the farm. This you may do alone, or under a partnership or joint venture arrangement You may operate the farm with or without hired help.

If as an owner, lessee, or sharefarmer you actually engage in the operation of the farm, you are a self-employed farmer for social security purposes, and your net earnings of $400 or more in a year for any year after 1954 can be credited to your social security account.

On the other hand, if you own a farm but rent it out on cash or share-crop rental arrangement, your income from that source cannot be counted as self-employmen earnings for social security purposes. In such cases, the earnings the farm owner derived from the farm property are considered to be rentals from real estate. This is so, whether the rental is paid to him in cash or in a share of the crop. Earnings from the rental of real estate of any kind are not earnings from self-employment for social security pu poses (unless you are a real estate dealer.)

Of course, you may rent part of your farm lands, and actually operate other parts of them yourself. Your income from that part which you yourself operate will count as earnings from self-employment.

If you are a farm operator and also have self-employment earnings from a non-farm enterprise covered by the law, the earnings from both enterprises up to a total of $4,200 in a year can be credited to your sicial security account. For example: if, in addition to operating a farm, you also operate a store or flling station your combined net earnings from both activities can be credited to your social security account.

Moreover, if, in addition to operating a farm, you also work part of the year in employment for wages, you will get social security credit from those earnings too. In such cases, the wages will count first ,and you will report and pay the social security self-employmen tax on only enough of your farm earnings to bring the combined total for the year up to $4,200.

As I said at the beginning of this article, a farm operator need not be a farm owner. He may be a lessee or a renter on either a cash or share of the crop basis. In my next article I shall discuss the share cropper as a self-employed farmer under social sceurity.

READERS VIEWS ON NATIONALIZED MEDICINE

Route 5,
Clanton, Ala. Nov. 14, 1955

Dear Mr. Tucker:

If you will spare me the space, I would like to say a few words on nationalized medicine.

In the Union-Banner for Nov. 4, Mr. Wyatt had a short editorial entitled, "The Nays Have It," in which he cited polls of editors, Blue Cross insurance, etc., on the subject of compulsory health insurance.

I heartily agree with all that we do not want compulsory insurance or anything else that is compulsory. But there is a very great difference between compulsory insurance and nationalized medicine. Compulsory insurance would be unjust, because it would compel millions who are unable to pay profits to insurance companies, that allready are piling up millions of dollars in profits.

Nationalized medicine, would be administered at cost, and the cost would be distributed nation-wide, every one taxed according to his ability to pay, and every one benefitting according to his need. This would simply be cooperative insurance on a nation-wide scale. It works in Britain. Why shouldn't it work here?

I would like to quote excerps from an article which appeared in the Kansas City Star, written by Marcel Wallenstein, the Star's correspondent in Europe. Quote, "No British government elected in the conceivable future will change the system of nationalized medicine. The most frequent opinions heard about this method of treating the ill is: It works. Today most —if not all—British physicians are government employees and the larger hospitals government institutions. I asked repeatedly, "Are they better or worse?" The answers were every time, "Doctors are much the same although some are responsible hospitals are ever so much better."

The nationalized law gave every one medical treatment privileges. It does not present a doctor working for his own patients, who wish to pay for his services.

Today a doctor who mistreats a patient knows the victim may appeal to his member in parliament of Commons. Doctors and Dentists who will create a row in the House have been called on the carpet, fined and dismissed since nationalization.

The poor, many in need of treatment before the act, got much better service than before; the wealthy may pay and practioner of their choice and enter one of the fashionable or luxurious nursing homes for operations and convalescence The national health is much better than before, there are fewer epidemics and infant mortality is much lower than before. A doctor who was in despair when the act was adopted, admitted to this reporter: "It isn't so bad at all. In most cases it works O. K. and the mass of people are satisfied." Asked if nationalization does not tend to put a brake on individual institutions in research and experiment, the same doctor replied: "That was one of my first objections."

It was unfounded. Fine experimental work is being done. As a matter of fact the health authorities will find money for this work which was often handicapped by lack of funds before," unquite.

We have a great many right here in our own county who need medical and surgical attention who cannot pay the enormous charges for such services and just have to go without.

Is there anything in a democracy such as ours, that is more important than the people themselves, and their health and general welfare? We should at least provide medical and hospital services for underprivileged children, the aged and disabled.

We have veterans hospitals, and provide medical and hospital care for our veterans at the taxpayers expense. This doesn't seem to hurt us much. Why not make it for every body alike.

President Eisenhower was very much opposed to so-called socialized medicine and although he receives a salary of $150,000.00 per year, he went to the Veterans Hospital at the taxpayers expense, and the majority of these taxpayers have less than $3,000:00 per year income.

Yours Respectfully,
-s- WES GLETTY

Samaria Is On The Move

These are our goals, for attendance on December 4th. We are striving for ninety in Sunday School and fifty in Training Union. This may look small for many of our churches, but for Samaria this is big. If we can reach this goal it will more than double and almost triple the record for a year ago. So we feel that we are on the move This little church with only sixty active members and about fifty-two inactive members gave to the Lord's work last Associational year more than $7,000.00. Believe it or not you read it right $7,000.00. When I came to them a year ago they had $1,600 in the treasury, now they have $6,000.00. Samaria is on the move. If we had the help of those fifty-two inactive members there is not estimate that could be placed on our growth. We make a plea to them to come and help us and we hope they will begin on December 4th which is our first Anniversary as pastor.

On our Anniversary, December 4th, we are asking our members and friends to contribute $1,000 to our building fund. We would like for our friends to know that the little church is doing all it can to help itself. Some of our members are borrowin gmoney and paying it back in installments to build this much needed building. Yes, we need help and we need it very much.

As a member of this Church or as a friend to the Lord's work, if you desire to help us call me and we will pick up your gift and turn it in on December 4th. My telephone number is 1030. We would prefer to have you with us on that day if possible.

R. W. STUCKEY, Pastor.

things we See

and Hear

By "TUCK"

Mr. Frank Davis was in to see us Saturday morning. He's a real ld-timer and plenty spry for his 2 years. He said if he was as spry s he was when he was thirty or orty years younger he'd be just ine. "You ain't worth a doodle" he says "when you get to be 82." We can't say about that Mr. Davis, ut if you're an example of how we'll get around when and if we each 82, well we're looking for o it.

Mr. Frank also says he's been a ubscriber to the CCN ever since it as born. And here's one we just ouldn't believe; He says when he ot married steak was selling for a pound. Bet there's very few f you folks who can remember that ar back.

The Bank of Thorsby displays a sign that is worth thinking about. Instead of "No Hunting" the sign reads "Hunters Welcome" and under that line "Providing You Help Us Keep Forest Fires Down." We think that applied psychology will work wonders for the land-owner and his timber. It might be a good idea.

We knew weddings were generally for the bride more or less, but when they start calling it the "Bride's Cake" that's just about as one-sided as it needs to get. We won't argue the point whether or not the groom's worth it, but it's the principal of the thing.

Our very good friend, Marion Deaton was home over the week-end from Eglin Field, AFB, Florida and we were surprised and very glad to see him. He and a friend came up for the week end to be with Marion's mother, Mrs. L. W. Deaton. "Pete" tells us that he is now a full-fledged, dyed-in-the-wool uncle, and he's obviously proud of the fact. A daughter, and we didn't get the name, was born recently to Mr. and Mrs. DuWayne Deaton of Alexander City, Alabama. Congratulations to them, but hom' cum we weren't notified of the blessed event? "Pete" says they didn't even tell him until he came home. That's what we call gettin' real excited.

We were indeed sorry to learn of the death of Mr. Ransom last week. He was a noted acquaintance of ours and we enjoyed occasional visits with him. He always had views on the situations of life, both pro and con and sometimes he had given enough thought to a subject to have a fairly reasonable solution to the problem. He was skeptical at times, but his nature was friendly. When he was cross, he was obviously worried about something personal to him, but in the many years we were acquainted with him he never said an unkind word to us. We appreciated him as an acquaintance and we're sure, had we known him better, he'd have made a true friend. Our sympathies to the family.

Saw quite a few of the college klan home this past week. Guess they're breaking in slowly to the holidays that are straight ahead. We know how those holidays are longed for and looked forward to. Them's good ole days at their best.

We're gettin' out of debt. You may not be interested in that bit of information, but we have some creditors who will be overjoyed at the new hope.

Thought—

Let me do my work from day to day,
Then shall I see it not too great,
Nor small,
To suit my spirit and to prove
My powers;
Then shall my spirit greet the laboring hours,
And cheerful turn, when the long shadows fall,
At eventide, to play and love an

Because I know for me my wor

A Whole New Concept in Piemaking

Now you can make as many different flavored piecrusts as there are flavors — chocolate, honey, fruit, coffee, just to mention a few. Flavored Sprycrust developed in the Lever Test Kitchens is based upon a creamy "Whip" made by whipping Spry with a chosen liquid.

"Hungry Boy" Apple Pie features "Dutch-Whip" Sprycrust made doubly delicious with the tingle of buttermilk and roll-ins of grated sharp cheddar cheese. Here is the recipe:

"Hungry Boy" Apple Pie

1 recipe "Dutch-Whip" Pastry
1/2 cup grated sharp cheddar cheese
1/2 cup granulated sugar
1/2 cup light brown sugar, firmly packed
1/2 teaspoon salt
2 tablespoons flour
1/2 teaspoon cinnamon
1/4 teaspoon nutmeg
1 teaspoon lemon juice
6 cups pared, cored thin apple slices
1 tablespoon butter or margarine

Shape pastry into a flat oblong. Roll between 2 sheets of waxed paper into an oblong about 8" x 11-1/2". Peel off top paper. Sprinkle 1/4 cup grated cheese over pastry, recover with paper, and gently roll cheese into pastry. Turn paper and pastry over and repeat process, rolling in remaining cheese. Put sugars, salt, flour, spices, and lemon juice in a large mixing bowl and mix well. Add apple slices and mix well with sugar mixture. Turn into 6" x 10" baking dish. Dot with butter. Peel top paper off rolled pastry and lay pastry over baking dish, pastry side down. Remove top paper. Trim pastry about 1/2" beyond edge of dish all around. Turn edge under, moisten rim of dish, and flute pastry, pressing onto dish. Cut a few steam vents. Bake on lower shelf of hot oven (425°F.) 40-50 min. Makes 6 servings.

"Dutch-Whip" Pastry

1/2 cup less 1 tablespoon Homogenized Spry
1 tablespoon boiling water
2 tablespoons buttermilk
1-1/4 cups sifted all-purpose flour
1/2 teaspoon salt

Put Spry in mixing bowl. Add boiling water and buttermilk and whip with fork until all liquid is absorbed and a thick, smooth mixture is formed. Sift flour and salt together onto Spry whip and stir quickly into a dough. Pick up and work into a smooth, blended dough. Makes enough pastry for a 9" pie shell or a 6" x 10" deep-dish pie.

Helpful Hints For Housewives

Use a small amount (about three tablespoons) of the milk called for in your cake recipe to mix with the butter and sugar while they are being creamed. Makes the craeming easier.

Wash chamois and doeskin gloves by squeezing gently in the suds, like fabric gloves, not on the hands, like leather gloves.

Attractive Christmas tree ornaments can be made from used flash bulbs decorated with nail polish, glitter, and other materials. To hang the baubles, remove the end seal and insert a bent piece of wire to hook over the tree branches.

When pressing open newly stitched seams of wool garments, use the point of a steam iron to open the seam, then press flat with a wooden block. Pressing down on it with the iron would make the seam show through.

Seven-eighths of a cup of lard has as much shrotening power as one cup of either butter or hydrogenated vegetable fat.

Raw, fresh cauliflower is excellent in vegetable salads.

Parole, Veterans, Fishing Rodeo---

This Week On Capitol Hill

When the State Pardon and Parole Board publishes its annual report shortly, it will show that 501 convicts were given paroles in the last fiscal year, Oct. 1, 1954 through Sept. 30, 1955. During the same 12 months, 43 other former inmates of the State penetentiaries received a full pardon.

State Pardon Commissioner J. M McCullough said that "the average prison population for 1954-5 was 5,300."

Discussing the economic aspects of the State Prison System and parolees, an official of the Pardon and Parole Board said that the State estimated "it costs between $600—$625 per year per convict to feed, clothe, supervise and otherwise maintain a prisoner in one of the Alabama penetetntiaries." It was similarly estimated that it cost the State "about $45 per year to supervise each parolled prisoner."

Present members of the Pardon and Parole Board are Mrs. Ethel Gayle, Mrs. Francis R. Robinson, and the Rev. W. H. Swearingen, who was appointed earlier this year by Gov. James E. Folsom.

Newest member on the State Prison Board is Peter Vredenburgh III, appointed by Governor Folsom last week.

Veterans' Affairs—

As a postscript to last Friday's Veteran's Day observance, some inquiries were made at the State Dept. of Veterans' Affairs this week.

The 1950 Federal census gave Alabama a population of 3,061,743 with approximately 830,000 families. State Veterans' Affairs Director C. C. Horton said that an estimated 410,000 of these Alabamians are veterans "from all wars."

Official estimates show that 296,000 of these are veterans of World War II; 64,000 are from Korean service; 50,000 are World War I veterans, and the remainder are Spanish-American War and peacetime veterans, according to Horton.

Therefore, 360,000 Alabamians are veterans of World War II and the Korean action, and further inquiries showed that 203,500 of these veterans had completed, or had some education—including on-the-job training—under the GI Bill of Rights since 1946.

This is about two veterans in every three, in these categories had received some additional training.

Included in this figure are an estimated 10,000 Alabama veterans who had won college degrees, and who would probably not have received a college education except for the GI Bill of Rights program, Horton pointed out.

Another interesting statistic is the number of veterans who have bought homes in the State under provisions of special veterans' legislation. Some 57,000 GI families have established homes in Alabama since 1946 with the help of GI loans.

Speckled Trout Rodeo—

Gulf Shores and the South Baldwin coastal area are getting the welcome mat out ready to receive visitors for the 7th annual Speckled Trout Rodeo. This is scheduled for Nov. 17 throught Nov. 26 with daily prizes. Names of entrants and the $2 entrance fees, are being received by the South Baldwin Chamber of Commerce at Foley. Local fishermen report that this year the conditions for the Rodeo are "very good." A Foley Chamber of Commerce official said, "We are taking a lot of 'specks and there are many big ones among them—this year it has been a very early season for them."

The Community House at Gulf Shores will be the Rodeo headquarters, and the Gulf Shores Lions Club is sponsoring the event.

A 72 percent increase in the use of Alabama hardwoods for pulpwood occurred during 1953 and 1954.

NEW SALEM BAPTIST NEWS

Rev. Herman Lowery, Pastor

The services here at New Salem were wonderful Sunday and Sunday night. Our attendance was the best it has been in a long time. The people seem a sone big happy family. They all seem as of one mind and accord. This is the way the Lord teaches us to serve him. We feel sure if there are any people who are out of fellowship with the church, would only come they could feel the presence of the Holy Spirit of God at New Salem church. Our heart swere made to rejoice Sunday morning. Bro. Lowery invited Rev. Bill Cox to preach for us Sunday morning. He brought a very inspiring message. We were happy to have his family visit with us also. And we invite them back to be with us any time they can. Our own pastor, Rev. Lowery brought the evening message. If you missed it you missed one of the best we just thank God for this wonderful man of God. It is good to have a pastor who doesn't show any difference towar dthe members who help support the church. It makes a person feel good if they receive the same attention that some one else does, even though they are not as prosperous as some one else.

God is no respector of person, and why should some pastors be?

We are having a family night supper this Saturday night at 6:30 at the church, and we urge all the members to be present, and bring a covered dish. We invite visitors to come and fellowship with us. We are sorry to hear that Mrs. Henry Cox is confined to her home with a broken arm. Our prayer is If it's the Lord will she might have a speedy recovery. Also Mrs. Clarence Burnett who is in St. Vincent's Hospital in Birmingham.

William F. Rasberry Writes—

Christ Must Be Lifted Up

(Last in a series of three articles)

Giving To Missions—

Our giving to missions is proportionate to our going. America spends a billion and a half annually on church buildings while only two percent of that sum goes to spread the Gospel of Christ among the heathen. We give on the average of one-tenth of a cent a day toward missions demonstrating the fact that we place a value upon the souls for whom Christ died at a fraction of a penny. U. S. citizens spend more money for liquor every 38 hours than is given to evangelize the world in a year. More money is spent for dog food per year in the U. S. than the Bible believers give for missions. During the first 10 months of the year 1953, the churches of the United States spent $328,000,000.00 for their building programs and less than $35.000.000.00 for the evangelization of the world. It happened in a great Laymen's Missionary Conference. A good program had been prepared and for 3 days, large numbers of men gathered to talk about the work of the kingdom in all the world. More than a thousand men were enrolled. Great numbers attended each session. Some very inspiring addresses were made.

The time for conference on the methods of the board in doing mission work, with Bishop Ainsworth conducting the conference. Questions came from all parts of the auditorium .One earnest student of the great mission enterprise arose and asked, "Do you think our Boards will have to scrap the present methods of doing mission work and get something new?" Bishop Ainsworth replied that it would not be possible to do away with all of our methods, but stated that they would possibly have to be modified He then closed his remarks on this question by saying, "We need to scrap this going to a million dollar church in a half-million dollars worth of automobiles to drop a dime on the collection plate to Christianize the world. We place emphasis on things that are perishable rather than on things that are eternal.

How can a preacher call himself a missionary preacher when he takes from the Cooperative Program and adds to the Building Program?

How can a church claim to be a missionary church when it will take from the Cooperative Program and add to its building program? I believe that God will bless the church that puts missions first to its program. In 1953 we built a $30,000.00 Educational Building and during this same year we increased our giving to the Cooperative Program. God will bless the church that puts the mission of the church first.

In Conclusion—

Who was the first missionary to preach the resurrection message? Yes, a woman. "He is not here: for He is risen, as He said. Come, see the place where the Lord lay. And go quickly, and tell His disciples that He is risen from the dead." Mary faithfully reported the message with which the angel trusted her, and she brought gladness to many sad hearts that day. And the resurrection message has lost none of its power through the years, even down to the present time. What if the Lord had not risen from the dead? What if He had remained in the tomb, There is no if about it. He rose from the dead, ascended to the Father, and there is seated at the right hand of God making intercession for us. And what is better yet, He is coming back again some day and will take us unto Himself. It is a definite promise, and it brings gladness to the honest hearts who read it.

I believe Mary hastened with her message as fast as she could. She had news that would shock the rest because of its truth, for the words of the angel brought gladness to her heart. She was no longer heavy hearted. but her heart was light. She had received the message, had believed the message, and was on her way to tell others that the Lord had risen.

And the commission given to Mary is the same commission given to us to go preach the Gospel to every creature. We do not preach the Gospel of repair or reformation, but of transformation of the heart and life. We have received the commission to preach the Glad tidings of salvation, the Good News, the Gospel. In the broadcasting studio of a radio station, a voice was heard announcing, "If you need anything in watch repairing, go to ...." and the name of a certain firm was mentioned. One of the men employed in the studio looked up and said, "I need no watch repairing. What I need is a watch. What men and women need today is life, everlasting life. They have plenty of sin, they don't need the old life repaired, what they need is a new heart, a heart of love, filled with the spirit of Christ. Let us hasten to tell them of the only One who is mighty to save and keep. Let us "broadcast" the news that Jesus Saves! Remember you and I are commissioned as was Mary of old: Go quickly and tell. Will you obey that command? Will you lift Him up to a lost and dying world? If He be lifted up He will draw all men unto Him.

Christ must be lifted up by all who know Him if He is to reach all for whom He died.

Life and Death

Friends it shall ever be life, if we keep the commandments: Death if we transgress, or fail to keep the commandments. Deut. 11:26, etc.

I call heaven and earth to record this day against you, that I have set before you life and death, blessing and cursing; therefore choose life, that both thou and thy soul may live. Deut. 30-9.

Friends this held fast through all the writers of your Bible from Moses to John in Rev. 22-14. It holds fast forever. and ever Psalms 111-8 (Throughout Eternity).

You cannot ever know God:
You cannot ever get to grace;
(much less receive it).

You never shall know anything about the kingdom of heaven; eternal life; or what you were created to be; till, and when you do, keep and teach the commandments. 1 John 2-3-4.

When any preacher tells you Jesus Christ will never leave you nor forsake thee. Heb. 13-5. You tell him he is wrong. For he did forsake me and left me in the dark for fifty years: I shall not do like the preachers have done. I will quote you other scriptures.

If thou seek him, he will found of thee; but if thou forsake him, he will cast thee off fovever. I Chron. 28.9.

I forsook him twice: He forsook me twice; at the age of fifteen I forsook him: I had accepted at that age I could have been made the Begallen son of God; Would have knows all things. I John 2-20-27.

In other words I could have gotten at fifteen; what I got at sixty five; fifty years is almost for ever with man.

It is easier for heaven and earth to pass than one title of the law to fail. Luke 16-17.

For whosover shall kept the whole law, and yet offend in one point, he is guilty of all, James 2-10.

Friends when you offend in one point of the law, you have forsaken my Christ, he has cast you out till, and when you repent; sin is the transgression of the law. I John 3-4.

He that turneth away his ear from hearing the law, even his prayer shall be abomination. Prov. 28-9. Abomination means extreme hatred. When you turn your ear, then you must meet your Christ in mercy, before you are able to ask anything

Will you read your Bible?

Evening Ceremony Unites Miss McGee And Mr. Cobb

Miss Nina Ruth McGee, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Cleveland McGee, became the bride of Lester Thomas Cobb, son of Mr. and Mrs. Alfred B. Cobb, at a candlelighted ceremony on Saturday evening, October 22, in Shady Grove Baptist Church in Burnsville.

Traditional bridal beauty characterized the decorative background for the double ring service performed by the Reverend Eddie Ruddick of Brent. Lighted cathedral tapers in seven-branched candelabra tied with white bows flanked the altar, which was adorned with sunburst arrangements of white gladioli and chrysanthemums set against a banking of Southern smilax, potted ferns and other green foliage. The family pews were marked by white satin bows.

Miss Jackie Davis of Selma, pianist, and Mrs. John Jones, of Columbiana, presented the program of nuptial music. The musical selections included "Traumerei" and the traditional marches. "I Love You Truly" was sung prior to the ceremony and "The Lord's Prayer" as the couple knelt for the benediction.

The bride was given in marriage by her grandfather, Homer L. Ratliff of Maplesville. Fashioned ballerina length, her strapless dress of white net over satin was embellished with miniature satin flowers woven into the net. Embroidered net also fashioned the short jacket, which was trimmed with small satin buttons down the front and finished with a Peter Pan collar and long sleeves pointed at the hand. A white demi-hat encrusted with beads held the bride's fingertip veil of illusion. She carried a shower bouquet of white carnations and pompon mums on a white Bible.

Miss Nellie Kate Cottingham, who was maid of honor, wore gold satin, made full-skirted with an overdrape of white and gold brocade. The satin bodice featured a sweetheart neckline and wide gathered straps in sleeve effect. Her flowers were white carnations in a shoulder corsage caught with gold ribbons and her slippers were gold satin.

Ronnie Adams of Burnsville, attended the bridegroom as best man. L. A. Lowery and E. C. McCracken, both of Selma, served as ushers.

For the wedding the bride's mother wore a teal-blue dress trimmed in navy satin. Her accessories also were navy and her corsage was of pink carnations. The bridegroom's mother wore navy blue with matching accessories and a pink carnation corsage.

Mrs. B. W. Duke and Mrs. Purvis Hicks were joint hostesses at the wedding reception which was held in the home of Mrs. Ellen P. Taylor. The bridal motif was repeated in the decorations of the spacious rooms, in which gladioli and other cut flowers were used. Mss Anne Stone presided at the bride's book and Miss Rosa Cobb sister of the groom, invited guests into the dining-room. An imported white cutwork cloth over satin draped the bride's table, which was centered by an arrangement of white carnations flanked by white candles in silver candelabra. The tiered cake, embossed in spun-sugar flowers and surmounted by a miniature bride and groom, was set at one end of the table and the cutglass punchbowl, encircled with fern, at the other. Other appointments were of crystal. The cake was cut by the bride and groom and was served by the hostesses. Miss Patsy Stone, of Burnsville, presided at the punchbowl.

Upon the departure of the bride and groom during the evening for a wedding trip, the bride wore a beige suit styled with a fitted jacket over a lghter tan blouse. Her accessories were dark brown and her corsage white carnations and small mums. Mr. and Mrs. Cobb are now at home at 403 Broad Street.

Members of the two families and the bridal party were included in an after-rehearsal party held at the church. Miss Rosa Cobb assisted in serving refreshments. Other affairs preceding the wedding included a shower at which Mrs. John Cottingham, Mrs. E. C. McCarcken and Mrs. L. A. Lowery jointly entertained at the home of Mrs. Cottingham in Burnsville.

Millions Lost In Wasted Timber

Auburn, Ala.—Woodlot owners in Alabama are losing millions of dollars income annually because all lumber in trees cut for sawtimber is not utilized.

Up to $4 1-2 million worth of saleable timber is left in high stumps; around $6 million is thrown away in tops.

Giving these startling figures in Auburn this ewek, API Extension Forester I. R. Martin said approximately five board feet of good sawtimber is wasted in all 11-inch tree that's cut 12 inches too high. On the average, that's one out of every 10 board feet of sawtimber left on the ground. Such loss to the timber owner is quite unnecessary, he pointed out, since power saws make it easy to cut trees closer to the ground.

The problem of using tops—that part of the upper trunk too small to use for sawtimber—is a bit more difficult to solve, Martin went on. However, the forester said many landowners can sell the tops to pulpwood dealers. They can arrange for a pulpwood buyer to come in immediately after a stand has been cut over for sawtimber, cut a pulpwood thinning and, at the same time take tops left from sawlogs.

About one-third of the wood in a tree is in the top, the specialist explained. In all, around 1,500,000 cords of useable pulpwood are wasted each year because this part of the pine is often left in the woods.

Heavier Turkeys Are Expected

Even before their 1955 crop is marketed, turkey producers can be thinking about next year's production program.

API Extension Poultryman Hoyt Warren things a recent U. S. Department of Agriculture survey of farmers' intentions might be helpful to Alabama growers who are looking toward 1956. He said this week that in 15 leading turkey-producing states, farmers indicated they will keep 13 per cent more heavy breed turkey hens next year.

Warren says that if such an increase materializes, it could result in a proportionate increase in the 1956 crop of heavy turkeys and in unsatisfactory returns to producers.

Drinkard Explains "Pole and Line" Fishing Laws

Montgomery, Ala.—W. H. Drinkard, Director of Alabama's Department of Conservation, today made a statement of the provisions of the new "pole and line" fishing license law because of reports that it has been misunderstood.

Drinkard said that apparently many people have the idea that they must buy both the $1 pole and line license and the $2 rod and reel fishing license if they use both methods of fishing outside their home county.

The law passed by the 1955 Legislature provides that all pole and line fishermen when fishing more than one mile outside their resident counties must purchase a $1 fishing license. It provides further that any person using rod and reel for fishing in all waters of the state, either fresh or salt, must have a $2 license. But, Drinkard pointed out, there is no need to buy both licenses. Any resident who buys a $2 rod and reel license can also fish anywhere in the state with pole and line without having to buy the $1 license.

Persons under 16 years of age are exempted from the requirement of buying either of the licenses and persons over sixty-five years of age are exempted but must secure an exempted lifetime license upon proof of their age and payment of an issuance fee of fifteen cents.

Also, any person or member of his immediate family who fishes on or from lands owned by him is not required to have a license, nor is any tenant or member of the tenant's familyl who fishes on or from lands leased or rented by such tenant who lives on the rented lands.

""We believe that this is a good law bacause it provides increased funds to be used by the Conservation Department for improvement of the fishing waters of the state, construction of more public lakes in areas which have insufficient fishing, and will allow us to sell more licenses bringing about an increase in the Federal Dingell-Johnson money which Alabama will receive annually," Drinkard said.

"The Department has constructed about a dozen public lakes and found them to be very popular with the public. They supply good fishing where there are no natural streams and lakes, any they supply picnicking, swimming, and boating which are good for counties with no natural recreaton areas," Drinkard stated. "Also, these lakes reduce fishing pressure on good fishing areas in other counties," he said.

We feel that any person in the state who will investigate the Department's fisheries and public lake programs to find out what we are doing with this license money will feel that the sportsmen are getting a big value for the $1 or $2 fishing license they purchase each year," the Conservation Director said.

Homes Must Be Termite Free On GI Loans

Sellers of existing homes to veterans under the G I Bill must give the purchasers a written certification from a recognized exterminator that there is no evidence of termites in the property. Harley A. Smith, Manager of the Veterans Administration Regional Office in Alabama said today.

Mr. Smith said his office is requiring this certificaton for GI home loans because termite infestation and destruction is more often hidden than readily seen. As a result, termites are most difficult to detect except by experts in the extermination field.

Many lenders, Mr. Smith pointed out, operating in areas where termites are prevalent have been requiring, as a protective measure, such a certification for many years.

Mr. Smith said that the cost of obatining such a statement or certification must be borne by the seller and cannot be passed on to the veteran-purchaser.

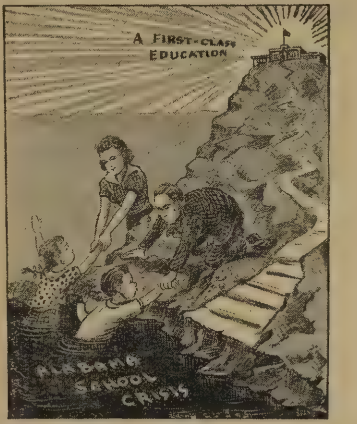
Be Proud You Helped—Vote "YES" On Dec. 6!



ALMOST EVERYONE admits that Alabama faces a school crisis. School enrollment in our state has increased more than 100,000 in 11 years. The schools do not have funds to meet this tremendous growth.

MORE SCHOOL BUILDINGS are needed. Many of those we have now are far below standard. One out of every six Alabama schools is a make-shift arrangement. Many operate in churches or in other nonpublicly-owned buildings—and one in a school bus! We have 29,000 Alabama children in schools with no electric lights, and 222,000 in schools with only outdoor privies. Alabama's school property, according to a national survey, is the poorest of any in the nation And as for teachers, many of the best are leaving Alabama because other states pay higher salaries. In Florida, for example, the average teacher's salary is $3,725. In Alabama, it was $2,729 in 1954-55.

WHAT WILL HAPPEN if more money is not provided for the schools? The State Legislature this year voted teachers an average raise of $600 per year, but present funds will carry our schools only until about March 1. Most schools in Alabama will have to close then unless additional money is provided. As a means of raising $29,000,000 a year for schools, the Legislature has asked the people of Alabama to vote Dec. 6 on Constitutional Amendment No. 1

AMENDMENT NO. 1 will raise $29,000,000 a year by an income tax. This tax is on adjusted gross income, which means income after deduction of business or farm expenses. Every person or corporation making over $1,000 a year after deductions will pay a tax on this net income . . . But the rate is low If you make $4,000 a year after deductions, your tax would be only 6c a day—the cost of an airmail postage stamp. A person would have to make $16,000 a year after deductions before he would pay as much as 1% of his income under the proposed tax The school income tax may be deducted in figuring federal income tax. This means that for every $5 an individual pays in Alabama school tax, he will save an average of $2 on federal tax Thus, Alabamians will get $29,000,000 for their schools at a net cost of approximately $17,000,000 And the money raised under Amendment No. 1 is guaranteed by law for schools! It cannot be diverted to other uses AMENDMENT NO. 2, also to be voted on Dec 6, would permit a $110,000,000 bond issue for new school buildings, some in every county Money to pay for the bonds, however, will be available only if Amendment No. 1 is approved.

A SOLUTION to the school crisis is in the hands of the voters. And remember—the question is not whether the people of Alabama want a new tax Nobody really wants a new tax The real question is, can we afford the cost of not paying—and thereby depriving our children of full-term schools and a first-class education?

ON DEC. 6 VOTE "YES" ON AMENDMENTS NO. 1 AND NO. 2

NAVY RECRUITING NEWS

Lieutenant Commander L. C. Parrott, Officer in Charge of All Navy Recruiting in Alabama an nounced today that Submarine School has been added to the list of schools a man graduating from Recruit Training may request.

All men enlisted under the High School Graduate Training program who are physically, mentally, and psychologically qualified may now enter Basic Submarine Training School upon graduatng from recruit training . Selection and assignment to initial Submarne training can very well lead to eventual assignment of outstanding personnel to the nuclear power training program with ultimate assignment to nuclear powered submarines. A Navy Recruited will be in Clanton at the Post Office every Monday.

An opened can of food will keep perfectly well if the can is covered and kept cool.

Washing the enameled surface of your stove while it is hot is likely to crack the finish.

After-Dinner Speaker Gets His "Deserts"

"Red" Thomas tells about a dinner party he and his Missus went to last week. He said it was a wonderful party—except for one guest who was a real "know-it-all," right from the start.

Whatever the subject, this fellow considered himself an "expert." Wasn't quiet about it, either. He told different people what automobile to buy, what books to read — even told some who they "just had" to vote for.

When it came time to leave, this fellow must've felt a pang of conscience. He turned to the hostess and said: "I suppose I was a bit outspoken tonight." Quickly she replied, "Of course not. No one could have out-spoken you."

From where I sit, it's all right to have opinions as long as you don't try to force them on neighbors. Take those who would deny me an occasional glass of beer simply because they prefer something else. They're welcome to their choice but shouldn't try to force me to be a "party" to it!

Hunting Prospects---

Most Of Alabama's Game Shows Definite Increase

It's autumn again—the time for falling leaves, bright forest colors, and brisk weather. .Some of the hunting seasons have opened and still others are to be opened throughout Alabama within the next few weeks. With the belief that almost everyone is interested in wildlife for the purpose of hunting or the success of Alabama's wildlife conseravtion program, or both, the Conservation Department presents a summary of a statewide survey of wildlife populations made by enforcement and technical personnel of the Department's Division of Game and Fish.

Reports from the majority of Alabama's counties indicate that only one game animal has decreased in number since a similar survey in the fall of 1954. The squirrel population apparently has been reduced by drouth and extreme cold damage to the food crop. Also, probably widespread hardwood elimination in Alabama woodlands has contributed to a decline in the number of squirrels.

Both of Alabama's big game species, the whitetailed deer and wild turkey, have increasey substantially during the past year, and through restocking and natural spreading of deer and turkey both are now present in approximately three-fourths of Alabama counties.

By species, the survey results show:

Deer

Only 17 Alabama counties have no deer at all at present, while only 15 years ago less than half had any deer according to a study of Department biologists. Deer numbers have increased from 16,000 in 1940 to 65,000 and the increase since the fall of 1954 is approximately 10,000. This means that there has been a 15 per cent increase in the number of deer since last year.

Alabama's deer population is still concentrated largely in the counties of southwest Alabama with the greatest populations in Washington, Clarke, Baldwin, and Choctaw counties, and in the national forest areas of north Alabama.

Turkey—

Wild turkey are now present in 56 of Alabama's 67 counties. According to conservation officer reports there has been a 23 per cent increase in the turkey population since last year from 40,000 to 49,100. As is true with the deer population, Alabama's wild turkeys are concentrated principally in Clarke, Washington, Monroe, Choctaw, Baldwin and Sumter counties Turkey hunting should be excellent during both fall and spring seasons of 1955 and 1956.

Quail—

There has been a 3 percent increase in quail throughout the state since last year. This increase occurred in 23 counties, 3 counties have had a decrease in quail and 41 counties reported about the same population as last year. The quail hunting prospects in Alabama continue to be fair to good A few areas have excellent quail hunting, but in most cases clean farming, intensive pasturage of the land and lack of cover and food have caused quail hunting to be poor as compared to several years ago.

Rabbit—

Although it was thought that the rabbit had reached a population peak last year, there has been a 3 1-2 per cent increase in the statewide rabbit population since last year. Twenty-six counties reported an increase, 3 a decrease and 38 about the same population as last year.

Wood Ducks—

This duck breeds each year in Alabama, and for that reason was included in the survey. Reports show that the wood duck population has increased about 1 1-2 percent since last year. Hunters will be allowed to take I wood duck per day this year whereas they were banned last year.

Squirrel—

The squirrel population has declined generally throughout the state by about 5 per cent since the fall of 1954. This is due greatly to almost complete failure of the mast crop on trees of the white oak family, hickory, pecan, beach, blackgum and dogwood. A good crop of black oak in most counties of the state has helped to supply some food for the squirrels. Squirrel hunters probably would do well to take a good number of the squirrels present this fall so that the ones left will have enough food to carry them through the winter. Farmers would do well to leave some corn in the edges of their fields, if there are any which haven't been gathered at this time. The practice will also help deer, quail, turkeys and other game.

Dove—

During the first half of the split season on doves there appeared to be a slight increase in the number of birds present. There were a few local exceptions due to the dry weather and poor food conditions. Hunters will probably find generally throughout the state that there will be more doves present during the second half of the dove season from December 16 through January 1.

Raccoons

There has been a slight increase statewide in the raccoon population. Some counties, mostly in central Alabama ıd in Bankhead Forest, reported a decrease in the raccoon population. Generally, however, Alabama's 'coon population remains high and hunters should find good hunting throughout the 1955-56 season.

Opossum—

Only one county, Jefferson, reported a decrease in opossums since last year. The 'possum population has increased about 5 per cent, considering the whole state.

Stalk Cuting Urgent In No. Ala.

Auburn, Ala.—The practice of cutting down stalks and other crop residue has a new urgency for North Alabama farmers this year.

According to API Exetnsion Entomologist W. A. Ruffin, European corn borers may present a hopeless problem next spring unless they are destroyed during the winter months. He explained that these insects spend the cold season in stalks or other parts of host plants and that they can be killed more easily in this stage than after they become active again in the spring.

Ruffin urged that stalks and other stand' g plant parts be chopped down with shredder-type cutters. In this way, parts of the plants where corn borer larvae live throughout the winter will be destroyed. The crop residue ought to be plowed under at least four inches deep sometime before March, the specialist went on, so that the last worms will be killed before warm weather comes.

European corn borers hit Alabama for the first time last year, destroying at least half a million dollars worth of sweet peppers in North Alabama. Found in 14 counties from Cullman east, the pests also did serious damage to early sweet corn and to some sorghum crops. According to the entomologist, corn borers could take a big bite out of field corn crops next season if they are allowed to survive the winter.

"Shredding and plowing under crops residue are smart farming methods in any case," Ruffin said 'Shredded materials decompose more easily and are likely to interfere with machine planting and cultivation. "But," he added, "geting rid of the leftovers is a must for growers in the northern part of the state this year."

YOUR Health

"Your Health" is presented by your physician as a health service of The Medical Association of the State of Alabama.

ADOPTING A CHILD

Care should be exercised in the selection of a child for adoption; for once he becomes yours, your responsibility is great, nor for just a few years but for life. The child, too, has special claims aside from legal ones. He has the right to expect affection, love and understanding, which enter into proper emotional development. He also has the right to food clothing and shelter; for his physical needs must be filled to insure his growing into a healthy adult. And then he has the right to good schooling and guidance so that he can take his place in a community, not as a dependant but as a productive, well-adjusted, self-sustaining individual.

Once the child is brought into your homes, remember that he is yours for life. As he develops, certain bad traits may become evident. That is true of any child, however. Don't feel that you have been cheated and blame heridity. Instead set about correcting them. Remember that the child is not static like the adult. He is changing, and his growth processes can be influenced immeasurably by your training and guidance.

Be frank with the adopted child. Let him know that you chose him in particular from among many other little boys and girls. You wanted him. This will keep him close to you! for if some unkind outsider tells him later, his feeling toward you may alter. Children are sensitive. They want to belong to someone, and their feeling of possession is strong toward "my mommie" and "my daddy."

Don't expect thanks from the adopted child. You wouldn't get them from a child of your own. A child does not know how to weigh values, and he takes his parents and home for granted. And that is the way it should be, for it is this complete dependence that makes childhood and early adolescence a happy period in the parents' life.

Children give great happiness, and a home is often cold without them. Once you have adopted a child, give him the best material and emotional satisfaction from the store of love in your heart. This will help you and your child to a new happiness in life.

Cotton Controls To Be Voted On 13 Of Dec.

Auburn Ala.—Alabama's stand on national cotton acreage allotments for next season is to be decided Dec. 13. On that date state cotton growers will cast their votes in a nation-wide referendum to decide whether or not U. S. cotton production will be governed by allotments again next year.

Farmers here have overwhelmingly favored cotton allotments and the accompanying price supports each year they have been proposed API Extension Cotton Specialist Jasper Jernigan said this week. Last year the 1955 allotments were approved 10 to one in Alabama.

If 1956 acreage controls are passed by two-thirds of those voting in the December election, Jernigan went on, Alabama's share of the national allotment will be 1,025,000 acres. This allotment will be the state's smallest since cotton controls were first enforced in 1933.

Voting in the cotton referendum will be directed by county ASC offices.

Jemison 4-H Boys Met

In late October Jemison 4-H Club held their first meeting with the 7th and 8th graders. There were too many to have one meeting, so we held separate meetings.

The Jr. II's had their meeting on November 9, 1955. The boys brought up the subject about boys who live in town. Then Mr. Sellers told them about the new project of home safety.

We elected new officers for the year:

The Surgeon's Magic Sponge

Probably the earliest form of surgery was that used to stop bleeding. At first, this was done simply by pressing against the edges of the bleeding surface until the blood formed a clot. Later, surgeons developed a method of sealing the end of the blood vessel by applying a red-hot iron. Still later, thread or wire and metal clips — called ligatures — were introduced.

The gelatin sponge may be cut into any desired size, saturated with a saline solution, squeezed to remove the air bubbles, and held in place for about two minutes till it clings firmly to the bleeding surface. For more effective control of bleeding, Dr. Konseck says, the sponge may be saturated with a solution of thrombin, a clotting agent which normally is present in blood. Also, the sponge has been found useful as a vehicle for various drugs, such as penicillin.

But the development of modern surgical techniques pointed up a long-felt need for a new method to check the escape of blood. What the doctors wanted was something which would be at once versatile, simple and effective.

Research scientists at the laboratories of the Upjohn Company, Kalamazoo, Michigan, found the answer. They produced a sponge consisting of a sterile gelatin solution which is hardened, dried and rendered porous by means of air. Known commercially as Gelfoam, the sponge has the quality of magic. For even as it performs its lifesaving action, the sponge gradually dissolves.

First made available about ten years ago, Gelfoam did not excite as much comment as did the so-called "wonder drugs" which also were new at that time. But in the past decade, the gelatin sponge has won wide acceptance.

Dr. E. Konseck, a Canadian surgeon reported recently that of the various agents he has used during the past ten years, "the gelatin sponge has proved to be most suitable to stop bleeding." At the present time, Gelfoam is being used effectively in more than five hundred different kinds of surgery, including dental surgery.

Easy to apply and painless, the gelatin sponge has become one of the most favored methods to control bleeding and consequently has saved a countless number of lives in recent years.

4,000 Gallons Dumped---

Sheriff's Force Raids Two Tank-Type Stills

Liquor flowed freely last week in Chilton County as the sheriff's force raided and destroyed four stills whose total capacity was 8,000 gallons.

On Wednesday, November 16th they located and destroyed two 2,000 gallon tank-type stills two miles south of Steel Bridge. They also dumped 4,000 gallons of mash and destroyed various other distilling equipment.

On Thursday, November 17th, the force destroyed a still one and one-half miles below the bridge in Shelby County. This still contained two 2,000 gallon tanks and had 4,000 gallons of mash. Among other things destroyed and confiscated in this second raid, was a boat. The moonshiners were coming out of Shelby County into Chilton down the Waxahatchee Creek and back into Shelby again in an effort to conceal the route to their operation.

On Friday, November 18th, the raiding party returned to the site of the second still and found 25 gallons of whisky which had been left about three-hundred yards from the still-site.

The first still had been in operation for approximately 30 days and the second for about three months.

Participating in this series of raids was Johnny Mosely, Jack Benton, James Payton, and Ab Porter.

No arrests were made.

200 Families Southwest Of Clanton Get Phones

Friday at 2:00 p.m., November 18, 1955, telephone cable laying machinery started plowing the telephone cables to provide telephone service for the Enterprise and Billingsley Communities.

This is the very latest and most unique method of constructing telephone lines. The big cable plow pulled by a large caterpillar tractor can bury approximately ten miles of cable per day. This eliminates the necessity of placing telephone poles in the middle of fields in many cases. This will enable the Telephone Company to accomplish a construction job in approximately five days that it would normally require two months. It also is accomplished at much less expense than the old methods of building pole lines overhead.

Approximately 200 families will be provided service in this area at a cost in excess of $115,000. This is probably the largest expenditure of any industry in this area in recent months.

This expansion is part of a program involving expenditures in excess of $21,000,000 for the state of Alabama in 1955. In the nine states Southern Bell serves, the expansion program for 1955 and 1956 will be well over $500,000,000. This is probably the greatest investment of any company in this region in that short of a period.

Telephone service demands throughout the south is continuing heavy at present and looks so big for the future that we expect to invest more than $250 million dollars for new equipment in the nine states for 1956.

Three big factors responsible for the heavy demand were cited:

(1) Increased individual and total income.

(2) Increased number of families and households.

(3) The "telephone convenience quotient," described as "that quality of service that meets the public's increasing desire to save time and to have added convenience in telephone communications."

It is expected the phenomenal development in the South's economy will continue. The first object of Southern Bell's expansion program is to provide telephone service on a current basis. Such a program brings a need for a large sum of money. Funds for telephone construction does not come out of monthly bills from customers, but must be raised from investors who buy stock in the telephone business

Bank Robbery Suspect Is Picked Up In Clanton

Federal Bureau of Investigation agents, with the assistance of Clanton policemen Tucker and Foshee, arrested Jack Hill here last Saturday. Hill was wanted in connection with the $57,000 robbery of a bank in Umatilla, Oregon.

Preceding the arrest of Hill, FBI men had picked up Tillman B. Benson in DeQueen, Ark., also wanted in connection with he robbery

Hill is now being held in Selma under $100,000 bond. Benson is still being held in Texarkana, Ark. under a similar bond.

For the past three weeks Hill has resided here in Clanton on Second Avenue in the Kemp Apartment. He always parked his car on the lot of the Thompson Gin and Warehouse and walked to his residence. According to reports, he was seldom out except at night.

A few weeks back, it is reported by Police Chief Tucker, Hill was arrested by local officers Turner and Parrish for driving while intoxicated and carrying concealed weapons. After pleading guilty, Hill payed his bond and was released.

The FBI arrested the two men from descriptions given by the robbery victims of the daylight bank hold-up. A man fitting Benson's description guarded the bank door while a bandit fitting Hill's description filled a sack with money. No one was hurt, but everyone in the bank was locked up until later discovered by a customer of the bank.

Entered in the Post Office at Clanton, Alabama, as second-class matter under the Act of Congress of March, 1897.

Not only do we have to worry about where the younger generation is going but we also remember where it came from—then we understand.

* * * *

We learn from experience and with every new experience the price goes up.

* * * *

We never get too old to learn and your children never miss a bet to try to teach you.

* * * *

Maybe history does repeat itself—but your private history is repeated by the neighbors.

ARE WE DRIVING TO DESTRUCTION?

"Forty-one Dead in Two Plane Crashes."

"Forty-six are Injured in Plane Crash."

"Highway Death Toll Higher Than Ever Last Week."

These are the headlines we read in our newspapers with a sickening repetition, but what are we going to do about it?

Are we literally driving and flying ourselves to destruction? If, as has been said, every accident is the cause of someone's carelessness, then there are too many mistakes being made.

What is the answer? Is it stricter regulations and examinations? Better highways? More uniformed men to patrol the highways? Frankly we don't know, and from what is being accomplished towards safety, no one else knows either.

It is a critical situation and one that will require much study. When we say "much study" we mean much more study than is now being done.

This wholesale killing on the highways and in the air, all for the sake of time, cannot go on. Maybe that is our answer—slow down. We're sacrificing far too many lives on the altar of speed and carelessness.

NEW CIVIC ORGANIZATION—

On Thursday night of last week (Nov. 17) a Civitan International Club was officially organized in Clanton, Alabama.

This newly organized club with Joe Smith as president, is promising in its present efforts

The organization is a service organization and was organized in our own state. We are proud to welcome it into our group of civic organizations and speak for all of them when we say we are expecting big things from this fine group of young men

The group has young blood in it and a majority of the members are inexperienced in the ways of an organization of this type, but it is hoped by the membership that they will make up what they lack in experience in progressive action.

We feel that the club has enough young blood in it to make it spirited and enough older blood to guide them in the ways that are right. We hope we're right and we wish the club all the luck there is in their undertakings. We and the citizens of this vicinity are behind them all the way.

"I'M FOR SCHOOLS, BUT—"

The importance of schools to every phase of living is recognized by everyone as is evidenced by the fact that every person is always ready to declare himself for education.

"Oh, I'm for better schools alright, but—"

How often has each of us heard such a statement! No one can deny the fact that down in his heart he realizes that the very basis of development in all phases of living lies in education. But—

There is not a living parent that does not have a deep, sincere desire to see his child or children have a better chance in life than he has had. And he realizes that his child's chance is dependent more on the type of education he receives than any other single factor. But

Every parent has a longing to see his child become a worthy citizen; one that makes his contribution to society a worthy one. He realizes that the child's education will largely determine the extent to which this dream is realized. But—

All of us realize that we get what we pay for, regardless of whether it is groceries, shoes, automobiles or education. We realize that a cheap education IS a cheap education. But—

It isn't at all uncommon to hear one say "I know teachers are the poorest paid people in the world for the work they do." But—

Or, "Something needs to be done about our schools, the buillings, equipment and all that." But—

Then another will say, "When are they ever going to put a new bus on our route? That old thing we got was worn out ten years ago." But—

But—what?

But, it seems that we aren't willing to face up to the situation and admit to ourselves that if something is to be done about the education situation in Alabama and Chilton County, WE are the ones that will have to do it. Whether we do it through additional taxes or through the purchase of hot dogs, etc. from the PTA, WE are still the ones that are doing it. Is there an easy way? Bet you a plugged nickle that the PTA ladies won't agree that it is being done the easy way when it is left up to them to struggle for the many, many accessories that the Board of Education can't afford.

A "but" is proper in its place, but let's quit using it so much while discussing school needs.

"American Thanksgiving"

THE TRADITIONAL DAY OF THANKS for the good things bestowed on its people by gracious Providence is as old as the story of our Pilgrim fathers in America. The Mayflower settlers were the first to set aside a day for "the giving of Thanks to God" and their guests at the first Thanksgiving included nearly one hundred Indians who had helped them through the first, terrible winter.

The story of Thanksgiving, from the time of our Pilgrim fathers through "turkey day," as it is ofteh called, is the subject of "American Thanksgiving" on "Du Pont Cavalcade Theater," scheduled for many ABC-TV and selected spot stations between November 22 and November 28.

1. George Washington, as played by Richard Gaines was heard to refer to the day as "a local festival" when he was encamped on the Boston Common during the American Revolution. 2. The spirit of our forefathers as played by the Pilgrims in the scene above was kept alive, however, and Abraham Lincoln was the first American President to officially declare a National Thanksgiving Day 3. Stephen Wooten, above, appears as a youth at the first Thanksgiving, and, in the lower picture, as the son of a modern, American family gathered about the festive board. (ANS)

IT'S MY OPINION

We spent a good part of the day Saturday with Mr. Dave Wall and one of his assistants, Louis Culver and from their conversations there is with the City departments of Clanton a degree of cooperation afforded in very few towns or cities anywhere and according to some sources much of this credit goes to Mr. Wall.

We know not what degree of cooperation Mr. Wall has been able to obtain in his six months with us but we do know that he has complete faith in men like Louis Culver that's what it takes to get a job done.

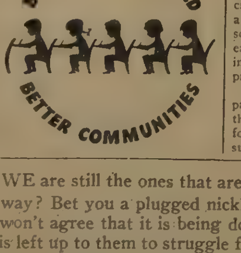
They showed us around the City's relatively new "fix-it" shop and indicated any number of ways in which the City workers, through careful planning and ingenious ambition save you and I quite a bit of money which is applied on other needy undertakings.

With the employment of six men the City Gas Department and the City Water Department keep up their own equipment, make their own tools, repair their own meters (and according to Mr. Culver, he checked on himself and his meter fixing and says that the meter checker which he went on stated that they could have done no better job on the meters than he had done). This is indicative of the extra services which our city employees perform for us that we don't know about.

We would do well to consider the fact that we do have such a cooperative and energetic City Government. It is to out advantage to have men like this working for us. They are ambitious and conscientious.

Above all else, these men are thinking of the City of Clanton first and foremost. The City of Clanton could at least show their appreciation by not griping about minor service difficulties and the lke. They do all that s humany possible and sometimes according to Mr. Wall, the fellas do better than that.

We'd like to commend the City employees and Mr. Wall on the fine work they're doing for our fair city. They are doing the job unselfishly and untiringly. The least we, as citizens, can do is cooperate with them.



Farm People Are Asking—

Farmers And The New Social Security Law

(Third in a series of five articles.)

By J. W. Overstreet, Jr.

In my last article I stated that a self-employed farmer for social security purposes is a person who operates a farm either as owner, lessee, or renter. The way in which you pay for the use of the land which you do not own does not matter. It may be money rent or any kind of rent. common noncash renental arrangement is the share-renting arrangement under which the share-cropper pays a share of the crop or livestock raised to the landowner for the use of the land.

For social security purposes, a share-cropper is considered a self-employed farmer. By "share-cropper" I mean a person who undertakes to produce a crop or livestock on another person's land with the crop or its proceeds to be divided and with the amount going to each depending on the amount of the crop or the number of livestock produced.

To be self-employed, a share-cropper must have the responsibility for the production of a crop during the growing season. Moreover, the share-cropper's arrangement with the farm owner must be one whereby the share-cropper's earnings from operating the land are a percentage share of the total crop produced or livestock he raises.

While a self-employed share-cropper is one who enters into an agreement to produce a crop or livestock on land belonging to someone else, it is not necessary in all cases that he do every part of the job. For example, a landowner may have planted or set out the fruit trees, bushes, or plants in former years and turned over their cultivation and care to a share-cropper. In another situation, the landowner might undertake to harvest or sell the crop produced by the share-cropper. Neithe of these circumstances would prevent the share-cropper from being considered self-employed.

The phrase "to produce a crop or livestock" does not mean that a sharecropper must necessarily assume responsibility for paying the expenses of raising or harvesting the crop. Seed, feed, fertilizer, tools, machinery, insecticides, etc. may be shared or provided entirely by the farm owner. As long as the share-cropper has the responsibility of farming the land during the growing season on a percentage of the crop or proceeds arrangement he is a self-employed sharecropper for social security purposes and his net earnings from such work are building old-age and survivors insurance protection for him and his family.

If the farm owner also participates in the crop production, and at the same time shares responsibility for any losses as well as profits, such an arrangement is more likely to be a business partnership. Both parties, then, are self-employed farmers for social security purposes. I shall discuss such farm partnerships in my next article.

We hope the new Civitan Club here in Clanton will use the theme "Youth for Spirit, Age for Guidance" throughout their projects. They can go far on this basis of action.

You're not gonna believe this, but we know it for a fact because we know very well that J. E. Easterling never told a lie in his life. It seems that, and we quote, "I killed three turkey's sittin' in a boat fishing." Now in the first place, well, the only question that comes to our mind is where they got the boat, J. E. Otherwise we believe the entire bit of malarkey.

Mr. Ed Blair of the Pell City paper was in to see us briefly the other day. Glad to see a fellow slaver. Wish he'd had time to stay and talk shop with us a while, but he was in a hurry. Guess maybe he'll have time to stop longer some time. We want him to know he's welcome at any time, day or night.

Talked with Louis Culver a while Saturday. He's head of the Gas Department here in Clanton and is doing a fine job of it. He depends a great deal on the cooperation of Mr. Wall and Mr. Brown, of the Water Department and together they do mighty well. We're proud of them. One thing is certain; we can rest assured that our money is being spent to the best advantage.

Mayor McCain over around Maplesville say "beautiful weather we're having, isn't it." We heartily agree that it is, but it's just too pretty to have to work, now ain't it? We surely do have to put forth a supreme effort in order to start a Monday off right. In fact, we seldom get a Monday started off right.

And Ole Fred L. Kelley was really pecking at the old typewriter when we stopped to see him. We must've interrupted some very heated correspondence 'cause those keys were sho 'nuff flying. We knew he could "pick" away a little at a guitar, but we didn't know he was also master of the typewriter, too. Just goes to show, what a little will power, with a little of the right kind of man sprinkled here and there, will do.

Saw ole Frank Brown at the Drive-In Theatre the other night. Yep, he still had that hat on That's what we call a distinguishing hat. Believe in a crowd of about ten thousand we could pick out ole Frank. Guess why we like the thing is, it's different and we always did enjoy being different

When people cease to drop everything in order to see where the fire engine is headed or which way the ambulance went, it's a sure sign that the town is growing.

See where lot of the druggists were fighting to get the license plate 666. Wonder why?

Yeh, and one of the local crap shooters was trying to get 711.

We were trying to get 65984356 ourselves. Funny thing, they haven't called us about it yet.

EDITOR ASKS SUPPORT ON HOSPITAL PROJECT

Editor The News,
Clanton, Alabama.
November 18, 1955
Dear Sir:

Within the next few days you will receive a short news story which the South Baldwin Hospital Board has asked the Alabama Press Association to send you regarding the Board's efforts to obtain a general hospital for South Baldwin County.

They have, with the aid of the local legislature and doctors, obtained the passage by the State Legislature of an amendment to the state constitution which would enable precincts to join together and vote an ad valorem tax upon themselves to build and maintain a general hospital under the Hill-Burton Act. The amendment, which is number four on the ballot, must now be ratified by the voters of the state in the December 6 elections

Ratification of this amendment will not mean any additional taxes for anyone in the state but will merely give the voters of this area the privilege of calling a local election and, if so voted, of a local tax upon themselves. An amendment passed in 1947 already allows this tax on a county wide, basis. But since Baldwin is such a large county, and the northern section already has adequate hospital facilities, the voters of this area are seeking the authority to vote on this means of financing a hospital for the 27,700 residents of South Baldwin County.

We have supported the plan with editorials and news stories and would appreciate any help you could give us along those same lines. If you could use a good non-local story for an early run we would appreciate your using the release you will receive from the Alabama Press Association.

Of course, some other sections of the state might wish to avail themselves of this means of financing a hospital, but no tax could be levied on anyone under this amendment without first holding a local referendum. We feelthat if your readers understand this they will be glad to vote for amendment number four.

The Onlooker and the citizens of South Baldwin County would appreciate any help you can give u on this community project.

Sincerely,
E. M. Howell, Editor and Publisher The Onlooker.

'Useless' Hardwoods Tops For Fireplaces

Auburn, Ala.—A current trend in home construction holds hope for expansion of one market for low grade hardwood trees. This wood can be used, not in the buildings themselves, but in the fireplaces which most new home now have.

Commenting that folks these days seem to like sitting in front of blazing logs, API Extension Forester I. R. Martin this week said many an Alabama woodlot owners can make extra cash by furnishing such fuel. Knotty hardwoods, which lower the quality of timber stands and which are virtually useless for other purposes, are excellent fireplace logs. They burn longer and have more heat value than pines of the same size.

Oak and hickory make the best firewood, Martin said. Fireplace logs should be four to eight inches in diameter, cut into 16 inch lengths After drying for a few weeks, these logs can be sold through local newspaper ads, orders, or door to door canvassing.

Disabled can Apply for Dis. Freeze

Workers who are disabled may now apply for the "disability freeze" provided by the 1954 Amendments to the Social Security Act, J. W Overstreet, Jr., District Manager of the Birmingham Social Security Office announced today. The "disability freeze" provisions protect the benefit rights built up by persons who have worked regularly in jobs covered by the Social Security Law and who are disabled for a long period before reaching age 65 It provides that the worker's rights to benefit will be preserved as they stood at the time the worker became disabled. For this reason it is called the "disability freeze." Ie does not provide any payments before age 65.

The law provides that those persons who have been employed under Soical Security for 5 years out of the last 10 years before becoming disabled and at least half the time in the last 3 years before becoming disabled are eligible for the freeze if they are totally disabled.

Only those individuals who are totally disabled and have a disability which can be expected to be of long continued and indefinite duration may qualify for the freeze. The disability must prevent the individual from performing any substantial gainful work.

Mr. Overtsreet urges all those who feel that they are eligible for the "freeze" to contact the Social Security Office or have some one contact the office for them. Applications made before 7-1-57 can cover a period of disability beginning as far back as 1941. Those made after 6-30-57 can go back no further than 1 year.

Pruning of trees may be started now. It is not likely that there will be any bug damage from now until spring.

DEATH DROVE THIS CAR
THIS COULD HAPPEN TO YOU

TWO WERE KILLED IN THIS WRECK which Gov. James E. Folsom inspected last week. The Governor (left) is seen here with Public Safety Director W. V. (Bill) Lyerly at the State Highway Patrol headquarters, Montgomery, where the wreck was placed on exhibition. Governor Folsom has appealed to "the great majority" of good drivers to help the Patrol crack down on speedsters, and those who show no regard for safe-driving laws, nor highway courtesy On December 1, Alabama will join with the rest of the nation in trying to attain a record of no traffic deaths or injuries for a 24-hour period. This December 1 challenge will be the occasion of the second annual S-D Day—Safe-Driving Day.

New Salem Baptist

We had two wonderful messages delivered to us here at New Salem Sunday. Rev. Lowery delivered two soul stirring sermons. If you missed these sermons you missed a blessing. Last Saturday night we had our training union Social-Supper which was enjoyed by everyone. Let us all pray for those in our community wh oare sick in any way. Especially let us remember Mrs. Henry Cox in our prayers. There are so many things we should be thankful for and we should offer our thanks up to God. So many people never stop to think if it wasn't for God they couldn't have all these blessings. So lets not forget to pray to God each day of our life.

Remember our services held here at New Salem and come out and worship with us. Visitors are always welcome.

Brenda Sue Is Two—

Little Brenda Sue Simmons celebrated her second birthday on Monday, November 14th when her mother, Mrs. Princeton Simmons entertained at a children's party at her home in East Jemison.

After the little children arrived, the mother placed Brenda Sue in the center of the play room ,with her little guests in a circle around her. The gifts, very pretty in their wrappings were placed in front of Brenda, who passed them for the little guests to see. This was very interesting for the mothers, as the honoree and guests wanted to play with the toys, crayons and color books.

The little visitors enjoyed a play period inside then went to the yard, played in the sandpile, with toys. The boys then played football and the girls with dolls.

In the dining room, the table covered with a lace cloth, was centered with the lovely white birthday cake, decorated in pink rosebuds, two large pink candles were on either side of the cake and the cake held two tiny pink candles. Inflated balloons, with suckers attached, dangled from the dining room ceiling and were later given as favors, also toy umbrellas.

As Mrs. Simmons lit the candles, the group sang Happy Birthday.

Pictures were made as the gifts were opened and as the children were having refreshments of ice cream and cake. Present to enjoy the time with Brenda were:

Thought:

There isn't a word that a preacher can say
No matter how lovely or true.
Nor is there a prayer that his eager lips pray
That can preach such a sermon as you.
You vowed to serve Christ, men know that you did
They're watching the things that you do;
There isn't an action of yours that is hid,
Men are watching and studying you.
You say you're no preacher; yes, but you preach
A wonderful sermon each day.
The acts of your life are the things you teach.
It isn't the things that you say.

The ladies of Highland WMU met at the church Wednesday afternoon for their regular monthly program. Those attending enjoyed a very interesting program.

We still have some on our sick list so don't forget them when you pray.

The Baker Home Demonstration Club met with Mrs. J. C. Billingsley. We had nine members present. The demonstration was freezing cooked foods and was very ably given by Miss Jesse Parter, after the demonstration the hostess served delicious cookies and cold drinks after which a social hour was enjoyed by all.

Pfc. Joe Parrish and his buddy Pfc. Steve Turk were home from camp visiting Joe's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Clifton Parrish and Peggy, also visiting Sunday were Mr. Parrish's parents, Elder and Mrs. J. M. Kelley. Happy Thanksgiving to all.

NEW HARMONY

Sunday School attendance was a little small Sunday. We hope to have our new church finished very soon so that the cold weather will not keep anyone away.

We were very glad to have a few visitors Sunday and we invite them all back.

Mr. Vernon Smith and Mr. Melton Short attended the quarterly assembly at Frisco City, Alabama over the week end. They reported a wonderful time.

BLOODMOBILE REACHES QUOTA

Moore who were so good to double up on their work and assist us during our 6 hour operation.

We appreciate the fact that it is not always possible for all of our local doctors to take part in this program; and we were very short on doctors this time.

Also we are very grateful to the following stores for their donations for our canteen at the Blood Center: Pig's Grocery & Market, A&P Tea Company, Hill's Grocery Co. and Mr. Penn, who always is willing to donate 5 or more cases of Coca Colas.

We would like, at this time, to thank also the Rev. Marvin K. Vickers and Mrs. Campbell White at the Methodist Church for their assistance.

And last, but by no means least, are our Registered Nurses and other volunteers without whom we could not operate this important Blood Program.

If we have failed ot thank others who have been so faithful to assist in this work, it is only an oversight

Again, as we have tried to emphasize to the public before, our new Chilton County Hospital is requiring more blood than our old hospital as this hospital, of course has the facilities and equipment to handle the typing of the blood, etc. We are very proud we, the Red Cross, is able to supply all of the blood needs at our hospital as well as for the needs of persons (holding valid Donor Cards) who go to other hospitals under the Birmingham Regional Blood Center; and elsewhere, where hospitals are using Red Cross blood.

"All bonds issued under this amendment shall be direct general obligations of the State of Alabama, and for the prompt and faithful payment of the principal thereof and interest thereon the full faith and credit of the State are hereby irrevocably pledged. In addition thereto, there is hereby specially and irrevocably pledged for payment of the principal of and interest on all bonds issued hereunder, pro rata and without priority of one bond over another, by reason of prior issuance or otherwise, so much as may be necessary for said purpose of that portion of the proceeds of all state taxes, except the income tax, that is required by law, at the effective date of this amendment, to be paid into the Alabama Special Educational Trust Fund. The pledge herein made shall create a charge on the tax proceeds herein specially pledged prior to all other charges or expenses for educational or any other purposes whatsoever. All bonds issued under this amendment and the income therefrom shall be exempt from all taxation in the State of Alabama. VA Asks For Cooperation On New Applications

Newly discharged servicemen and women should submit a copy of their original discharge or separation papers the first time they make an application to the Veterans Administration for benefits.

By submitting copies of their seperation papers these veterans will help to prevent delay in the processing of their applications, Harley A. Smith, Manager of the VA's Alabama Regional Office, stressed today.

Although the Department of Defense supplies VA with copies of all seperation papers, many newly discharged service personnel file their first application for benefits with VA before these official papers are received, Mr. Smith said.

In other instances, veterans submit their application to VA offices other than the ones to which their discharge or seperation papers have been sent.

VA must make an official determination that an applicant for a benefit is an eligible veteran before the agency can take any action. Where proof of military service does not accompany an application, or is not on file with VA, delay necessarily results.

Mr. Smith said a photostat or certified copy of the discharge or seperation paper attached to the application will supply VA with the proof VA requires under law.

Original discharge or seperation papers must be submitted to VA only when applying for a Certificate of Eligibility for a GI loan, Mr. Smith pointed out. After action, VA returns the original discharge to the veteran.

However, if the original discharge or stolen, VA may accept photo- or seperation papers have been lost stats.

Then ask the players to take their turns throwing the balls through the wreath from a position about eight feet away. Scores are figured according to the number of each ball going through the wreath. bonus of 25 points is awarded each time the bell is rung.

5 Income Taxes in 1956 for Alabama Income Earners

If the Goodwyn Amendment is Approved

These are:

1. Federal Income Tax, payable on a regular salary deduction basis.
2. State Income Tax for 1955, due January 1, 1956 and payable during the year in a lump sum or on a quarterly basis.
3. State Income Tax for 1956, to be collected during the year on a payroll deduction basis.
4. Goodwyn Income Tax on all income from wages or any other source above $1,000, retroactive to January 1, 1955 and payable on and after January 1, 1956. This retroactive tax must come out of this year's earnings. Nearly everybody will have to dip into savings or borrow to pay it, since they have had no advance warning of this bombshell, so didn't try to save up for it.
5. Goodwyn Income Tax for 1956 on all incomes over $1,000, to be collected in weekly, monthly or semi-monthly pay deductions.

Goodwyn Taxes Hit Hardest at Family Men

Of all these taxes, the two Goodwyn taxes would hit hardest at the pocketbook of the family man. That's because he is permitted NO DEDUCTIONS for dependents, or other income taxes paid, contributions to CHURCHES or charities, losses by fire and casualty, interest paid, medical expenses or losses on bad debts.

The Goodwyn Tax is unfair and unsound. Record school revenues this year will be enough and more to keep schools flourishing and pay teachers a needed raise.

Let's call a halt now to this hog wild taxation spree! Help do it!

Grazing Can Increase Total Value Of Oats

Auburn, Ala.—Grazing oats may lower grain yields somewhat, but total feed production is likely to be increased by using the crop for both grazing and grain.

Farmers over Alabama will be having oats up to grazing height from now until February, and many of them may be undecided about grazing the small grain crop.

In the opinion of API Extension Agronomist J. C. Lowery and other Alabama farm leaders, the wisdom of turning animals into oat fields depends on what kind of feed is most needed on the farm. Where winter grazing is short, the crop may be more valuable if grazed as long as possible. Farmers who need the extra grain in the summer ought to graze the oats very little, if at all.

Lowery's recommendation, based on Experiment Station findings, is big enough so they won't pull up. to start grazing when the plants are If the crop is to be left to make grain, hay, or silage, animals should be taken off the field no later than March 1 and the oats top-dressed with nitrogen.

Water Works One Of Clanton's Greater Improvements

By BOB TUCKER

ring the period of the past year and the City of Clanton s made strides unparalleled in its tory toward modernization of fa- ities and keeping up with the es.

Reports from Dave Wall, City anager, this week indicate that e has been done in that period ever before in Clanton's back- d of progress.

e Water Supply and Demand— e water supply of the City of ton this past year has reached point where the demand was ing the supply so closely that City Council took the prop steps to do something about it ore the situation became dras-

t was voted and approved that nton's past and present water rce was not large enough to ord complete dependence on that rce and it was moved and di- ted that the City's supply be mped direct from the Coosa Ri-

This being undertaken meant that water plant was outdated and uld have to be completely over- led. The Harbert Construction mpany of Birmingham, under- k the job of laying the pipe m Clanton to the River at a nt on Cargile Creek.

A pump station has been set up re and two 125 HP motors will mp the city's water supply in to Water Works at a rate of 800 lons per minute from a spot that 26 feet in depth.

The pump station is so built and anged that it can be operated a remote control cable running m the City Works to the river tion.

At the City Water Works the gentlemen in charge of opera- s are Mr. Herman Blalock and Claude Wood. They are both l-spoken in their business and Blalock, who is Plant Super- ndent knows the business back- d and forward and is capable of situation which might arise.

e You Ever Considered— st how you get cool, clear, free m impurities, water just by turn- on a faucet. It's not at all as ple as all that. Not by a long- t. The two gentlemen mention- before are on the job 24 hours a day for emergency calls and the like. They do not work around the clock but are on call at any time. Sometimes during heavy consumption they have to man the pumps for 24 hours.

Water, as he said before, is pumped in from the pumping station on Carbile Creek on the Coosa at 800 gallons per minuteand brought to the reservoir or raw water tank located just above the Water Works building on the opposite side of Highway 31. It is stored in this reservoir (capacity 624,000 gallons) until needed at the plant.

When water is piped from the reservoir it is pre-chlorinated in one of two settlin gbasins (capacity 150,000 gallons each) and is settled there until piped into the filesrs. During the process of going from settling basin to filter the water is aerated, a process by which gases are evaporated which cause cloudiness and scum in water. After aeration chemicals are mixed with the water, which is already 80 per cent purified after the settling process. These chemicals are Chlorine (16 pounds to every 120.000 gallons of water, however when processed completely some of the chlorine is evaporated which decreases its content). On an average day, in 300,000 gallons of water 156 pounds of alum is used and 50 pounds of lime, the lime being used to counteract aciidity in the water. Then, a relatively new process is used called the Calgon process. Calgon is a chemical used to combat corrosion in pipes and tanks. About 6 pounds of this chemical is use din 120,000 gallons of water.

You'd think this was all of the process, but it lacks a lot of being the water you drink. It's pure now, but it has to go through still another process, one of which you are most familiar with hearing. This process is the actual filtering of the already pure water. There are two types o ffilters, one the Kessler type filter (the older type) and the Wheeler or relatively new type.

This filtering process is one in which the water is run through a series of six layers of gravel and sand which are settled on a concrete slab with outlets in the slab for the water to pass through. The six levels of gravel and sand are used to assure every percentage of dirt and residue to collect on them.

When these filters get dirty enough to be considered too dirty for water to pass through a sa proper cleaning degree the filters are back-washed. They do not replace the gravel but they simply wash what they have. This is time, labor and money-saving.

The backwash process is fairly simple in that it simplyforces water up through the gravel and cleansthe mud and residue from it and sends it down the drain. Approximately 30,000 gallons of finished water (that's purified) is used to backwash all fou rfilters at the local plant. The four filters are, or says Supt. Blalock, will be washed every 75 hours when full production is assumed by them.

Plant Is Basicall 800 Gallon Plant—

The improved plant is basically, says the Supt., an 800 gallon capacity plant. By this he means that in every phase of the purification process water is piped into the different reservoirs and basins at a rate of 800 gallons per minute.

Plant Has Doubled Finished Water Capacity—

The plant was, before the modernization processing, a 400 gallon capacity operation where it is now an 800 gallon.

The elevated storage (that's the three tanks above the ground) of finished water is now 310,000 gallons, which is an increase in capacity of about 150,000 gallons. The underground storage of water in the tank under the plant has been increased by 20,000 gallons. Thus giving us a total of 330,000 gallons of finished water for the consumer to draw from.

Overall Improvements of New Plant—

Over all the new plant the increase in unbelievable. Two new filters have been added. An additional 150,000 gallon settling basin is new. A tank for finished water with a capacity of 150,000 gallons is an improvement. The aeration process, which takes cloudiness out of water, is new. New equipment for checking and double checking minimum is an added efficiency and which cuts manual labor to a move to our modernized water plant.

The plant Supt. and city manager Wall boast of the plant as being of the most modern design and are very proud of the progress made in the new building.

To assure you of safety the plant sends samples twice monthly to the State Health Department for bacteriological tests and checks on the percentage of purity of the water.

Invites Public—

The Plant Superintendent and Mr. Wall, the mayor and everyone connected with the work invites and urges you, as a citizen, to come in and inspect your new water plant. It's to your own advantage and we'll bet a dollar to a doughnut you'll be surprised at the care and efficiency that is performed in the processing of the water which you use every day. They invite you and we will verify the fact that you'll enjoy the evperience and feel much better about the way your tax dollar is being spent.

These men have done well and all they ask is that you appreciate their efforts.

We can safely guarantee that after you've been through this most modern plant you'll stop and think the next time you run yourself a glass of clear, cool water from the tap. Think about what all goes into that glass of H20.

The grounds around the plant have been so improved you'll hardly recognize them.

We urge your cooperation in this work and insist that you go by and look over the new plant. You'll be glad you did.

HEALTH HORIZONS

Infant Diarrhea

With the aid of the new vaccines and the antibiotic "wonder drugs," medical science now is able to control a considerable number of the deadly communicable diseases which formerly beset mankind.

Understandably, research scientists have devoted less time to investigation of those ailments which infrequently are fatal but nevertheless prove to be weakening and debilitating.

One of these diseases is infant diarrhea, an affliction as old as the history of man. In a recent issue of The Journal of the American Medical Association, Dr. Theodore J. Bauer, a leading authority on communicable diseases, points up the need for sharper attention to the prevention and control of infant diarrhea. Most of the deaths due to infant diarrhea, Dr Bauer says, have occurred in areas where living conditions — hence sanitation — are below standard.

Efficient control of infant diarrhea will have to wait till medical science definitely establishes the specific infective agent which causes the disease. But meanwhile, there is one drug compound—Kaopectate with Neomycin — which appears to have been used successfully in treating infant diarrhea.

Investigation has shown that the diarrhea is caused by the introduction of an irritant into the gastrointestinal tract. This irritant may be a chemical, bacteria, or a poison. The ensuing diarrhea is nature's way of helping the body to eliminate the irritant. Kaopectate with Neomycin assists the natural mechanism of the body in removing the irritant.

Doctors agree that whatever the particular form of the diarrhea, treatment should begin early. Treatment should be aimed toward removing the cause of the disease even as it helps to re-establish the deranged digestive functions.

There is evidence to show that the harmful bacteria which cause infant diarrhea may enter through the mouth by way of nipples used in formula feedings, the fluid in which the nipples are kept and from nurses' hands. Special care in sterilizing baby's bottles, nipples and other things put into the infant's mouth should help to prevent the disease.

Getting Your Child To Eat Properly

Do you have a hard time getting the young pre-school children in your family to eat the proper foods?

If so, it is a good idea to remember that there is more to a child's eating than merely setting food before him—even the kind he likes.

Dr. D. G. Gill, Alabama's State Health Officer said today that it is important to make a child want to eat. "Meal times that are pleasant, calm and cheerful usually accomplish this purpose," he said.

As for food itself, it helps to remember that young children—as a rule—do not like greasy foods or highly seasoned ones.

"Also, parents should be on the lookout for signs of childhood illnesses that may interfere with proper eating and proper digestion," Dr. Gill said.

"A doctor's advice may be needed in such cases."

Turkey And Quail Season Now Open

Two popular Alabama hunting seasons opened thoughout the state this week, the wild turkey season, Nov. 20—Jan. 1 in most areas and the quail season, Nov. 24—Feb. 15.

W. H. Drinkard, Director of Alabama's Department of Conservation, today called attention to the areas for hunting and restrictions on hunting turkeys and quail in the state.

Drinkard said hunters are at liberty during the open season to hunt quail in all counties of the state. The bag limit on this popular game bird is 10 a day and not more than 10 in possession.

The conservation director said that turkey hunting will be allowed Nov 20 through Jan. 1 in the following counties only: Jefferson, Shelby, Talladega, Tuscaloosa, Walker, Baldwin, Bibb, Butler, Chilton, Choctaw, Clarke, Conecuh, Coosa, Escambia, Houston, Marengo, Mobile, Monroe, Mobile, Perry, Washington and Wilcox Counties and all land west of state Highway 9 and north of State Highway 48 in Clay County, that part of the Talladega National Forest in Cleburne County lying south of State Highway No. 4 (U. S. Highway 78) except within the boundaries of Cheaha State Park, in Covington County except that part south and east of U. S. Highway 29.

Drinkard said hunters are allowed to kill gobbler turkeys only and may kill one a day or five during the 1955-56 season.

Since both quail and turkeys are classified as resident game in Alabama, hunting is legal during the hours from daylight to sunset on days of the open eason.

Other hunting seasons presently open in the state include deer, squirrel, opossum, raccoon, rabbit, ducks, mergansers, geese, brant, coot, rails, gallimules, and sora.

Now is the time to spray cattle for external parasites. Parasitic animals are expensive and require extra care during the cold months.

Don't Forget Your Contribution For Christmas Seals

One hundred twenty-one million Christmas Seals have gone into the homes of Alabama this week. The bright little Seals have become a very definite part of the American Christmas observance and from this time on for the rest of the Christmas season, they will be seen on letters, packages, Christmas greeting cards and all kinds of mail going through every post office in the state.

These Christmas Seals with the double barred cross supply the fund, for the state-wide volunteer fight on tuberculosis, growing in effectiveness every year since the turn of the century. The dollar a sheet that the recipient sends to pay for the Seals is expected to amount to over $300,000 in Alabama this year. Every county in Alabama has a working organization sponsoring the Seals which will use the funds from their sale in a well planned campaign against the disease—discovering new cases, educating the public and promoting more adequate provisions for the care of those afflicted.

Dr. Otis Jordan of Tuscaloosa, president of the Alabama Tuberculosis Association, urges every person who has received the Seals to send in his contribution immedately and thus become a volunteer in the great fight against tuberculosis.

1. To purchase, construct, lease, or otherwise acquire real property, plants, buildings, factories, works, facilities, machinery and equipment of any kind.

"7. "8. To pledge to the payment of any bonds, warrants, notes or other obligations or evidences of indebtedness the annual proceeds from any such special tax or taxes and to obligate itself irrevocably to continue to levy and collect such taxes annually until such obligations or evidences of indebtedness are paid in full and to pledge thereto any rental or sales proceeds of property leased or sold by it.

Offered Forestry Prizes In 1956

$100.00 in prizes awaits Chilton County farm boys who improve the forest on their land this coming year. This money is being offered to FFA boys in this county by G M&O Railroad, Thorsby Bank, First National Bank, The Peoples Savings Bank and Bank of Maplesville.

The prize money is part of a Forestry improvement contest among boys studying vocational agriculture in Chilton County. The purpose of the contest is to create a better forestry program in the County by having each boy set up a demonstration plot of one acre.

By setting this aside and following the latest approved forestry management methods it is hoped the boys will not only become more interested in forestry but will see the value of woodland as a sustained source of income.

It will also help the boys to see the value of farm woodlands as a source of raw material for the lumber and pulpwood industry in Chilton County and Alabama." It is further believed that the boys will develop a better knowledge of timber values and timber practices which will result in the greatest possible income from their farm woodlot. As he learns on his own farm, it is hoped that he can take this knowledge and become a leader in forest and wildlife conservation.

It is also believed that once the boys know the value of timber and know how to care for it to get the greatest possible income, he can make a more complete and efficient use of every acre of land on his farm.

Boys interested in this contest should talk it over with their vocational agriculture teacher in any of the following high schools in Chilton County: Chilton County High, Jemison High, Maplesville High, Verbena High and Isabella High.

The Chapter winning first place will get $50.00 second prize $30.00 and third prize is $20.00 The contest will end June 30, 1956.

The contest was proposed by Mr. C. W. Burrage agriculture and Forestry agent with GM&O railroad. Others cooperatinf were glad to help in a program like this.

Fix Easy Thanksgiving Feast

TURKEY for Thanksgiving is as American as Fort Knox. But like Uncle Sam's "gold," a good thing gets around! The pilgrims soon lend-leased their newly discovered bird-bountiful to the old countries.

As a result 20th century Europeans appreciate the royal splendor of a golden brown turkey as much as we do! Italians pay it royal homage on feast days by serving a special stuffed turkey filled with ground veal, ham and sausage . . . all highly seasoned and finished with a flourish of Parmesan cheese.

In the mysterious near East from Greece to Asia Minor, turkey is combined with egg plant to make a special occasion dish.

Home or abroad turkey trimmings often meant tears and trouble for the lady of the house. Good Thanksgiving fixings sometimes involved a two day ordeal for pioneer women. It took practical Yankee ingenuity to make Thanksgiving a holiday from cooking. Now ready-prepared turkey dinners are at your grocery store in frozen form. The dinners come in foil compartmented trays. One section is filled with large slices of turkey, white and dark meat. Green peas and whipped sweet potatoes . . . both generously topped with chunks of butter . . . fill the other sections. These dinners come frozen and foil covered . . . and should go in a hot oven that way. After only 25 minutes at 450° F. they are ready to eat . . . and to enjoy.

For the easiest Thanksgiving dinner you ever served, try this:

Sows Can Get Too Much Corn

Auburn, Ala.—The big corn supply on hand this year may tempt farmers to give hogs more than their share. And where gestating sows are concerned, overfeeding of corn can do serious damage.

According to G. B. Phillips of the API Extension Service, too much corn tends to kee psows from eatin gthe protein foods they need to produce strong, healthy pigs. Excess grain also makes the animals too fat to farrow their litters easily.

Phillips, who is Extension animal industry specialist, said ths week that thousands of glts and sows on Alabama farms have been bred to farrow early next year. These animals ought not to be left in corn fields very long, he advised. Grain should be hand-fed, so that sows won't gain too much and will reach farrowin gtime in good condition.

Recommended rations include one - half to three-fourths of a pound of protein supplement daily, plenty of green grazing, and a constant supply of a simple mineral mixture, as well as hand-fed corn.

NOW, THEREFORE, I, James E. Folsom, as Governor of the State of Alabama, do hereby give notice, direct and proclaim that on Tuesday, the 6th day of December 1955, an election will be held at the several polling places within the State of Alabama, in the manner and form provided by law, upon the following proposed amendment to the Constitution of the State of Alabama of 1901:

"In addition to all other taxes now or hereafter authorized by the Constitution and laws of Alabama, the governing body of Winston County is hereby authorized to levy and collect a special county advalorem tax on real and personal property situated within said county, at a rate not exceeding three mills on each dollar's worth of said real and personal property, as assessed for state taxation for the preceding tax year, the proceeds of the tax to be used exclusively for public school purposes; and also to levy and collect a special tax not exceeding two mills on each dollar's worth of said taxable property to be used exclusively for the purpose of acquiring, constructing, equipping, maintaining and operating a county hospital, other public hospitals, non-profit hospitals and public health facilities, including nursing homes, public health centers and laboratory facilities; provided such taxes are authorized by a majority of the qualified electors of the county voting at an election held for such purpose. Such an election may be called at any time by the governing body of the county and must be called when a petition is filed with the chairman or any member of said governing body requesting that such an election be held, if such petition is signed by as many as one hundred qualified electors of the county. The election shall be conducted in the manner which the governing body prescribes.

"Whenever the tax for hospital and public health purposes shall have been voted the governing body of the county may anticipate one-half of the proceeds therefrom for any one or more of the purposes for which the tax shall be voted, by issuing, without further election, interest bearing tax anticipation bonds, warrants, or certificates of indebtedness of said county payable solely from and secured by a pledge of not more than one-half of the annual proceeds from said tax received by the county.

"The governing body of the county shall have the further power to designate as the agency of the county to acquire, construct, equip, operate and maintain public hospital facilities any public corporation heretofore or hereafter organized for hospital purposes in the county under any general law heretofore or hereafter enacted by the Legislature. When a public corporation shall be so designated, the proceeds of said tax thereafter collected shall be paid over to it and shall be used by it for anyone or more of the purposes for which the tax shall have been voted; provided, that payment of the proceeds of said tax to said public corporation shall be made only to such extent as will not result in the impairment of the obligation of any contract theretofore made with respect to said tax. If the county governing body has not anticipated the proceeds of said tax and pledged such proceeds to the payment of moneys borrowed for the purposes for which such tax was levied prior to designating such public corporation as the agency of the county, said public corporation may anticipate one-half of the proceeds from said tax so required to be paid to it by issuing, for any one or more of the purposes for which the tax shall have been voted, the bonds, warrants, or certificates of indebtedness of said public corporation, and may pledge for the payment of the principal thereof and interest thereon not exceeding one-half of the annual proceeds from said tax so paid to it.

"The county, and in the event a public corporation shall have been designated as the agency of such county pursuant to the provisions hereof, then said public corporation, shall have the power to contract with any other county or similar public corporation with respect to the acquisition by purchase, lease, or otherwise, and the construction, equipment, operation, and maintenance of public hospital facilities outside of the county and within any zone or region of which the county may be a part, and which may have heretofore been established or may hereafter be established for public hospital purposes by the Legislature or by any agency designated by it, the obligations of such contract to be payable solely out of the proceeds of said tax; provided, that the proceeds of said tax shall not be used outside of the county for any purpose for which the proceeds could not be used in the county, and shall not be used with respect to public hospital facilities located outside of the county if the tax is voted specifically for public hospital facilities located in the county.

"No securities issued or contract made by a county under the authority of this amendment which are payable solely out of the proceeds of said tax, and no securities issued or contracts made by any such public corporation, whether or not issued or made under the authority of this amendment, shall be construed to be bonds of the county or of a political subdivision thereof within the meaning of Section 222 of the constitution, or construed to create or constitute an indebtedness of the county within the meaning of Section 224 of the constitution. Said securities shall be construed to be negotiable instruments not withstanding the fact that they may be payable solely from a limited source. All pledges of said tax and all contracts made with respect thereto pursuant to the provisions of this amendment shall take precedence in the order in which they are made and shall create a charge on one-half of the proceeds of said tax prior to the expenses of operating and maintaining any public hospital facilities.

"This amendment shall be self-executing."

I further direct and proclaim that notice of this election upon Tuesday the 6th day of December 1955 upon the above set forth amendment to the Constitution of the State of Alabama of 1901, be given by publishing the same once a week for four successive weeks next preceding Tuesday the 6th day of December 1955, in each county in the State of Alabama, in a newspaper published in said county.

Folks and Things ABOUT TOWN

—By Ben

A few things need plugging around here this week and we are taking it upon ourselves to do the plugging.

Luther Foshee was in to see us the first of the week and he wants a large group of Shriners to be at the Dixie Cafe on Friday afternoon, Dec. 2, at 5:30 o'clock. Be sure to wear your fez. The Shrine Band from Montgomery will be with us to help in our Christmas parade and Luther wants a welcoming group to greet them. They sacrifice a lot of time and money in these worthwhile projects around and we want them to know their efforts are appreciated.

Our old friend (nothing personal meant as to age) Fay Wooley, writes to ask us to plug the Christmas Seal Drive. Now that surely doesn't need plugging. Anyone knows the more Christmas Seals you lick the better our chance for licking tuberculosis. When you receive your seals this year before you do one other thing towards Christmas celebrating place your check in an envelope and return. You can do no more good with your money than to buy Christmas Seals to help fight tuberculosis.

Jelly Bean said that he couldn't see the sense of letting your hair grow long all during the hot weather and then coming in for a haircut in weather like this. Well, we'll have to admit that our hair was a little long. He had to use radar to find our ears before he started cutting to keep from clipping them off. We told him if it hadn't been that it had got to where we couldn't stay on the sidewalk for hair falling over our eyes preventing our seeing, we wouldn't have come in until spring. But, that's the way things go. You try to save a dime here and a dime there, and who gets it—the barber.

We had a break down this week when some parts on our linotype decided to quit functioning. However, thanks to T. E. Wyatt and the Union Banner, B. K. Ethridge on the Birmingham News, Johnny Fergeson at Roberts & Sons and the Montgomery Advertiser, we finally got running. Now ordinarily you wouldn't think it took that much cooperation to get out a weekly newspaper but when trouble hits around one of these dumps it takes all hands on deck and the bottle washer.

These strong winter breezes
Blow 'round the girls kneezes,
And causes the snezes
But some folks it pleezes.

Farmers Implement Announces A New John Deere Tractor

Farmers Implement Co., Clanton, Ala., announces a new model tractor, the new Model 420 John Deere tractor, which supersedes the John Deere Model 40.

Mr. J. O. Jones states that the new series is 20 per cent more powerful than the 40 Series Tractor.

According to the dealer the new Model 420 Tractor with stepped-up power, is a real giant in the two-three plow tractor size.

In addition to 20 per cent more power, the new 420 Series features Touch-O-Matic hydraulic control, heavy-duty 3-point hitch, and exclusive John Deere Load and Depth control.

The new Model 420 Tractor will be displayed for the first time anywhere, in a first public showing on December 3.

The John Deere dealer, with nine distinct models of tractors to offer in this power size, has a complete variety of tractors adaptable to both farmers and industrial operators.

In addition to regular one-and two-row cultivating tractors, there's an all-new model, the Model 420-W Two-Row Utility Tractor. This newly designed low-down tractor provides the crop clearance for cultivating two rows that you would expect in a conventional tricycle tractor, yet, because of its special low center of gravity, it provides easy step-up and remarkable stability.

Several of these models provide two power take-off speeds, a conventional ASAE speed for regular power take-off work, and a special high-speed direct drive power take-off for many industrial applications such as operating pumps and generators.

The new Model 420 Crawler Tractors provide greater power and greater ease of maintenance.

Farmers Implement Co. has mailed invitations to friends throughout this territory and is inviting the public to their store on Saturday, December 3, to see this new model.

Wreck Sunday Injures Three

A one-car wreck four miles west of Jemison injured three people last Sunday evening.

Mr. and Mrs. Molt T. Jackson and 2-year old son of Pinson, Alabama were headed toward Jemison on Highway 191 when their car over-turned on a curve.

Back injuries were sustained by Mr. Jackson, and the small boy had both legs injured. Mrs. Jackson's injuries were said to be internal.

Spigener Funeral Home's ambulance answered the call and carried the family to the Carraway Methodist Hospital in Birmingham.

Thieves Service Customers While Robbing Station

A trio of bold thieves waited on customers for their victim while robbing him last Monday morning south of here.

About 3 p.m. the three armed robbers tied up and robbed W. A. Parrish, attendant at the Mutual Service Station 2 1-2 miles South of Verbena. After binding Parrish with rope and adhesive tape the three tore open the safe with a sledge hammer or some other heavy object. Two customers drove up while this was going on and the men calmly waited on them before making their getaway with $116.

It is believed that these are the same men who held up a filling station just south of Montgomery on the same night.

Help "Lick" Tuberculosis By Paying For Christmas Seals

The Christmas Seal Sale will get under way in Chilton County during the week. This was announced today by Mrs. Mabel Bean, President of the County Tuberculosis Association.

One of the most important visitors that will come into your home during the Christmas season will be the Christmas Seal. It is important because it is through your contribution for the Seals that your County T. B. Association provides hospital care and medicine for some of the 77 known tubercular patients in our county. This year $1190 are needed to carry on the Associations work.

The small gifts that we send in to buy and use Christmas Seals each Christmas time helps reduce the number of those who will suffer during the coming year. Many of us have had dear ones who fell victims to tuberculosis. Others of us know neighbors or friends who have had tuberculosis.

You will not be solicited. No one will call on you. No list will be passed around. You will not be asked to make a pledge. You will just receive your sheets of Christmas Seals in the mail. What you send in return for these Seals will be your private affair. But we urge all of you to put Christmas Seals more than ever before in your Christmas plans. It will make for a happier Christmas for you, your loved ones and those around you.

Dec. 13 Set For Cotton Voting

Cotton growers have an important decision to make on Tuesday, December 13, Eddie Owen, Chairman of the County Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Committee, reminds farmers.

On that day, growers will vote in a referendum to decide whether marketing quotas will be in effect for their 1956 upland cotton crop.

"If at least two-thirds of the growers voting approve the quotas" Mr. Owen explains, marketing quotas will be in effect on all farms growing upland cotton in 1956, penalties will apply on 'excess' cotton and price supports to those growers who comply with their cotton acreage allotments will be available at the full level of effective supports. Under current legislation, this support will be between 75 and 90% of parity, the level depending upon the supply situation at the time the determination is made.

"If more than one-third of the growers disapprove quotas, there will be no marketing quotas or penalties, but price supports to eligible growers (those who comply with their allotments) will be available at 50 percent of parity.

"In either case, acreage allotments will continue in effect for the 1956 cotton crop." The Chairman pointed out that the Secretary of Agriculture is directed to proclaim marketing quotas for the next upland cotton crop when the cotton supply exceeds normal. Quotas are not put into operation, however, unless they are approved by at least two-thirds of the growers voting in a national referendum on the question.

ARC Gives Info On "Sage Brush" Maneuvers

Your local Red Cross chapter has been requested to release to the public the following information:

Families who have boys in the "Sage Brush Maneuvers" in Louisiana should contact their local Red Cross Chapters first in "Sage Brush" emergencies.

Handling of emergency and other welfare matters for soldiers and airmen on "exercise Sage Brush" maneuvers in Louisiana are being greatly hindered and delayed by many telephone calls and wires made direct from families to boys in the area.

You are asked to contact your Red Cross Chapter when an emergency happens as the size of such maneuvers has crowded communications systems in the area to such an extent that messages sent thru Red Cross Chapters will result in more expeditious transmission than emergency telephone calls. Troop movements, security measures and clogged communications have in many instances caused many hours of delay in delivery of messages to men located in the remote areas of the 7,000,000 acre area of these maneuvers.

THE AMENDMENTS—

Make the first order of the day on December 6th to go to the polls and vote. No matter how you vote—but vote.

As for us, the Chilton County News from the first, has endorsed Amendments No. 1 and 2. Not because it was our opinion that it was the best program that could have been worked out by our Legislature for the schools but because it "fills the needs" and believe us the needs are many.

With our growing population the schools are becoming increasingly crowded and something must be done. The tax to be levied by the enactment of the amendments is less than a dime a day for the average wage earner and a citizen unwilling to pay that amount for the education of his children needs his head examined. We spend more than this amount on coffee, or cold drinks, or a dozen other things which bring us nothing of value—just a moment of pleasure. On the other hand an education is something that cannot be taken away from our children. It is their right, and our obligation.

As best we can we will give you a short summary of the Amendments that will be of interest to the state as a whole and not local in nature:

* * * *

Proposed Amendment No. 1—

This amendment, known as "the Goodwyn Amendment," will authorize the levy of a tax on adjusted gross incomes in addition to the present income tax previously authorized by Amendment XXV. Though no specific exemptions are enumerated in this amendment there will be no tax due from any person whose adjusted gross income is $1,000 or less. The maximum tax which may be levied under the authority of the amendment is prescribed by the table set out in the amendment. The rate of the tax varies with the amount of a person's adjusted gross income and depends upon the designated bracket within which a person's annual income falls: the rate on the lowest taxable income being .005 of the taxable income. The rate gradually increases as the amount of income increases up to an income of $100,000 per year. The proceeds of the tax are dedicated to educational purposes and the amendment requires that a to individuals the tax shall be withheld at the source of the income.

* * * *

This amendment will authorize the State to borrow money for school building purposes and as evidence of such debt, in addition to all other bonds of the State to issue not more than one hundred ten million dollars' worth of interest bearing general obligation bonds of the State. The proceeds of the bonds are to be allocated as follows:

76.9%	to county and city school systems;
6.3	to Board of Trustees of University of Alabama
6.3	to Alabama Polytechnic Institute;
.5	to Alabama College;
5.9	to State institutions of higher learning under the State Board of Education, including Alabama Agricultural and Mechanical College, Alabama State College, and the State Teachers' College;
2.7	to trade schools;
.5	to the Board of Trustees of the University of Alabama for construction of facilities for mental health education;
.9	to Alabama Institute for the Deaf and Blind.

The proceeds of these bonds can be used only for the acquisition of school and college building sites, construction, reconstruction, alteration and improvement of school and college buildings and facilities, including renewal and replacement of structural parts and procurement of equipment for such buildings.

This amendment is not self-executing. However, it specifically directs that the Legislature shall adopt appropriate legislation to carry out the intent of the amendment, that such legislation shall require all bonds to be sold at pubic sale, and that none thereof shall be sold for less than the face value thereof. Enabling legislation prohibits issuance of these bonds unless Amendment No. 1 approved.

It aso requires the county governing body to call such an election within three months after receipt of a petition requesting it, signed by not less than five percent of the qualified electors of the beat or precinct to be affected. This amendment also authorizes the county governing body or any public corporation, organized for hospital purposes in the county, which has been designated as agent of the county for the acquisition and maintenance of hospital facilities to anticipate the proceeds from the tax and issue bonds or other evidences of indebtedness payable solely from and secured by a pledge of not exceeding seventy-five percent of the annual proceeds of the tax in the same manner that the county is authorized to issue bonds in anticipation of county-wide special hospital taxes pursuant to Amendment LXXVI.

Farm people are asking—

The Farmer And His Social Sec. Benefits

Fourth in a series of five articles by J. W. Overstreet, Jr., district manager of the Birmingham social security office.

A farm owner who arranges with someone to produce a crop or livestock on his land for a percentage share of the total crops produced does not get social security credit for that income. As I mentioned in my preceding article, his share of the crop is considered rental income and is excluded.

A farm partnership, however, is another matter. If you have a farm and enter into a business partnership or a joint venture with someone to operate it jointly; both of you are self-employed, just as partners in a non-farm enterprise operated for profit. In these cases each partner makes a report of his share of net earnings seperately as a self-employed person, for social security purposes, and pays the self-employment tax on that share.

The general features of any partnership are that each of the partners contributes in some way as agreed upon to the operation of the business. If there are losses, each will bear a share. Profits are also shard. Moreover, the partners are individually and jointly responsible for the debts of the partnership. A partnership is indicated if the parties hold themselves out as partners by using a partnership name in their dealings with others, have a joint bank account, etc. Generally, each member of a farm partnership would take part in making decisions regarding the management and control of the farm operations. They let everyone know they are operating the farm together. They each take part in the daily work connected with the operation of the farm and supervise the daily work of the farm hands.

It is possible, too, for a husband and wife to operate a farm as business partners, in which event, both would be self-employed for social security purposes. In the usual family farm arrangement, however, one party—usually the husband— has the actual management and control of the farm. In these cases, he, not his wife, is the self-employed farmer, and the net earnings from the farm operation should be reported in his name alone for social security purposes.

By the same token, a father and his child may enter into an arrangement whereby they are actually partners or joint venturers in the farm operation. In that event, both of them would be considered self-employed, and each would report his share of the net earnings and pay the social security tax on that share. However, if they are not partners and one of them owns the land but does not take part in operating it, only the one who actually farms the land is self-employed.

There are other family arrangements in relation to social security coverage for farm work. I shall discuss them in my next article.

Wes Gletty Writes On "Goodwyn Amend."

Dear Editor:

Next Tuesday, December 6th we will vote on the so called "Goodwyn Bill" which will be Amendment no. 1 on the ballot. Some folks tell me they will vote no on anything that means more taxes because they are taxed to death now. I agree with them that we have entirely too many taxes but one should consider what the tax is for and what benefit we will receive from it. We certainly need better educational facilities in the state of Alabama as we rank among the lowest in literacy in the Union. Alabama is not a poor state.

If this bill passes, it seems to me it will be the fairest tax in the state. A person with a $2000.00 income will pay $5.00. A $3,000.00 income, will pay $16.00. This is not excessive, in fact it is just a little over one half of one per cent. The higher incomes run a little more. For instance, on a $50,000.00 income the tax would be $1434.00, which is a little less than three per cent.

As we said before we should consider what a tax is for, what good we are going to get from it. As I understand it, this tax money is marked for educational purposes and cannot be used for any other purpose. What we should oppose is the taxes levied against us for things that do us no good.

"Big Jim" has a good point when he says, and I quote "I'd like to point out that a large portion paid under the proposed amendment will merely be deducted from taxes now paid the federal government. This means our money will stay here in Alabama and not be dumped overseas," unquote.

Governor Lee ,of the State of Utah, threatens not to pay at least part of his federal income tax because he believes it is unconstitutional for the nation to tax its citizens for the support of a foreign power.

After all, our Constitution and our good old U.S.A. were conveived and brought into being, because the people of America refused to pay taxes to support a foreign power. I wonder what they would do if they were here today.

What takes a large percent of our tax money is interest on bonds and borrowed money.

Our legislators would do well to investigate the system used in the State of Indiana. I am informed they have a moderate gross income tax and are free from debt. The interest to pay on bonds or borrowed money. They pay as they go with the gross income tax and no other state taxes.

I don't know what the taxpayers in Alabama have to pay in interest on the state debt, but it is plenty. The federal debt, which is now somewhere around $280,000,000,000.00 at 4 per cent interest would require close to $10 billion of the taxpayers money to merely pay the interest. The money we spend for interest on the public debts is thrown away.

Let's give amendment number one a large vote next Tuesday and combine our efforts to elect legislators and executives in the future who will make an effort to keep down waste and graft.

Yours truly
Wes Gletty

Standing are: Pat Traywick, Sophomore; Carolyn Tucker, Junior; Linda Wade, Junior; Patsy Hayes, Senior; and Jackie Mionr, Senior.

All the girls were new at the business, with the exception of Janice Wood, who was on last year's squad of cheerleaders. According to opinions, these girls did a fine job of boosting team morale and school spirit this season and they have explained to us that they are going to try to boost the basketball team the same way by "cheering" at all home games this season.

According to them, they'll be looking for you at all home games. With eight such pretty lasses supporting them, how can the team lose?

New Convert School Observed Harvest Festival

By Mary Bell

Beneath streamers of bright paper pumpkins, gourds, corn and all the favors conferred on us by a bountiful God, teacher, students, parents friends and well-wishers enjoyed a most successful Harvest Festival a the New Convert School Thursday November 17. The program opened promptly at 7:45 with the singing of America by the school chorus. A very appropriate welcome was given by Marcie Lee Davis and the scripture 8-1-20 Deuteronomy and prayer was delivered by Mrs. Mary Bell. The chorus gave the response and sang "A Witness for My Lord," the beautiful "Come Ye Thankful People, Come" was read by Virginia Lanier, and the chorus was next in line with singing "Good News." The guest minister was the Rev. S. W. Wilson, pastor of Union Baptist Church of Clanton, and was introduced by Mr. William H. Bell. His subject was "The Goodness of God." Much praise and joy was detected as Rev. Wilson spoke from this well chosen subject. At the end the chorus sang the very appropriate "Count Your Many Blessings. Name Them One by One."

The principal, Mrs. Mary E. Davis, expressed in challenging remarks how happy she felt in the whole-hearted cooperation, hope and faith that was exercised during the planning and presentation of this affair.

A very attractive menu of baked chicken, dressing, gravy, english peas, fruit salad, hot rolls, cake and pie was served.

These are truly gifts of God. Let us give thanks and sing our praises to His name.

"All that Spring with bounteous hand scatters o'er the smiling land; all that liberal autumn pours from her rich o'er flowing stores."

Bad Handling Can Cut Pelt Profits In Half

Auburn, Ala.—A trapper's job is only half done when he's made his catch, a good pelt must be properly prepared if it's to bring its full value.

That's the advice of Earl F. Kennamer of the API Extension Service. He said this week that reports from major fur buyers show careless skinning, drying, and shipping of pelts often destroy as much as half the profit in trapping.

Telling how to go about these important jobs, the fish and wildlife specialist said case-skinning—cutting along the hind legs and peeling the skin off over the nose—is the right method for most furbearers. Raccoons and beavers, however, must be "open" skinned, the pelt taken off flat. With either type, Kennamer added, it is very important that all the flesh be removed from the leather side of the skin to prevent "burn," or decay.

The most frequent mistake trappers make in drying pelts is stretching them too much, the specialist continued. In trying to make them bigger, they weaken the skins Pelts should be cured well in a cool dry spot.

Kennamer's recommendation for shipping pelts was to sew the skin in clean crocus sacks or other loosely woven cloth. This covering will allow the pelts to get air and prevent spoilage in transit.

We are sorry to report that Mr. J. T. Franklin is in the Chilton County Hospital with a bad foot. Pray that he will have a speedy recovery.

Mr. and Mrs. Gene Mims visited in Montgomery Monday.

New Phone Cable Will Serve Enterprise Road And Billingsley

GIANT PLOW SPEEDS UP CABLE STRINGING

ABOVE is the giant plow that is employed to plow the telephone cable underground. This plow is plowing the cable along the shoulder of the roads that are paved and in some cases when the roads are not paved, it plows the cable down the middle of the road.

This is the latest method of placing telephone cables. This plow is followed by a big truck which packs the earth back into place. After this operation it is almost impossible to determine where the plow has been.

CABLE-LAYING NEARS COMPLETION

THE ABOVE SCENE is of the big tractor and cable plow placing the telephone cable near a farm home. This is a typical scene in the Enterprise Road and Billingsley area as this big project nears completion.

Stilbestrol Is O.K. But Is No Miracle Drug

Auburn, Ala. — Stilbestrol, the harmone-like chemical so highly touted by many feed manufacturers, is truly an amazing substance. But it hasn't yet proved the "miracle drug" for beef cattle that some of its advertisers claim.

"Stilbestrol does have some benefit for cattle in increased gain efficiency," said API Extension Livestockman, W. H. Gregory in commenting on research data about the chemical. "It is practical to use where it can be purchased in a 40 per cent protein supplement at an additional cost of not more than $10 a ton. But stilbestrol probably not worthwhile if it costs more or if it must be fed in a supplement of less than 40 per cent protein content."

Adding a word of warning, Gregory said under no circumstances should stilbestrol be given to breeding stock. He explained that the chemical is actually a synthetic female harmone and may upset the reproductive systems of both cows and bulls or, for that matter, any other breeding livestock.

The specialist went on to say that beef cattle receiving recommended amounts of stilbestrol make more efficient gains while on feed. The same length of time is required to finish steers that get stilbestrol supplement, but equal gains can be made on a little less feed.

He also said U. S. Department of Agriculture experiments have no borne out reports that the growth stimulant results in poor quality carcasses.

Research at the Agricultural Research Center, Beltsville, Md., revealed that stilbestrol-fed animals graded the same as controls in the test group. And findings of this and other tests indicate that stilbestrol tends to give increased lean rather than fat meat.

Breed Now For September Calves

In tests at the Black Belt Substation, fall-dropped calves not only gained better, but they also graded higher and brought more money than did animals born in the spring

It's time to turn bulls in with the cow herds if September calves are desired.

Thought:

If people would take time to drink in some of the natural beauty no doubt they would feel as the author of this poem, when they drive past hills now ripe with Autumn.

Autumn

The aroma of sweet Autumn
Fairly takes my breath away
As I watch the lazy cattle
On majestic hillsides lay.
The trails around the pasture
Mock the ripples in a stream
And the lovely picturesque trees
Mock the ripples in a stream.
The hills on far off mountains
Seem to touch the very sky,
And while the whispering winds make music
The birds sing lullaby.
Oh! the likeness of this season
Will be the ruler yet.
So when the kingly Autumn leaves
My spirit follows it.

A War Of "Bugs"

Even the healthiest person among us could be harboring germs that, under certain conditions, produce such dreaded diseases as tuberculosis, polio and influenza. They are carried to us in the air we breathe, the food we eat, and on the things we touch. Yet we may remain healthy and unaware most of the time of this invisible world of germs that lurks both within and outside our bodies.

This paradoxical situation results from the interplay of countless factors that stand in the way of a germ's development and survival.

The great scientist Metchnikoff once observed that germs multiply so rapidly that, if provided with a favorable environment and adequate protection, they could soon destroy mankind and envelop the earth.

Scientists have discovered that one of the most effective barriers against the spread of deadly germs are other microorganisms For while some of these minute agents seem bent on destroying human, plant and animal life, others protect and help us.

We now know, for instance, there are germs that actually prey on a variety of disease-causing agents Such "cannibal" germs are called bacteriophages, which means "devourers of bacteria."

Other microorganisms have a more subtle but equally effective means of disposing of dangerous bacteria: they "manufacture" chemicals called antibiotics which are effective against a variety of deadly germs. The antibiotic tetracycline, for instance, is produced by Streptomyces, which are tiny mold microorganisms. Tests have shown that this drug, which is also known as Polycycline, repels germs responsible for scores of diseases which range from pneumonia to dysentery.

The process by which antibiotics are produced, in effect, reverses Metchnikoff's observation on the ability of germs under proper environment to multiply so rapidly as to destroy mankind. The Streptomyces organism which produces the germ-fighting Polycycline, is given the perfect environment in which to multiply at the greatest possible rate. The fermentation tanks where the antibiotic is produced are made sterile so the Streptomyces will have no competition from other organisms and can grow in complete freedom. The temperature, pressure, moisture, and food on which the productive little organism thrives best are then regulated under the most careful controls.

By thus studying the needs of "friendly" organisms which can be used to fight harmful ones, and then providing these needs under laboratory conditions, scientists are learning to tilt the balance of power in favor of the microscopic agents that help us eradicate disease.

Bird Triumphs in Freezer Dishes

SING a song and do a little dance around your kitchen, M'am. "Happy Holidays are here."

His majesty, THE BIRD, roasts merrily in the oven . . . and there'll be many banquets from his carcass, using everything but the gobble. True enough, the family is more enthused when you space the saved-over bird thru several weeks, instead of serving it all at once.

Freezing is one key to turn the trick. Put the last tidbits of turkey or chicken into a noodle bake or chicken rice dish. You can make both, fast as a flash, with a can of cream-style soup for the sauce.

Enjoy these flash-fast dishes the day after the holiday. Or wait a month or so; then rush the casserole from freezer to oven.

Treasure-Trove Turkey

2 tablespoons chopped green pepper
1 tablespoon butter or margarine
¼ cup milk
2 cups cooked noodles
½ to 1 cup diced cooked chicken or turkey
1 can (1¼ cups) condensed cream of mushroom soup, or cream of chicken or celery soup

Cook green pepper in butter in saucepan until tender. Add rest of ingredients. To serve at once, heat mixture well. Makes 4 servings

To Freeze: Cook green pepper in butter until tender and mix with other ingredients. Spoon into 1 large or 4 small freezer containers. Freeze at once. You may line a loaf pan or casserole with aluminum foil, and spoon mixture into it. After mixture freezes, you can lift foil-wrapped package from pan and take out of freezer for other use. To prepare for serving, bake noodle mixture covered at 400° F. for about 1 hour or until well heated. Mixture may be baked in freezer containers if they are oven-proof.

Freezer Chicken and Rice

1 can (1¼ cups) condensed cream of chicken soup, or celery or mushroom soup
½ cup milk
3 cups cooked rice
1 cup diced cooked chicken or turkey
2 tablespoons minced onion
2 tablespoons chopped pimiento

To serve at once, combine all ingredients in a 1½-quart casserole. Bake in moderate oven (375° F.) about 25 minutes. Makes 6 servings.

To Freeze: Combine ingredients (increase milk to ¾ cup) and freeze same as Treasure-Trove Turkey. Then to prepare for serving, bake at 375° F. for an hour or until done.

Patricia Huddleston Praised As Most Promising Opera Singer

Miss Patricia Huddleston

By Lily Mae Caldwell
Birmingham News Music Editor

More than 100 music lovers and professional musicians from Birmingham were in the audience that packed the University of Alabam: auditorium Friday night (Nov. 17) for Puccini's ::La Boheme."

And Friday night will go down as a signifant one in the musical history of the University. It marked the first performance of a complete opera at the Capstone, and the opera debut of a 21-year-old Clanton soprano who is surely destined to become a "name" in the opera and concert halls of the world some day.

Arline Hanke, producer-director, did a remarkable job and the production was on a high professsional level in every respect, with artistic sets by Howard Goodson, colorful costumes, a fine chorus and symphony orchestra under Roland Johnson.

Patricia Huddleston, the reigning Miss Alabama, sang the role of Mimi with maturity and understanding. She is one of the most believable I have ever heard. Her singing was an out-pouring of her soul and beautiful sound. Her voice is of rare texture, tone and color, soaring full and free and clear above orchestra and chorus. It is a good voice in all registers, rich and warm in the middle and lower, and of penetrating sweetness in the high planissimo. Her diction is impeccable. For more than 25 years now I have followed the careers of many great singers, and not even Eleanor Steber at 21 held higher promises than Pat Huddleston.

Urges Observance Of Safe Driving Day In County

Gordon L. Robertson, president of the Chilton County Chamber of Commerce, today called on every motorist and pedestrian in the community to observe the second national "S-D Day"—Safe Driving Day—Thursday, Dec. 1, 1955.

Last year Gordon L. Robertson continued, S-D Day proved the success of such an effort by reducing the national toll of deaths, injuries and accidents.

"The community's goal this year as a year ago, will be to eliminate all traffic accidents for a 24-hour period, Mr. Robertson added. "But in making one day particularly safe, motorists and pedestrians should feel conscious of the responsibility to make every day safe."

Safe Driving Day is sponsored by the President's Committee for Traffic Safety in cooperation with many national organizations, and with the endorsement of the President and all 48 governors.

"Traffic safety begins with the individual," Mr. Robertson said. "Every individual, whether a pedestrian or a motorist, has a responsibility for traffic safety. Traffic laws and safety regulations are designed for the public welfare and safety, but they are of value in accomplishing a purpose only to the extent that the individual complies to them and practices good old common sense."

"Safety is everybody's business."

At Alabama College

Cornelia Otis Skinner

Montevallo, Ala., Nov. 23—One of the greatest names in the theatre, Cornelia Otis Skinner, will bring her unique form of theatre the one woman show, to Alabama College on Monday, December 5 at 8:15 in Palmer Hall on the Montevallo campus.

Miss Skinner's "Character Sketches" will be the third attraction on Alabama College's 1955-56 concert series.

Unity Association Meets At Billingsley

The Unity Association will hold "M" night Monday, December 5, at 7:30 p.m. at the Billingsley Baptist Church. There will be a program of special music and a message by the Rev. Nelson Duke of Montgomery.

All of the churches are urged to send as many of their members as possible. Help us exceed the quota.

Winter Land Breaking

Winter plowing s helpful on land that's to be planted next spring to permanent pasture, sericea, coastal bermuda, kudzu, and other crops. But API Extension Agronomist J. C. Lowery warns that early breaking is not wise on steep land where serious erosion might result.

FIGHT FOR TRUTH

A large city newspaper condemned school people for raising money to publicize the Goodwyn Amendment. But was this the real reason for raising this money?

School people have paid money out of their own pockets to fight for the truth, to pay for the advertising necessary to correct the untruths and half-truths printed by this very same newspaper.

These statements, taken from this same newspaper, are some of the reasons why we fight:

Shelby county finished the school year with a balance of about $290,000 and the other counties are apparently in as good financial condition.

The whole truth is that Shelby County has been paying into a building fund for several years to build a school. The accumulated money is not a surplus from one year's operation, as this same newspaper would lead you to believe, but money saved to build.

Why didn't this same newspaper print the whole truth? Did they want only the part that supported their own argument?

Why did this newspaper conlude that all counties were in good financial condition from this half truth about the county?

School budgets are a matter of public records. According to Chilton County's Budget there will be an estimated balance of $2911, provided the expected revenue is raised.

There are sufficient funds to operate schools full nine months without additional taxation.

The truth is that according to the State Budget schools are operating on a budget of $124,716,542 with an estimated revenue for this school year of $96,000,000.

Why does this same newspaper depict the "Little Taxpayer With less ability to Pay," being squeezed by this tax and in an editorial comment say the schools need more money but there is a better way to get it? Are they trying to tell the average taxpayer that the Goodwyn Amendment is unfair to him?

Are these alternative taxes better for the little taxpayer?

If the sales tax is increased this would cause the average taxpayer making less than $5,000 to pay almost twice as much as under the Goodwyn Bill. This tax does not favor the little man, it favors the higher income group such as the advertisers of this same newspaper.

If Sales tax exemptions are removed the farmer would pay a larger tax whether or not he cleared anything, whereas under the Goodwyn Amendment the farmer must clear $1,001 before he would pay any tax. This method also favors the higher income group.

If property taxes are increased this would place a burden on a few including the little taxpayer who owns his place.

If the present income tax is increased the man in the lowest pay group would pay four times as much tax as under the present levy.

After a consideration of these so called better methods of taxation it becomes apparent that this newspaper is not much interested in how much taxes the little taxpayer pays but much more interested in using his vote to protect their large advertisers.

If this large city newspaper can be influenced to this extent by the almighty dollar it should make Chilton Countians prouder of their local papers and make them think twice before spending their money out of the county.

From the table on the right see how much taxes, earmarked for schools, you would have to pay. Is it unfair?

Before Voting on Dec. 6 answer these questions then vote your convictions.

Do I want better Schools? Is the Goodwyn Amendment fair to my income group?

WHEREAS, the Legislature of Alabama at the Regular Session 1955, ordered an election to be held by the qualified electors of the State of Alabama upon a certain proposed amendment to the Constitution of Alabama, which said amendment is herein set out, and ordered that said election be held on the first Tuesday after the expiration of three months after the final adjournment of the session of the Legislature at which the amendment was proposed; and

WHEREAS, the first Tuesday after the expiration of three months after the final adjournment of the session of the Legislature at which the amendment was proposed will be and occur on Tuesday, December 6, 1955; and

WHEREAS, notice of such election, together with the proposed amendment is required by law, and by the provisions of the act submitting the amendment, to be given by a proclamation of the Governor to be published in each county in the State of Alabama once a week for four successive weeks, next preceding the day appointed for the election:

NOW, THEREFORE, I, James E. Folsom, as Governor of the State of Alabama, do hereby give notice, direct and proclaim that on Tuesday, the 6th day of December 1955, an election will be held at the several polling places within the State of Alabama, in the manner and form provided by law, upon the following proposed amendment to the Constitution of the State of Alabama of 1901:

"Any provision of the Constitution or laws of the State of Alabama to the contrary notwithstanding, any municipality in Walker County, or any one or more of them, shall have full and continuing power and authority, without any election or approval other than the approval of its governing body, except as herein otherwise provided, to do any one or more of the following:

"1. To purchase, construct, lease, or otherwise acquire real property, plants, buildings, factories, works, facilities, machinery and equipment of any kind.

"2. To lease, sell for cash or on credit, exchange, or give and convey any such property described in subdivision 1 above, to any person, firm, association or corporation.

"3. To promote local industrial, commercial or agricultural development and the location of new industries or businesses therein.

"4. To become a stockholder in any corporation, association or company.

"5. To lend its credit or to grant public moneys and things of value in aid of, or to, any individual, firm, association, or corporation whatsoever.

"6. To become indebted and to issue and sell interest bearing bonds, warrants (which may be payable from funds to be realized in future years), notes or other obligations or evidences of indebtedness, to a principal amount not exceeding fifty percent of the assessed value of taxable property therein as determined for state taxation, in order to secure funds for the purchase, construction, lease or acquisition of any of the property described in subdivision 1 above or to be used in furtherance of any of the other powers or authorities granted in this amendment. Such obligations or evidences of indebtedness may (in addition to any pledge or pledges authorized by subdivision 8 of this amendment) be issued upon the full faith and credit of the municipality or may be limited as to the source of their payment.

"7. To levy and collect annually, in addition to all other taxes now authorized or permitted, a special tax or taxes of not exceeding two percent on the value of all taxable property therein as determined for state taxation, in the same manner as other municipal taxes are levied and collected, provided the levying of such tax or taxes be first approved by a majority of the qualified electors of such municipality voting at an election held for such purpose. Such tax may be levied upon all property in the municipality or upon all property in any district the boundaries of which the governing body of such municipality shall describe and which it shall determine to be especially improved and benefited by any proposed use or expenditure of the proceeds of such tax.

"8. "The recital in any bonds, warrants, notes or other obligations or evidences of indebtedness that they were issued pursuant to this amendment or that they were issued to provide funds to be used in furtherance of any power or authority herein authorized or that any special tax herein authorized has been pledged to the payment thereof shall be conclusive; no purchaser or holder thereof need inquire further; and the levy and collection of such tax shall continue until the principal of and interest on such obligations or evidences of indebtedness shall have been paid in full. "This amendment shall be self-executing; but the Legislature shall have the right and power by general, special or local act to adopt laws supplemental to this amendment or in furtherance of the purposes and objectives herein above set forth."

If any proposal to levy the tax is defeated in any election, subsequent elections thereon may be held at any time. The elections provided for herein shall be called, held, conducted, paid for, and governed otherwise in the manner provided for an election on the school district tax authorized in Amendment III, Article XIX of the Constitution of Alabama, by Article 7, Chapter 10, Title 52, Code of Alabama (1940). The revenue derived from the sale of these bonds shall be expended by the county board of education and the Phenix City board of education for public school purposes only. 1. To purchase, construct, lease, or otherwise acquire real property, plants, buildings, factories, works, facilities, machinery and equipment of any kind.

Such obligations or evidences of indebtedness may (in addition to any pledge or pledges authorized by subdivision 8 of this amendment) be issued upon the full faith and credit of the municipality or may be limited as to the source of their payment.

"7. To levy and collect annually, in addition to all other taxes now authorized or permitted, a special tax or taxes of not exceeding two percent on the value of all taxable property therein as determined for state taxation, in the same manner as other county or municipal taxes are levied and collected. "This amendment shall be self-executing; but the Legislature shall have the right and power by general, special or local act to adopt laws supplemental to this amendment or in furtherance of the purposes and objectives herein above set forth."

"Any provision of the Constitution or laws of the State of Alabama to the contrary notwithstanding, any municipality in Cullman County, or any one or more of them, shall have full and continuing power and authority, without any election or approval other than the approval of its governing body, to do any one or more of the following:

"1. To purchase, construct, lease, or otherwise acquire real property, plants, buildings, factories, works, facilities, machinery and equipment of any kind.

"2. To lease, sell for cash or on credit, exchange, or give and convey any such property described in subdivision 1 above, to any person, firm, association or corporation.

"3. To promote local industrial, commercial or agricultural development and the location of new industries or businesses therein.

"4. To become a stockholder in any corporation, association or company.

"5. To lend its credit or to grant public moneys and things of value in aid of, or to, any individual, firm, association, or corporation whatsoever.

"6. To become indebted and to issue and sell interest bearing bonds, warrants (which may be payable from funds to be realized in future years), notes or other obligations or evidences of indebtedness, to a principal amount not exceeding fifty percent of the assessed value of taxable property therein as determined for state taxation, in order to secure funds for the purchase, construction, lease or acquisition of any of the property described in subdivision 1 above or to be used in furtherance of any of the other powers or authorities granted in this amendment. Such obligations or evidences of indebtedness may (in addition to any pledge or pledges authorized by subdivision 8 of this amendment) be issued upon the full faith and credit of the municipality or may be limited as to the source of their payment.

"7. To levy and collect annually, in addition to all other taxes now authorized or permitted, a special tax or taxes of not exceeding two percent on the value of all taxable property therein as determined for state taxation, in the same manner as other municipal taxes are levied and collected. Such tax may be upon all property in any municipality in Coffee County or upon all property in any district the boundaries of which the governing body of such municipality shall describe and which it shall determine to be specially improved and benefited by any proposed use or expenditure of the proceeds of such tax.

"8. To pledge to the payment of any bonds, warrants, notes or other obligations or evidences of indebtedness the annual proceeds from any such special tax or taxes and to obligate itself irrevocably to continue to levy and collect such taxes annually until such obligations or evidences of indebtedness are paid in full and to pledge thereto any rental or sales proceeds of property leased or sold by it.

"9. To create a public authority or corporation having such powers, managed and governed by such board or governing body and subject to such limitations as the governing body of any municipality in Coffee County may impose, by approving and filing a certificate to that effect in the office of the Judge of Probate or the Secretary of State, or their respective succesors in function, and to delegate to such public authority or corporation and its board or governing body all powers and authority conferred in this amendment upon any such municipality.

"The recital in any bonds, warrants, notes or other obligations or evidences of indebtedness that they were issued pursuant to this amendment or that they were issued to provide funds to be used in furtherance of any power or authority herein authorized or that any special tax herein authorized has been pledged to the payment thereof shall be conclusive; no purchaser or holder thereof need inquire further; and the levy and collection of such tax shall continue until the principal of and interest on such obligations or evidences of indebtedness shall have been paid in full. "The bonds, warrants, notes or other obligations or evidences of indebtedness issued hereunder shall not be considered an indebtedness of any municipality in Coffee County for the purpose of determining the borrowing capacity of such municipality under sections 224 and 225 of the Constitution; and the taxes herein authorized shall be in addition to those provided for or permitted in sections 215 and 216 of the Constitution and all amendments thereto.

"This amendment shall be self-executing; but the Legislature shall have the right and power by general, special or local act to adopt laws supplemental to this amendment or in furtherance of the purposes and objectives here in above set forth."

I further direct and proclaim that notice of this election upon Tuesday the 6th day of December 1955 upon the above set forth amendment to the Constitution of the State of Alabama of 1901, be given by publishing the same once a week for four successive weeks next preceding Tuesday the 6th day of December 1955, in each county in the State of Alabama, in a newspaper published in said county.

TO THE VOTERS OF ALABAMA

The Municipal Officials of Cullman, Hanceville, Garden City, and Holly Pond, the Judge of Probate and the County Commissioners of Cullman County, together with a host of other citizens are appealing to the voters of the State to help them defeat Amendment 23 in the State Election on Tuesday, December 6th, 1955.

These officials and citizens feel that this amendment will drive away new industry that might want to settle here. — Cullman already has a 36½ mill tax and to pass this amendment would put an additional 20-mill tax on the property owners. This would be a great burden for the taxpayers to bear.

Also objectionable is the fact this amendment would not allow a vote of the local citizens, and it would place much power in the hands of a few.

THE ABC's

of Why You Should Vote For The School Amendments

A OUR SCHOOLS ARE IN CRITICAL CONDITION!

Before World War II, 63,000 children were born in Alabama each year . . . Now the number is 83,000 . . . School enrollment is going up yearly . . . School buildings are getting older. Our teachers are moving to other states for higher salaries . . . We must either go forward or slide back . . . We Alabama parents want our children to have at least as good an education and as good a chance in life as we had.

B THE AMENDMENTS WILL SOLVE THE PROBLEM!

School Amendments 1 and 2 will raise $29 million a year for schools and allow the state to borrow $110 million for immediate school construction . . . These amendments were recommended by the Legislature, almost to a man, as the best way of solving the school crisis. They will cost the average person less than THREE CENTS A DAY — THE COST OF A POSTAGE STAMP . . . Every penny collected is earmarked for education and guaranteed for schools!

C ALTERNATIVES ARE IMPRACTICAL OR UNWISE!

Other ways suggested for raising the money for schools just don't hold up when studied closely . . . For example, a 1½-cent increase in the sales tax would be necessary to raise the same amount of money . . . This would cost the average taxpayer over twice as much as he'd pay under the School Amendments . . . That's because corporations would not pay as much under a sales tax . . . They would pay almost half the entire tax bill under School Amendment No. 1.

D SCHOOL AMENDMENTS ARE FAIREST!

The School Amendments are fairest for the average man . . . Almost everyone who benefits pays some tax . . . Corporations pay their fair share . . . Thousands of corporations and more than 900,000 people will help pay the cost of operating our schools.

E SUPPORT THE BEST PLAN WITH YOUR VOTE!

More than 700,000 Alabama children are counting on you next Tuesday . . . They are counting on you for help in acquiring a first-class education . . . an education on a par with the education children get in other states . . . Alabama's children can't vote . . . They MUST depend on you! . . . Don't let them down . . . Vote "YES" on Amendments 1 and 2 and be proud you helped!

HOW ELSE CAN YOU BUY SO MUCH FOR SO LITTLE?

VOTE "YES" DEC. 6 ON AMENDMENTS 1 AND 2

WHY, DADDY?

How do you answer the child who asks: "Why isn't there enough room in our school for all the children?" or "Why don't we have a bathroom in our school?" . . . or "Why don't we have lights in our school room?"

That's a real stickler, isn't it? But when the voters of Alabama approve the School Amendments in the December 6 election, Alabama schools will have the money to correct this situation.

More than 700,000 Alabama school children will be counting on you when you vote. How you vote on Amendments 1 and 2 will decide what kind of schools they are going to have.

WHAT ARE SCHOOL AMENDMENTS 1 AND 2?

Amendment No. 1 calls for an income tax to raise $29 million, all for schools. This tax must pay for the increases the Legislature voted for our schools—

1—to hire teachers for the "extra" 20,000 children in school this year.
2—to keep good teachers by making their pay closer to that in nearby states.
3—to repair busses and buy new ones.
4—to help colleges and trade schools take care of their "extra" students.
5—to help schools do a better job in such things as agriculture classes, teaching handicapped children and adults.
6—to pay back what we borrow on bonds to build new classrooms.

Amendment 2 permits the State to borrow $110 million to build needed classrooms in every county.

We all want better schools. The Legislature studied many plans for meeting the needs of our schools. They decided, almost to a man, that Amendments 1 and 2 offer us the best way to pay for better schools.

EVERYBODY HELPS — NOBODY PAYS A LOT!

If Amendment 1 passes, 900,000 people will help pay for better schools. Nobody pays a lot We all pay according to what we make — after business and farm expenses. These rates can't be increased. And ALL the $29,000,000 is required by law to be spent ONLY on schools.

BETTER SCHOOLS BUILD BETTER COMMUNITIES

Amendment 2 permits the State to borrow $110 million by selling bonds We can start right away to build the classrooms our children need so much. The money to pay for the bonds will be provided by Amendment No 1 We can't build schools without No. 2. We can't pay for them without No. 1.

JUST A FEW CENTS A DAY FOR BETTER SCHOOLS

If Your Income, After Expenses, Is	You Will Pay Per Day	Per Yr.
$ 1,000 or less	0	$ 0.00
1,001	1½c	5.00
2,000	3 c	10.00
3,000	4½c	16.00
4,000	6 c	22.50
5,000	8 c	29.50
6,000	11c	40.00
7,000	13c	48.00
8,000	15½c	56.50
9,000	18c	65.50
10,000	21c	75.00

IT'S UP TO US!

The Legislature offered this plan — Amendments 1 and 2 — as the best of many they studied. They refused to increase the sales tax. They did not remove exemptions on seed, fertilizer, machinery, gasoline, autos, newsprint, and many other items. Instead, the Legislature offered the School Amendments.

The schools belong to all of us; 900,000 of us can put our shoulders to the wheel. Nobody's load will be heavy. All our school children — 700,000 of them — will have better schools . . . they can't vote. You can!

Mink And Muskrat Most Profitable

Mink and Muskrat will be the most profitable furbearers open to Alabama trappers during the 1955-56 season, which starts Dec. 1. These animals remain the money-makers, although reports say this season's mink prices will run a little under those of last year while muskrats will bring about the same as a year ago.

According to Earl F. Kennamer, API wildlife specialist, mink will likelly bring extra good returns to trappers who have 35 or more pelts to sell at one time. By marketing the mink in large lots, the seller can deal with an auction house. And Kennamer explained that experiments have shown more than twice as much can be made on mink sold through auction houses.

Sericea Crop Up Over 1954

Auburn, Ala.—This fall the nation's lespedeza sericea seed producers are expected to make their first good crop in years.

"Estimated sericea seed production should be welcome news to Alabama livestockmen," said API Extension Seed Specialist Ralph Jones this week in telling of the USDA forecast. He explained that short seed supplies for this crop during the past three years have hampered many Alabama farmers in development of feed and pasture programs.

Quoting the Department release Jones said the 1955 harvest will be around 11,066,000 pounds—almost five times last year's 2,544,900-lb. crop.

As the specialist pointed out, the larger seed supply will permit the establishment of needed additional pasture acreage. Reports by Alabama county agents in 1954 put the total area planted to sericea at about 581,053 acres. Agronomists agree that this acreage should be increased four or fivefold.

Turning to the forecast for Alabama, Jones said no figures on lespedeza sericea seed are available. But state growers have harvested around 2,340,000 pounds of seed of all lespedeza crops—both the perennial lespedeza sericea and annual varieties such as Korean Kobe, and Common. This figure is more than twice the 900,000 pounds produced last year.

"In addition to all other taxes now or hereafter authorized by the Constitution and laws of Alabama, the governing body of Winston County is hereby authorized to levy and collect a special county advalorem tax on real and personal property duly situated within said county, at a rate not exceeding three mills on each dollar's worth of said real and personal property, as assessed for state taxation for the preceding tax year, the proceeds of the tax to be used exclusively for public school purposes; and also to levy and collect a special tax not exceeding two mills on each dollar's worth of said taxable property, to be used exclusively for the purpose of acquiring, constructing, equipping, maintaining and operating a county hospital, other public hospitals, non-profit hospitals and public health facilities, including nursing homes, public health centers and laboratory facilities; provided such taxes are authorized by a majority of the qualified electors of the county voting at an election held for such purpose. Such an election may be called at any time by the governing body of the county and must be called when a petition is filed with the chairman or any member of said governing body requesting that such an election be held, if such petition is signed by as many as one hundred qualified electors of the county. The election shall be conducted in the manner which the governing body prescribes

"Whenever the tax for hospital and public health purposes shall have been voted the governing body of the county may anticipate one-half of the proceeds therefrom for any one or more of the purposes for which the tax shall be voted, by issuing, without further election, interest bearing tax anticipation bonds, warrants, or certificates of indebtedness of said county payable solely from and secured by a pledge of not more than one-half of the annual proceeds from said tax recevied by the county.

"The governing body of the county shall have the further power to designate as the agency of the county to acquire, construct, equip, operate and maintain public hospital facilities any public corporation heretofore or hereafter organized for hospital purposes in the county under any general law heretofore or hereafter enacted by the Legislature. When a public corporation shall be so designated, the proceeds of said tax thereafter collected shall be paid over to it and shall be used by it for anyone or more of the purposes for which the tax shall have been voted; provided, that payment of the proceeds of said tax to said public corporation shall be made only to such extent as will not result in the impairment of the obligation of any contract theretofore made with respect to said tax. If the county governing body has not anticipated the proceeds of said tax and pledged such proceeds to the payment of moneys borrowed for the purposes for which such tax was levied, prior to designating such public corporation as the agency of the county, said public corporation may anticipate one-half of the proceeds from said tax so required to be paid to it by issuing, for any one or more of the purposes for which the tax shall have been voted, the bonds, warrants, or certificates of indebtedness of said public corporation, and may pledge for the payment of the principal thereof and interest thereon not exceeding one-half of the annual proceeds from said tax so paid to it.

"The county, and in the event a public corporation shall have been designated as the agency of such county pursuant to the provisions hereof, then said public corporation, shall have the power to contract with any other county or similar public corporation with respect to the acquisition by purchase, lease, or otherwise, and the construction, equipment, operation, and maintenance of public hospital facilities outside of the county and within any zone or region of which the county may be a part, and which may have heretofore been established or may hereafter be established for public hospital purposes by the Legislature or by any agency designated by it the obligations of such contract to be payable solely out of the proceeds of said tax; provided, that the proceeds of said tax shall not be used outside of the county for any purpose for which the proceeds could not be used in the county, and shall not be used with respect to public hospital facilities located outside of the county if the tax is voted specifically for public hospital facilities located in the county.

"The securities issued or contracts made by a county under the authority of this amendment which are payable solely out of the proceeds of said tax, and no securities issued or contracts made by any such public corporation, whether or not issued or made under the authority of this amendment, shall be construed to be bonds of the county or of a political subdivision thereof within the meaning of Section 222 of the constitution, or construed to create or constitute an indebtedness of the county within the meaning of Section 224 of the constitution. Such securities shall be construed to be negotiable instruments notwithstanding the fact that they may be payable solely from a limited source. All pledges of said tax and all contracts made with respect thereto pursuant to the provisions of this amendment shall take precedence in the order in which they are made and shall create a charge on one-half of the proceeds of said tax prior to the expenses of operating and maintaining any public hospital facilities.

"This amendment shall be self-executing."

I further direct and proclaim that notice of this election upon Tuesday the 6th day of December 1955 upon the above set forth amendment to the Constitution of the State of Alabama of 1901, be given by publishing the same once a week for four successive weeks next preceding Tuesday the 6th day of December 1955, in each county in the State of Alabama, in a newspaper published in said county.

Goodwyn Tax is Grossly Unfair to the Family Man--Our Churches ---Retired People and Those With Least Ability to Pay

Federal and State income taxes have always recognized the heavy responsibility of the family man. The Goodwyn Tax makes no allowance for the many obligations he has to meet.

Under the Goodwyn Tax scheme, the family man with a wife and six children would pay the same tax as a single man, even though he has to put out big sums for medical expenses and dental bills.

Retired workers, struggling to make ends meet on a small pension from employers, would be taxed, too. And working women, even though they have several children to support. Our churches will be hard hit because no church contributions can be deducted.

No Deductions Under Goodwyn Tax

The Goodwyn Tax permits none of the usual income tax deductions for dependents, contributions to CHURCHES or CHARITY, interest paid, other taxes, losses by fire and casualty, bad debts or medical expenses. It levies TWO more taxes—both payable next year in addition to TWO State income taxes—on all the income and earnings of all persons living in Alabama. Only Corporations could deduct "business expenses."

The Goodwyn Tax has been rightly called the "poor man's tax" because it puts the biggest burden on those with the least ability to pay.

If our schools need $34,000,000 more in the face of all-time record revenues this year and next, let the Legislature find a way to raise it that will be fair to all.

R. Clarence Williams

Joe Smith

A Civitan Club will be officially organized this Friday night, December 9 when they will hold their Charter Night activities in the dining hall of the First Methodist Church here in Clanton. Time of the program is 7:30 p.m.

Dignitaries of the city and county will be present, as will members of other Civitan groups. The local club will charter with about 30 members all of good standing in the community.

Speaker of the evening will be the International President of Civitan International, Mr. R. Clarence Williams of Anniston, Alabama.

He is a native of Alabama, having been born at White Plains, Alabama. He attended Anniston Public and High Schools and is a graduate of the University of Alabama Law School and former member of the Alabama Legislature. Past President of the Calhoun County Bar Association and is now Circuit Solicitor of the Seventh Judicial Circuit and is Vice-President of the Circuit Solicitors Association of Alabama.

He also teaches a Men's Bible Class, is on the Board of Stewards of the First Methodist Church, having just completed a term as Chairman of the Board and is Associate Lay Leader of the Anniston District. President Williams has been in great demand as a speaker at many Civitan functions throughout Civitan during his term as president-elect.

He is also listed in Who's Who in Alabama.

Due consideration should go to the District Governor of the Alabama West Florida District, Mr. Johnny Ferguson, along with other members of his club, which is the West End club of Birmingham. Other clubs in the districts assisted Mr. Ferguson in the organizing of this new club and the West End club is their sponsor.

It is through men like these that a service organization can show its full meaning and worth.

The local club president is Joe Smith, Clanton businessman and popular citizen.

Mr. Smith has never done work of this kind, but is a man who has his heart set on this work and will do great honor to the position which he holds. Committees, Polls Listed For Cotton Referendum

Auburn, Ala. Here's what the outcome of the Dec 13 cotton referendum will mean to Alabama farmers, as explained by James H. Jones of Centre.

Jones, who is chairman of the state ASC committee, said this week the referendum will decide whether or not cotton marketing quotas are to be in effect again next year. Two thirds of the votes cast by growers participating in the beltwide election are required for quotas to be passed.

As the committee head pointed out, if marketing quotas are approved for 1946, growers can get government support prices between 75 and 90 per cent of parity for cotton grown on their allotted acreages. With market quotas in effect support prices for cotton this year were close to 90 percent of parity. He added that marketing quotas also bring with them cash penalties for cotton produced on the acreage in excess of a grower's allotment.

Jones went on to say that if quotas are not in effect next spring government support prices will be only 50 percent of parity. However, without quotas, there would be no penalties for planting more than the allotted acreage. But overplanting allotments, with or without quotas, makes growers ineligible for placing cotton under government loan.

Polling places for the referendum will be announced by county ASC committees.

AN UNDISPUTABLE SUCCESS

The people of Chilton County turned out in great multitudes last Friday night to enjoy the wonderful Christmas parade and festivities in Clanton. Everyone seemed to acclaim this new venture in entertainment a success.

The Junior Chamber of Commerce who conceived the ideas and worked out the program in such fine detail are due much praise. The many merchants of Clanton who heartily did their part in supporting the program and making it possible, financially, did a wonderful job of cooperating with each other and the Jaycees. This is one program that was wholly conceived and executed in the true spirit of cooperation. We are proud of every person who had a part in the fine performance.

This was only the first phase of the scheduled Christmas program. There is more yet to come and we're sure it will be just as enjoyable. You, as a citizen of our county, should do your part by attending and supporting each event. Your presence means much to the folks who work so hard organizing such an affair for our enjoyment.

FIGHT TUBERCULOSIS

Every county in Alabama is always in a fight. Sometimes we fight for better roads. Other times we are fighting to improve our schools. Often we want better government on every level. We fight to improve our farming methods and to increase our industries so that more jobs will be made for more of our people.

But there is one fight that has been with us for almost 50 years. That is the fight to stamp out Tuberculosis.

When we read the health statistics and happen on information about friends and relatives who have fallen by the wayside because of one of the most ancient vicious of all the killers of men, women and children, we turn to each other and ask:

"What can I do?"

There is a way that all of us can have a part in the fight to end the scourge of Tuberculosis. Get in a lick of our own. Send your Christmas Seal contribution in to your Local T. B. Chairman, Mrs. Mabel Bean, today.

MUST WE HAVE FAKE TRAFFIC LAWS?

The curse of American highways today is the unenforced traffic law, the bogus speed limit. From coast to coast, motorists are confronted with traffic regulations so unrealistic that police don't even try to enforce them.

Writing in the December Reader's Digest, Don Wharton says, "Highway studies have proved again and again that unreasonable and unenforced regulations cause motorists to lose respect for all traffic laws."

In New York State, where highway laws haven't been overhauled since 1929, the speed limit is 50. It applies equally to four-lane divided highways and two-lane curving roads. Motorists therefore pay little attention to any speed signs. Checks taken last year at 41 sites showed that one four-lane highways 65 of 100 drivers exceeded the speed limit. However, tests indicate that motorists who usually exceed ridiculously low speed limits will obey those which they believe justifiable.

That the average American driver is more careful is attested by the declining traffic-death rate, despite the great number of falalities. The death rate might be lowered further by instituting reasonable and enforceable laws. In the state of Washington, where the speed limit was raised from 50 to 60 on 225 miles of primary highway, fatal accidents decreased 33 per cent. Other localities report similar declines in accident rates after raising speed limits to reasonable levels.

Certain other traffic-control regulations are equally unwarranted. Stop lights operating around the clock at sparsely traveled intersections cause rear-end collisions which might well be avoided by blinker lights.

"Highways belong to drivers and not to bureaucracies," Wharton points out. He urges that motorists protest, through newspapers and civic clubs, specific examples of unreasonabe laws.—The Reader's Digest.

The Civitan Creed

I Am Civitan: as old as life, as young as the rainbow, as endless as time.

My Hands do the work of the world. They uphold the temple of industry and make clean the market place.

My Ears hear the cry of children, the prayer of women for peace, the appeal of man for guidance, the call of the race for progress, and the song of the poet for unity.

My Eyes search for good men that I may with them be a Civitan and brother.

My Mouth utters the call to daily duty, and speaks the prayers of men in every tongue.

My Mind teaches me respect for the law, unqualified allegiance to our Government, and love and respect for the flag of our country.

My Heart beats for every friend; bleeds for every injury to humanity; and throbs with joy at every triumph of truth.

My Soul knows no fear but its own unworthiness.

My Hope is for a better world and a better city, through better men and Civitans.

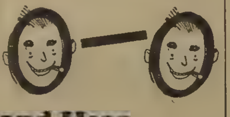
My Motto... Builders of Good Citizenship.

My Creed was proclaimed by the Man of Galilee when He declared, "Whatsoever ye would that men should do to you, do ye even so to them."

My Pledge: to practice this Golden Rule; to make it pay dividends, material and spiritual; to bridge with it the chasm between employer and employee; to build upon it a better and nobler citizenship.

The Clanton Civitan Club is on its way and with the help of the city leaders and other service clubs in the county it can do great service for this community. It is worthy of your support and will lend you support at any time it can be of service.

things we See



and Hear

By "TUCK"

Anything can be smoothed over with the sandpaper of time.

We heard of a spot called Coldernell, Alaska. We've never been there, but if they're any colder than we are the past few days, they deserve the right to the name.

Honest to goodness truth . . . Other day a guy came through and while we were at the filling station overheard his conversation . . .How far is it to Mobile from here?" he enquired. After the attendant told him he said, "My gosh! I was 45 miles closer than that when I was in Montgomery." Now, you might think this fella had lost his marbles, but all he had really lost was his way. (his sense of direction wasn't the keenest in the world.) We didn't have the heart to tell him for he might be in Novia Scotia by now.

We were certainly sorry to lose our neighbor, Mrs. Wallace Cox. She was a fine woman . . . we've got any number of neighbors who will back us on that. It's like Jeanne Amason said, " I can't understand why He has to take someone who hasn't done anything in her life except to devote it to her children . . . " We can't understand it either, Jeanne, guess we aren't supposed to.

We've never seen Christmas come up on us so rapidly. Why it seems like it's gonna go right past us before we really know what's going on . . . the height of something or other is them trying to sell us a "color" telephone when we were about three weeks late making this months installment on the plain-old, every-day black one that we call our own now. We'll admit it's beat up, but it shore is expensive (to us it's expensive, of course long distance rates are reasonable as all get out, no kiddin.')

Say, if you haven't been up to look over the city of Clanton's newly overhauled water plant facilities, do so at once. It's more like a park now than a water plant. You can also learn some interesting things about H20. (We learned that from Mrs. Marguerritte Perry, bless her.)

If you haven't heard "I'm Gettin' Nuttin' for Christmas" you've missed a treat. We saw the little fellow who recorded it sing it on TV the other night and he's cuter than Jimmy Boyd. (cuter'n William, too.)

Fellow at the drive-in got these directions the other night, "second from the left on the far end at the right." For all we know he's still looking. We don't know what for.

How do you like the Christmas lights this year? Well say so then, as somebody'll know you appreciate them. Any constructive criticism, we're sure, will be appreciated. (Little pat on the back wouldn't hurt either.)

Commercially speaking: the merchant's in this vicinity have the nicest bunch of gift material we've ever seen in these parts and we think you aughta shop around before you decide to traipse off some where else to do your Christmas buying. You'll be surprised at the variety, we're not saying they'll all be bargain, but after driving all the way to Timbucktoo for a bargain, what have you saved?

Your Christmas Seal Dollars Help In Fight Against Tuberculosis

It could be you . . .

For tuberculosis is contagious.

In 1954 there were 77 known cases of tuberculosis in Chilton county. In 1954 there were 12,290 known cases in Alabama.

There were probably just as many cases 10 years ago as there were in 1954 but the difference is that now the cases are known.

This was pointed out by Mrs. Mabel Bean, President of the Chilton County Tuberculosis Association, today as she urged citizens of this county to take part in this year's Christmas Seal Sale.

"It is a medical fact that, found in time, tuberculosis can be stopped. Allowed to go on until it develops physical symptoms it is often too late.

"The purchase and use of Christmas Seals during the years has increased the known cases of tuberculosis. When we find all the cases we will be moving toward complete eradication.

"Thousands of volunteers make the anti-tuberculosis program in Alabama an effective force in the battle to bring good health to all the people.

"Our lay volunteers are backed up by the dedical force of our state. It is a team job of laymen and scientists working together for a great common cause . . . good health for everyone.

"Your Christmas Seal purchases stay at home except for the small part that goes to keep our state and national program a functioning force to back up the work being done for research and organization.

"Welcome the Christmas Twins to your home. The lives they save may be your own."

Christmas Safety Campaign Stresses Safe, Sober Driving

CHICAGO—If you've had your hand on the bottle keep your foot off the throttle.

That warning was issued the nation's drivers today by the National Safety Council as it opened its annual Christmas safety campaign.

The campaign is aimed at reducing holiday accidents. Special emphasis will be on traffic accidents, which have taken an upward swing this year of about 6 per cent. A contributing factor to this increase is an even greater gain in motor vehicle travel.

Heavier travel and the festive spirit of the Christmas season always add to the normal winter hazards of bad weather, slippery roads and added hours of darkness, the Council said.

In warning against driving after drinking, the Council said that one-fourth of all fatal traffic accidents involve a drinking driver or pedestrian. The conviviality of the holidays probably increase this percentage.

In an effort to reduce yuletide accidents to a minimum, city and state officials, civic leaders, safety councils and 160 organiaztions are joining with the Council in enlisting the cooperation of every motorist and pedestran.

"If everyone would be his brother's keeper and assume personal responsibility for himself and others, whether walking or driving, many holiday traffic accidents could be prevented," Ned H. Dearborn, president of the Council, said.

Final Of Five Articles—

Farm Families And Social Security

By J. W. Overstreet, Jr.

This is the final in a series of five articles on social security for farm operators, answerng new questions which have just been settled. District Manager of the Birmingham social security office.

In my last article I described conditions under which family arrangement for the operation of a farm could be an actual partnership or joint venture, where husband and wife, or father and child, could each be considered self-employed farmers for social security purposes.

There are other family farm enterprises that are also agricultural self-employment. I shall describe two of them widely prevalent in farm areas throughout the country

From time immemorial, farm wives, and other members of farm households have engaged in farm enterprises on the side. "Egg money" is a term sometimes used to describe the income from such a business because raising chickens and selling eggs is often the source of this special income.

If a special activity like that is really part of the general farm enterprise, and feeding, housing and tending the chickens or other farm animals are merely part of the overall work of operating the farm, there's no separate business or enterprise. In such case, the member of the family who engages in such work is not self-employed but is merely helping out the actual farm operator.

On the other hand, if the farm wife, or other member of the farm family, conducts a separate business wholly on her own, pays the expensese involved and keeps all the income separate from that derived from the other farm operations, she is self-employed in her own right for social security purposes However, merely doing the chores, helping with the harvesting, etc., doesn't make the wife or other member of the family either the farmer's employee or a self-employed person.

By the same token, a farmer's son who engages in some special farm work on a farm otherwise managed and controlled by his parent, this work being his own individual enterprise, is a self-employed farmer. This does not mean that a son whose father gives him a calf or other livestock to tend and raise is necessarily engaged in a special farming entirprise. However, if the son undertakes a 4-H or FFA project entirely on his own, keeps separate records, pays the expenses and keeps the profits, he is a self-employed farmer. The fact that his father may give him all kinds of free advice would not change the situation so long as the son has the right to make his own decisions and act on them.

If the son has net earnings of $400 or more in a year from activity he runs, such earning will count toward his social security. Under the law, he must file an income tax return and pay the self-employment tax regardless of how young he is and even if his earnings are so low that he doesn't have to pay any income tax.

Some may ask what use social security is to a youngster. It has two early values. First, as soon as a young farmer has worked for two "crop years" under social security, he is insured, which means that in case of his untimely death, a modest lump-sum payment would be made toward burial expenses. More importantly, as soon as the young man has a family his wife and baby would have substantial insurance protection, which would pay monthly cash benefits to the young mother and child if the head of the family were to die.

READER APPRECIATES OUR COVERAGE OF COUNTY NEWS

Dear Mr. Tucker:

I am enclosing the following article (former Thorsby Pastor named for Governor's Unit) for your scrutiny. I don't know whether it has any news value or not but I thought that I would send it to you just in case you could use it.

I greatly appreciated the copies of the Chilton County News that you sent me. It enabled me to keep up with the events there, especially in Thorsby, where I was pastor. I visit Thorsby ever so often and they were surprised that I was so conversant with events there. The Chilton County News kept me informed.

Again thanks for your many kindnesses shown to me and my church while I was among you, and I appreciated so much the issues of your paper that you sent me after I left Thorsby.

Sincerely
—William R. Morgan.

Everyone of all ages should have a regular chest check-up. How long since you had your chest X-rayed?

Have you sent in your check for the Christmas Seals you got in the mail? That is the only money to finance the year-round fight against tuberculosis.

Diabetes No Longer Dreaded Killer

Montgomery, Ala.—"Diabetes, a chronic disease that once meant a virtual 'death' sentence, can now be controlled," Dr. D. G. Gill, Alabama's State Health Officer said today.

Diabetes is a glandular deficiency which renders the body unable to convert sugar into energy.

"The Alabamians who know they have this condition and are under a doctor's care can live relatively normal lives," Dr Gill pointed out. Some cases can be controlled by diet alone; exercise and insulin are used in the management of other cases.

"Unfortunately, many persons who have diabetes do not even know they are actually sick" Dr. Gill said. He explained that the signs or symptoms usually associated with diabetes are similar to the characteristics of temporary and relatively unimpportant disorders, Moreover, some victims may have no obvious symptoms.

Thirst, excessive urination and hunger are three signs seen in severe, untreated cases, Dr. Gill said. Other symptoms may be tiring easily, losing weight, itching and slow-healing infections.

"If you notice any of these symptoms, your family doctor can perform some tests and confirm or deny your suspicions," Dr. Gill said. "Don't wait and give diabetes—if that's what the signs mean—a chance to get a firm foothold, when it will be harder to control.

December Is The Best Time For Peach Bud Planting

Auburn, Ala.—Peach trees set in December seem to fare better than those planted at other times during the dormant season.

John Bagby of the API Extension Service made this statement in explaining advice to farmers to get their peach stock into the ground next month. Extension specialist in commercial horticulture, Bagby said early winter planting gives young trees a head start at making root growth and getting a firm footing in the soil. December planted trees are ready to make rapid growth when spring comes and are thus in better shape to withstand dry weather in late summer and early fall, he added.

According to the horticulturist, ground should be prepared for peach trees before they arrive from the nursery, so that they can be set as quickly as possible. He stressed that holes should be deep and large enough to hold the roots without bending them.

Bagby also advised that growers who plan to set new peach tree stock order the buds now while good quality plants of desirable varieties are still available. He said June buds are the best type of stock to use. Plants should be two to three feet tall and about one-half inch in diameter. Varieties that will do well in all parts of the state are Hiland, July Elberta, Southland and Loring. Cardinal, Dixired Dixigem, Triogem, and Elberta are varieties recommended espec for North Alabama, and Red Coronet, and Keystone can grown successfully in southern tions.

A Ten-Year Record of Industrial Development

From 1945 through 1954, 277 industries, each employing 10 or more persons, or having a capital investment of $50,000 or more each, have been established in territory served by Alabama Power Company. The invested capital in these plants amounts to $261,222,000 and their establishment resulted in the employment of 50,507 persons.

The greatest volume of industrial growth during any year of Alabama's history took place in 1955. In this year alone, 54 new plants or expansions have been announced for our service area. They represent expenditures of $356,000,000!

Others are expected to be established. Newly established and expanded plants are giving or will give employment to nearly 10,000 more persons

Some of the plants established in the service area of Alabama Power Company were branch plants of industries with main offices located elsewhere; some were expansions of existing industries; and others were newly formed with local capital. Among them were metals, paper, wood products, machinery, chemicals, textiles, apparel, shipbuilding, etc. Many of them are nationally known.

Why Did They Locate in Alabama?

The reasons why these plants located here perhaps are as diverse as the nature of the industries represented. Among important reasons have been

1. Accessibility to the ever-increasing important Southern markets
2. Good transportation facilities by rail, highway, water or air
3. The availability of the kind of employees needed
4. Abundant natural resources — raw materials from farms, forests and mines
5. Plenty of low cost power—Alabama Power Company has always been ready to supply power for the largest industrial requirements
6. A continuing favorable political climate

The South as a whole is now considered to be one of the nation's brighter economic frontiers. This has resulted in increasing interest in the resources of the South. Alabama has shared, and is sharing in this interest which, as in early years, we are trying to stimulate.

MR. MIMS WRITES ON:

"Back To The Old Land Mark"

We are told in God's word of apostate teachers in the last days that would turn the professing church away from the Lord.

Compromising with sin, running greeily after gain. Walking after their own lust, and their mouths speaking great swelling words, having men's persons in admiration because of advantage they have not the spirit to deny the power of God just having a form of godliness from such turn away.

Church this exhortation is given to you. Jude 3rd verse "Contend for the faith which was once delivered unto the saints." In fact this is the theme of the book of Jude. Study God's word for yourselves, know the truth, and the truth will make you free, know them that pastor your church.

The early church held the standard of the Lord Jesus Christ high. What about the standard of your Church? Has it been lowered that every thing regardless of how ungodly it is comes into your number and is placed on your church roster? Just remember that the true church of Christ is without spot or wringle. Qualifications of officers in the early church were held high, let us note 1 Tim. 3rd Chapter. "This is a true saying if a man desire the office of a bishop he desireth a good work. A bishop then must be blameless, the husband of one wife, vigilant, sober, of good behavior, given to hospitality, apt to teach, not to give wine. No sticker, not greedy of filthy lucre; not covetous; one that ruleth well his own house, having his children in subjection with all gravity. For if a man know not how to rule his own house how shall he take care of the house of God.

Not a novice, lest being lifted up with pride he fall into the condemnation of the devil. Moreover he must haul a good report of them which are without; lest he fall into reproach and the snare of the devil, likewise must the deacons be grave, not double-tongued, given to much wine. Not greedy of filthy lucre; holding the mystery of the faith in a pure conscience, and let these first be proved; then let them use the office if a deacon, being found blameless, even so much their wives be grave, not slanderous, sober, faithful in all things, let the deacons be husbands of one wife, ruling their children and their own house.

Churches know this one thing that apostasy from the faith incurs the judgment of God. After God delivered the Israelites from Egypt he destroyed them that believed not, fallen angles which rept not their first estates are chained in darkness awaiting judgment. Sodom and Gomorrha are set for an example of them that turn away from the faith. Let us return the old land mark, lay hold upon the faith delivered to saints in the beginning.

Rev. Morris Mims, Pastor Clanton First Assembly.

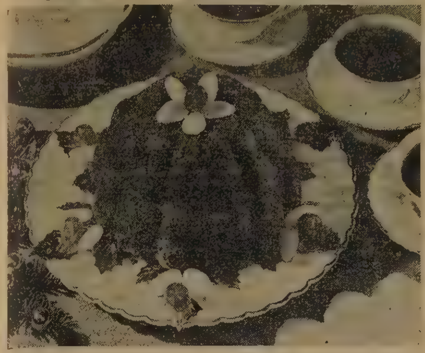
STIR UP . . . A PLUM PUDDING FOR LUCK



In the Church of England the prayer for the last Sunday before Advent began with the words "Stir up". And this many of the people took to be a reminder to start their plum pudding for Christmas. Since this traditional pudding is such an ideal gift as well as desert for holiday parties it may be well to note the date and make several puddings in plenty of time for the holidays. Be sure to let each member of the household take a turn at stirring the pudding — for good luck, they say.

PLUM PUDDING

- ¾ cup enriched flour
- 1 teaspoon salt
- ¼ teaspoon cinnamon
- ¼ teaspoon cloves
- ¼ teaspoon mace
- ¼ teaspoon ginger
- ¼ teaspoon nutmeg
- ¾ cup seedless raisins
- ¾ cup currants
- ¾ cup candied cherries
- ¾ cup finely chopped figs
- ½ cup finely chopped blanched almonds
- ½ cup seeded raisins
- ½ cup finely chopped dates
- ¼ cup chopped candied orange peel
- ¼ cup chopped candied citron
- ½ cup fine bread crumbs
- 1 cup hot milk
- ¼ cup sugar
- 4 eggs, beaten
- ½ cup beef suet, ground
- ¾ cup white wine

Mix and sift flour, salt and spices; stir in fruits and nuts. Combine crumbs and milk and let stand 10 minutes. Beat sugar and eggs and add alternately with suet to the crumb mixture. Stir in flour — fruit mixture. Add white wine and mix well. Turn the mixture into a generously buttered 2-quart mold; tie over the mold a damp and floured cheese cloth. Cover the mold tightly. Steam about 3½ hours in boiling water, adding more water as needed. Remove mold from water and cool. Store in a cool dark place about 2 weeks to 1 month to mellow. When ready to serve, steam about 45 minutes. Unmold the pudding; pour over 3 tablespoons brandy and set aflame.

Minutes of the last meeting were read and approved. We were glad to welcome Sharon Cromwell and Betty Jo Lockhart into our club.

A contest in making hot chocolate was discussed. Also the contest for making corn muffins was mentioned. She cautioned the members to use accurate measurements.

Helpful Hints For Housewives

An extra coat of wax will help protect furniture against the additional wear and tear it will receive during the holiday season.

If starch sticks to your iron, first cool the iron and then run it over a waxed paper; wipe clean with a soft cloth.

Gay candle holders can be made from bright red apples decorated with small pieces of evergreen.

A great deal of the last minute rushs in the kitchen on Christmas day can be avoided by preparing dishes ahead o ftime and storing in the freezer.

Nuts can be stored now for use during he spring and summer. But they must be kept cool and dry or they will become rancid.

Windows should be cracked slightly at the top and bottom during winter months to prevent condensation of moisture on the panes or "sweating."

Remember that you're likely to get burned if you grab a damp dish towel to pick up a hot cooking utensil. Heat will travel rapidly through the moisture.

Bits of dress material scraps can be used to make doll clothes for the favorite little girl on your Christmas list.

Farm machinery which is cleaned, serviced and repaired before storing will last longer and save farmers valuable time next spring.

APSC Enters Appeal To Protest Recent Telephone Rate Hike

C. C. (Jack) Owen, President of the Public Service Commission and Associate Commissioner Jimmy Hitchcock and Sibyl Pool, today jointly announced that they were perfecting an appeal to the Supreme Court of Alabama from the order of Judge Walter B. Jones which granted an increase in intrastate telephone rates in Alabama of over $5,000,000 annually. The Commission in their order dated 21 April 1954 had denied the application of the Telephone Company to impose this rate increase on its Alabama subscribers and the order of Judge Jones reversed the Commission and allowed the Telephone Company to put the increased rates into office

The Commission pointed out that the rates presently being charged by the Telephone Company under the supersedeas order of Judge Jones gives to he Telephone Company a rate of return substantially in excess of 7 per cent on its average net investment in Alabama. The Commission stated it felt that the rates permitted to be charged by the Telephone Company under the court order of Judge Jones were unreasonable, unjust and unfair.

The Commission also pointed out that the order of Judge Jones was contrary to his prior decision entered on 18 June 1849 in a prior case involving an earlier effort of thhe Telephone Company to obtain an increase in intrastate rates and that his decision was also contrary to that of the Supreme Court of Alabama rendered on 3 November 1949.

After the Commission denied the instant application o fthe Telephone Company on 21 April 1954 the Telephone Company appealed to the Circuit Court and Judge Walter B. Jones allowed the Company to impose the rates under a supersedeas order issuer by Judge Jones. The appeal was taken in April 1954 and Judge Jones has had the matter under submission for 19 months before issuing his decree of 16 November 1955 from which the Commission today took a nappeal.

The Commission stated that it proposed to request an early hearing of the matter by the Supreme Court.

Co-Ownership Provisions Of Series 'E', 'H' Bonds

The U. S. Savings Bonds Division today pointed out that many investors apparently are unaware of the co-ownership provisions of Series E and H United States Savings Bonds. In response to inquiries being directed to the Treasury Department, Curtis D. Adkins, State Sales Director, gave the following explanation of the provisions:

"Although individual purchases in any calendar year of Series E Bonds are limited to $20,000 (15,000 purchase price), and of Series H Bonds to $20,000 (purchased at par), additional holdings by individuals are allowed under ownership provisions.

"For example, take the case of a famly of four, none of whom are registered owners or -co-owners of Series E. Bonds purchased in this calendar year; the husband can purchase $20,000 (maturity value) in E bonds in his own name, and if he wishes ,he can also purchase an additional $60,000 (maturity value) in E Bonds registered as follows: $20,000 in his name with his wife as co-owner; $20,000 in his name with one child as co-wner, and $20,000 in his name with the other child as co-owner.

"In this example, the husband as the sole owner o f$20,000 and as a co-owner of $60,000 in E Bonds, can redeem all or part of the Bonds without obtaining the signature of any of the other co-owners. The same co-ownership provisions apply to Series H Bonds since purchase limits of E and H Bonds are applied separately. In the case of the H Bond, semi-annual interest checks on the full amount held individually and in co-ownership are mailed to the owner.

"Series E is an appreciation Savings Bond earning interest for as long as 10 years after original maturity of 9 years 8 months. The H Bond is a current income Savings Bond paying interest by check twice a year and maturing in 9 years and 8 months. It is issued and redeemable at face value."

Spring Drive For Matching Funds On At B-SC

Nine district superintendents of the Alabama Conference of the Methodist Church will lead the conference drive this Spring for $400,000 for Birmingham-Southern College.

Methodists of South Alabama and West Florida will be asked to contribute this as their share of $1,400,000 campaign in behalf of their church college.

These funds will be used to match a grant of $700,000 from the General Education Board of the Rockefeller Foundation. The Rockefeller grant is the largest, single donation in the 100-year history of Birmingham-Southern but must be matched by two dollars from local supporters for every dollar from the foundation.

At a recent meeting in Troy, Bishop Clare Purcell and his cabinet discussed the campaign with Dr. Guy E. Snavely, chancellor and president of Birmingham-Southern; Newman M. Yeilding, treasurer and Benjamin Englebert, administrative assistant.

Launching date of the drive was set as March 1, 1956. District superintendents who will be drive leaders, their districts and opening rally dates are:

Superstitions In Medicine Are Unjustified

Montgomery—Some superstitions about reatmen for certain diseases persists today despite the great strides which have been made toward better medical care.

Dr. D. G. Gilll, Alabama's State Health officer said today that some methods still in use for hypertension or high blood pressure are a good example. "Watermelon seed, garlic and the 'laying on of hands' have no therapeutic value for high blood pressure victims," he said. He explained that hey might appear to help in benign ,cases of individuals in their fifties or sixties, but they no not.

The person wth high blood pressure needs the help of a doctor in relieving his condition. "The doctor can conduct examinations at regular intervals as well as prescribe diets and drugs," Dr. Gill continued, "and the best hope for high blood- pressure control rests with these methods."

'56 Egg Price Forecast Is Set At "Fair"

Auburn, Ala.—Alabama poultrymen now enjoying higher egg prices than at this time a year ago, can expect a price drop during the first quarter of 1956.

This prediction was made by API Extension Poultryman Hoyt Warren after a study of price trends of the past several years. However the specialist warned that prices sometimes fail to follow the usual pattern. For example, last year during February and March — months when prices normally are lowest—eggs were selling for about seven cents a dozen more than in mid-October, the time when prices are usually higher.

Warren explained that prices next spring are expected to be somewhat lower than during the same season this year. However, he pointed out several factors that should help strengthen this weak market. He said sale of eggs for storage should increase the demand during this period of overproduction Still another booster for this lagging market will be a shorter egg supply due to the fact that many producers cut their flock size after low prices during 1954.

The poultryman ended his egg market forecast by saying that except for possible seasonal low prices egg production can look forward to reasonably good markets during the first half of 1956 as compared to the same period this year. But during the latter part of next year a price decline is foreseen. Warren explained that this drop is expected because indications are that farmers will brood more chicks for fall production than in 1955.

Power Company Asks Permission Of APSC To Build New Dams Along Coosa

Thomas W. Martin, Chairman of e Board of Alabama Power Com- any, announced that the Company led today its application for a rtificate of convenience and ne- ssity with Alabama Public Ser- ce Commission and its application r a license with Federal Power ommission, to build additional ms on the Coosa Rver in Alaba- a in accordance with an act of ongress approved June 28, 1954. hs Act of Congress received wide- read support in Alabama and djoining areas, and was passed most unanimously by both the enate and the House.

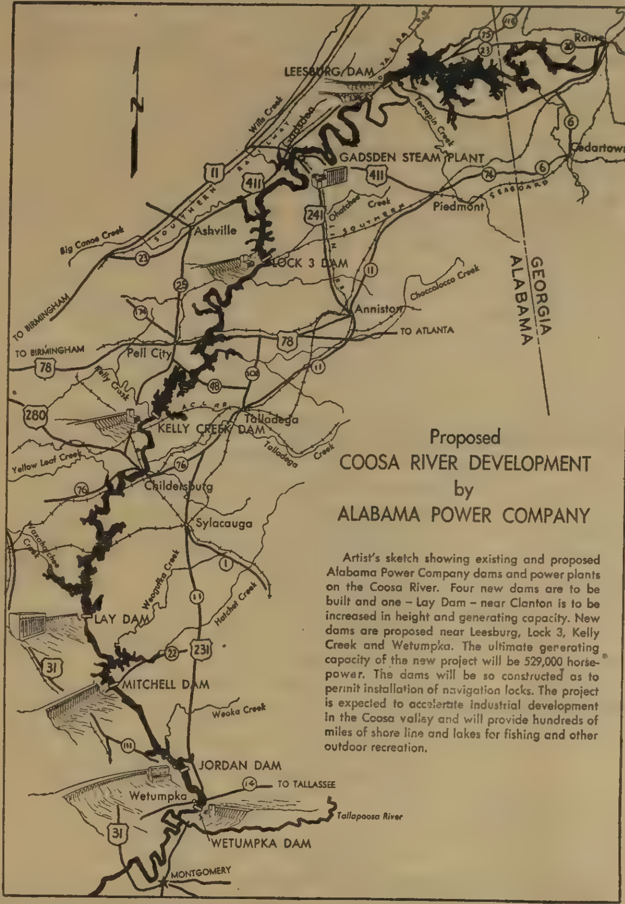
In presenting the matter to the blic Service Commission, Com- ny officials discussed the appli- tion at length with President C. (Jack) Owen, and Commissioners mmy Hitchcock and Sybil Poole.

The four new dams for which li- n e is sought are located at sites ferred to as Leesburg Dam, lo- ted in Cherokee County; Lock Dam in St Clair and Calhoun ounties; Kelly Creek Dam in St. air and Talladega Counties, and etumpka Dam in Elmore County. he plans of the Company also in- ude increasing the height of the isting Lay Dam.

Upon the granting of the license d obtaining the necessary approv- of Alabama Public Service Com- ssion, the Company will proceed promptly as possible with actual nstruction of the first dam.

The lakes to be created by the w dams on the Coosa will pro- de hundreds of miles of shore line d lakes for fishing and other out- or recreation, as well as home es for those who desire a lake nt. No less important will be the bilization of river levels for mu- cipalities along the river and by eating lakes with known water els the area will be more invit- g to industries needing substan- l supplies of water in their op- ations.

Alabama Power Company is un- rtaking the job of completing a ogram begun by it on the Coosa ver many years ago. These new cilities will represent an invest- ent of over one hundred million llars which will be provided by the mpany. The plans call for an ul- nate installation of 529,000 horse- wer, compared with installations the Company's existing hydro nts of 656,434 horsepower. The nstruction work will provide many w jobs, and in keeping with Com- ny policy, they will be filled by sidents of the area in so far as ssible. Materials will also be ob- ined in Alabama whenever avail- le.



Proposed
COOSA RIVER DEVELOPMENT
ALABAMA POWER COMPANY

Artist's sketch showing existing and proposed Alabama Power Company dams and power plants on the Coosa River. Four new dams are to be built and one – Lay Dam – near Clanton is to be increased in height and generating capacity. New dams are proposed near Leesburg, Lock 3, Kelly Creek and Wetumpka. The ultimate generating capacity of the new project will be 529,000 horsepower. The dams will be so constructed as to permit installation of navigation locks. The project is expected to accelerate industrial development in the Coosa valley and will provide hundreds of miles of shore line and lakes for fishing and other outdoor recreation.

Development of the Coosa River the Company began with the nstruction of Lay Dam under a ecial Act of Congress approved arch 4, 1907. Mitchell Dam went o service in 1923, and Jordan m, farther downstream, was completed in 1928, under licenses from Federal Power Commission.

In making this announcement, Mr. Martin pointed out that all of the requirements of the Act of Congress are met in the plan filed with the Federal Power Commission. The Company is filing its application for a license nearly seven months ahead of the time required by the Act. This was made possible by intensive surveying, planning, and engineering work, which involved the expenditure by the Company of approximately $1,500,000, in addition to initial land purchases of approximately $500,000.

The three existing dams of the Company, together with the new dams, will provide a waterway of approximately 255 river miles ot sufficient depth to permit navigation from Rome to the Wetumpka-Montgomery area when locks are provided by the government.

The Coosa-Alabama River Improvement Association presently has as its primary objective the installation of locks in the existing dams as well as the proposed dams of the Company.

Another of the Association's objectives is the development of the Alabama River so that navigation will be feasible from Rome, Ga, through Mobile, Ala., to the ports of the world. The completion of the development of the Coosa by the Alabama Power Company will be a major step toward the realization of this dream of almost a century.

The Coosa-Alabama River System is one of the great underdeveloped waterways in America. For over a century countless efforts have been made to develop the potentialities of the Coosa-Alabama, and the program of the Company will hasten the day when this will come about.

The lands flooded by dams of the Company will not be removed from the tax rolls, but to the contrary, will be taxable along with the dams and power plants to be built. The power produced will provide additional revenue for the state's educational trust fund and will result in additions to other tax sources of the state. Full federal taxes will be paid on the revenues derived from the sale of power from these plants as are paid on the Company's present revenues.

All power will continue to be sold at rates approved by Alabama Public Service Commission.

The Company's proposed development has received widespread and enthusiastic support. Many resolutions endorsing the projeet were adopted by organizations throughout the state, including municipal and county authorities, farm organizations, labor unions, boards of educaton, chambers of commerce, and veteran organizations. In addition, individuals from one end of the state to the other endorsed this program by letter or telegram.

The Company also is making excellent progress in its plans for hydroelectric developments on the Warrior River for which a preliminary permit was obtained on December 27, 1954. The preliminary work is nearing completion, and the Company plans to file, in the near future, an application with Alabama Public Service Commission for a certificate of convenience and necessity and with the Federal Power Commission for a license, to build a dam on the Sipsey Fork of the Warrior River and to install electric generating facilites at the existing dam of the United States Government at Lock 17 on the Warror River.

In proposing to construct additional hydro-electric plants on the Coosa and Warrior Rivers, the Company is backing its faith in the continued industrial and agricultural development of Alabama and in the over-all economy of the nation.

Crunchy Peanut Butter Popular With The Kids

Chunchy peanut butter has become very popular with many Alabama farm folks. Children, especially, like the crunchy kind because it doesn't stick to the roof of the mouth.

Miss Lavada Curtis, API Extension food preservation specialist, says crunchy peanut butter can be made by varying your usual peanut butter recipe a little. Just run some of the roasted nuts through the coarse plates of a food grinder and mix the piecec with the finely ground butter.

Lack Of Air In House Causes Chimney Draft

Auburn, Ala.—Used to be, a rush of air down the chimney was simply wind blowing through the passage way, but not any more. Today, most chimney downdrafts have their beginnings in the tightness of modern, insulated buildings.

According to API Extension Farm Buildings Specialist W. T Cox it's usually failure to give fire enough combustion air that causes a rush of air to come down the chimney bringing with it smoke and soot. Without air vents to the outside, fires burning in tightly built houses don't get enough air from outdoors to burn the fuel. So they use the air inside, creating low pressure areas there. When this happens, the higher-pressure air outside takes the nearest path, often the chimney, to the inside in an effort to equalize the pressures.

After explaining the cause of downdrafts, Cox said remedy is simple. Home owners can make an aid duct from outside the house to the fireplace or furnace to provide adequate combustion air.

Cottonseed Supply Is Excellent

Cottonseed supplies for next year are about all farmers could ask—both in quanity and quality.

Reporting on the outlook for the 1956 planting season, API Extension Seed Specialist Ralph Jones said this week the big cotton yields made by most farmers this fall plus dry weather during the harvesting season added up to an abundance of high-quality seed.

Jones put the Alabama crop of certified cottonseed at roughly 700,000 bushels. He said that's about as much as farmers will need for the state's 1,025,000-acre allotment.

As he explained, many growers will plant seed they have saved from previous crops. And concerning this point, the specialist warned that use of seed more than two years away from certified seed is likely to result in yield losses.

Alabama had more cases of tuberculosis last year than the year before—but nearly 100 fewer deaths A better job of case-finding.

Warns: "Guard Against Infidelity In Marriage"

"Infidelity in marriage is more common than most people wish to believe," said Dr. Abraham Stone, director of the Marriage Consultation Center of the Community Church of New York. A recent survey showed that "among 10,000 persons interviewed, one out of every two married men and one out of every four married women up to the age of 40 admitted extramarital relations."

Plural marriages may be legally practiced in many lands and there are societies that grant men to have common-law wives. But these customs are not Christian. They are not the standard that God established in Eden. He gave man only one wife. "And Jehorav God proceeded to build the rib that he had taken from the man into a woman and to bring her to the man. Then the man said: 'This is at last bone of my bones and flesh of my flesh This one will be called Woman, because from man this one was taken.' That is why a man will leave his father and his mother and he must stick to his wife and they must become one flesh." His unalterable law provides for only two to become "one flesh," not three or four or more. Genesis 2:22-24.

Jesus upheld this God-given principle in his reply to the Pharisees who questioned him about divorce. Jesus said: "Did you not read that he who created them at the beginning made them male and female and said: 'For this reason a man will leave his father and his mother and will stick to his wife, and the two will be one flesh'? So that they are no longer two, but one flesh. Therefore, what God has yoked together let no man put apart." The laws of most democratic lands also recognize that a man have only one wife, and by social and religious custom he is expected to remain faithful to her in the marriage bond God's la wto Christians plainly states that a man practicing polygamy lives in adultery, and that any one living in common-law marriage is practicing fornication. Both are violators of Jehovah's moral code and will suffer adversely for it. Matthew 19:4-6 NW.

Infidelity, or more specifically adultery, remains the one offense that is legal ground for divorce throughout the United States. Scripturally, it is one offense that allows for divorce and severance of the marriage tie, freeing one to remarry. "I say to you that whoever divorces his wife except on the grounds of fornication and marries another commits adultery," declared Jesus. In a study of 158 different societies, Dr. George P. Murdock has found that in only five are adulterous relationships condoned. "Marital fidelity," said Dr. Murdock, "is one of the main buttresses of any social structure." Matthew 19:9, N W.

Christians are warned against promiscuity and infidelity. Paul warns against such sins, "for God will judge fornicators and adulterers." Jehovah says: "I will be a swift witness against the sorcerers, and against the adulterers." So it is disasterously dangerous to expose oneself to advice of "marriage counselors" who wink at infidelity or try to justify extramarital affairs as a safety valve, or who regard it as an emotional disturbance or a neurotic tendency. Such men have no regard for God's law. To listen to the mis to jeopardize one's life. Hebrews 13:4, NW; Malachi 3:5, AS.

Dr. Kinsey states that man's promiscuity is natural, that it "is undoubtedly a product of his interest in a variety of experience." But does a base desire for extramarital affairs justify breaking God's law? No; no more so than a desire to murder, defraud, lie and steal is justifiable for the same reason.

A husband's extramarital sexual relations cause involvement of others, his wife, his children, the other party, and it may involve still others. In case of a dedicated servant of Jehovah, infidelity affects his relationship with God and with his congregation. In fact, his unfaithful conduct directly or indirectly stigmatizes his entire field of associaton. It brings others into question and disrepute. In this connection Paul says; "Flee from fornication. Every other sin which a man may commit is outside his body, but he that practices fornication is sinning against his own body. What! Do you know that the body of you people is the temple of the holy spirit within you which you have from God? Also, you do not belong to yourselves, for you were bought with a price. By all means, glorify God in the body of you people." So the enormity of the crime of infidelity cannot be lightly brushed aside as of little or no consequence. It is an infraction of God's law and if pursued it will prevent one from inheriting the Kngdom. 1 Cor. 6:9, 10, 18-20 NW.

Facts show that not all who stray from the martal bed are neurotic, immature, emotional casulties, as some psychiatrists claim. These may be exceptions, not the rule. As far as a casual extramarital affair's preserving a shaky marriage, Dr. Stone completely shatters that absurdity. He says that, in a quarter century of counseling on marital problems. "I cannot recall a single case where infidelity has strengthened the marital bond...In fact, it usually leads to deep personal conflicts and family disruption." Emotional injuries, deep resentment, bewilderment, insecurity, shame and grief are usually the result.

Follow the Scriptural advice and you will be happier for it: "Let marriage be honorable among all, and the marriage bed be without defilement, for God will judge fornicators and adulterers." Hebrews 13:4, NW.

Those who failed to attend the services held this week-end at Christ's Sanctified Holy Church missed a wonderful blessing. Saturday night the message was delivered by Brother Shiner of Montgomery. We are thankful for all the people who come out to this church. We were glad to have Miss Ruth Davis of Montgomery with us last Sunday night. Other visitors were Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Slappy, Brother Ray Slappy and wife and four boys.

We invite every one to come on out to this church and hear the word of God. There are many false prophets and deceivers going among the people today seeking to lead the people astray. If people do not pray without ceasing they may be influenced by evil doers. It you are interested in your soul and really want to live in Heaven when life here is over we urge you to come out and seek the Lord while he may be found. The sooner you get the Spirit of God on the inside, the sooner you begin to live.

There was a very large number out at Mineral Springs Baptist Church Sunday. The attendance numbered over a hundred for Sunday School. Sunday was also preaching day. The pastor, Rev. J. W. Jones, brought the message. Rev. Jones was Sunday dinner guest of Mr. and Mrs. George Gilmore and family. If you live in the vicinity of this community and do not attend church regularly somewhere the people of this church invite you to come and attend worship service with them. Sunday School is held every Sunday morning at 10:00 o'clock and preaching days are every 1st and second Sundays in each month.

Sunday guests of Mr. and Mrs. Lubis Martin and Mrs. Callie Martin were: Mr. and Mrs. Dewey Yeargan and Dale, Mr. and Mrs. Lonnie Martin of Birmingham.

Mrs. Shirley Ellison was Sunday dinner guest of her mother, Mrs. Elizabeth Barnett.

Visitors of Mr. and Mrs. Connie Smith and Ruby were, Mrs. Jeraldean Sims, Mr. and Mrs. Sterling Varden, Mrs. Frances Ellison, Charlotte and Barrie.

Visitors to New Hope Baptist Church Sunday were, Rev. Jadie Ellison, wife and children, Mr. and Mrs. Allen Fletcher, Mr. and Mrs Frank Paschal.

Rev. and Mrs. Jadie Ellison and children were Sunday dinner guests of his sister, Mrs. Ambrose Bolton

Mr. and Mrs. George Brand and baby were Sunday night guests of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Ellison.

Dinner guests to the Mess Hall Sunday were, Mr. and Mrs. B. J Martin, Mr. and Mrs. W. O. Cox, Betty and Mary, Mr. Hubert Bocks, Charles Patterson, Billy Cox, Martha Ann Cox, Geraldine Ellison, Lorene Cost.

Thought—

When our close friends pass away we always wonder just why it had to be them and not some one else. Regardless of how long they have been dead we, as human beings, have the gift of keeping them alive through memory. There is a saying so true. 'Memory is a gift God that death cannot destroy."

Farewell, Farewell—

Oh, the blessed thought that memory
Leaves when forgotten tears are shed.
Ah! to know it keeps alive our friends
Whose souls have fled.
Into a paradise of rest where peaceful death comes nearer,
But life becomes one long sweet song amid that vast forever,
Aye! the chill when they go without a timely planned farewell
We are weak enough to wonder why, but who can tell;
I may be next to lay side the things which I hold fast,
And in so giving up my future I fade into the past.

CHEVROLET SCORES WITH NEW NINE-SEATER

It takes nine for a baseball team and that's the number of passengers who can be accommodated in two new Chevrolet station wagons for 1956. Just to illustrate the point, the Queens, a girls' baseball team from Flint, Mich., climbed into the new car and found plenty of room left behind the third seat for equipment. This is one of six Chevrolet station wagons.

It has new chrome—including both windshield and back window reveals—and its own distinctive two-toning. It stretches long and clean from grille to taillights (the left one hides the gas cap). It offers new power, V8 or 6, steering and handling ease few cars can match, plus all of Chevrolet's great performance and safety features. Directional signals and safety door locks are standard equipment. Seat belts, with or without shoulder harnesses, and instrument panel padding are available at extra cost. Gill Names Vitamins Most Needed For Good Health

About 15 different minerals perform necessary functions in the human body, but a few of them are more important than the rest to keep a person in good physical condition.

Dr. D. G. Gill, Alabama's State Health officer said today that iron calcium, phosphorus and iodine rank as the essential minerals. "An effort should be made to eat food containing these minerals daily," he said.

Iron is needed by the red cells of the blood to carry oxygen to all parts of the body. Some of it is needed daily because the body does not store excess iron. Some foods which contain a rich supply of this mineral are liver, molasses, oysters, oatmeal, lean beef, apricots, eggs raisins (with seeds), potatoes, spinach, cabbage and whole-grain cereals.

Calcium is needed primarily for strong and rigid bones and hard and durable teeth, but it has other uses as well, Dr. Gill said. Phosphorus enters into the formation of many body fluids and needs to be present for many vital processes to take place.

A diet which furnishes enough calcium generally speaking will also be adequate in phosphorus. "Milk is one if not the best source of calcium." Dr. Gill said. Other foods which supply these minerals are cabbage, collards, lettuce, turnip tops, eggs, potatoes, beans and fish.

"The body needs an unbelievably small amount of iodine, and it can be obtained simply—by regular use of iodized table salt," Dr. Gill said. He explained that iodine is used by the thyroid gland to produce a harmone, which is necessary for the body's vital processes.

Morris Mims Writes ---

You Must Be Born Again

Recently I was in a business office and there was a fine young man that was a secretary. I felt deeply impressed to speak to this young man about his soul. I asked him if he was a church goer, and he said yes; I said to him, do you have a borned again experience, he looked at me for a moment and and said, I don't know what you are talking about. I was not surprised. Jesus was not surprised at Nicodemus not understanding the new birth. Jesus said to him, Marvel not that I said unto thee, ye must be borned again." John 3:7. Nicodemus was a religious leader, but he was ignorant to the new birth.

Why don't more people know about the new birth, the birth of the spirit? Simply because their leaders have not had a borned again expereince, and they don't emphasize the new birth. They overlook salvation for a large membership, how can leaders preach and teach the word of God without a definite experience of salvation? They do it on the letter or book learning, and not because of the wisdom of God But God's word said the letter rilleth but the spirit maketh alive This is the reason many of you don't know about a borned again experience.

They must be born again? We were shapen in iniquity. Psalm 5 We were born into this world in sin therefore we must have a transformation by the spirit of God to fit us for the kingdom of God. We are transplanted into the kingdom of God by the spirit, and not by just joining. Nicodemus no doubt had in mind joining the Kingdom of God, but Jesus told him of the way through the spirit.

How can I know I am born again? This question no one will have to answer. Such miracles as this could possibly take place in a life without it being known. It is just as much a reality as being born the first time. You certainly know if you have the spirit of God.

People don't be deceived by good works, as good as they are they will never save you. Good works alone isn't sufficient. You must be born again of the spirt and be baptized in water making an open confession to the world that you have died with Christ and risen again to walk in the newness of life. Don't let your life pass away from this world without this glorious experience, if you miss the new birth, you have missed eternal life. You have missed the plan of our Lord and Savior Jesus Christ. I would ask you this question, Do you have a borned again experience.

Rev. Morris Mims, Pastor Clanton First Assembly.

Pauline Jackson Appointed To Southern Rhodesia

Miss Pauline Jackson, acting director of nurses at Chilton County Hospital, Clanton ,was appointed a missionary to Southern Rhodesia last week by the Southern Baptist Foreign Mission Board at its regular monthly meeting in Richmond, Va.

Miss Jackson became a member of the Chil. Co. Hospital staff in August of this year. Prior to this she was a nurse at East-End Memorial Hospital and Jefferson-Hillman Hospital, both in Birmingham, Ala.

Born near Wadsworth, Ala., Miss Jackson took her nurse's training at St. Margaret's Hospital School of Nursing, Montgomery, Ala., and received the bachelor of arts degree from Howard College, Birmingham, with a major in psychology and the master of religious education degree from New Orleans (La.) Baptist Theological Seminary.

She told the Board that she dedicated her life to full-time Christian service while in nurse's training.

She said she committed her life to foreign mission service during college days when she heard two returned missionaries speak. "They presented the needs of the people on their field," she said. "I felt that God would have me help fill those needs. That night I answered God's call to me for missions and found peace in my heart . . .

"In the spring of 1952 I was chosen by the Alabama Baptist Student Union to be their summer missionary to Nigeria. This was a very meaningful experience. . . and allowed me to see firsthand those needs that I had heard about."

Miss Jackson was among 10 young people appointed to overseas mission service by the Board at its December meeting, bringing the total number of active Southern Baptist missionaries to 1,025.

Entered in the Post Office at Clanton, Alabama, as second-class matter under the Act of Congress of March, 1897.

Go to church Christmas Sunday. We guarantee it will take on a new meaning for you.

* * * *

What is it about a holiday season that makes dad act like a kid again?

YOUTH OF OUR CITY

The young people of Clanton have never had facilities to lease the immense amount of energy which you and I know they possess.

As fast as Clanton has grown in the past ten years it seems evident that some sort of arrangements should have been made before now to give the youngsters something wholesome and at the same time enjoyable, to do.

We are not of the opinion that an idle teenager will not get into trouble because with a mind and body as energetic as theirs, they have to be constantly doing something. If it isn't something worthwhile, then it will very probably be something they'll be ashamed of and something that we should be ashamed of also.

We have recently heard of a "Teen Club" being organized in Clanton. A very good idea we think, and one that was sorely needed in our community. Let us impress however, the importance of mature guidance from capable adults in such undertakings. If they are not properly sponsored there is always that eement of delinquency that will undermine the entire original purpose of the club.

We're proud the teen-agers have found some sort of recreation for these winter months; we're only sorry that they had to find it themselves. There are enough civic and service organizations in Clanton that they can help the youngsters out in these matters, which are all important to the boys and girls. They don't seem important to us, as adults, but think back to when you were a kid and you'll get some kind of idea what they are up against.

BE A SEAL VOLUNTEER

One Hundred Twenty-One million Christmas Seals were mailed to homes in Alabama on November 16th. Of this number, officials of the Tuberculosis Association estimate that some 6,750,000 have been accepted and paid for, as of December 1.

But the funds needed for the fight against tuberculosis during the coming year amount to $308,040—this includes the work of the state association and the local associations in all 67 counties of the state. So the total contributions up to December 1 are only 22 per cent of the amount needed.

The Christmas Seal campaign is the only one which is entirely voluntary—no pressure will be brought to bear on those who received the Seals to make any remittance at all—but past experience has shown that many times the number who have already contributed may be expected to do so, although some of them will keep putting it off until the tuberculosis workers become discouraged and fear that their work will be handicapped during the next year by a lack of funds.

But the people of Alabama have always come through. Their dollars finally come in—and there is every reason to hope that this will be the case in this good year of 1955. Our people realize the necessity for continued case-finding and treatment, for more and more research to discover the better ways to treat those afflicted and to avoid the danger of them giving the disease to others of their family and friends.

Christmas Seals will be used by the millions between now and Christmas Day. Letters, greeting cards and packages will carry these little messengers of good-will and hope, definitely a part of our American Christmas scene. The work and help to the afflicted will go on—but the money must come from the pockets of the people of Alabama, through their purchase of the Seals.

Put Christmas Seals on your Christmas list—send in your money for them, and for as many more as you can use.

DRIVERS AND SCHOOL BUSES

The ignorance of John Q Public regarding where, when, and how to stop for school buses is indeed noticeable when you see the varied amount of mixed up driving when a bus stops.

We think that a great percentage of this ignorance of the law could be leviated by putting on a campaign of the sort that will enlighten the motorist on the do's and don'ts of driving and not driving while a school bus loads and unloads.

It could be done throught the radio medium or through newspaper and television campaigns, but at any rate, it needs stressing.

A child's life and a man's conscious might be saved.

To the News:

We will soon ackknowledge the celebration of our Saviour, Jesus Christ's birthday and Christ, representing our Heavenly Father, has told us if we ask of Him with faith He will give the thing we need,

I want to ask every Christian to get down on their knees and thank God for the many blessings bestowed upon America and our families. I am getting very much disturbed over the crimes being committed by nate the Gospel of John to be dedate the Gospel of John to be delivered to children and to people in the jails, and anyone who will be kind enough to do this write me the number they need and I will be glad to send them without obligation.

Now I want to call your attention also to a marvelous work being done here by a little woman who was the wife of Jimmie Hale, who started a mission and after he passed away she has kept it going. So we rented a large building of 18 rooms and through the Christian people they have been supplied with the necessary furniture to operate on this is the Down Town Mission 2405 3rd Ave. No., Birmingham, Ala., and they have services there every night ;many poor people are provided with bed and food and souls are being saved. People are regenerated there from their evil ways of life and accept Christ as their Saviour.

We held 38 services there last month, served 1532 meals, furnished 685 people beds, and 30 people were converted under the preaching service there. We want to ask everyone who is interested in helping the poor and unfortunate who drift into our city without money and without a place to lay their head to contribute something toward the upkeep of this wonderful mission. Naturally, you have to pay income taxes to the government and any amount contributed to the Jimmie Hale Mission is deductible from your income and remember, Christ sent word to John that the Gospel be preached by him to the poor. What we contribute to the Lord for His cause we get a blessing from Him more than we give, and I hope that each reader will be interested in making some contribution. Make it payable to Jimmie Hale Mission and mail either to me or to the mission direct. I feel sure the Lord will bless you for it, and nobody draws anything out of it except the good little woman who runs it. So you see, it is purely a mission on faith.

I hope you will pray for the success of this Mission.

—E .E. Forbes Sr., Chairman of the Board Jimmie Hale Mission.

By "TUCK"

It wouldn't be Christmas without a tree,
Or kids a sittin' on Santa's knee,
Or mistletoe hanging over the door,
Or bills left over from the month before.

The Civitan Club of Clanton Chartered last Friday night with 36 members. If any of you happened to be looking at Channel 12. Montgomery Monday night you got an idea of just what it was like and viewed a successful send-off of the Civitan Club of Clanton.

Some mighty, mighty pretty windows in town this year. So purty in fact, we can't vote on the prettiest In other words. Ollie Fiquette without being sure, we voted wrong. Reedie Taylor, Callen Alred, etc., etc., all have mighty purty windows this Christmas, mighty purty. If you who live out in the communities surrounding Clanton haven't had the chance to see these windows you should at the first opportunity. They're all full or originality and beauty.

While we're on the subject, let us not forget the window at the Theatre Cafe. It's in very good taste, we think and one of the prettiest that they've ever had.

See where a big city was asking it's schools to boycott any goods made in Mississippi because of the Till case. We think that's pretty narrow-minded; to make everyone suffer for something that you think a few did wrong. Where's the old Christmas spirit anyway. You know, it wouldn't hurt to carry this Christmas spirit over into the entire year; in fact, it might do a lot of good.

Mr. W. G. Robinson of Maplesville is going all out selling Christmas trees this year. He is "pushing" them to the utmost and is doing a fine job of raising himself some Christmas funds. He says they're going like hotcakes, so if you want one you'd better get on your sleigh and beat it down there.

Seeing a lot of old familiar faces around town, which would indicate we presume, that the holiday season is near at hand and will be here and gone before we know it. We're glad to see all the old faces, but we still haven't been shopping yet. (They won't sell us anything on credit.)

John Ed Bates, who is a father-to-be and his wife have a difference of opinion about who is going to tend to junior most of the time. John Ed contends that when he comes home from a hard day at the office it's his turn to sit down and relax and, now this is in his own words, "leave it up to her." Boy, I won't say you've got a lot to learn, because you'd probably resent it but about a year from now I can say I told you so and you won't resent it then. Nosiree.

And ole Bill Hayes (of WKLF fame) contends that he has to go home early from every meeting or game (that's ball game) that he attends, so he can wash the dishes That's what we like in a man, the ability to tell the solemn truth about a thing and still be henpecked at the same time. Ole Honest Bill they call him.

Parathion, although a very effective pesticide, is highly toxic to man and should be handled with greatest caution.

Place ewes near lambing away from the rest of the flock and check them frequently.

IT'S MY OPINION

Some Of Us Are Too Skeptical—

We've been concerned lately, over the widespread feeling of skepticism prevailing everywhere in every conversation and undertaking.

It seems, no matter how good a job a fella did or what extent someone went to, to get the job done, there's always that one or two standing around to knock the person or persons or the thing they have done. The trouble is, they don't confine their undermining to any certain subject; it can be on a church project, a social undertaking or on the job. It is a situation which can become dangerous if it is practiced to such a degree as we've been seeing.

Always doubting the other fella's word or deeds. For instance, "he didn't give that away without getting something out of it." This kind of talk is unfair and uncalled for because there is no way on earth for the party that has said this to know every detail of the situation.

"That guy foreclosed on this fella right after something had happened to him." You don't know that there weren't other things involved so you can't speak the above statement wihtout committing a wrongdoing to your fellow m n. The man may have deserved the foreclosure or the landlord may not have even done exactly what you "heard someone else say." Gossip has a way of changing from mouth to mouth. If you've ever played the game that is based on that particular subject you have a first hand account of just what harm an ill-spoken word of your neighbor can mean.

If you can't see any good a'tall in the person or what he's done, you can at least say "he did the best he could, we suppose." That way nobody gets hurt, and chances are good that you might make a friend.

Tax Guides Give Help Farmers Need Now

Auburn, Ala.—Help in figuring out their 1955 federal taxes is on the way to Alabama farmers.

Word that Internal Revenue Service farmer income tax guides for 1955 are to be mailed out to growers this week comes from Economist Foy Helms of the API Extension Service. He said the booklets, which will be distributed by county agents, also include sections of old age and survivors insurance.

Helms explained that these guides can be of great service to farmers in showing them how to fill out this year's tax returns. Estimated tax declarations and payments can be made by Jan. 15, with final returns filed by April 15. If the January payment is not made, returns and payments are due Feb. 15.

Seal Chairman Speaks Out For Christmas Seals

(Editors note: The following was written by Chilton County Christmas Seal Chairman, Mrs. Mabel Bean in the public interest.)

Each Christmas time we are offered the opportunity to buy and use Christmas Seals. These little devices let us put our dollars into the fight. And best of all. . . it lets our money stay right in our own county.

Of course some of the money has to go to help the big state program and the fine national program that supports our own effort on the county level. But most of the money we give when we buy Christmas Seals stays to work at home.

Our county tuberculosis association is a home-town organization of volunteers. They give their services .We give our money.

This year, more than any other year, our dollars are needed. More beds will be available because of legislative awareness of our state wide tuberculosis problem.

Our dollars will tell the people how to be on the alert for tuberculosis in their own homes. How to recognize it. What to do about it. Our dollarswill help in the case-finding program. For, found in time tuberculosis can be stopped.

Remember the life you save thru your purchase of Christmas Seals may be your very own.

Feed cows after milking them to avoid silage flavor in the milk.

Farm Bureau Praises Ala. Cattle Beef Council

Montgomery—The Alabama Cattlemen's Association has been commended by the Alabama Farm Bureau Federation for the formation of a Beef Council with the purpose of co-ordinating and promoting the sale and consumption of beef.

The commendation resolution was adopted at the 1955 annual convention, when the Farm Bureau members, through their voting delegates again voiced opposition to direct government price controls on cattle, in these words:

"We oppose all forms of government regulation that hinder the production of cattle, and especially direct price supports for beef cattle—because 'direct price supports are not practical nor workable without controls on production."

The convention, however, endorsed the government's beef purchase program for worthwhile purposes such as school lunches, Farm Bureau President Walter L. Randolph said.

In general, the state Farm Bureau resolutions, recommended by the special group conference on this subject, followed closely those previously adopted by the Cattlemens Association. The delegates also urged that "the legislature protect the integrity of cattle mortgages by legalizing mortgages on 'after acquired' cattle."

Such legislation to accomplish this has been introduced unsuccessfully in the last several session.

Lee Popwell Writes On Meaning Of Scriptures

Yes, man was created to be God: Psalms 82:6, John 10:34-35.

Man was created only two steps beneath his Creator:

First the spirit of God: Second, Eternal life:

The Eternal stepped down the first step. Jno 1:1, etc.

The Eternal gained back that step on intering the womb of the virgin, Luke 1. The Father there gave him the anointing of the Holy Spirit which made him the only begotten son of God. Jno. 3:16.

The Eternal was made back the very God by the resurrection from the dead: Rom. 1:4. (This also made him the first born son). Man never received that while conceived in the womb.

To receive that gift, man must confess his sins, believe and obey, then receive that gift, that makes him a begotten son of God I Jno. 5:18 last part.

Man now keeps himself, walks in the precepts, statutes, judgements and keeps the commandments. Does all the things that are pleasing in the sight, of the Eternal. Then ask, and you shall receive: Jno. 3:22, Heb. 4:14-16.

Jesus Christ was priest of the most high God. Now He is priest of earth and Heaven.

Man never had or ever shall reach the throne of grace by transgression. Fear the transgression of God's law is sin. I Jno. 3:4.

And we are the witnesses of these things; so is also the Holy Ghost, whom God hath given to them that obey him. Acts 5:32.

Friends since you have learned that the Jesus Christ God, is the only God, that ever has, or ever shall exist; will you repent, and accept life, that both thou, and thy seed may live.

Read II Chron. 7-14 and remember: You do not have to make the second step. Christ made it for you and He will take over at death, seal you with His spirit. (Eph. 4:30) and carry you through (Rom. 1:4). After which (Luke 14:14) He gives you your reward, which is Eternal Life, makes you Eternal, like He is Eternal.

Your unworthy friend,
LEE A. POPWELL

Medium Eggs Are Best Buy At Many Markets

Auburn, Ala.—With egg prices at the seasonal high nowadays, food-shoppers will welcome a suggestion as to how they can get more for their egg money. Well, one way to do that is to buy medium eggs when per-ounce prices for that size are lower than for large eggs of the same grade.

That's the advice of Miss Dorothy Overbey, API Extension consumer education specialist, Giving an example of how medium size eggs (21 ounces per dozen) can be a better bargain than large (24 ounces per dozen) ones. Miss Overby said when large, Grade AA eggs are selling for 75 cents a dozen, the per ounce cost is 3.12 cents. Medium eggs of the same grade are only three cents per ounce when they sell for 63 cents a dozen, she explained. Actually, the saving made by buying the smaller size is greater than the per ounce price difference indicates. Recipes are based on medium size eggs and most homemakers would use no more of that size than of the large ones.

Cattle lice can be controlled with one treatment if a thorough spraying with DDT is used. Make the spray by adding two pounds of 50 per cent wettable DDT to five gallons of water.

Chrysler Corporation Assists Driver Training Programs

Detroit —Chrysler Corporation will give assistance to its dealers who provide automobiles for high school and college driver training classes, L. L. Colbert, president of the company, announced today.

"Driver training in the public and parochial schools is one of the principal parts of the nation's over all highway safety programs," Colbert declared, "and Chrysler Corporation wants to further such training through its dealers to the fullest extent possible."

Under the new program, he explained, dealers will receive a special payment of $125 from Chrysler Corporation for every new car loaned by them to schools for driver classes. The plan goes into effect immediately.

"Many of our dealers are already assisting driver training programs in their communities' schools by lending cars," Colbert said. "We believe that this valuable contribution by our dealers to highway safety can be extended considerably under this new assistance program."

The $125 special payment will be given to any Chrysler Corporation dealers soon as he reports the loan now is he ime for ll good men of a new car to a high school board of education in his community for student training through the school year. This payment will help the dealer defray the costs he encounters in providing such a car—installing special equipment, reconditioning the cars when they are returned to him and absorbing depreciation.

Each division if Chrysler Corporation—Plymouth, Dodge, DeSoto and Chrysler— will administer the program with its dealers, depending upon the make of car provided to the school.

Marine Recruiter Enlisting "Central Alabama Squad"

Montgomery, Ala.—Master Sergeant John T. Collier NCC in charge of the Marine Corps Recruiting Station here announced plans today for enlisting a squad of Marines from the Montgomery area, to be known as the "Central Alabama Squad."

Young men for the "Central Alabama Squad" will be accepted from now until 25 January. This plan will allow young men to join the Marines with their friends and remain together throughout basic training, Sergeant Collier said.

The Marine Corps offers many opportunities to those who meet the enlistment qualifications according to Sergeant Collier.

Benefits such as extensive travel to broaden a young man's knowledge and understanding of the world and its peoples; a satisfying career of service with an opportunity to attend one of more than 100 specialty schools and learn a trade that will be useful later in civilian life; an opportunity to continue formal education through the Marine Corps Institute; and an opportunity to be a member of the proudest military organization in the world; are some of the rewards for service as a Marine.

Sergeant Collier stated that young men interested in becoming members of the "Central Alabama Squad" should contact him at the Post Office Building in Clanton every Thursday from 9:30 until 4:30 p.m.

Mt. Pleasant News

Irene Riggins

As the Christmas season is here it reminds us of a poem, written by my dear friend, Mrs. Clara B. Waldion;

"On Christmas Eve:
Two small stockings hanging there
Just below the open stair,
And beside them, fair to see,
Is a wondrous Christmas tree.
In the nursery overhead,
Fast asleep in dainty bed,
Two wee youngsters, and the while
Angels watch and smile and smile
Two small stockings, old and torn
In a room of gladness shorn.
No bright sparkling Christmas tree
Only knawing poverty.
Two wee youngsters in their bed
Sadly shiver, side by side.
And, as restlessly they sleep,
Angels watch and weep and weep.

The Rev. E. Deason delivered the evening sermon. Bro. Ray delivered the noon hour sermon. It was enjoyed by all and God bless him for having come our way.

We were glad to have so many visitors for both services and invite all of them back at any time.

Chrysler's wonderfully convenient Pushbutton drive is on the left side where no one but the driver can reach it.

Push this button and all other cars seem outdated!

15 minutes in the new "PowerStyle" Chrysler can change a lifetime of buying habits!

Push that "D" button and step on the gas. You're off like a shot. Now you're eating up the ribbon of road in front of you. A curve comes up and bends around behind. What was a hill has vanished. The scenery itself must be moving, not you!

What accounts for this magic? A whole new series of Chrysler engineering developments. Pushbutton PowerFlite transmission . . . a bigger airplane-type V-8 engine, more powerful than anything in its price class . . . full-time Power-Pilot Steering . . . and newly designed PowerSmooth Brakes that bring you to the world's safest, smoothest straight line stops.

Chrysler, with its low center of gravity, rivals the cornering ability of a racing car.

All this you see reflected in Chrysler's "PowerStyle" lines . . . the new Forward Look . . . the new look of power.

If you're now driving one of the other two major cars in Chrysler's price class, come in and make a direct comparison. Just see if Chrysler doesn't make everything else seem outdated!

Boost In Tourist Inquiries; Good S-D Day Report

More Tourist Inquiries—

Montgomery, Ala.— Two recent headline stories have boosted some of Alabama's tourist attractions and increased inquiries from out-of-State vacation planners, the State Publicity Department reports.

They were the Southern Governors' Conference when Governor Folsom played host to his colleagues at Point Clear, and which highlighted Alabama's Gulf Coast area and the visit of New York Governor W. Averell Harriman for a deer hunt and turkey shoot. The latter gave Alabama national news "coverage" as a State rich in wildlife.

Good S-D Day Report—

Alabama had one of the finest safe-driving records in the nation on December 1—Safe-driving Day 1955. This became apparent this week when almost complete reports were studied by the Alabama Highway Patrol.

Only one traffic death was reported in Alabama over the 24-hour S-D Day period—and that was only a "traffic death" in a strictly technical sense. "It is pathetic," as Gov. James E. Folsom said, "that the one fatality should have been that of a little child only five years old." This death occurred in Tallassee—State Public Safety Director Bill Lyerly's home town—when according to report, a parked truck began backing away from a sidewalk after making some deliveries and ran over the child. It was Tallassee's first traffic death in 10 years.

The only injuries reported during the S-D Day period occurred in a Calhoun County accident at 1 a.m. on December 1—only 60 minutes after the beginning of Safe-Driving Day. Three members of the armed services were injured in this acaccident, and officials have alleged that the car in which they were riding was exceeding the speed limit. The trio suffered bruises and lacerations.

Four of the remaining 10 minor traffic accidents were caused when drivers sought to avoid stray animals on the highways. In only one of the reported 11 accidents during the 24-hour period was the allegation of driving-while intoxicated made.

Highway Patrol officials estimated total property damage for S-D Day at only approximately $3.000

State S-D Day chairman Judge George C. Wallace, Clayton, on reading this preliminary report, said it "showed that the program had a terrific impact in Alabama" and urged "everyone henceforth to make everyday a Safe-Driving Day."

Unemployment Law Warning.—

Alabama employers were warned this week that many of them had not yet complied with the State's new unemployment compensation laws. These new acts were passed in the 1955 Legislative session to conform with Public Law 767 signed by President Eisenhower late in 1954. The conforming State laws become effective January 1.

Public Law 767 extended the unemployment compensation law to employers working four or more people. Previously the law applied only to those working eight or more persons.

Director of the State Department of Industrial Relations Eugene M Wells said that an estimated 3,000 affected firms have not yet made their returns, or sought detailed information from his agency. Wells pointed out that the new laws do not include farm workers, domestic servants in private homes, government and cotton gin employees, insurance agents, paid entirely on a commission basis, wife of the owner a minor child in the employ of his father or mother, nor members of religious, charitable or educational organiaztions.

Toll Roads and Highways—

"A report is expected within the next 60-90 days," a State Finance Department official said yesterday "on whether the anticipated traffic flow will justify Alabama taking part in building a giant North-South toll highway." This would run from the great Lakes near Chicago to Florida, and is already under construction in some other States.

The report is being prepared by an independent firm of engineers. The report will later be scrutinized by financial concerns who will be invited to bid on bonds which will pay for the road's construction in Alabama—if the report is favorable. Such bonds will be amortized from tolls paid by users of the super highway.

Sprayings Are Advisable For Grubs On Cattle

In a few days now, farmers will be spotting signs of grubs on the backs of cattle. And the only time these parasites can be controlled effectively is when they first appear under an animals skin.

As explained by API Extension Entomologist W. A. Ruffin, grubs are the larvae of heel flies, which lay their eggs on the legs of cattle in the spring. The worms work up through the hosts' bodies, sapping their strength and causing great pain. They cut holes in the hide on the anamal's backs during the winter before they get ready to break through and pupate in the soil.

According to the specialist, the best treatment for grub-infested herds is spraying with seven and one-half pounds of five percent rotenone mixed in 100 gallons of water. Animals should be treated two or three times at one month intervals.

The value of by-products of a lamb, including the pelt, average from 20 to 30 percent of the animal's wholesale value.

In setting trees and shrubs, be sure to dig the holes large enough to accomodate the roots without crowding.

New Hospital Has Variety Of Plants

Editors note—The following article was submitted to us by a citizen of Chilton County in the interest of furthering good will and broadening public knowledge of our new hospital.)

Upon entering the Chilton County Hospital, one will observe the rose plant from Arlington Cemetery, planted in an urn containing soil from Arlington mixed with the earth of Chilton County. This rose bush, with its lovely, red rose buds is located just outside the main entrance to the hospital. In the main lobby one is greeted with the freshness given forth by the many beautiful, tropical plants artistically arranged. On the information desk is a lovely green plant, and in the family room is a most beautiful arrangement of a decorative plant beneath an illuminated picture of Christ As entry is made into the nurses station an observation is made of the lovely arrangement of plants, and in the solarium there is still another most decorative arrangement. All of these vigorous, healthy, sturdy, strong and lovely growing plants, and the decorative containers in which they are planted, were given to the Chilton County Hospital by its many, many friends, on open house day, and through the constant and efficient care given them by the loving hands of those who tend them, are still providing the same freshness and healthy appearance that they did on opening day, and tend to make one feel refreshed and rested after visiting with them.

Soil And Water Conservation Loans To Farmers Are Vast

More than $19,800,000 has been borrowed by farmers for soil and water conservation since this type of credit was made available about a year ago, Isaac C. Byrd, Farmers Home Administration Supervisor for Chilton county said today.

Farmers used the loans to improve their farms and increase the efficiency of their operations.

A report recently made by Secretary of Agriculture Ezra Taft Benson shows that about 79 per cent of the funds were used for irrigation, including the purchase of pumps and piping, the drilling of wells and the construction and repair o firrigation ditches and laterals. Irrigation systems were developed or improved for about 282,000 acres.

The remainder of the funds were used for such soil conservation measures as terracing and pasture improvement, developing water systems for household use and farm livestock, and for drainage.

Private lenders provided most of the funds from which the loans were made. The Farmers Home Administration made and serviced the loans and insured the repayment of the funds advanced. The loans are also made from funds appropriated by Congress.

Farmers pay 4 1-2 per cent in interest or in interest and insurance charges for the loans. The loans are scheduled for repayment within the shortest period of time consistent with the ability of the borrower to repay. The maximum repayment period on loans to individuals is 20 years.

To be eligible for a soil and water conservation loan, a farmer must have reasonable prospects of conducting successful farming operations. He must also be unable to obtain the necessary credit on reasonable terms from private and cooperative sources.

Further details about soil and water conservation loans may be obtained from the Farmers Home Administration office located at Clanton, Ala.

Christmas Seal Dollars Help Fight TB

Alabama's most vicious killer, Tuberculosis is still claiming many victims in Chilton County, as well as in all the other 66 counties in the state.

Your big weapon in this 52 week a year battle are the little Christmas seals that come into your homes by mail each Christmas time.

This was part of the plea made today by Mrs. Mabel Bean, Chairman of the Annual Christmas Seal Sale in this county. Mrs. Bean pointed out that last year Chilton County put 885 Christmas Seal dollars into the fight to stamp out tuberculosis.

"Most of those dollars stayed right in our county to help find and aid those who have tuberculosis in Chilton County. Some of those dollars went into the state-wide effort and the national effort to conquer this ancient killer of men and women of all ages," the chairman said.

"It is a medical fact that found-in-time tuberculosis can be stopped. Christmas Seal Dollars help find tuberculosis in time.

"There are friends and neighbors all around you who have found a new healthy, happy life because of the Christmas Seals you have bought in other years.

"Put some of your Christmas dollars to work this year for those around you. It could be that the life you save would be your own."

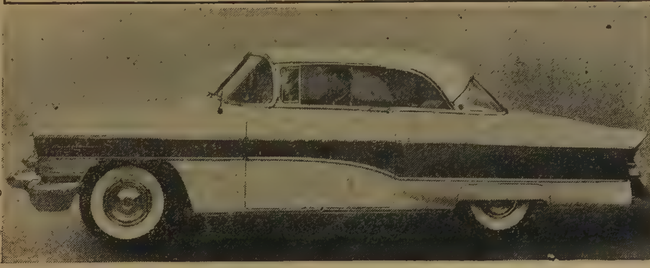
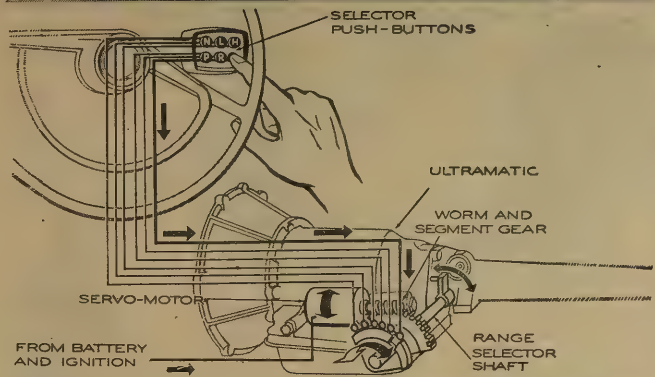
1956 CLIPPERS OFFER PUSH-BUTTON MOTORING





DETROIT — The 1956 line of Clipper models makes available the first real concept of electric push-button motoring with an electrically-responsive push-button ultramatic transmission. Heading the medium priced Clipper line of five models which will be in dealers showrooms in November is the Constellation hardtop, (pictured).

This new push-button driving system overcomes the frailities of human temperament and reflexes and does the driver's thinking for him. It opens the door for the first time to the ultimate in push-button, atomic-age motor car operation. With push-button ultramatic, it is impossible for a driver to select a wrong driving selection.

Operation of the push-button driving system is portrayed schematically (above). The driver's forefinger puts touch-pressure on the push-button "D" for "Drive." With no mechanical linkage to overcome, touch-pressure of the forefinger sends electrical signal (course of signal shown by arrows) down from push-button console, located on steering column, through wire to "servo-motor." Upon receipt of electric signal, servo-motor turns in proper direction to actuate worm and segment gear which [illegible]tes range selector shaft which, in turn, chooses driving position indicated by driver's forefinger on push-button. The selection made, circuit of electrical power is broken off until need for another driving range selection. All this procedure takes place in smallest fraction of a second.

Incorporating the greatest number of safety features available for any automobile, the Clipper line is powered by the highest horsepower and torque performance engines in the medium-price field. The new V-8 engines which ranges from 240 horsepower, in the Deluxe and Super lines up to 275 in the Custom line, are teamed with an improved ultramatic transmission which offers a double "kick-down" for added highway safety. Torsion bar suspension, termed the most important development in riding comfort and safety since 1934, becomes standard equipment on 1956 Clipper models.

As a major phase of the overall Studebaker-Packard corporation program to develop as a producer of automobiles for all price classes, the Clipper line for 1956 has been styled and engineered to become the "hot car" of the medium-price field. It is a powerful car with a look of power, yet in good taste.

New Catalogue Describes Movies Available To The Public Through So. Bell

Public programs in the form of movies and scientific lecture demonstrations available from the Southern Bell Telephone Company without cost are described in a new catalogue now being distributed.

Another, "For Progress . . . Call Dixie," deals with southern postwar progress and the part played by telephone service. Another, "The Transistor," tell the dramatic story of the transistor, mighty electronic marvel invented by the Bell Telephone Laboratories.

Also described in the booklet are many other movies as well as interesting lecture programs in which telephone personnel demonstrate communications and electronic equipment. The catalogue describes several educational booklets on the history of the telephone, how the telephone system operates, and telephone courtesy.

Mr. Scott explained that persons interested in the movies, lecture-demonstrations or educational booklet should contact the telephone business office.

The dormitory girls, accompanied by Mrs. Pearl Mims, shopped in Clanton on Saturday afternoon.

"What Does Christ Mean To The Christian" was the subject of the worship service at the Lomax Church of Christ Sunday, Dec. 11. The attendance was good. We were gratified to have in our Sunday evening audience Mesdames Lester Pate, Conway, Manning and Pearl Mims. Mr. J. M. Timmerman, teacher of English at Thorsby Institute was the speaker at both services.

Notice From T.I. Library—

We have 35 books out of the library since back in the spring, if we lose these books where will we get the money to replace them? It would cost about $35 just to buy them second hand. If you have a book we would like for it to be in by January 1, or if you have lost the book it would be nice of you to make a gift of $1 to the library so we can replace it.

Your Father Abraham rejoiced to see my day; and he saw it, and was glad. Jno. 6-56.

Abraham was yet called Abram Jesus Christ called Melchizedek Gen. 14-18; Psalms 110-4; Hebrews 5-6: 6-20; 7-1 etc.

What did Moses write? I call heaven and earth to record this day that I have sit before you life and death, blessing and cursing; therefore choose life that both those and thy seed may live. Deutronomy 30-19.

I and my father are one. Jno. 10-3.

He could have easily said: Melchisedic, I and my father are one: Friends listen: You may call Jesus Christ Melchosedic, the door, the way, the resurrection, the life, the son of man, the son of God: He is all of that and more: He is the very God, possessor of heaven and earth Isiah 44-6: 45-5-20: 46:9.

There is now a new service club in Clanton, Alabama. One that will bear close watching, we hear.. It is the officially organized, as of December 9th, Civitan Club of Clanton with Joe Smith having been installed as Charter President of the Club.

The new members of the club were installed into Civitan at a charter night banquet in the basement of the First Methodist church, here in the city of Clanton.

Blackwell, Horace M. Bolton, Reedie C. Clackler, Harris Hardy, Billy B. Hayes, Emmett H Hayes, Jr., W. H. Klinner, Lee Lawrence, Bernie Mims, Garvis McGee, James D. Penn, Hershel Penton, Cecil T. Powell, Greely Powell, Grover Rich, Noel Robinson, Marvin Scott, J. T. Spiller, Bob Tucker, Orville F. Woods, John R. Wyatt, Mack Godwyn, Reuben Popwell, Marion Wood, the Rev. R. E. Wilkins, and Carl Jones.

These members of this new club have pledged allegiance to the organization and promised to do their best to uphold their creed. In the words o fthe newly elected president, Joe Smith as he accepted the charter of the culb, "I accept this charter in behalf of the Clanton Club and pledge myself to do all I can to make our club a good one. ...we will strive to make ourselves truly 'Builders of Good Citizenship.''

Honor guests representing other civic clubs and city official capacities were present for the big occasion. In all, 19 Civitan clubs were represented at this affair from all over the state. The International President, R. Clarence Williams was the speaker of the evening and brought out many points on good citizenship and good Americanism. "Think for yourselves" he said, "think as leaders of men . . . learn something about this great nation in which we live . . . the ignorance of the young people of America is alarming . . . " And he elaborated on this subject and explained that the American POW in Communist Korea and China was handicapped in that many times they were outtalked by interrogators who knew more about their country than they themselves did." He also pointed out the fact, that we should never again let something like that happen to us. "Too many of us," he said "don't even realize the sacrifices of our ancestors and forefathers in making our America what it is today and what it will always stand for . . ."

President Williams brought out the sacrifices of Albert Sweitzer for the past 50 years and related that "we cannot all be Albert Sweitzer, but we can contribute our all to the community in which we live and to those with whom we come in contact."

The Charter Night was impressive to each and every member and they will do well in their community for as the International President said, "each of you have 35 men standing back of you for the common good." It is on this basis that the Clanton Civitan Club will make itself felt throughout the community and eventually throughout Civitan, and the country.

Dollars for the Christmas Twins -the Christmas Seals that were sent out over Alabama to the tune of One Hundred Twenty-One million last month—are coming in every day to the tuberculosis association offices in every county in the state.

A very large proportion of the returns from this annual Christmas Seal Sale will remain in the county, for work among its own people, in finding and helping to treat those who have the dread disease. That is why those who have received the seals in the mail are so liberally responding to this urgent call.

Dr. Otis L. Jordan of Tuscaloosa, president of the Alabama Tuberculosis Association, said in an interview this week:

"There is a local association or organiaztion in every county in the state. The Christmas Seal Sale is only the fund-raising end of their work—they are on the job the year round using the Christmas Seal funds to help their counties to become more healthy places to live.

"The fact that ANYONE may contract tuberculosis is now well-known. It is the most common of contagious diseases, and authorities say that the only actual and complete protection against it is complete eradication.

"The fight against tuberculosis has gone on in Alabama for over forty years, and we have seen a gradual decline in the number of deaths each year for most of that time. Now we have reached the point where we know we must prevent the disease and so stop its continuing contagion. We can cure most cases, if found in time. But all this cists money and the good work that has been done over the year is needed more than ever and its support comes only from the sale of the Christmas Seals. I most urgently ask that everyone buy and pay for them and that they use them on all their Christmas mailing."

Multiple Sclerosis; Relievable, But Not Curable Disease

Montgomery—Victims of the disease multiple sclerosis cannot be cured today, but much can be done to relieve them and to help them lead normal lives in spite of their disabilities.

Dr. D. G. Gill, Alabama's State Health Officer said today that an estimated quarter of a million people in the nation are victims of this disease.

"Destruction of some nerves in the body result in impaired vision, staggering gait or walk and other difficulties in walking and speech," he said.

Multiple sclerosis most often strikes young adults, and it usually becomes progressively worse, although there may be periods of relief.

The kind of help now available to this disease's victims is clinics that provide diagnostic services, and treatment to lessen the effect of symptoms, as well as physicial therapy, Dr. Gill explained

Birth Date Means Much In Beef Calf's Future

Auburn, Ala.—The summer of 1957 seems like a long time for cattlemen to plan ahead. But producers have to be far-sighted to stay in buisness these days.

That's why Robert C. Farquhar of the API Extension Service applauds cattlemen who are breeding cows now to drop fall calves that can be finished for sales the summer after next.

Assistant livestockman for the Extension Service, Farquhar said this week that fall-dropped calves gain faster, grade higher and make more money than animals born in the spring. Telling why fall calves do better, Farquhar made these points:

Calves dropped in the fall are big enough come spring to graze abundant, nutritious spring grasses. They can also utilize all of the extra milk their mothers give them when spring pastures become lush. On the other hand, spring calves graze during the summer, when grass is short.

Favorable weather in the spring helps fall calves make good growth while the yare being finished for early summer sale. Too, they are bothered less by parasites than spring calves. Hot weather and larger insect numbers, combined with the shorter food supply cause spring calves to grow off much more slowly.

Finally, fall calves are ready for sale in the early summer, when prices are at a seasonal high. Spring dropped calves don't reach market weight until the fall, when many growers are selling and prices are lower.

Farquhar ended by saying that bulls should be put with cow herds this month for Setpember calves and in January for October calves.

Help for busy Santa

A helping hand for a Southern Natural Gas Company flying pipe line Santa comes from Mrs. Richard Voodre and Patrol Pilot George Guthrie, both of Birmingham.

They are loading one of Southern Natural's four patrol planes with bags of candy, toys and other gifts. Some 2,000 of these gift bags are being parachuted to children living in rural homes along Southern Natural's buried lines in Texas, Louisiana, Mississippi, Alabama, Georgia and South Carolina.

It's the pipe line firm's and the pilots' way of wishing a "Merry Christmas" to the children who all through the year run out to wave at the low flying patrol planes.

State Pine Seedlings To Go To Farmers First

Alabama farmers have first call on the state's supply of pine seedlings, Nevertheless it's a good idea for growers to order early.

That's what API Extension Forester I. R. Martin said this week in telling how landowners can get young pine trees to plant or reforest farms woodlots in January and February. By ordering now, growers should be able to get good trees delivered at the specified time.

The cost of pine seedlings from the State Conservation Department in Montgomery is $3 per thousand (enough to set one acre). County agents have order blanks and planting instructions.

"Your Health" is presented by your physician as a health service of The Medical Association of the State of Alabama.

HOLIDAYS SHOULD BE HAPPY

What are you doing to make the coming Christmas holidays happy for you and your loved ones? Buying gifts, wrapping packages and planning festive meals? Of course, these are a part of Christmas; but have you given a thought to keeping yourself and your family in good health and free of accidents durin gthe holiday season?

The approaching holidays will bring a toll of illness and accidents, not because they just happen but mostly because you have failed to consider them in your planning. How can you show happiness and good cheer if you are so tired with tearing about in crowds and forcing yourself to do one more thing?

Your fatigue overshadows your genuine wish of imparting happiness. It increases your susceptibility to colds and accidents. It makes you less cautious of traffic and the slippery streets of winter. In your desire to crowd as much as possible in a given time, you dash across the streets to "beat" the light. What have you gained if you fall and fracture an arm or leg, ending up in the hospital for the holidays instead of home with your loved ones?

You've planned your budget. You know just how much you can spend for remembrances for your family and friends; but have you considered that, through carelessness, one purchase by you may cause an accident? Toys, for example? Are those you selected for tiny, curious hands the right ones? They may be bright and gay and amusing, but are they safe? Do they have removable parts? A bead or a button can be pried loose by tiny hands and wind up in the child's mouth, nose or ear. And what about the toy with the sharp point? Could it cause damage in the hands of the child who likes to hug objects close, or wave them about? Think it over. Don't let your gifts give pain instead of pleasure.

In your Christmas budget, include the three "S's"—thoughts of sanity, safety and spirituality.

State Supt. of Ed. says:

A Child Never Fully Recovers From Bad Schooling Facilities

The defeat of Amendment No. 1 at the polls on December 6 continued the pattern of the voters of Alabama voting against any State tax amendment the first time that it is presented to them. The voters of Alabama voted against the State income tax the first time it was presented in the Miller administratiin. In the Sparks administration the voters voted against the amendment to change the use of the State income tax after it had met its original purpose to pay State debts. The decisive defeat of Amendment No. 1 certainly shows that the people of this state do not want that type of taxation for schools. The opposition to the amendment said repeatedly that they thought that additional funds should be provided for education.

The needs of public education are just as urgent today as they were before December 6. It will be to the interest of the school children of Alabama for all concerned to be assured as soon as possible that funds will be made available to pay the State educational appropriations in full.

It was a high privilege to work with those who favored Amendment No. 1 and I look forward to working with the Governor, the Legislature and all of the people of Alabama in an effort to find a way to provide funds to mee the State educational appropriations in full. The fact that Amendment No. 1 was not acceptable to the people as a solution of the educational problems of the State along with the other school amendments, in no way reduces the school crisis today. In fact, the urgent educational needs will become more critical with delay until these needs are met. On behalf of the school children of Alabama, I urge all who are interested in education in this State to join hands in developing and securing the adoption of a legislative program to pay educational appropriations in full as soon as possible so that all educational programs can be continued without being crippled for the lack of funds. We still spend less than half as much per pupil as the average of the Nation and pay the lowest per capita tax of any of the forty-eight sattes. School children can never recover fully what they lose from the lack of good schools.

'Voc-Emphasis Week' Observed At Howard

"Vocational Emphasis Week" five days of concentrated self-appraisal and expert guidance for students was held at Howard College November 28-December 2.

The Baptist Student Union sponsored week had as its theme "In All Thy Ways . . : God." The main objective of the week was to help any student take practical steps with God's help, toward finding his life's vocation.

The theme was carried out in Morning Match, Chapel, Noon-Day Meditation, Ministerial Association and Mission Band.

A film was featured at the chapel service Monday; Rep. George Huddleston spoke Wednesday; and Dr Spencer Thornton, who is preparing for foreign mission work, was the speaker at Mission Band on Thursday night.

Student chairman for the week was Larry Allison, senior journalism major, from Sylacauga. The program was under the general direction of Mr. Paul Talmadge, Director of Religious Activities.

things we See

and Hear

By "TUCK"

A man who has never said "I'm sorry" is not much of a man, yet.

If you try, though you do a terrible job, you'll be well thought of.

We're about to come to the conclusion that our worst fault is the one we accuse everyone else of.

Well, it's Christmas time. And we wish all of you the merriest Christmas ever. As well as the Holiest Christmas and the most impressive in your life. It does the heart good to see so many folks taking such a lively interest in the true meaning of Christmas this year. It makes you feel that those who have been striving for so long towards that end can be thankful that it has come about, or is coming about. The trend back toward the real meaning of Christmas is gaining rapidly and is one that we hope will last from now until the end of time.

We have commercialized Christmas (as well as every other holiday) to the extent that the holiday itself has lost its true color and does not give the same impression that it should and was meant to Again we say, Merry Christmas and a happy New Year that will make us all proud that we're Christians. We can glorify the season or we can neglect and abuse it. Let's do what we know is best and what we know He would want and appreciate.

Southern hospitality along with the Christmas Spirit can go a long way toward helping folks out. Take for instance this week, three young fliers were in an accident in Clanton and one of them was seriously injured. The other two boys had no place to stay so Mr. and Mrs. (Adelle) Williams put them up at the Cloverleaf Motel until they could make other arrangements. They expressed many times their surprise at the treatment afforded them by Mr. and Mrs. Williams, which goes to show that our southern hospitality is underrated some times and should not be made light of. It is something that wields great influence and is one of the best public relations outlets we could possibly have. We should all take lessons from this particular situation.

Another example of the true Christmas Spirit is the fact that the young flier, Ronald Lee Koos, who was injured in the auto accident, offered his two buddies his money so that they could get home for the holidays. At that time his hopes of getting his holiday leave was pretty low, yet he still had the goodness of heart and the ability to sacrifice his own comforts for the comforts of his buddies. True Christmas Spirit, eh.

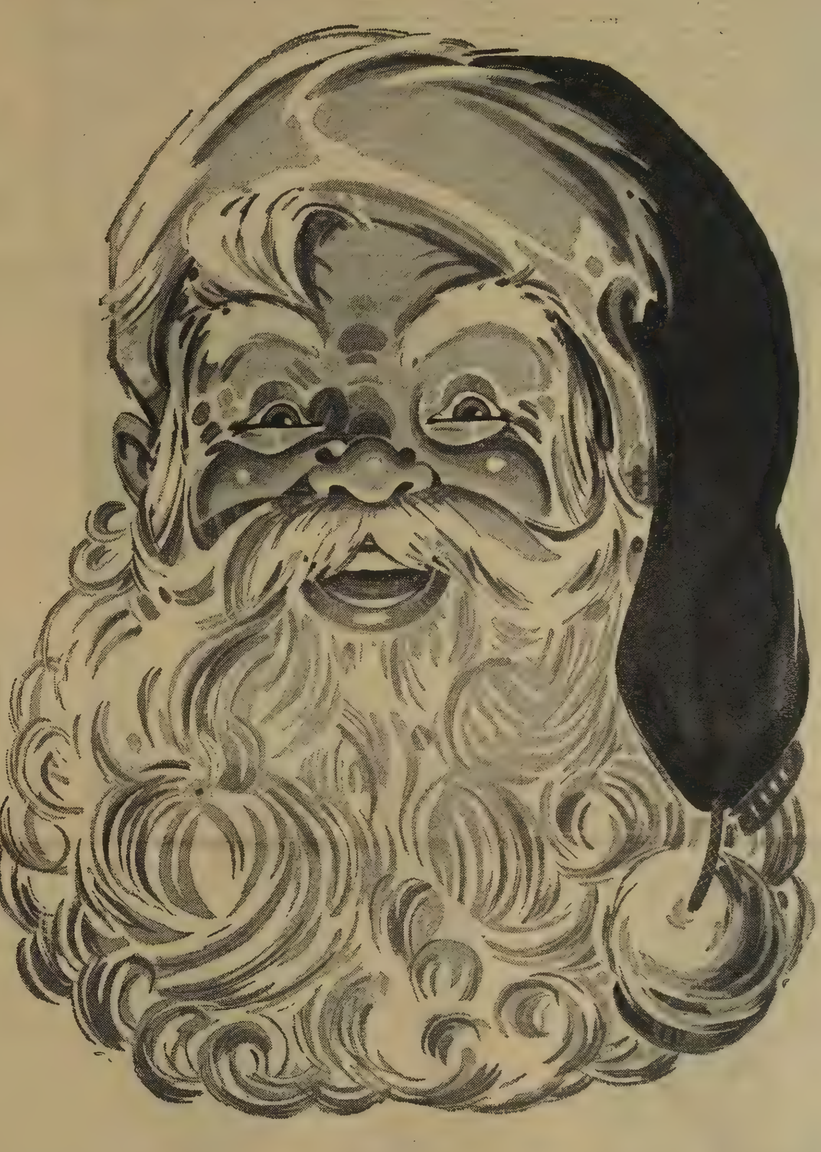
Ole Bill Hayes was late to a meeting last Thursday night. Bill, you're just gonna have to make arrangements to wash those dishes after you get home from the meeting.

We had the Chilton County News shop party last Friday night and everyone sure had a fine time. We learned the next day that everyone went home sick, couldn't sleep or couldn't get up the next morning because they ate too much. Which just goes to show you what kind of living a printer makes. When he gets around food, he just can't quit.

We're willing to bet hat there were any number of professions that had the same trouble the day after the Christmas Party Dinner. Anyhow, it's one of those occasions that's good while it lasts, it's just hard to take the consequences.

Who gets all the money at Christmas time. Seems nobody we know has any of any description.

Current farm thinking on the question of specializing versus diversification seems to be that most farmers will find it best to diversify enough to use all their farm resources throughout the year.



A Christmas Greeting

We come again this Christmas Day
To extend our greetings in the same old way.
They're old as time, but always new;
These Christmas greetings from us to you.

We wish for you the things worthwhile—
A friendly hand, a cheerful smile.
And all the good things life can give,
The right to love, and laugh and live.

May all be yours this Christmas Day.
May God be good to you we pray.
And thru the days that are to be,
May each find Him in you and me.

Lake Jackson Is Restocked With Bream

Montgomery, Ala.—W. H. Drinkard, Director of the Alabama Department of Conservation announced here today that 186,000 bream have been stocked in Lake Jackson, at Florala, being renovated as a cooperative project with the Florida Freshwater Game and Fish Commission.

Drinkard said that all fish were removed from the 372-acre freshwater lake on Nov. 1 by Alabama and Florida biologists and the bream stocked approximately five weeks later on Dec. 8. In April or May of 1956, Drinkard said, approximately 19,000 largemouth bass will be stocked in the lake to complete a balanced bream-bass population.

Chemical treatment of Lake Jackson revealed that poor fishing in the past was due to approximately 87 per cent of the population being suckers, gar, bowfin, catfish and eels. Only an estimated 18 per cent of the lake's fish population was in bream and bass.

Bodies of water can support only a certain poundage of fish per acre When some, or is in this case a majority, of the available fish foods are taken up by undesrable species then fishermen find poor angling for edible or game fish.

Drinkard said fishermen in Covington County can expect the lake to be opened in the summer of 1957, if it develops as many other lakes have when renovated.

Since approximately half of Jackson lake lies in Florida and half in Alabama, the Florida Game and Freshwater Fish Commission and the Alabama Department of Conservation joined together to share the work and expense of the project to improve fishing. The large natural lake lies in an area where there is insufficient fishing for the people.

Farm Bureau To Honor Ala. On Dairy Sales

Alabama will be one of nine states receiving special awards for outstanding jobs in promoting increased sales of dairy products during 1955, according to James Kincaid, president of the Chilton County Farm Bureau.

The awards will be made during the annual convention of the American Farm Bureau Federation in Chicago Dec. 12-15. Other states to be recognized are Illinois, Maryland, Minnesota, New Mexico, Ohio, Tennessee, Vermont and Wisconsin.

The Farm Bureau president said Alabama gained special attention through its organiaztion of county through which producers promote their industry. The local associations have representatives on the statewide Farm Bureau Dairy Committee, which handles the overall program.

In addition to the county programs, the dairymen also participate in the American Dairy Association program of advertising dairy products. Dairy Councils have also been formed in the Anniston and Birmingham areas, resulting in marked increase in milk use. The school milk program was given special attention, too.

The American Farm Bureau announcement said that the nine states "were singled out for effective dairy promotion efforts in connection with a national dairy sales promotion program conducted by Farm Bureau. The program involves work with the retail food trade, restaurants, schools, dairies, dairy promotional organizations, and other groups."

VETERANS CORNER

Here are authoritative answers from the Veterans Administration to four quetsions of interest to former servicemen and their families:

Q. If I apply for disability compensation as soon as I get my discharge from service, will I be required to take a VA physical examination?

A. Not necessarily. As long as you met your claim within six months from your discharge, VA may give you an initial rating based on the records of your branch of service—unless it would appear that an error would result from such a procedure.

Q. If a veteran shows a lack of progress in his Korean GI Bill studies, would he still be entitled to make his one-and-only change of course?

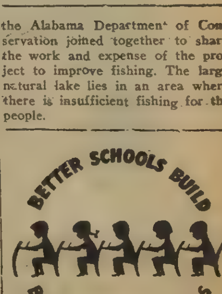
A. Yes, but only if he can show VA that the lack of progress was not due to his own misconduct, neglect or lack of application.

Q. I have just been discharged from service, and I a mthinking of getting a Korean GI term insurance policy. I already have a $10,000 life insurance policy with a private company. Would this bar me from GI insurance?

A. No. Insurance held with a private company has no bearing on the amount of GI insurance you are permitted to carry. A veteran may get up to $10,000 worth of Korean GI term insurance, minus only whatever other forms of GI insurance he might have.

Q. I bought a house with a GI loan, a few years ago. Our family has grown and we could use a larger house. My wife is a veteran, too. Would she be entitled to use her GI loan benefit for another house?

A. Yes. The fact that you used your GI loan benefit would not serve to deny your wife the right to use hers.



The Real Spirit Of Christmas; Be Thankful For What You Have

Now when Jesus was born in Bethlehem of Judea in the days of Herod, the king, behold there came Wisemen from the East to Jerusalem, saying: "Where is He that is born King of the Jews?" For we have seen His Star in the East and are come to worship Him. When Herod, the king, had heard these things, he was troubled, and all Jerusalem with him." Matt.

When we pull ourselves away from the hurried tempo of today's living and seek the solitary of our homes, and open the golden pages of the Scriptures to read the wonderful story of the Birth of our Lord Jesus these verses strike a special cord in our heart.

The story of Jesus Christ, when applied to the heart of man, will cause a feeling of joy and peace or it will bring fear and disturbance.

Found in the verses we have read are the feelings of the people who lived in the day of our Saviour was born. Let us who are about to celebrate that sacred day, look at these people and compare ourselves to them and see just how much we in our day resemble them.

. . . "and are come to worship Him."

Throughout the pages of our Bible we find those people who seek to worship in spirit and in truth. Sometimes along through the years the number of these people were very small, but there can always be found a group of people who love and fear God. These people can be found in the House of our Lord when ever there is a worship service of any kind, whether it be Bible study, revival services, or any of the activities of their church may use to worship and serve their Lord. There are those who are willing to study the Bible, to pray and give themselves wholly unto Christ, in order to teach their fellowman the truths found in the most wonderful Book ever written. These people are willing to tell the people of our community and where ever they go, the wonderful Gospel of Christ and what He will bring to their hearts and lives. They are willing to sacrifice the time that they would love to spend in their own homes, and go out into the homes of others who are in sorrow or trouble of any kind to bring to these homes the peace that can come only from the "Prince of Peace."

In the night that Christ was born, there came those who had been studying the signs, and the prohphecies, that they might know when Christ would come into the world. God has always, and will forever, provide the unmistakable sign and guidance to those who seek to know and to follow His way. Today we have those who are looking to Him for guidance and are following in the paths that He is providing. Let us recognize the fact that were it not for these people we would not know the America we live in today.

May we pray that all the people of our country, and of the whole world will come to a saving knowledge of Jesus Christ, and know in their heart "the peace that passeth all understanding."

. . . "he was troubled and all Jerusalem with him."

Many people do not want to apply the Gospel to their hearts and lives, because of personal reason.

Herod was afraid of his position as king. He was afraid that the Birth of the "King of the Jews" would put him down from his throne, and he would have to give up his pomp, and all his servants would be taken away, and he would have to step down and submit his throne to Christ. His interest in seeking the Child born in Bethlehem was to put down a rival for his position in Jerusalem.

We have around the world today people who know the truth and plan set forth in the Gospel of Christ, and know what they should do toward God, and the plan by which they should pattern their lives, but they are afraid it might interfere with the position they hold in their town or community They are afraid to say "I am a Christian," because they would be left out of the plans some of their friends whom they wish to use as stepping stones for perosnal gain.

The people of Jerusalem were disturbed in their hearts because ofthe message that Christ was born in Bethlehem.

Down through the years Jews had taken the laws given to Moses and added man-made laws to them.

"For they being ignorant of God" Paul had this to say concerning the form of religion of the Jews: righteousness, and going about to establish their own righteousness have not submitted themselves unto the rightheousnes sof God." Roman 10:3.

Forgivenes sof sins was bought wiht gold and silver. One man who was indebted to another could pronounce the amount of the debt "Borban" and it would go to the temple as an offering. The Jews would not allow the Gentiles the privileges of worshipping God in the temples.

The coming of Christ into the world would condemn all these practices. A man would be required to have a true religion of the heart and true repentence would be the only means of forgiveness of sins every man would be required to deal honestly with his fellowman and love him as himself. The Gospel would be given to the Gentiles and the Jew would be responsible for teaching and leading them to worship God.

When we celebrate the birthday of Christ this year, may we realize the meaning it should have for each of us and be thankful that God through His love, gave His Son that we might have the peace and happiness of Christ in our heart.

Food Chain Has Yule Gift Plan

You can serve a Christmas dinner, or any of its courses, to your faraway friends and relatives this year via an ordinary letter envelope and the U. S. Mail.

Gift certificates in denominations of $1 and $5 are available for the purpose in the stores and super markets of A&P Food Stores in the 37 states where the chain operates.

Officials explained that the certificates are the company's response to a growing demand by firms and individuals for a food gift plan simllar to those offered by department and clothing stores during the Christmas season.

The certificates are redeemable in any A&P store. For example, a shopper in Providence, R. I., could use a certificate purchase in a Los Angeles A&P store for a choice of like values from among a super market's 3,500 items of merchandise.

In the Spirit of Christmas

Almost two thousand years ago Three Wise Men found the secret of great happiness as they paid homage to a newborn Babe in a manger. And today, as then, the message of Peace and Good Will shines from the eyes of men and warms their hearts as Christmas approaches. Its blessings and hopes are for all mankind. Fact And Fantasy On The Origin Of Christmas Flowers

Many unusual and picturesque tales have been told about the modern usage of Christmas flowers. Although they are legendary, the carefully spun bits of folklore provide colorful background for present day flower decorations which are used during the Christmas season.

Holly, with its red berries, dark green leaves and needle-like spikes is a light-heaarted symbol of friendship and good will when December arrives. According to legend, though holly originally was used as an instrument of cruelty. The crown of thorns which Christ wore was fashioned from holly. Prior to the Crucifixion the plant bore white berries but after the Crucifixion the berries turned a bloody crimson. Mistletoe, a close associate of holly, is said to have been the wood from which Christ's cross was made.

One of the most beautiful legends woven around Christmas flowers concerns the Christmas rose. While en route to Bethlehem the Wise Men crossed the path of a little shepherdess named Madelon. Enraptured at the wondrous tale about the birth of Christ which they related, she was heartbroken because she had no gift offer.

While she was crying she detected a sweet-smelling aroma and looked up. Something next to her was an angel who inquired the reason for her sadness. Madelon explained that while she wanted to pay homage to the newly-born Babe, she didn't even have a single beautiful flower such as grew in the fields in the summer to give Him. The angel waved her arm and a stunning bunch of gorgeous snowy white Christmas roses appeared.

Madelon gathered her precious gift in her arms and hurried off to Bethlehem where the wise Men had gone, After the Wise Men's offerings of gold, frankincense and myrrh, she humbly proffered her flowers on the tiny infant, who stretched out a hand to touch the immaculate pedals and immediately they changed to a delicate pink.

Poinsettias which head the popularity list of Christmas flowers, ironically enough do not have any legends attached to them because of their recent introduction. In the beginning of the last century the poinsettia was introduced by J. R. Poinsett, and American politician and diplomat.

For years evergreens have flourished in homes at Christmastide to create a woodsy, outdoor atmosphere. In the aged line "hang up the holly, the box and the bay" is significant to note that two of the plants mentioned, box and bay are mentioned in Holy Scriptures as thriving on the mountains of Lebanon in the Holy Land.

Because of its symmetrical leaves bay has been used for design thruout the ages. The Greeks used it on their coins and the Romans also have favored it as a beautiful show piece. Today bay shrubbery graves the entrance to many American homes at yuletide.

Cedar, which furnishes greens for Christmas, likewise existed in Lebanon. The people of Lebanon regarded cedar as a symbol of endurance, strength, life and eternity. Recognized by its characteristic pleasant aroma, derar also was an emblem of purity because its treetops were frequently covered with snow during a large part of the year.

An old time favorite of sailors who visited the Mediterranean ports was Rosemary because of the aromatic perfume the plant yielded. Familiar to most Americans as a straggling hedge plant, Rosemary droops in massive festoons 12 feet long in its native Italy.

Legend has it that the flowers were colorless until the Blessed Virgin, during the flight into Egypt hung the clothes of Jesus on Rosemary bushes to dry. Thereafter Rosemary bushes blossomed forth with their sparkling blue flowers.

"The Hawthorn bush with its white or red flowers, originally was the May tree of the Old World. Peculiarly, the bushe never blooms in May. According to historians Joseph of Arimathea went to England and on the completion of his pilgrimage at the Abbey of Glastonbury, he pushed his staff into the ground where it burst forth leaves and flowers. Since then the Hawthorn bush always flowers at Christmastide, which is out of its regular season.

YOUR Health

"Your Health" is presented by your physician as a health service of The Medical Association of the State of Alabama.

IT'S HOLIDAY TIME

No one will deny the depth and sincerity of the Christmas wish of "Peace on Earth, Good Will toward Men." This wish does not apply necessarily to warfare among nations but to a peace within one's self, one's family and one's associates.

While there is pleasure in giving and satisfaction in receiving, true happiness does not stem from material things alone. The state of one's health is important, mentally and physically.

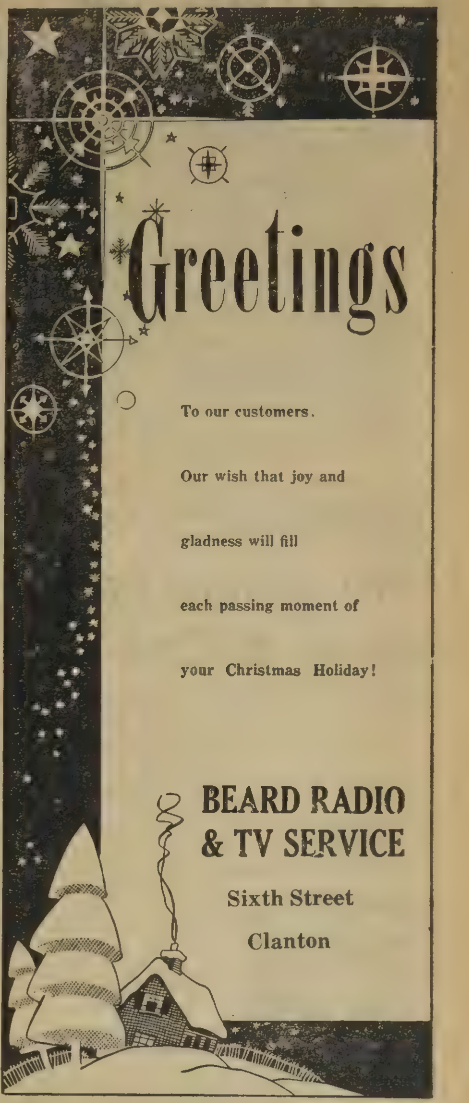
How well will you be during the holidays? Will you be worn out withe fatigue which, unfortunately, for some persons is ascociated with the hurry and bustle of holiday preparations? Are you going to be so tired that you won't enjoy the festivities which characteristically mark the Christmas and New Year holidays?

Careful planning will do much to stop fatigue and accidents. Doing too much and crowding one more activity into an already heavy schedule will lower your body resistance, making you susceptible to the bacteria constantly waiting to attack your weaknened state.

Remember that most accidents are preventable, particularly so if attention is paid to safety. How about the wiring for your Christmas tree lights? Has it been checked carefully? By doing this you may prevent a fire. And that rickety stepladder used in trimming the tree? Was it repaired or replaced? Falls usually result in broken bones. Why take a chance?

Conviviality and party-going are a part of Christmas. If you're driving an automobile, better forget that last "one for the road." Remember that it may be not only your last but also the last for the loved ones with you.

There is something about the Christmas holidays that set them apart from all other holidays of the year. Make them happy by keeping well and free from accidents. Use common sense in what you do and remember that, regardless of your creed, spiritual reflection is good for everyone.



To our customers.
Our wish that joy and gladness will fill each passing moment of your Christmas Holiday!

He Is Truly "The Prince of Peace"

"Unto is a child born, unto us a son is given; the government shall be upon his shoulders and his name shall be called, Wonderful Counselor, The Mighty God, the Ever lasting Father, THE PRINCE OF PEACE." (Isa. 9:6).

There are many names ascribed to Jesus, our Lord, but this one name "The Prince of Peace," should be told around the world. Every nation should know that there is no peace outside of this great Prince of Peace. World wars have been fought to establish peace on earth, but all in vain. Leagues of Nations have been famous for the same purpose, but all in vain The reason that the United Nations is not making any further headway to establihs the peace that the world o much deisres, the Prince of Peace has been left out of the program.

More than 1900 years ago the Christ Child was born in the little City of Bethlehem, at the time there were shepherds abiding in the fields keeping watch over their flock by night. And lo, the Angel of the Lord came upon them, and glory of the Lord shone round about them and they were sore afraid. And the Angel said unto them, "Fear not for behold, I bring you good tidings of great joy, which shall be to all people; for unto you is born this day in the City of David a Saviour, which is Christ the Lord." And suddenly there was with the Angel a multitude of the heavenly host praising God, saying, "Glory to God in the highest, and on earth peace, good will toward men." The R. V. says, "Peace among men in whom he is well pleased." When man's ways please the Lord, there will be peace among them. "Great peace have they that love the Lord and nothing shall offend them." (Psa. 119:165). Or "They shall have no stumbling block." The stumbling blocks of war and strife, hate and intolerance will be forever gone when men will love the Laws of God. It is then the Prince of

Naval District Saves Millions In Cost

Charleston, S. C.—Navy savings of more than $3 million have been realized by the seven-state Sixth Naval District since the relatively new Automotive Maintenance Cost Control Program was instituted, District officials in Charleston announced today.

Administered by the District Public Works Officer, CDR Peter Corradi, Civil Engineer Corps, the system is in effect in approximately 100 Naval activities throughout the district, which comprises the states of South Carolina, Georgia, North Carolna, Florida, Alabama, Mississippi an dTennessee. District Headquarters are at the Charleston Naval Base.

Dollar savings to taxpayers fall into categories such as controlled maintenance, reductions in amount of equipment. maintenance cost and depreciation.

Sixth Naval District reports show a continuing increase in savings through close cordination of the system begun in January, 1954 with Green Cove Springs, Florida, as the first pilot installation and indoctrination center in the district. Other pilot activities were at the Naval Station, Key West, Florida and the Construction Battalion center, Gulf port, Mississippi. The program is in effect throughout the Navy.

The District showed in its report a reduction of 1,000 automobiles and 300 pieces of construction equipment since January 1954 with a replacement cost of $2,185,000. The decrease resulted largely from better utilization and the effectiveness of preventing maintenance. Reduced depreciation resulted in additional savings of $268,000. Estimated savings of $560,000 has been attained through improved distribution of labor.

The Sixth Naval District maintenance cost of automotive equipment per 1,000 miles averaged $58.35 on February 1 last year, compared with the Navy-wide average of $58.39. By August 1 last year, the Sixth Naval District had reduce its average to $45.42.

Representatives from the District Public Works Office make a complete transportation analysis semiannually at each activity. Reports reveal the sources of excessive costs and action is taken to reduce them. Tendencies to over-maintain or under maintain are detected and corrected.

The Cost Control Program is reaching maturity, District officials say, and continued savings in this field of automotive maintenance promise to arrive at a stabilized level in the mllion of dollars.

Marbury FFA Determined To Earn Honors

Members of the Marbury chapter Future Farmers of America are making plans to take a goodly share of the honors and awards made each year to thousands of outstanding Future Farmers, it was announced today by Clifford Manning, vocational agriculture teacher and FFA advisor.

At a recent meeting of the chapter, a contest and awards program was planned, named most members to participate in a number of contests.

Manning states that the contests are set up as means of encouraging FFA members to develop skills essential to success in farming and to develop individual abilities in rural and agricultural leadership. "Many of the contests are national in scope while others are on the state or district level," he said.

The Alabama FFA Association sponsors 23 contests each year and makes awards ranging from a new Ford tractor to an all expense paid trip to the National FFA Convention in Kansas City, Missouri.

Local contests won by members of the Marbury FFA chapter during the past few years are: De Kalb Metal—Lawrence Adames, Corn Growing—Maurice Jackson, Speaking—Ennis Bing; Made State Farmer, Sonny Tatum.

Peace will come among men of the nations of the world, and there will be, "Peace on earth, good will toward ALL men."

Clanton Minister Attends Convocation

The Fall Minister's Convocation and Training School of the Southeast Convention of the Congregational Christian Churches was recently held at the Southern Union College in Wadley, Alabama. The attendance at the school, according to President Clyde C. Flannery, was the largest in the school's history.

The Southern Union College is a co-educational liberal arts junior college sponsored by the Congregational Christian Churches of America. It specializes in a work-aid program, thus offers education for as low as $500 a year.

The Reverend Andrew Nelson, pastor of the Watson Chapel Congregational Christian Church in Clanton, Ala., was among those who attended.

The Spring session of the school will be held in May, 1956.

Nitrogen Topping Pays In Bigger Grain Yield

Auburn, Ala.—Farmers who plan to harvest small grain crops that are now being grazed are reminded that top-dressing when animals are taken off can substantially increase yields.

"Top-dressing should be started around Feb. 15," said API Extension Agronomist O. N. Andrews, adding that growers ought to line up supplies now to be sure of having the kind of nitrogen material they want.

According to Andrews, 50 pounds of nitrogen per acre is recommended for top dressing. That much of the lement can be secured in 150 pounds of amonium nitrate or 300 pounds of nitrate of soda.

The agronomist cited a five-year research project at the Upper Coastal Plain Experiment Station as proof that top-dressing small grains pays. He said the value of early top-dressing was shown in reports that oats which got the extra nitrogen Feb. 15 made 10 bushels of grain per acre more than those not topdressed until April 1. Andrews also pointed out that application rates affected total grain production. He said oats which got no nitrogen made only 23 bushels of grain per acre. Top dressing with 16 pounds of nitrogen upped the yield to 41.8 bussels per acre, and a 48-pound application sent the oat yield to 64.4 bushels per acre.

Modern Taste Wants Lean, No Fat Meat

Auburn, Ala.—There aren't many folks in the U. S. today like Mrs. Jack Spratt of the nursery rhyme, who "could eat no lean."

In one consumer survey, only one person in 221 preefrred the fattest cuts of meat. Whatever kind of meat they are buying, a vast majority of people want lean cuts; and this preference holds true regardless of income levels or other group differences.

"The demand for leaner cuts is one of the biggest factors affecting the future of the hog industry in Alabama and elsewhere in the nation," said API Extension Animal Industry Specialist G. E. Phillips thi sweek in reporting the survey's findings. What people spend for pork dropped 33 per cent between 1947 and 1954, and the lost pork sales can be blamed largely on the failure of producers and packers to give the buyer the kind of pork he wants—cuts with more lean and less fat."

In answer to the otfen-heard argument that meaty hogs are more expensive to produce than lardy ones, Phillips said research has proved that the meatier kind can be raised just as economically as the other. He added that farmers can produce this higher quality pork by selecting meat-type brood stock, feeding better rations, and sending hogs to market at weights of 200 to 225 pounds.

Pressing Candle Wax From Cloth

If in spite of our precautions, candle wax gets on your best tablecloth, here's how it can be removed. Let the wax dry, then scrape away as much of it as possible. Next, place the stains between clean blotters and press with a warm iron until most of the wax has been absorbed. Finally, sponge with cleaning fluid.

Christmas Hams Cost Little, Go Far

Auburn, Ala.—Ham for the holidays is an especially good buy this year.

Retail costs for pork are so low these days that a whole ham is practical for many families. And inexpensive ham is both delicious and versatile.

These were advantages pointed out by API Extension Consumer Education Specialist Dorothy Overbey in tellin gwhy a Christmas ham will fill the bill in many homes. Buying a whole ham, rather than only the butt or shank end, gets the choice center cuts at very low cost per pound. These lean, center slices can be served as ham steaks. Other meat on the ham can be sliced, creamed, ground for sandwich spreads, or made into salad. And even the bony lower shank end is excellent for seasoning vegetables and soups.

Another point Miss Overbey made is that a ham is easy to cook and can be prepared ahead of time, leaving the homemaker free to enjoy holiday activities with her family.

Two things that make for SAFER driving!

The first and most important thing is you—the driver. As the highway safety organizations and law enforcement agencies point out, the courtesy, care, and common sense you show count more than anything else. You can drive any car safely — or foolishly.

The second thing is the car itself. All cars are safer today. That's shown by the number of accidents in relation to the number of miles passenger cars are driven. The figure's been going down steadily and sharply.

Chevrolet engineers and designers have always made your safety a major consideration, introducing many such features as the all-steel top, safety plate glass all around, and windshield-wide defrosters into the low-price field. And this '56 Chevrolet is the safest one ever built.

Its lively new power means safer passing. Its special Ball-Race steering—the oversize brakes with Anti-Dive control—the Unisteel construction and safety door latches of its Fisher Body—the nailed-to-the-road stability that comes from outrigger rear springs, an advanced suspension system and better balance—the sweeping panoramic windshield — all these things add to your safety.

Seat belts with or without shoulder harness? Instrument panel padding? Of course, they're available at extra cost on your new Chevrolet. But the best protection of all is to keep out of accidents in the first place. And that depends mostly on you and the built-in safety of your car.

As your Chevrolet dealer, we'll be glad to show you the many safety features of the '56 Chevrolet.

Homesick Immigrant Got Idea Of The First Christmas Tree

To August Imgard, a home-sick immigrant tailor, goes the credit for introducing the Christmas tree to America.

Imgard came to this country in 1847 to visit his brother in Wioster, Ohio. With the prispects of a dismal Christmas for the first time away from his native land, August decided to bring ot his newly adopted home all the Christmas spirit and festiivties he had loved so much in Wetzlar Hessia. To his young nephew and neice he would show how Christmas was celebrated in the old country.

First, he needed a Christmas tree. This is the way he described how he got it: "I walked up Apple creek, . . . When I got to where the trees were I found the water so high I could not get across. So I walked along until I found a tree fallen from bank to bank and crossed on that. I cut a tree and carried it to the fallen log. But to get across this time I had to tie the tree to my neck and crawl on hands and feet. People looked at me with considerable curiosity when I walked through town with my tree."

Adept with scissors, Imgard cut his own paper ornaments and a local tinsmith fashioned a shiny star for the top.

The average Chilton County farm contains 93.3 acres.

During 1954 three Chilton County farms irrigated a total of 14 acres.

The average farm in Chilton County is valued at $4,696 including buildings.

45 Strong --
Local March of Dimes For '56 Held Pre-Campaign Meet Thursday

An enthusiastic group of volunteer workers, 45 of them from all over Chilton County, met for a dinner meeting at the Dixie Cafe in Clanton, Ala., Thursday night, Dec. 8, 1955, according to Campaign Director C. C. Gay, Jr.

Community chairmans are: Beat 1, Mrs. Horace Miller; Beat 2, Mrs. J. J. Reeves; Beats 3 and 14, Mr. C. White; Beat 4, Lewis W. (Pig) Headley; Beat 5, Mrs. Winston Calloway; Beat 6, Mrs. Rayford Jones; Beat 7, Ladies Aux., Miss Jane Shanks, president; Beat 8, Mrs. J. T. O'Neal; Beat 9, Mr. T. G. Rogers; Beat 10, Mrs. Archie M. Taylor; Beat 11, Mrs. E. R. Young; Beat 12, Mrs. O. V. Cost; Beat 13, Mrs. L. L. Glass; Beat 15, Mrs. E. J. Klinner; Beat 16, Mrs. Curtis Hurt.

All of these community workers will need help if the 1956 March is to be a success. Anyone interested in helping should contact their local chairman for supplies and instructions prior to Jan. 3rd.

Two out of county speakers, well received by those attending this pre-campaign meeting, were Mr. R. C. Dobson, State Representative of the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis and Dr. Ira L. Myers of the State Health Dept. and in charge of Polio Vaccine throughout the state of Alabama.

Four "big reasons" why polio isn't licked yet despite the Salk Vaccine were cited by Dr. Myers and sanctioned by Mrs. N. S. Johnson, chairman of the Chilton County chapter of the National Foundation of Infantile Paralysis.

"The year 1955 usheded in actual pilio prevention with the use of vaccine and opened up what may be, in future years, the final assault on this crippling disease," Dr. Myers declared. "But 1955 was only the "A medical milestone," Dr. Myers year of the entering wedge, not the year of final victory. The vaccine came too late for an estimated 30,000 persons stricken last year, and it will be too late for thousands more in 1956. This is Reason No. I why polio isn't licked yet."

Pointing out the urgency of the need faced by the March of Dimes, Dr. Myers said thousands of polio patients depend from minute to minute on March of Dimes breathing devices to stay alive. He explained that techniques in treatment of patients with impaired breathing are developed and demonstrated at 14 respiratory centers in strategic locations throughout the country. 'This is Reason No. 2 why polio isn't licked yet.

Still Not 100 Per Cent—

While the Salk vaccine, developed with March of Dime funds, is continued, "it is still not 100 per cent effective, nor can we tell yet how long its protection lasts. March of Dimes research must be supported with continuing enthusiasm if the job is to be finished. That's Reason No. 3 why polio isn't licked yet."

Recalling that Dr. Jonas Salk, developer of the vaccine, was trained under a fellowship made possible by the March of Dimes, the county chairman said, "It will be a good many years before we car afford to stop training polio scientists fo rthe laboratories and professional workers for hospitals—especially in view of the acute shortages existing in these fields.

"March of Dimes scholarships have helped recruit and train more than a third of the Nation's physical therapists, yet the ranks of these and others specially skilled personnel are still inadequate for the war on polio. Nurses, doctors and professional assistants are needed in every state of the union fo' the polio fight."

"This is Reason No. 4 why polio isn't licked yet and another reason why citizens of Chilton County are being called upon now to give generously to the March of Dimes."

Christmas Eve

The minsrels played their Christmas tune.
Tonight beneath my cottage eaves;
While smitten by a lofty moon.
The encircling laurels, thick with leaves,
Gave back a rich and dazzling sheen
That overpowered their natural green.
Through hill and valley every breeze
Had sunk to rest with folded wings;
Keen was the air, but could not freeze,
Nor check the music of the strings;
so stout and hardy were the band
That scraped the chords with strenuous hand.
And who but listened? till was paid
Respect to every inmates claim;
The greeting given, the music played
In honor of each household name
Duly pronounced with lusty call,
And "Merry Christmas" wish to all!

Sunday School was rather small Sunday at the Christ's Sanctified Holy Church, but Sunday night there were many visitors and we had a wonderful service. Sister Kathern Cogar brought an inspiring message connected with the talk our Lord Jesus had with the woman at the well. Sister Cogar told of the call to faith and repentence found in the fifty-fifth chapter of Isaiah: Ho, every one that thirseth, come ye to the waters, and he that hath no money, come ye, buy, and eat; yes, come, buy wine and milk without money and without price.

If you have never been to our services, the church is located about one mile East of Mineral Springs Hospital. We have services every Saturday night, Sunday School every Sunday at eleven o'clock and meetings every Sunday night. We preach sanctification at this church and we back it up by our daily life We urge every one, no matter who the wanderer is, or how far he's gone astray, to seek the Lord while he may be found and to call upon Him while He is near. Oh, that man would praise the Lord for His and for his wonderful works to the children of men. For He satisfied the longing soul, and filleth the hungry with goodness. Psalms 107-8:9.

Thought—

As we go to and fro during each day we can easily look around us and see so many things to do, so many people to help and so many opportunities to witness for Christ Each day is given to us by the Lord to use in His service, but he leaves it up to us.

"It's Up to You."

Have you made someone happy, or made someone sad,
What have you done with the day that you had?
God gave it to you to do just as you would.
Did you do what was wicked, or do what was good?
Did you hand out a smile, or just give 'em a frown
Did you lift some one up—or push some one down?
Did you lighten some load, or some progress impede,
Did you look for ease, or just gather a weed?
What have you done with your beautiful day,
God gave it to you, did you throw it away?
Did you speak a kind word to some struggling soul,
Did you seek some lost sheep and bring it back to the fold?
What have you done with these wonderful days?
God is the giver don't throw them away.

Conserve Our Forests When Cutting Your Yule Decorations

Montgomery, Ala.—State Forester J. M. Stauffer today urged people throughout Alabama to be sparing in cutting native evergreen for use as Christmas decorations. Stauffer said that unlimited cutting of cedar(holly, and other native evergreens each year may eventually result in extinction of these plants as the population grows.

Also, Alabama laws make it illegal without permit to cut trees from lands belonging to the State or to other persons.

Some good rules to follow in harvesting Christmas greens are as follows:

1. Christmas greens should be harvested only from lands owned or leased by person or family harvesting same or from lands where written permission has been obtained from the owner.

2. Trees removed should leave the forest stand in such shape as not to decrease its future productivity wherever possible, unless land is being cleared for agricultural purposes.

3. In removing trees from a stand, a spacing of approximately eight by eight feet should result. That is, trees should be thinned out so as to make the distance between trees left equal to approximately eight feet.

4. Cut the entire cedar or pine tree close to the ground even though only the top is used.

5. Holly trees should be pruned carefully and sparingly with sharp tools rather than by breaking off limbs or completely cutting the tree down and stripping it of its foliage.

6. Mistletoe is a parasite and may be removed as seen fit, providing the harvesting corresponds to the provisions of paragraph 1 above.

7. Every effort should be exerted by the harvester to cut Christmas greens so conservatively as to insure a future supply.

8. No warming fires should be started and left unguarded, and every person harvesting Christmas greens should act as a volunteer fire fighter if the need arises.

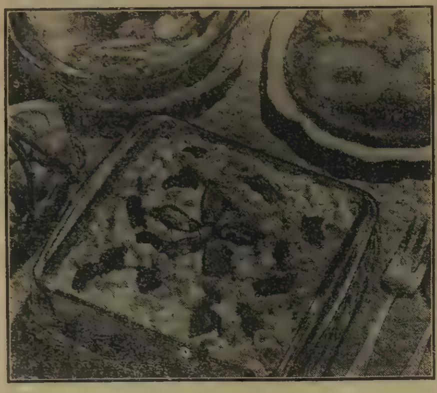
Let Oven Be Holiday Cook



KEEP the lilt in your holiday spirits . . . by calling on every pet work-saver of wise cooks. For instance, oven meals will almost do your work for you . . . if you do them this way:

Cook double quantities of noodles and/or potatoes, so there's enough of the main dish for 2 suppers. Mix them into a ham dish one night. Have a chicken or ground beef casserole a night or so later.

Store cans of boned chicken and turkey; ham; sausage and tuna for all kinds of baked and scalloped dishes.

For quick-sauce in casseroles, reach for a can of soup . . . cream of celery, chicken or mushroom.

Line casseroles with aluminum foil; then spoon in the food to be baked. Hooray. No dishwashing.

Bake vegetables along with main dishes. Canned vegetables (beans, peas, limas) require only 15 minutes heating (covered) in a moderate oven.

Fix baked desserts. Almost no work at all are cake mixes; baked apples; broiled grapefruit; custard; cherry cobbler (with refrigerator biscuits).

When you have some cooked noodles tucked in the refrigerator, you can conjure up such a captivating casserole as this:

Holiday Ham Caboodle

1 can (1¼ cups) condensed cream of chicken soup (or celery or mushroom soup)
½ cup milk
2 cups drained cooked noodles (about 1½ cups uncooked)
1 cup diced cooked ham
¼ cup sliced ripe olives

Combine soup, milk, cooked noodles, ham and olives in a 1½-quart casserole. Bake in a moderate oven (375° F.) about 25 minutes. For holiday decoration garnish at serving time with 5 strips of pimiento arranged as a poinsettia. Makes 4 generous servings.

SOUP SCOOPS

SPICE UP V-8: As a warm welcome for Christmas guests, offer cups of hot V-8 juice. Spice up the juice by heating it with 1 or 2 whole cloves. Or add a bay leaf while you simmer the juice a few minutes. Remove juice from the heat as soon as it's piping hot . . ., and while spice flavor is still subtle (takes only about 5 minutes). Then pour bright red V-8 into juice glasses. Serve in the living room while guests wait for Christmas dinner. Or offer hot V-8 as first course at the table.

Meadows States Higher Wages Are Holding Teachers

County and city superintendents of education in the December 12 meeting agreed that the new teacher salary schedule is keeping many of our high trained teachers that would have been lost otherwise and has made possible the employment of additional teachers for the increasing enrollments in the public schools. Superintendents expressed the opinion that a continuation of this program will improve the quality of education throughout the State.

Superintendents stated that much of the current operation cost cannot be reduced regardless of length of school term, such as insurance on school buildings, debt service fuel, sanitation and lighting. School boards have already obligated themselves for these costs items.

Great concern was expressed by all superintendents over the need for additional classrooms to take care of the increasing enrollments and to remove many children from dilapidated and otherwise unsatisfactory classrooms. The average annual increase in the number of pupils is approximately 20,000. The State has not increased any provisions whatsoever to provide needed classrooms. The State is allocating less capital outlay funds per teacher unit than was provided annually twenty years ago. 787 schools are attempting to operate in churches and non-public owned buildings of one kind or another that are not satsfactory for schools. The public schools wil need over 750 classrooms each year through 1960 to take care o fincreased enrollments.

Folks and Things ABOUT TOWN

—By Ben

We're very sorry to hear that Dr. W. L. Parrish is seriously ill at the Veteran's Hospital at Montgomery. Reports are that very little hope is held for his recovery. We're also sorry that so fine a man was persecuted in his last years. After being "drafted" to run for the office of Judge of Probate some of the very friends who so urged him to make the race, turned on him and during his years in office he had to fight constantly for his good name and reputation. Judge Parrish never took a dishonest dollar as long as he lived, from anyone, and yet he was compelled to spend literally thousands of dollars to protect himself from disgrace. He may have used bad judgment at times but we do not believe anyone could ever accuse him of a dishonest act. Dr. W. L. Parrish was a martyr to sorry politics and we hope his Maker will spare him and give him many more useful years in service to his fellowman.

Beyond the shadow of a doubt this is the prettiest Christmas we have ever seen as regards the decorating of homes. It seems more time and thought—and of course that means more money—than ever before has been given to the beautifying of our homes. It is truly a beautiful Christmas. Let us hope each and every one of us take it upon ourselves to make Chistmas beautiful to someone else.

Someone down the street the other day said: "You and your wife never have a cross word, do you?" Well, to tell you the truth I have plenty but I never do get to use mine.

Alabama Trucker says: "Everything in the modern home is controlled by switches except the children."

Bright young faces with beautiful Christmas Carols sang at our door the other night. That is when we really got the Christmas spirit. There were some eight or ten girls and three boys and the music they made was fit to be recorded. Nothing is so beautiful as Christmas carols rendered by "the young in heart," and nothing makes nostalgic chills run up and down our back, or brings back fonder memories. It was very much appreciated. Thanks kids.

Speaking of singing the best we have heard from the younger set is the little boy who was singing the other day: "Oh, I come from Alabama with a band-aid on my knee."

After an active morning of playing outdoors, a little boy came in and asked his mother, "Who am I?" "Tarzan," she guessed. "That lady down the street was right!" exclaimed the lad. "She said I was so dirty that even my mother wouldn't know me."

And now our Christmas wish to YOU: May the good Lord above grant your every sincere wish and may YOU have all the happiness, joy, and contentment you desire through the coming year. Live for others, not for personal gain; Practice love, forget petty grievances; lift up your neighbor, never run him down; and above all, judge not, since none of us are capable of judging our neighbors deeds. And remember, as Gen. Douglas MacArthur wrote: You are as young as your faith, as old as your doubt; as young as your self confidence, as old as your fear; as young as your hope, as old as your despair: Merry Christmas—Ben.

Christmas Seals Are A Vital Part Of Christmas

That special before-Christmas look is getting into people's eyes.

Mothers are beginning to worry about their Christmas shopping.

Little boys and little girls are making those long lists to Santa.

Dads are beginning to wonder about that January accounting.

But there is excitement in the air and who would have it different?

Christmas is a very special time. . . for all our hustle, all our bustle. . . all our worry about gfts and giving. Everyone is thinking about their plans to make others happy.

But things for the tree, trinkets for the stockings, gifts to make mother smile, and something for Dad and . . whittling down of those things the youngsters list in their letters to Santa are just a part of today's Christmas thinking.

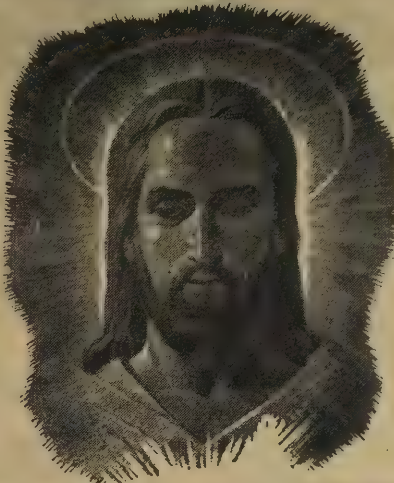
Home, wherever they are, in town or country, are brighter and happier than ever, because Christmas is a time for generous plans to make others happy.

And that is why Christmas Seals have taken their place as part of the Christmas tradition. Through buying and using Christmas Seals we help give our neighbors, as well as our own families the gift of health, freedom from Tuberculosis.

Christmas Seals belong with Christmas. They help put the sparkle in eyes of all at Christmas time.

Mail your check today to Chilton Tuberculosis Association, and check off one important; and necessary item on YOUR Christmas list.

One Solitary Life



Here is a man who was born in an obscure village, the child of a peasant woman. He grew up in another obscure village. He worked in a carpenter shop until He was thirty, and then for three years He was an itinerant preacher. He never wrote a book. He never held an office.

He never owned a home. He never set foot inside a big city. He never travelled two hundred miles from the place where He was born. He had no credentials but Himself.

He had nothing to do with this world except the naked power of His divine manhood. While still a young man, the tide of popular opinion turned against Him. His friends ran away. One of them denied Him. He was turned over to His enemies. He went through the mockery of a trial. He was nailed upon a cross between two thieves.

His executioners gambled for the only piece of property He had on earth while He was dying—and that was His coat. When He was dead He was taken down and laid in a borrowed grave through the pity of a friend.

Nineteen wide centuries have come and gone and today He is the centerpiece of the human race and the leader of progress. I am far within the mark when I say that all the armies that ever marched and all the navies that ever were built, and all the parliaments that ever sat, and all the kings that ever reined, put together have not affected the life of any upon this earth as powerfully as that One Solitary Life.

WOULD YOU CRUCIFY HIM AGAIN?

Next Sunday will mark the one thousand, nine hundred and fifty-fifth anniversary of the birth of Jesus Christ.

The limited civinization into which He was born seems small and unimportant as compared to today's modern world, but that civilization had the honor of first-hand teachings of the Son of God. Yet, this same small group of people crucified Him.

Today, nearly 2,000 years later, His word is still taught and His promise to return is still preached where ever Christianity has reached.

If Jesus were born again this Christmas day of 1955 would he be accepted or would He be crucified again?

For instance, would we accept Him if He were born in a country other than the United States? In this day of skepticism would we even believe in Him if He were born in the United States?

Jesus was not a showman and today sensationalism is foremost to spread any word in our country. Would anyone take the time to listen to His quiet teachings.

Without a denominational faith would our churches accept Him or flagrantly brand Him an imposter. His denomination was that of God. His vestments those of a working man and His "church" the out doors where He could speak to the multitudes. Would you go sit on a hill-side to hear a sermon preached? His congregation was composed of the needy and poor—folks who in all probability had never heard a sermon before His coming. They wore no fine clothes and He took up no collection, yet He never wanted.

Jesus spent His time reaching sinners not Christians. How would He be looked on today if He chose to associate with the class of people that He did many years ago? How long would we believe in Him as the Son of God if he mingled with racketeers, crooked politicians, bootleggers and the like. Yet, in all probability, those people are the ones He would concentrate His teachings on. The church-goers would get less of his attention and how would they accept Him?

In this day of race problems, would all races accept Him, no matter which He chose to be born into? He is the King of all races and yet, would we listen to His word if He were anything but Anglo-Saxon?

It is not likely that Jesus would come to us as a dynamic business, political, or religious figure. It is more conceivable that, as before, He would make His appearance where He was least expected. The people of His time on earth refused to accept Him because they were expecting a mighty king to lead strong armies on earth instead of one who could, in His quiet way, lead them to Heaven.

It is more likely that if He were born again next Sunday His following would be as small as before, and chances are He would be "crucified" again in some manner. But one thing we are sure of, His teachings would live on again and become as widespread as they are today from His last short life on earth.

HOLIDAYS ARE HAZARD DAYS

Turkeys are not the only creatures which experience a drop in life expectancy during the holiday season.

The Christmas-New Year holiday season also is the most hazardous single period of the year for homo-sapiens—that's us.

Last year, according to National Safety Council statistics, 515 persons were accidentally killed in two days at Christmas time.. Traffic accidents caused 392 of these deaths—fire and miscellaneous accidents, 123.

Over two days at New Year's 362 persons were killed—296 in traffic accidents, 66 in fire and miscellaneous accidents.

This is a total of 877 killed needlessly at what should be the happiest time of the year for everyone.

Year after year the accident toll hits a peak in December. The holiday season coincides with many winter traffic hazards. In many parts of the country streets and highways are dangerously slippery. Fog, rain, snow, sleet and fewer hours of daylight reduce the visibility of both driver and pedestrian.

Family get-togethers impel people to drive long distances regardless of weather. Shopping draws more people onto the streets. And, of course, there is more drinking than at any other time of the year.

It is a season of gaiety, to be sure, but gaiety to be enjoyed only if you resolve to protect yourself from accident and to "Be Your Brother's Keeper."

OUR NEIGHBOR'S KEEPER

America is a land in which, next after the family, the neighborhood is the social unit. In times of trouble and disaster, neighbors have a way of taking care of their own. Volunteer workers—again "the neighbors"—are always ready and willing to go into action when disaster strikes at their fellow Americans.

So it has been in the fight against infantile paralysis, a disease which so often has the impact of both personal and family disaster.

The March of Dimes has won support all over America because one neighbor is willing to help another. But it's always the neighbor next door. The "neighbor" in the fight against polio may be an afflicted child in another city far away.

Notwithstanding the Salk vaccine, many thousands of polio patients still need help. They are people for whom the vaccine came too late. And there's still a big job to be done in medical research, in recruiting and training scientists, doctors and other experts for a fight to the finish against this crippling disease.

January—through to the 31st—is March of Dimes time. It is your chance to send in your check for as much as you can afford to the County Chapter of the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis; and with the small change you have around, to fill the little Dime Cards that are being distributed throughout the county.

The March of Dimes merits the support of everyone who can give—even a little. Be a good neighbor. Join the March of Dimes today.

This sermon is like the most sensible lessons from the strife of other prophets, the world around—Akhenaten, Moses, Zoroaster, Jeremiah, Confucius, Buddha, Jesus, Mohammed. Representing their accumulated wisdom, which for centuries has pointed the way to sane conduct, within the universal discipline and challenge of 'God', The Sermon on the Mount is for everyone.

to read a message 19 centuries old?

The Sermon on the Mount is for everyone.
Anyone who reads it will be happier during the next 24 hours.
Anyone who carries it in his heart will be happier forever.
Read . . . re-read . . . and understand its words.
No speech ever promised . . . or delivered . . . so much.

WHEN he saw the crowds of people he went up on the mountain. There he seated himself, and when his disciples had come up to him, he opened his lips to teach them. And he said:

★ Blessed are those who feel their spiritual need, for the Kingdom of Heaven belongs to them! Blessed are the mourners, for they will be consoled! Blessed are the humble-minded, for they will possess the land! Blessed are those who are hungry and thirsty for uprightness, for they will be satisfied! Blessed are the merciful, for they will be shown mercy! Blessed are the pure in heart, for they will see God! Blessed are the peacemakers, for they will be called God's sons! Blessed are those who have endured persecution for their uprightness, for the Kingdom of Heaven belongs to them! Blessed are you when people abuse you, and persecute you, and falsely say everything bad of you, on my account. Be glad and exult over it, for you will be richly rewarded in heaven, for that is the way they persecuted the prophets who went before you!

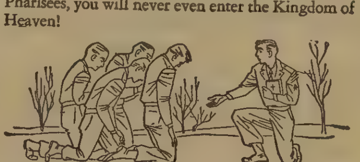
★ You are the salt of the earth! But if salt loses its strength, how can it be made salt again? It is good for nothing but to be thrown away and trodden underfoot. You are the light of the world! A city that is built upon a hill cannot be hidden. People do not light a lamp and put it under a peck-measure; they put it on its stand and it gives light to everyone in the house. Your light must burn in that way among men so that they will see the good you do, and praise your Father in heaven.

★ Do not suppose that I have come to do away with the Law or the Prophets. I have not come to do away with them but to fulfill them. For I tell you, as long as heaven and earth endure, not one dotting of an i or crossing of a t will be dropped from the Law until it is all observed. Anyone, therefore, who weakens one of the slightest of these commands, and teaches others to do so, will be ranked lowest in the Kingdom of Heaven; but anyone who observes them and teaches others to do so will be ranked high in the Kingdom of Heaven. For I tell you that unless your uprightness is far superior to that of the scribes and Pharisees, you will never even enter the Kingdom of Heaven!



★ You have heard that the men of old were told "You shall not murder," and "Whoever murders will have to answer to the court." But I tell you that anyone who gets angry with his brother will have to answer to the court, and anyone who speaks contemptuously to his brother will have to answer to the great council, and anyone who says to his brother "You cursed fool!" will have to answer for it in the fiery pit! So when you are presenting your gift at the altar, if you remember that your brother has any grievance against you, leave your gift right there before the altar and go and make up with your brother; then come back and present your gift. Be quick and come to terms with your opponent while you are on the way to court with him, or he may hand you over to the judge, and the judge may hand you over to the officer, and you will be thrown into prison. I tell you, you will never get out again until you have paid the last penny!

★ You have heard that men were told "You shall not commit adultery." But I tell you that anyone who looks at a woman with desire has already committed adultery with her in his heart. But if your right eye makes you fall, tear it out and throw it away, for you might better lose one part of your body than have it all thrown into the pit! If your right hand makes you fall, cut it off and throw it away! For you might better lose one part of your body than have it all go down to the pit!

★ They were told, "Anyone who divorces his wife must give her a certificate of divorce." But I tell you that anyone who divorces his wife on any ground, except unfaithfulness, makes her commit adultery, and anyone who marries her after she is divorced commits adultery.

★ Again, you have heard that the men of old were told, "You shall not swear falsely, but you must fulfil your oaths to the Lord." But I tell you not to swear at all, either by heaven, for it is God's throne, or by the earth, for it is his foot-stool; or by Jerusalem, for it is the city of the great king. You must not swear by your own head, for you cannot make one single

Internal Revenue Workers Will Assist You But Will Not Do It All For You

The Internal Revenue Service recently announced a nationwide policy of filling out income tax returns only for taxpayers who are illiterate, incapacitated or unable to read English. Other taxpayers will be assisted but they will do their own writing.

W. P. Chapman, Administrative Representative of the Montgomery Office said yesterday that the new method was used in several states during the 1955 filing period and that it was used in Alabama from March 25 to April 16. "The reason for this change is very simple" Chapman explained. "The National Office is trying to use the manpower which we all pay for to the best advantage of all taxpayers."

He pointed out that more than 5300 man days were used on taxpayer assistance in Alabama from January 1 to April 15, 1955 and the Alabama field agents averaged $1021 additional revenue per man day spent on additional tax examinations from January 1 to October 31, 1955. "That totals up to $5,511,300 loss in revenue plus the salaries and expenses involved" Chapman said.

Chapman further said that he believed the new taxpayer assistance program would enable enforcement officers to produce at least $100,000,000 in additional revenues thruout the United States from January 1 to April 16, 1956.

Commenting on taxpayer acceptance of experimental installations of the new system last year Chapman said, "The overwhelming majority of taxpayers were very willing to do what they could for themselves when they understood why and realized that we still gave them the help they actuall yneeded. After all, they expect us to make the most economical use of the manpower they pay for."

Chapman announced that taxpayers would be assisted by telephone, or in the Montgomery Office, located in the New Post Office Building on th third floor. The telephone number is 3-7521, Extension 371.

The following suggestions were offered to taxpayers by Chapman:

"Try to prepare the return by using the forms and instruction sheets which will be mailed to taxpayers who filed last year. Use the index to the instruction sheets to avoid unnecessary reading. Using last year's copy, as a guide, will help. Go as far as you can without help, then get help by telephone if possible. If you prefer, yiu may Revenue office with the help of an agent or auditor."

Ending up on a pleasant note, Chapman said that many taxpayers will save money by becoming more familiar with tax forms and instruction sheets.

Navy Selling "Career Package"

Getting ready for another month of busy activity, Chief Ratchford, in charge of the Navy Recruiting Station in Clanton, is wrapping a revised "carreer package" at his downtown address in the Post Office building.

"The Navy," he said, "is determined to meet its present manpower shortage with an honest career plan for deserving young men and women, and is certain that the majority of future WAVES and bluejackets will be volunteer regulars and not inductees."

Chief Ratchford added that the revised career plan will offer the most attractive list of benefits and advantages ever assembled for the youth of America.

Outlining a few choice parts of his package, the Navy man touched briefly on the increased pay of the Armed Forces, $10,000 free life insurance policy, medical benefits for the service person and their dependents, and new procedures for getting the bluejackest or WAEV in the duty location of their choice.

A special inducement to newcomers to the Navy is the Airman program which puts the aviation-minded fellows, and girls, into the vital echelon of the Navy; and there is even a "Buddy" plan which allows friends to enlist together and remain together throughout their basic training.

Highly enthusiastic about the improved living conditions in the Navy Chief Ratchford said that the Admirals now are putting special emphisis on the department, and that the new men-o-war and shore stations are as close to homelife as human ingenuity can make it.

In the educational department, the Navy is taking the raw material of youth and teaching it to run the tools of a most complex organizztion, and Navy taught skills have high market value in civilian life.

To wrap the "package" securely, he pointed out that off-time study courses now takek sailor men and women all the way to a college degree, and moral guidance program in the faith of their choice builds the moral fiber of naval personnel.

Hard at his recruiting task this month, Chief Ratchford said his "sails" campaign offers a product hard to refues, particularly if the young person has an eye trained to the future.

heard that they were told, "You must ighbor and hate your enemy." But I tell ur enemies and pray for your persecutors, may show yourselves true sons of your aven, for he makes his sun rise on bad alike, and makes the rain fall on the the wrongdoers. For if you love only love you, what reward can you expect? very tax-collectors do that? And if you your brothers and no one else, what is kable in that? Do not the very heathen you are to be perfect, as your heavenly care not to do your good deeds in public to see, for, if you do, you will get no n your Father in heaven. So when you give to charity, do not blow a trumpet rself, as the hypocrites do, in places of d the streets, to make people praise them. that is all the reward they will get! But give to charity, your own left hand must what your right hand is doing, so that your y be secret, and your Father who sees what ill reward you.

you pray, you must not be like the hypo- they like to pray standing in places of wor- n the corners of the squares, to let people I tell you, that is the only reward they will hen you pray, go into your own room, and oor, and pray to your Father who is unseen, Father who sees what is secret will reward when you pray, do not repeat empty the heathen do, for they imagine that ers will be heard if they use words enough. not be like them. For God, who is your ows what you need before you ask him. efore, is the way you are to pray:

r in heaven, Your name be revered!
dom come!
be done on earth as it is done in heaven!
day bread for the day,

subject us to temptation, s from the evil one.'

For if you forgive others when they offend you, your heavenly Father will forgive you too. But if you do not forgive others when they offend you, your heavenly Father will not forgive you for your offenses.

★ When you fast, do not put on a gloomy look, like the hypocrites, for they neglect their personal appearance to let people see that they are fasting. I tell you, that is all the reward they will get. But when you fast, perfume your hair and wash your face, so that no one may see that you are fasting, except your Father who is unseen, and your Father who sees what is secret, will reward you.

★ Do not store up your riches on earth, where moths and rust destroy them, and where thieves break in and steal them, but store up your riches in heaven, where moths and rust cannot destroy them, and where thieves cannot break in and steal them. For wherever your treasure is, your heart will be also.

The eye is the lamp of the body. If then your eye is sound, your whole body will be light, but if your eye is unsound, your whole body will be dark. If, therefore, your very light is darkness, how deep the darkness will be! No slave can belong to two masters, for he will either hate one and love the other, or stand by one and make light of the other. You cannot serve God and money. Therefore, I tell you, do not worry about life, wondering what you will have to eat or drink, or about your body, wondering what you will have to wear. Is not life more important than food, and the body than clothes? Look at the wild birds. They do not sow or reap, or store their food in barns, and yet your heavenly Father feeds them. Are you not of more account than they? But which of you with all his worry can add a single hour to his life? Why should you worry about clothing? See how the wild flowers grow. They do not toil or spin, and yet I tell you, even Solomon in all his splendor was never dressed like one of them. But if God so beautifully dresses the wild grass, which is alive today and is thrown into the furnace tomorrow, will he not much more surely clothe you, you who have so little faith? So do not worry and say, "What shall we have to eat?" or "What shall we have to drink?" or "What shall we have to wear?" For these are all things the heathen are in pursuit of, and your heavenly Father knows well that you need all this. But you must make his kingdom, and uprightness before him, your greatest care, and you will have all these other things besides. So do not worry about tomorrow, for tomorrow will have worries of its own. Let each day be content with its own ills.

★ Pass no more judgments upon other people, so that you may not have judgment passed upon you. For you will be judged by the standard you judge by, and men will pay you back with the same measure you have used with them. Why do you keep looking at the speck in your brother's eye, and pay no attention to the beam that is in your own? How can you say to your brother, "Just let me get that speck out of your eye," when all the time there is a beam in your own? You hypocrite! First get the beam out of your own eye, and then you can see to get the speck out of your brother's eye.

★ Do not give what is sacred to dogs, and do not throw your pearls before pigs, or they will trample them under their feet and turn and tear you in pieces. Ask, and what you ask will be given you. Search, and you will find what you search for. Knock, and the door will open to you. For it is always the one who asks who receives, and the one who searches who finds, and the one who knocks to whom the door opens. Which of you men when his son asks him for some bread will give him a stone? Or if he asks for a fish, will he give him a snake? So if you, bad as you are, know enough to give your children what is good, how much more surely will your Father in heaven give what is good to those who ask him for it! Therefore, you must always treat other people as you would like to have them treat you, for this sums up the Law and the Prophets.

★ Go in at the narrow gate. For the road that leads to destruction is broad and spacious, and there are many who go in by it. But the gate is narrow and the road is hard that leads to life, and there are few that find it.

★ Beware of the false prophets, who come to you disguised as sheep but are ravenous wolves underneath. You can tell them by their fruit. Do people pick grapes off thorns, or figs off thistles? Just so any sound tree bears good fruit, but a poor tree bears bad fruit. No sound tree can bear bad fruit, and no poor tree can bear good fruit. Any tree that does not bear good fruit is cut down and burned. So you can tell them by their fruit. It is not everyone who says to me "Lord! Lord!" who will get into the Kingdom of Heaven, but only those who do the will of my Father in heaven. Many will say to me on that Day, "Lord! Lord! Was it not in your name that we prophesied, and by your name that we drove out demons, and by your name that we did many mighty acts?" Then I will say to them plainly, "I never knew you! Go away from me, you who do wrong!"

★ Everyone, therefore, who listens to this teaching of mine and acts upon it, will be like a sensible man who built his house on rock. And the rain fell, and the rivers rose, and the winds blew, and beat about that house, and it did not go down, for its foundations were on rock. And anyone who listens to this teaching of mine and does not act upon it, will be like a foolish man who built his house on sand. And the rain fell and the rivers rose, and the winds blew and beat about that house, and it went down, and its downfall was complete.

★ When Jesus had finished this discourse, the crowds were astounded at his teaching, for he taught them like one who had authority and not like their scribes.

Letters to the Editor

PUBLIC SAFETY DIRECTOR ASKS: DO WE REALLY DESERVE CHRISTMAS?

Each year at Christmas time, many of us count the blessings and good things we've experienced during the preceding year—Others of us count our dead—Many of us bring to pass our dreams of the oft-sung White Christmas while others have only black memories with which to face the future. So terrible is our highway death toll and particularly, during this happiest of holiday seasons, the question arises as to our motives. Maybe we don't deserve Christmas. Either we are laboring under a gross misconception of the purpose of the Yuletide observance, or we are deliberately returning to the blind and savage joys of the feast.

Death was an accepted part of the early Roman holiday. Perhaps death is becoming a too easily accepted part of ours. People were rarely fed to the lions without reason, although the reason was frequently only a point of view. People died in the Coliseum if for no other reason than that they were enemies, slaves or Christians. But people die in Alabama today especially during periods of great festivity for apparently n reason at all. And the deaths are referred to as setting a new record annually as though in challenge for a try at the next higher category. In Alabama since January 1, 1950 to date there has been one killed every 11 hours and one injured every 33 minutes as a result of carelessness and utter disregard of our responsibility to our fellow man. Do we really deserve Christmas?

The spirit of Christmas has been given so often and do lavishly to Christmas all over the world, that like an overflowing cup, they cannot contain it and must offer it to all who approach. This they have regularly done and the pleasures of Christmas are enjoyed by all who wish them. This enjoyment, however, is essentially a privilege. It is not a license for impassioned drinking and un-bridled speed, the combination of whic' so often strews the highways with dead.

The automobile is truly a wonderful thing. But it may be suggested that too often it is tons of steel and alloy used as a deadly weapon. It is time, perhaps, that more of us, other than the immediate family of the deceased become horrified at the frequently insane misuse of the machine. If, as statistics seem to prove, each year more and more of us set out at the Yuletide to kill and maim, create shock and heartbreak and let tragedy stalk our State and nation under a mantle of holiday cheer, perhaps we don't deserve Christmas at all. Surely we don't deserve that gift of the latter day Magi, the automobile.

As individuals, we may have lost our sense of values regarding Christmas. As individuals, we fully appreciate the simple pleasures of gift-giving, the turkey dinners and gleeful squeals of happy children. But when we pack the family into the car and rush headlong into another, the slaughter is a terrible sacrifice on the altar of carelessness. Our sense of values must be warped, indeed, to spread so black a pall of destruction about the Christmas countryside. And next year, the statisticians will add up the next expected total. It has been greater than the previous year with few exceptions, and many people, somewhere between 500 and 1,000 in this country of ours who are going to begin their two-week end holiday rounds on the theory that they will have a good time if it kills them. And it will. How many will be killed in Alabama? Are they themselves to blame? Are their heartbroken families to blame? Or are we, as a people, to blame? If we are, and it could b that we are, maybe we don't deserve Christmas. What do you think?

This is my Yuletide message to you. Something to give serious thought to, isn't it?

Bill Lyerly, Dept. of Public Safety Director.

THE REV HART WRITES ON DICTION

Perhaps this will be good for your readers to think about: On 'Getting it Right."

The Hymn says, "Oh Worship the King," then why do people persist in singing "O Worship the King?" The Hymn says "The world in solemn stillness lay."

Why do people sing "Solum"?

Then there is "O Little Town of Bethlehem." The song refers to how silently the wonderous gift was given; and hiw the silent stars go by. Why do people sing "How silently, How silently" and "The silunt stars go by?"

In singing about Angels, Why do people sing about "Angles or Anguls?"

In Hymns of worship, why do people sing "O Worshup the King" or "Cime and Worshup, Come and Worshup Christ the new born King?

Why do people say "Jerusulum" or "Jeruzulum" when the name is "Jerusalem?"

Why do speakers and writers enjoy belittling Joseph and aMry as poor peasants when Joseph was a prosperous carpenter, able each year to make the expensive journey to Jerusalem with his family to attend the annual religious rites of the Jewish religion? Joseph was not connected with farming. A Peasant has to do with poorly paid farm labor.

Why should a writer go mto dramatics in reference to casting lots over "the only garment that Jesus ever owned?"

Or why should he blatantly declare that Jesus had no credentials but his own, when the record clearly states that the voices from heaven testified of him?

Yours with best Seasons Greetings to all friends.

I ALVA HART.

The American Legion is not asking for a cent for the veteran who has private means, regardless of whether he is aged or no longer employable. Our purpose is to take care of the aged veteran who is in economic distress due to unemployability and has an adequate income or no income at all.

According to Fullen, the precedent for such an actilon was established in 1943 when the Legion appointed a special committee on the GI Bill and helped steer through the Congress that historic legislation, which is referred to as WWI Bill, that did more to promote home ownership and higher education in this country than all other laws passed since the birth f th republic.

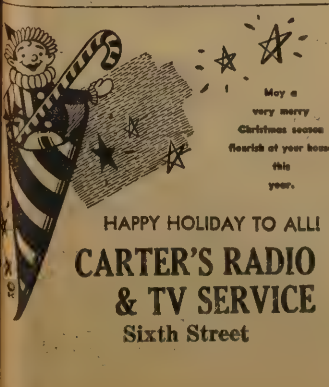
The Legion endorsed pension plan would increase benefits from $66.15 to $85.00; $78.75 to $105.00 and $135.45 to $150.00 if adopted by Congress.

In eddition to non-service connected pensions increase, the Legion will give high priority to an across-the Board increase of 10 per cent for service connected compensation.

The Legion also feels that surviving Widows and orphans of WW II and Korean vets should be entitled to the same benefits now provided for survivors of deceased World War I veterans.

The proposed increase comes at a time when the White House, Congress and the President's commission on Veterans Affairs are each invetigating ways and means to reduce the cost of existing programs.

Fullen stated further that in the face of the above proposed action and investigations, that every veteran who received an honorable discharge, should join the Veterans organiaztion of his choice.



May a very merry Christmas season flourish at your house this year.

Psalms 122:1; "I was glad when they said unto me, let us go into the house of the Lord."

It was good to be at church last Sunday. The Lord blessed us in many ways. We had two spirit-filled sermons. Hebrews 9:18-28 "Your Appointment," with the key verse found in the 27th verse; and Ezekiel 37:1-14, "The Parable of Dry Bones."

Next Sunday night after BTU we will have our Christmas program. After the program the children will exchange gifts. Every one has an invitation to atend our Christmas program.

Next Saturday night at 7:00 is Family Night. All WMU and Brotherhood members are urged to be present. Bring all your GA's and RA's. We have a place for them and we need them.

Everyone greatly enjoyed the duet Sunday night by Misses Annette and Mary Jones. They sang, "What Will You Do With Jesus?" Keep singing girls, we'll be listening for you to sing for us again real soon.

Mr. and Mrs. Renzie Blalock and Mrs. Alma Wilson all spent Sunday in Sylacauga with their children Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Wilson and children, Roger Dale and Jan; and Mr. and Mrs. Ray Wilson and daughter, Sandra.

Rev. and Mrs. Donald Dobbs and family, also Mr. Ledbetter had Sunday dinner with Mr. and Mrs. A C. Harris and family.

Cpl. Morris Bowles of Washington, D. C., was the guest of his aunt, Mrs. Caldwell Mims, last Friday.

The Thomas Jr. Home Demonstration Club met last Thursday at the home of Mrs. Charles Sandlin with six members and two visitors present. The devotional was given by Mrs. F. M. Guy. The demonstration was a Christmas program on making Christmas corsages. After the demonstration, small gifts were exchanged and a delightful plate of cookies and coffee were served.

We are happy to report that Mrs Loyd Paterson, who is in a hospital in Savannah, Mo., is very much improved and that she is expected to be able to come home in about one more week.

Congratulations to Mr. and Mrs Harvey Litleton on the birth of a new baby girl whom they have named Sharon Kay.

The basket ball teams played at Stanton last Friday afternoon. The scores were in favor of Vermont. Thomas Jr. Teams will come to Vermont this Friday to play. The public is invited to attend the game.

Our school is working on a Christmas program to be given on Thursday morning, Dec. 22. We invite all of our parents to be present. Gifts will be exchanged in the different rooms. Fruit will be given each child from the lunch room on Thursday, December 22.

About five years ago, five of our local Doctors petitioned your Chilton County Government to take proper steps to set up a County Hospital Board and submit to the the people a measure to provide revenue through a 4 mill property tax so that the Board would have funds to match with State and Federal Funds whereby a modern Hospital facility could be built here in Chilton County. This move by the Doctors who were Dr. C. O. Lawrence, Dr. W. C. Golden, Dr. Charles R. Moore, Dr. Joe Moore, and Dr. Joe H. Johnson, was outstanding evidence of their far sighted vision of the present and future health needs of the people of our County, and full credit goes to them for initiating and later, working tirelessly toward the fulfillment of a dream which provides for our people one of the most modern health facilities in the nation.

Since that day, a great deal of planning, followed up by a wonderful display of cooperation in a tremendous task, by the Doctors, County Government Officials, State and Federal Officials and your own Hospital Board, (consisting of nine men, serving without pay)and backed by the support of the citizenship of Chilton County, has brought into being a modern Hospital which is daily serving the people of this County with efficiency equal to any of the finest hospitals anywhere.

Cost of Hospital—

To build and equip your Hospital, approximately $665,000.00 has been spent, from which $400,000 was furnished by the Federal Government $60,000.00 by the State, and the balance by proceeds from the County 4 mill Hospital tax. Your Hospital board has financed this without floating a long time bond issue. There being oustanding, only one loan of $45,000 to a local bank which will be paid off from proceeds of the taxes being collected for this year. There are, however, certain very definite financial problems connected with the operation of this, or any other hospital, the answer to which cannot be made at this stage of the operation, since the hospital has only been open since the first of August. First, we must accumulate ample funds to provide for operating losses which are normally expected for the period of getting the hospital operation established. This time varies, but quite frequently, based on the experience of hospitals of similar size in other communities, it is two years and sometimes longer, depending on local conditions, before a hospital is able to operate within revenues derived through its operation. Second, we can reasonably expect to have to provide hospital care for some indignent patients. Time will be needed to determine more accurately what per cent this will amount to. Third, to safeguard the maintenance of the hospital and its equipment with up-to- the minute facilities, funds should be set aside to guarantee that this will be taken care of down through the years. If such a policy is not pursued, it will only be a matter of a few years until our hospital will become obsolete and run down. This in turn would reflect in poor and inadequate service to the people. Certainly, to do otherwise would be unwise and would jeopardize the health and lives of our peiple.

The State Auditors have just completed their audit of our books and as soon as their official report is received, we will report this to the people through the papers, at which time exact dollar and cent figures can be given, which will show just what has been received and what has been spent. It has been the policy from the beginning of its incorporation of the Hospital Board, to use the monies derived from the Hospital tax with maximum efficiency and with due regard for the sound operation of the Hospital both present and future. It is also the policy of the Board, at the earliest possible time, to recommend to the County Board of Revenue and Control, reduction of the Hospital tax.

Operation of the Hospital—

Every effort has been made by the Hospital Board to effect a smooth and efficient operation of our hospital by adopting sound operating policies and by the employment of the highest type personnel and staff. We feel in this respect the people employed at the Hospital are doing an excellent job and are well trained, in their respective positions. The actual management and operation of the Hospital is handled for the Board through our Administrator, Mr. David W. Morgan, who has had special training and experience for this type work. Under him, he has his office staff, nursing staff, dietary staff and maintenance staff. Mr. Morgan also corelates the operation of the hospital with the Medical Staff, and acts as liaison between this body and the Board. The Medical Staff for the Hospital consists of all the local active practicing Doctors who elect thehir officers on an annual basis. Serving for the current year are Dr. Charles R. Moore, President, Dr. W. C. Golden Vice-president, and Dr. Joe W. Moore, Secretary. The principal role of the Medical Staff of the Hospital is to provide for the professional and scientific needs and assist in setting up techniques and procedures which provide for the best patient care.

Needless to say, the fine cooperation which they are providing points to the future successful operation of our Hospital.

In the short time the Hospital has been open, there has been a steady increase in the use of the facilities, and as far as we are able to determine, the people, both patients and their families have been well pleased with the services rendered.

Current usage of the Hospital is averaging a little under fifty per cent of its capacity, starting off with around forty per cent occupancy. Accordingly, we can normally predict that in a matter of two or three years, the Hospital will be operating at or near its maximum capacity.

Your Hospital Board has attempted to report periodically to the people of Cihlton County as to the status of the Hospital project and we are constantly trying to provide for you the finest in Hospital care at the minimum cost. We welcome at all times, your suggestions and constructive criticism. We also invite you to visit the hospital at your convenience and see it in operation.

Chilton County Hospital Board,
By F. Leo Thompson, Chairman.

Morris Mims Writes On "Divine Healing"

As there are many people who have heard of Divine Healing, but have not yet fully felt satisfied as to whether the Bible really teaches it or not. It has seemed well to begin with Genesis and go through the Bible selecting a few outstanding passages which speak of God's healing his people. By going over these carefully and thoughtfully with anyone who is really open to the truth, we can surely prove to them that God does heal His children. Let us notice healings in the Old Testament:

Genesis 20:17: God heals Abimelech through Abraham's prayer.

In Exodus 15:26 God not only makes the direct statement that He is "The Lord that healeth." but also promises that if His children of Israel will head and obey His words, He will not put upon them the diseases which He put upon the Egyptians. It is a promise of protection as well as of deliverance.

Exodus 23:25 God has just given the Israelites His Commandments. Here He promises relief from sickness for the whole company, "Serve the Lord and I will take away sickness from the midst of thee."

Numbers 12:10-15. Even though Miriam and Aaron had spoken against Moses, and God had stricken Miriam with Leprosy, in answer to Moses' prayer, she is healed.

Numbers 21:5-9. Here we have not only healing, but also a type, salvation. The peoples sin, their punishment and God's deliverance. From John 3:14-15 we learn that the brazen serpent pictures Christ "made sin for us." One look at Him, our substitute as He was "lifted up," and healing comen, healing for body and soul.

Deuteronomy 7:15. Israel had failed. They, through fear and disbelief, refused to go in and possess the land. A new generation had now come. To them God gives anew the promises of Exodus 15:26; 23:25 "I am the Lord that healeth thee," and also promises them the same as their fathers.

Deuteronomy 30:19-20. He is thy life, and the length of thy days."

Deuteronomy 32:39, "I make alive, and I heal."

I Kings 13:4-6. The healing of King Jeroboam through the prayer of the Man of God.

II Kings 5:1-17. Naaman's healing "Go and wash and thou shalt be clean." God asks only the simplicity of belief.

II Kings 20:5-6. Hezekiah's life prolonged through prayer.

Isaiah 53:4-5. "He hath borne our pain and carried our sickness." For a better rendering, He hath borne them, He has carried them. Under the law it was "Do and ye shall live," under grace, Christ has done all for us. He died under the weight of our sins. He suffered the stripes for our healing. He purchased our salvation, our healing.

Isa. 61:1 In Luke 4:16-21 Christ uses this passage to explain the reason for His coming. "To preach good tidings, to bind up the brokenhearted, to proclaim liberty to the captives, and the opening of prison doors to them that are bound."

If you are captive in body or soul Christ came to set you free, only believe. All things are possible.

SCIENCE IN YOUR LIFE

Sore Throat Salved

Scholarly A. E. Housman once wrote that his poetry "sprang chiefly from physical causes, such as a relaxed sore throat." Few of us could rival Housman's literary style, but a waning sore throat often evokes in us at least a poetic sigh of relief.

Your sore throat may show up as one of the most annoying symptoms of the common cold. It can also be a separate infection caused by a variety of bacteria. A particularly vicious type of infection is the commonly-termed "strep" throat caused by streptococcus germs.

Although the common cold so far remains intractable, science fortunately has developed some effective remedies against throat infections. Doctors use antibiotics routinely in treating the "strep" throat. Drug stores now sell antibiotics in the form of candy-like lozenges. These orange-flavored Candettes attack invading microbes and ease throat pain. Saline gargles are helpful in washing out by-products of throat infection.

Because respiratory infections are spread by coughing and sneezing, many attempts have been made to keep germs from floating in the air. Ultraviolet light and medicated vapor sprays have been used.

Still, respiratory diseases, including sore throat and the common cold, cost the U.S. a staggering two billion dollars annually. Other estimates place the toll as high as five billion. A recent study of illness among employees of a major petroleum company revealed that respiratory ailments account for over half of the absences.

Although sore throat may herald only a common cold, medical specialists warn that it may also tip off the onset of a more serious disease. If symptoms hang on or keep coming back, you should consult your doctor.

Minnie Wade Earns "Baton Twirling" Recognition

National recognition for skill, leadership and reputable achievements beyond her own local area has been given to Minnie C. Wade, 10th St. N. Clanton, Alabama in the 1956 Library Edition of "Who's Who in Baton Twirling."

She was selected by officials of the National Baton Twirling Association, Janesville, Wisconsin in conjunction with the editors of the nationally circulated Drum Major magazine as one of the 800 outstanding young men and women in the twirling field. This achievement is even greater when figures show more than 130,000 twirlers are active in the United States today.

The 300 page book contains pictures and biographical histories of America's greatest twirling stars; the story of the evolution of the baton and twirling art; and interesting, informative reference material.

This year's edition will be distributed to leading public and school libraries across the country.

The honor of the selection can be better exemplified by J. Edgar Hoover when he said, "The knowledge that you young people are directing your energies and talents along such wholesome lines is very reassuring."

On Christmas eve night there will be an all-night meeting at New Hope, better known as Smith's school house. Rev. Wily Doris is pastor. Everyone has an invitation to attend this service.

Thought—

As Christmas is being celebrated throughout our nation we usually find ourselves wondering what we can give our friends. Have you ever stopped and asked yourself what you can give God? It is true that the earth is the Lord's and the fullness thereof, but He has said, "Son give me thine heart"; what greater gift can be given than your heart. So this Christmas look around you and see the many ways in which you can help some one else and in so doing, give gifts unto God.

This is the Christmas season when all hearts should be gay,
But let me tell you something that happened yesterday;

We wanted to go shopping
To buy some Christmas toys and bring them out to church
For the little girls and boys

But while we walked the crowded street
With people hurrying on
I spied a helpless beggar
Sitting all alone.

His hat was almost empty,
And it makes me so asahmed
To have dropped in just a penny
When my hand was full of change.

To him may Christmas season
Just never never stop,

Christmas Legend of Fern—

Entwined with Christmas festivities are many interesting legends, traditions, fanciful stories and folklore, some of which is now old but carries a deep reverence for our yuletide celebration.

It is said the stable where Jesus was born was the inside of a cavern, still to be seen in Bethlehem; that in fron of this stable was an old house once occupied by Jesse, father of David. Nearby David pastured his sheep, but he ruined house was now just a partly thatched shed.

It was here the Virgin Mary became the mother of the Christ Child and an old legend of the fern relates that when the Virgin wrapped Him in swaddling clothes and laid Him in the manger, the dry straw and hay with which it was filled suddenly burst into green freshness and life and lovely wild flowers formed a wreath which twined about he head of the heavenly child. Scatered in the straw were some dry ferns, too lazy to restore themselves to freshness or to show reverence to the Christ Child. From that time on, as a punishment, the fern was dispossed of its blossoms and has thrived only in the dark places in the woods, while previously it grew in the sunshine, bearing beautiful flowers.

Winners Named In Alabama Power Co. Fishing Contest

Alabama Power Company 1955 Fishing Contest Judges met last week in Wetumpka, and after their annual dinner, selected trophy winners. The judging was the usual easy task, but the rule book had to be consulted on several occasions. Many entries of fish that would have been winners in the Smallmouth Bass Division were not considered because no picture was sent in with the entry. There were two ties, but according to contest rules, the first fish entered is the winner.

The month of October prize winner was E. N. Sewell, Sylacauga. Highway Patrolman, Fred Steen, Clanton, caught a 4 pound 12 oz. Smallmouth Bass that weighed the same as that of Mr. Sewell's catch, but Officer Steen did not send in a picture, which eliminated his chances to win.

The old saying that, "you should never stop plugging unitl the final whistle blows" was proven right again. During the month of Novembr, not one entry was made in the contest and, therefore, no one was awarded the monthly $10.00 cash prize. What about that? Even a small Bream fry entry would have won the prize. You fishermen who thought your catch was too small to win would have won had you entered your catch with a picture.

The following winners will be advised, and the trophies will be delivered when engraving is completed.

—By Ben

Our ex-"Girl Friday" Gearldene Melton is announcing her engagement to be married next week. We wish Gearldene and her prospective groom all the happiness she deserves and a long life together. We know of no young lady in our small city with more charm or personality than has Gearldene.

Hope you have a long list of New Year resolutions prepared for next Sunday, January First. Of course we never knew anyone to keep a New Year resolution but if you fail to make a whole batch then you won't have any to break the following day. The best way to keep them is to make a copy and lock it up in the safe.

Gene Gore is still putting stamps on Christmas cards. We saw him at the post office several times this Christmas gathering cards with no stamps and putting stamps on them so they would be delivered to the addressees. A unique present for many people who never know of the giver.

Little Susan's mother had caught cold and resorted to that old-fashioned remedy, a glass of hot whiskey and water. A bit later, Susan was going to bed. When her mother came to kiss her goodnight, the child looked at her strangely. "You've been using Daddy's perfume," she said solemnly.

We were feeling pretty good the other day when someone who didn't know any better told the wife that she had a model husband. Then we went to the dictionary and looked up the meaning of the word model—"A small imitation of the real thing."

During the Christmas three-day holiday 609 motorists lost their lives on the highways. Within a few days another three-day holiday will be observed and more will die thru carelessness, speed, and other reasons which are preventable. Make sure you are not guilty of gross negligence.

She: "You remind me of the ocean."
He: "Wild, romantic and restless?"
She: "No, you make me sick."

Safe Driving Tips For New Year Are Offered By Expert

"Steer yourself on the road to safety in 1956."

That is the advice of Danny Eames, chief test driver for Dodge, who suggests that motorists adopt New Year's resolutions governing their "behind the wheel" conduct.

Said Eames, "People joke about New Year's resolutions. Every year countless resolutions are made to give up candy, tobacco, or correct bad habits with no serious intentions behind them."

"However", he continued, "safety is a serious business. If each driver would resolve to observe traffic rules every day of the year, the highway accident toll would be greatly reduced in 1956."

Here are ten resolutions Eames recommends for motoring safety during the New Year:

1. Observe all traffic regulations. They're designed for your protection.
2. Keep a safe distance behind the car ahead, particularly at higher speeds.
3. Stay in your own lane on hills, curves and in "no passing" zones.
4. Dim your lights to oncoming traffic, when driving at night.
5. Give the right of way to pedestrians.
6. Always be on the alert for children.
7. Know the proper hand or direction signals and use them.
. Watch where you're going, and keep an eye on other cars near you.
9. Regulate speed to road conditions as well as to posted speed limits.
10. Give the other fellow more than his share of the road.

Innerspring mattresses should never be beaten or bent.

Property damage high---

Injuries Are Minor In Numerous Yule Holiday Accidents

For the second straight week end numerous automobile accidents caused extensive property damage in Chilton County. Out of the four accidents reported by the Highway Patrol only one man was admitted to the local hospital for treatment

Robert Ellison received head lacerations but was not treated at the hospital when his car collided with another car at 11:30 p.m. Friday night, Dec. 23rd. The other car was driven by Ellison's son-in-law Robert Berney Varden of Mobile, formerly of Clanton. The wreck occurred on the Mineral Springs Road.

William Eldridge Roberts was admitted to the Chilton County Hospital on Saturday, Dec. 24th for treatment of a lacerated scalp and facial cuts. Roberts was injured in a wreck 1 mile south of Verbena on U. S. 31 at Sandy Creek. Driving the other car was Clyde Price of Verbena Rt. 1. Roberts and his wife were en route from their home in Pensacola, Fla., to Birmingham to spend Christmas with relatives.

A one-car collision on the Enterprise Road Saturday night completely demolished a late-model car without injury to the driver who was thrown clear of the wreck. The car is reported to have struck a pole after skidding off the road.

A truck driven by Donald Sinclair Partridge of Clanton, Rt. 1, was in collision with an automobile driven by Charles Langston of Jemison, Rt. 2, at 3:45 p.m. Tuesday, Dec. 27th. The two vehicles collided atop a hill crest on the New Salem-Union Grove Road.

According to Highway Patrolman Hugh Champion, Chilton County has had four traffic deaths during 1955 and there's one more holiday to go. This figure is slightly less than last year's highway deaths in Chilton.

Newspaper Ads Gross More Than All Other Media

According to a statement recently released by the Bureau of Advertising, American Newspaper Publishers Association, newspapers still lead as our country's chief means of advertising.

Also released was the fact that 55,000,000 copies of newspapers were bought daily, literally covering every city and hamlet in America. This is a record all-time high in newspaper circulation.

During 1955 newspaper advertising approached the $3,000,000,000 mark and paid off in what manufacturers and merchants acclaimed as extraordinary results. This gross advertising sum far surpasses the amount spent in radio, television, magazines and outdoor advertising combined.

Wayne Ross Clackler, age 14, was killed on Christmas eve day when struck in the head by a blast from a 12 guage shotgun.

Young Clackler, son of Mr. and Mrs. Reedie C. Clackler of Clanton, had just returned from a hunting trip with James Armstrong when the accident occurred.

The two boys had unloaded their guns before getting to the Temple community and when they were just southeast of the Temple Church they started throwing up cans and pretending they were firing at them with their shotguns. Clackler had just thrown up a can and ran in front of Armstrong as he "fired" at it, it is reported. The shotgun went off and its load hit Wayne in the back of the head at close range.

Study Course To Begin Soon At The West End Baptist

A wonderful group of study course books will be studied at West End Baptist Church January 2 through the 6. Classes will begin at 6:45 each night.

One of the finest teachers that could be found will teach the Young People and Adults book, "Teachings of Jesus." He is one that everyone will want to here, the Rev. F. H. Day. There is a passage of scripture found in Matthew 5:6:7, that we all enjoy reading and studying. Rev. Day will have much to tell all who come, about the Sermon on the Mount. This study is the formula for lifting Christians to higher ground.

Mrs. J. W. Johnson is another fine teacher. She will teach the Intermediate book, "Growing in Bible Knowledge." No one knows as much about the Bible as he should. So as we study this wonderful book may we make these words our motto, Growing in Bible Knowledge. It is the desire of every Christian to grow continuously in knowledge. The fruit of your growth in Bible knowledge shall be a Christlike personality that seeks to keep the commandments of our Lord.

The junior book will be "This is My Bible." This book will be of great interest to all Juniors. Doris and Dave are twins that received a Bible from their parents. They are thrilled to have a Bible of their very own. They learn from their grandfather how the Bible was first written. All Juniors will learn how to make a Scroll along with many other things. Mrs. Billy Dykes will be the teacher.

FARM PROBLEMS, OLD AND NEW

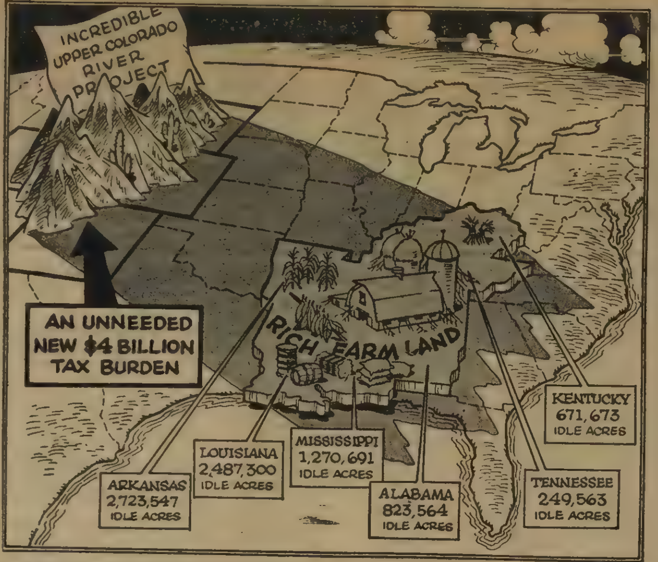
One of the most persistent fallacies that seems to be in the minds of many people is that farm surpluses are something new . . . and that our farm price problem has developed only during the years that we have had a federal farm program.

These people are either too young to remember or too lazy to find out. It should be apparent to anyone that there never would have been a federal farm program in the first place if farmers hadn't been in a desperate situation.

There is nothing political about the farm problem. The Republicans claim that farm prices were already on the way down when they took over in 1953. That is true. But when they say that the farm price problem developed while the Democrats were in power, they are conveniently forgetting what happened to farm people during the long years they ran the Government. It was the loss of farms and the failure of rural banks in the twenties that had a vital part in the total collapses of our national economy in the early thirties. The situation for farm people was unfavorable in the twenties and became so desperate in 1933 that there had to be a federal farm program . . . or else.

We had periodic cotton surpluses prior to 1933. Anyone who was farming in 1914, 1920, 1926, or 1932 knows what surpluses did to cotton prices in those years. The only difference between now and then is that now farmers have some protection. They don't lose everything they own when by the grace of God and good farming they make extra-big crops. They are no longer penalized so heavily for producing abundantly. And that is the way it should be. Abundant production is a good thing for a nation, even though it is sometimes expensive. If you don't think so, take a good close look at Russia . . . or even Great Britain, where a good part of what the nation makes on world trade goes out of the country to pay for the food and fiber its people must have.—The progressive Farmer.

SURVEY REVEALS MILLIONS OF RICH IDLE ACRES



INCREDIBLE UPPER COLORADO RIVER PROJECT
AN UNNEEDED NEW $4 BILLION TAX BURDEN
RICH FARM LAND
KENTUCKY 671,673 IDLE ACRES
LOUISIANA 2,487,300 IDLE ACRES
MISSISSIPPI 1,270,691 IDLE ACRES
ARKANSAS 2,723,547 IDLE ACRES
ALABAMA 823,564 IDLE ACRES
TENNESSEE 249,563 IDLE ACRES

THE MAP above shows that there are more than 8 million acres of rich, idle farm land in the Southern States waiting to produce more food for the nation when needed. Despite this fact, the Federal Bureau of Reclamation wants Congress to approve the incredible Upper Colorado River Project which would cost the nation's taxpayers $4 billion in added taxes to "irrigate" 583,000 acres of arid mountain land in Colorado, New Mexico, Utah and Wyoming. Figures for the idle southern land were obtained from the U. S. Soil Conservation Service. This land could be brought into production at a fraction of the cost of creating new agricultural lands in the Upper Colorado River Basin.

things we See

and Hear

By "TUCK"

THERE IS A SANTA CLAUS—

The following story was presented us by one of our local ministers and it is, in text, a fairy tale, but in reality it is a Christmas Carol, a dream come true for 20 boys and girls of Chilton County.

It seems that during the year of 1955 a businessman of the city of Clanton, Alabama was in a position to receive a commission or bonus for every article of a certain type that he sold during the year.

This man, being susceptible to the Christmas Spirit found time to arrange for 20 needy boys and girls to have a Christmas Party. . . something they have never had and in all probability never dreamed of having.

He took this bonus money he had acquired (amounting to a good bit) and relating that he knew what it was like to be hungry and that he knew what it was to miss Christmas, decided to spend this money on these 20 needy boys and girls.

The boys and girls, 10 of each were from all parts of the County and were those who have never had the chances and breaks our children have had.

This man dressed the children had gifts bought for them, gave them candy, a Christmas Party. . with a dinner and Santa Claus and all the trimmings and did everything in his power to make this a memorable Christmas for the youngsters.

There is a resemblance here, of the aMn for whom we celebrate Christmas. Here is a shining example of the true Christmas Spirit, a blessing for 20 unfortunate boys and girls. Here is a story with all the characteristics of a fairy story, but it happened. . . and right here in our own community.

You can't hear of things like this without believing, or at least wondering, that there is a true "Spirit of Christmas" that moves each of us, though in different ways. It is positive proof of the existence of Christ and the hallowed meaning of the day on which we celebrate the birth of "The Prince of Peace."

Letters to the Editor

ALA. PRISON STANDARDS ARE GRADUALLY RISING

Dear Sirs:

I want to thank you for your kind reception of me the other day and for your expressed willingness to help put our work before the public. I am just giving you the high-lights of the work and you use it as you think best.

On my retirement from the active ministry the last of April, 1954, I took up this work at the request of the Commissioner of Corrections. At the time there were no standard of qualifications for Chaplains that would be exceptable to the American Prison Association. There were no Chapels and the places of worship were totally inadequate. Since then acceptable standards for Chaplains have been set up and three new Chapels have been built. The Chapels are adequate and are beautiful. Kilby's Chapel has been in use for over three months and those at Draper and Atmore are about ready for services. Each Chapel is to have a Hammond Organ and a new piano. These we have at Kilby but, not as yet, in the other Chapels. This is the first step in preparing the prisoners for life in the free world.

The second step is to teach him some trade or craft by which he may earn a living. Many of the prisoners are still workmen e.g. plumbers, eltctricians, bricklayers, carpenters, etc. We have also, quite a number of professional men who can do excellent work in their own departments. Our aim is to educate every prisoner in the system to earn a honest living. We are also, just about to start a school for illiterates of which we have quite a number, both white and black. The school is about ready to begin. The whole system of education as stated above is designed to give the prisoner a new hope and an opportunity to earn a living.

The third step is to arouse the interest of the public in the prisoner and particularly to secure employment for the paroled and the released men. This, as you see, covers a lot of ground and will take time; but we are making progress. With the help of such men as you, we can arouse the interest of the public and, we hope to secure employment for the released men.

Again thank you for your fine reception of me and for your cooperation. Someday when going through town I will drop in to see you. With sincere thanks, I remain

Very truly yours,
D. C. MacGuire, Supervisor of Religious Activities.

SCIENCE IN YOUR LIFE

Versatile Antibiotics

Antibiotics have turned out to be one of science's most versatile discoveries.

First they turned mortality tables upside down in the treatment of human diseases. They put more food on our table by stopping costly plant and animal diseases, too.

Then scientists found that tiny amounts of antibiotics added to farm feeds boosted weight and growth rate of animals and poultry.

Now scientists report that antibiotics can be used to keep meat fresh for several days without refrigeration. Researchers of Chas. Pfizer & Co., Inc. told of this latest use at the Third Annual Antibiotics Symposium in Washington, D. C.

The investigators pointed out that only limited amounts of meat can be handled by drying, salting, smoking, canning and pickling. Most fresh meat is distributed either by rapid handling in countries without refrigeration, or by chilling.

Low temperatures, however, slow down enzymes which act to tenderize meat. Injection of Terramycin prior to slaughter, the scientists found, inhibits growth of bacteria and permits higher storage temperatures so that meat can be aged in much shorter time. Tests indicate that as little as one-half part per million of the potent antibiotic inhibits bacterial spoilage of fresh beef, pork and mutton.

Experiments conducted at a commercial packing house in Cuba proved that treated beef carcasses remained fresh even when held at 95 degrees Farenheit with high humidity.

In countries such as the U. S. and Canada, antibiotics can undoubtedly be used along with refrigeration. In areas without adequate refrigeration, antibiotics may help to deliver a more wholesome product to consumers.

CS Chairman Cautions That TB Cases In Chilton County Are Up

An old killer is staging an alarming come-back in Chilton County, according to 1955 Christmas Seal Chairman, Mrs. E. P. Bean. Records of the Bureau of Preventable Diseases of the Alabama State Board of Health show that whereas during the first ten months of 1954 13 new cases of tuberlosis were reported in this county, 17 cases have been reported for the same period, January-October, of 1955.

"These figures should abruptly change any false notions that we have already won the war against TB," the chairman said. "These people struck down are our friends and neighbors right here at home. And TB is a contagious disease. No home is safe until all homes are safe.

As I am sure everyone knows, the volunteer fight against tuberculosis is financed by the annual Christmas Seal Sale.

Our people in this county have been most generous in the support of the Christmas Seal Sale for many years. While our 1955-56 campaign has still a long way to go before we reach our goal, we know we can depend on those who have received the Seals, but delayed or forgotten as yet to send in their contribution.

Ninety-four cents out of every Christmas Seal dollar stays right here in Alabama for year-round local and state programs of work against TB. The other six cents supports national research and other country-wide activities.

We want to thank all those who have already sent their contribution, and urge those who have not, to do so as soon as possible. It's not too late to help."

Stars Headline Annual Floral Show In Mobile Beauty Spot

Visitors to the Mobile Azalea Trail Festival in February and March will enjoy some of America's most talented entertainers and scores of special events during this twenty-seventh annual floral show.

Headliners for the Festival include: Eddie Fisher, one of the nation's top TV singers; Ted Malone, noted radio and TV commentator; four Miss Americas, Sharon Kay Ritchie, Miss America for 1956 and Queen of the Festival; Yolande Betbaze, Mobile's Miss America for 1951; Evelyn Margaret Ay, Miss America for 1954, and Lee Ann Merriwether, the 1955 Miss America.

Music will fill the air at the Festival this year with the Minneapolis, Symphony, the United States Marine Drum and Bugle Corps, and Army and Navy Bands slated as major performers.

The big bevy of headliners, Fisher, Malone, and the Miss Americas are scheduled for the Azalea Trail Coronation on Sunday, March 4, at which time Sharon Kay Ritchie will be crowned Festival Queen. The Marine Drug and Bugle Corps and the Army and Navy bands also will perform at this colorful event in Ladd Memorial Stadium where a capacity crowd of30,000 persons is expected.

The Minneapolis Symphony has a concert scheduled February 27 at 8:30 p.m.

For the Miss Americas, it will be a sort of "old home day," each of them having been Azalea Trail Queen during the year they were Miss America.

The Azalea Trail Festival will get underway with Mobile's annual Mardi Gras celebration from February 5 through the 14, and following this scores of special events are planned: garden tours, historic home tours, dramatic, musical and sports features.

Andy Diamond, Azalea Trail president, has pointed out that "The 1956 Azalea Trail will be the most elaborate and longest Festival of its kind ever staged in the South and most of our attractions, including the Azelea Trail Coronation are free of charge."

The Trail president also pointed out that the most spectacular attraction of them all is the 35-mile Azalea Trail route, "35-miles of magnificent floral beauty featuring literally millions of brilliant red, vink, white, and scarlet azaleas in a city famous for its beauty."

The Azalea Trail, which originated in 1929, is sponsored each year by the Mobile Junior Chamber of Commerce.

NEW HARMONY

Some of them were from near and some were from afar. There were ministers, musicians, singers and just plain home-sick sons, daughters, and grandchildren, but they all came home for Christmas. And since they all felt the true spirit of the day, they all came to church and worshipped the Lord together, just as the wise men and shepherds worshipped the "Babe in the Manger" on that first Christmas day long ago.

These are the only words I can find to describe the happenings in our community over the week-end, and especially to explain the record-breaking attendance Sunday night. Mr. Barney Smith, and Mr. David Byler thrilled our hearts with their wonderful music and singing. The testimonies given by the ministers present were very inspiring. Bro. R. Z. Byler brought a message that stirred our souls. Our pastor, Brother S. G. Oliver, stood by and encouraged us to worship the Lord just as we felt in our hearts that we should. It was a service long to be remembered.

Brother Smith of Selma brought a good Christmas message Saturday night. Sunday morning we listened to the old, old Christmas story come alive again as it was told to us by our pastor.

Among those coming home for Christmas were: Mr. and Mrs. Robert Smith, Mr. James Smith, Allie Ruth Smith of Auburndale, Fla., Mr. and Mrs. Coy Duncan and Donna, Mr. and Mrs. Barney Smith and Linda, and Mr. Clarence Smith of Dowagiac, Michigan, the Rev. and Mrs. Willie Littleton of Tallassee, and the Rev. and Mrs. Edgar Littleton and Margaret of Montgomery.

The Smitherman family had Christmas Dinner at the home of the parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. M. Smitherman, with Brother Oliver and family enjoying it with them.

The Smiths enjoyed their Christmas Dinner at the home of Mrs. Ethel Smith. Mr. and Mrs. R. E. Smitherman also took part in it.

The O. B. D. Williams family met at the home of a daughter, Mrs. Melvin Cleckler.

One thing dampened our Christmas gaiety slightly; Granny Littleton was on the sick list. She received many beautiful gifts and had many visitors during the day. We hope that she will be well again soon.

Now everyone is returning to his own home, but, as we prepare to start a new year. Let's please make a resolution to attend church more and to be better Christians. Let's let the Light of Christmas shine out in our lives the whole year 'round. If you do not have a church of your own, we urge you to make our church your church, and let us all make it a better church, a place where hungry hearts can be fed.

The Sodalitan Sunday School Class, of the First Baptist Church, met on Tuesday night, Dec. 2nd, at the home of Mrs. Lessie Lowery.

As each guest arrived, she placed a gift under the tree.

The business session of the Class was called to order by the president, Miss Barton.

The devotional message was brought by Mrs. George Curlee. She took her scripture from the 2nd Chapter of Luke, and gave a very beautiful and interesting story connected with the scripture and entitled, "Story of Innkeeper and Wife where Christ Child was born."

Following the devotional a brief business session was held after which those present enjoyed a fellowship together of games, contests and exchanging gifts.

The family met together for the first time for Christmas in 18 years.

Ashes should be removed from furnace and fireplace grates regularly; they hold moisture, causing rust.

An old trunk, mounted on castors and painted gaily, becomes a very handy and handsome toy chest.

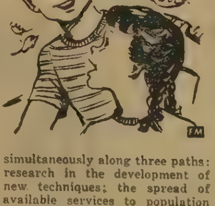
An arrangement of pictures can help a small piece of furniture "fill up" a big wall.

HEALTH HORIZONS

Focus On Children

In the face of the current agitation over juvenile delinquency, the report issued recently by the Children's Bureau of the U.S. Department of Health, Education and Welfare takes on special significance.

Published on the 20th anniversary of the passage of the Social Security Act, the report discloses that the population of the United States now includes 12 million more children than it did in 1935. Furthermore, the report shows that the present population includes a much greater proportion of children in the 5-9 and under 5 years groups than it did twenty years ago.



The report notes that since 1935 there has been an increasing acceptance of health as a positive goal. Health has come to be understood as a state of complete physical, mental, and social well-being and not merely as the absence of disease or infirmity.

In the two decades since 1935, a number of dramatic advances have been registered in the care of infants and children. Infant mortality has dropped 50 percent during the past twenty years.

New technical developments in medical and related fields have cut mortality among children from infectious diseases. An improved vaccine has been a major factor in eliminating whooping cough as a public health problem. The advent of a vaccine against polio promises to accomplish similar results with infantile paralysis.

Though much has been accomplished in the last twenty years, workers in all fields bearing on the health of children realize that many needs must still be met. It appears to the leaders in the field that future progress must proceed simultaneously along three paths: research in the development of new techniques; the spread of available services to population groups not now being served; and increased depth of service to those already being served.

The child welfare worker of today is able to offer more skillful help than children in trouble got twenty years ago. But a great deal of research remains to be done in order to determine the relationship of the emotional and social development of children to mental illness in later life. More needs to be known, also, about the various personality factors and adverse community pressures which may lead to delinquent behavior in children and adolescents.

X-Ray Programs Planned To Detect Communicable Diseases

Chicago, Ill.—Nation-wide policy med at guiding mass chest x-ray ograms in this country was an- ounced here today by the Ameri- n College of Radiology. At the me time, the College policy state- ent pointed out that results thus r have been discouraging in the tempted detection of heart disease nd lung cancer through use of x- y screening procedures.

"In 1956 nearly 50,000,000 people ill have some 120,000,00 0x-ray lms made," the College reports in suing its statement. "A majority f these people will have their films ade as part of a mass chest x-ray creening program in their own ome towns.

"The purpose of establishing this olicy is to offer the public the reatest possible medical service nd at the same time establish and ssure maximum safeguards."

The college is the national medi- l association for the 4,000 radio- gists in this country who special- e in the use of x-rays, radium and her active substances in dignosis nd therapy.

Chest x-ray surveys for detection f pulmonary tuberculosis, reports he College, are being conducted in he best interests of the public. On e local levels, these surveys should conducted to control and elimin- e pulmonary tuberculosis.

In the case of controlling tuber- ulosis, the policy maintains that rveys in order to be effective, re- ire "prior arrangements for ompt follow-up medical examina- on and definitive diagnosis of all rsons reported to have abnormal lmonary x-ray shadows."

Also it emphasizes that "the size of the film used in surveys is not of primary importance. The quality of exposure and processing is. The interpretation should be made by trained medical personnel."

Semiannual chest x-rays of persons over 45 years of age have been advocated for control of lung cancer. Experience with such surveys has resulted in the finding of a rather small number of ontrollable cases. The American College of Radiology does not at the present time recommend mass chest x-ray screening as a practical or effective method for the detection of cancer, thhe statement continued.

Chest x-ray surveys for the detection of communicable disease may be utilized for the detection of patients with lung cancer. The policy is recommended of reporting cardiovascular abnormalities of presumed clinical significance, where such are detected in survey films made for pulmonary disease, the statement went on.

Control of heart disease is the third important part of the College's announced policy. Here the College reports "x-ray surveys have aided in the detection of occasional cases, but the number so discovered early does not warrant continuation of the x-ray survey as a primary method for the detection of cardiac disorders."

The policy recommends that "the most effective method for the detection of heart disease is believed to be regular clinical examination by a personal physician."

Members of the College are urged, by the College's announcement, to continue in their research efforts towards improving chest x-ray survey programs.

Marines Offer Many Benefits To Young Enlistees

Montgomery, Ala.—Master Sergeant John T. Collier NCO in charge of the Marine Corps Recruiting Station here announced plans today for enlisitng a squad of Marines from the Montgomery area, to be known as the "Central Alabama Squad."

Young men for the "Central Alabama Squad" will be accepted from now until 25 January. This plan will allow young men to join the Marines with their friends and remain together throughout basic training, Sergeant Collier said.

The Marine Corps offers many opportuntities to those who meet the enlistment qualifications according to Sergeant Collier.

Benefits such as extensive travel to broaden a young man's knowledge and understanding of the world and it's peoples; a satisfying career of service with an opportunity to attend one of more than 100 specialty schools and learn a trade that will be useful later in civilian life; an opportunity to continue formal education through the Marine Corps Institute; and an opportunity to be a member of the produest military organiaztion in the world; are some of the rewards for service as a Marine.

Sergeant Collier stated that young men interested in becoming members of the "Central Alabama Squad" should contact him at the Post Office Building in Clanton from 9:30 a. m. until 4 p.m. every Thursday.

Misguided Missiles

Every day we see mounting evidence to support the notion that the average American motorist does not drive his car—he aims it. As a result, traffic accidents have come to be recognized as an important medical problem.

In a recent issue of "Medical Times," Doctors Walter D. Abbott and John T. Bakody of Des Moines, Iowa, reveal that misguided missiles in the shape of licensed automobiles presently account for a "majority of head injuries" seen by the medical profession.

We know that a person seated in a moving car is traveling at the same speed as the vehicle. Thus, the speed of the car determines to a great extent the severity of the injuries suffered in the accident.

About fifteen percent of all automobile accidents involve a rear end collision, the study by Doctors Abbott and Bakody indicates. In such accidents, the car which is struck from behind is accelerated and the occupant is thrust forward by the motion of the seat on which he is sitting. But the neck and head, since they extend above the top of the back of the seat, are unsupported. The resulting action is a whiplash injury which may cause cerebral concussion, neck injury or vertebral fracture.

Another common cause of serious head injuries arises from the usual practice of storing loose objects within the automobile, generally on the shelf above the rear seat. These objects are free to fly about the car at the moment of collision and they are capable of producing cuts and concussion.

Automobile manufacturers constantly are striving to raise the safety factors in their products. But the present emphasis on power must give way to ever greater emphasis on safety for the occupants of automobiles if the number and seriousness of accidents is to be reduced appreciably, Doctors Abbott and Bakody assert.

And when an accident has occurred, further injury can be prevented if the well-meaning but ill-informed Good Samaritan were to find the quickest means to summon a doctor rather than attempt to remove an injured person from a crash vehicle.

CHRYSLER WINS TWIN STOCK CAR CHAMPIONSHIPS

NASCAR and AAA 1955 Stock Car Championships presented to these two Chrysler 300-drivers in Detroit meant a "clean sweep" of stock car racing honors for Chrysler this year. Tim Flock, of Atlanta, Georgia, (left) was presented with the 1955 NASCAR Grand National Stock Car Championship for 18 wins in his Chrysler 300. Frank Mundy, also of Atlanta, (center) won the 1955 AAA Stock Car Championship in his Chrysler 300. Both were sponsored by E. C. Kiekhaefer, colorful sportsman and manufacturer of Mercury Outboard Motors. Congratulating the two champions at right is E. M. Braden, general sales manager of Chrysler Division, Chrysler Corporation. In all, Chrysler 300 cars won 37 first place victories this year, nearly four times as many as any other car.

Autumn Is Ulcer Season

Autumn is a bad time for peptic ulcer sufferers, a recent medic study indicates.

Two American physicians, Drs. R. S. Boles and M. P. Westerma have completed a five-year investigation which points strongly t connection between the time of year and the incidence of ulcers.

The study, conducted at the Philadelphia General Hospital, showed that admissions for duodenal ulcers—the type that occurs in the first six inches of the small intestine and constitutes 85 per cent of all cases — reached two peaks of incidence, one in March and the other in November.

Several theories have been advanced to explain this phenomenon. Drs. Boles and Westerman suggest that the answer may lie in the peculiar fluctuation in temperature and barometric pressure that occur during these periods.

Other researchers, however, believe that fatigue, not climatic changes, may be to blame; that March and November are bad months because they are the terminal points of two long and continuous work periods for most employed people. The latter view appears to be supported by a recent study in Scotland which shows that perforation of the stomach or duodenum due to an ulcer is less likely to occur on Sunday —that is, after a brief rest period—and most likely to happen on Friday, the end of a busy week for many ulcer sufferers.

Ulcers are known to have afflicted man for at least 20 centuries. The two commonest types are duodenal and gastric ulcers, the latter occurring in the lining of the stomach, but ulcers may also attack the esophagus and colon.

Researchers have found that the ulcer, or sore, is brought about by the secretion of excessive amoun of hydrochloric acid in the dige tive system, and that ulcers lead to perforation of the inte or stomach, internal bleeding, ev death. The nervous system pla a role in the production of t trouble-causing acid, but just ho is not known.

To fight the condition, researc ers have developed drugs such Alminate, which adsorbs the h drochloric acid in the stomach duodenum before it can do seri harm. Another drug, Centri actually reduces secretion of t acid by acting on the nerves th stimulate its production. Diet a rest are also recommended an unmanageable cases, doctors m employ surgery.

Many long-standing views wh have affected diagnosis and tre ment of ulcers are being exp by modern research. Only l year, one British authorit that ulcers are "the stigma devotion to duty, the badge trusted and burdened execu Yet, an up-to-date report in t Journal of the American Medi Association states there are pro ably more than 50,000 cases of u diagnosed peptic ulcers amo children under six years of age the U.S. alone.

Peptic ulcers, in short, seem play no favorites. As one medic publication has observed, it is condition that, throughout t ages, has afflicted men and wom —from infancy to senility.
